Miss Minnie Grindrod, of Delmar, Iowa, visited friends in Denison last week. Miss Grindrod is assistant editor and general manager of the Delmar Journal, and while here made a pleasant call at the Review office. Our readers cannot fail to notice the page advertisement of The Balle-Brodersen Co., found elsewhere in this issue. This most reliable firm believes in liberal use of printer's ink, and realizes that during what is termed "dull season" is the time to advertise. The ad in this issue contains hundreds of good bargains. The 1910 encampment of the Northwestern Iowa Veterans' association will be held in Correctionville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 19, 20 and 21. Army men of prominence have promised to be present and participate in the proceedings of the reunion. Plans have been perfected for making the encampment a genuine success. On last Friday evening, the German Odd Fellows society of this city held their annual installation of officers. The officers installed are as follows: Chris Otto, N. G.; Gus Retman, V. G.; Frank Faul, Sec.; H. F. Jess, Treasurer. After the ceremony, an entertainment was held, after which light refreshments were served. The statement of the Crawford County State Bank, which appeared in last week's issue of the Review, came in too late for comment. The statement is a remarkable one, showing total footings of $919,220.11. This bank has gradually been increasing its business until it stands at the head of the banking institutions of western Iowa. The statement of the First National Bank, which appeared in last week's issue, and on which comment was made, shows a similar prosperous condition. We doubt if any town in western Iowa can make a showing such as the Denison banks are able to make.

Marie Hensley and Ethel Chamberlin leave in the morning for Omaha, where they will visit at the S. J. Woodruff home for several days. Marianne and Katharine Sims are visiting in Council Bluffs. Pearl Wilson and Clare Scriber will join them Wednesday morning for a house party at the suburban home of the Sims family. Marshal A. C. The 1910 encampment of the Northwestern Iowa Veterans' association will be held in Correctionville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 19, 20 and 21. Army men of prominence have promised to be present and participate in the proceedings of the reunion. Plans have been perfected for making the encampment a genuine success. SPEEDING UP IN PANAMA.

The Culebra Cut to be Finished Before the Close of 1912.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—One of the facts in connection with the excavation of the Panama canal that gives much encouragement for the early completion of the great waterway is that the amount of earth removed does not lessen as the bottom of the ditch is approached.

This has been one of the chief questions in connection with the time of completion. It has been generally supposed that, as the bottom of the ditch was approached of the canal prism, in the official language, the rate of excavation would become much slower. This is not borne out by developments.

The latest report of the canal commission, as given by Col. H. F. Hodges, acting chairman, in fact, shows the exact contrary. All along, interest in the amount of excavation has centered in the Culebra cut. The latest available figures on excavation are those for the month of May.

The amount of material excavated from the prism in the Culebra section of the canal in May, 1910, was 1,099,279 cubic yards. This was the highest record in that section for the month of May, the highest previous record for that month having been in May, 1909, when 1,082,217 cubic yards were removed.

In the Culebra cut there are about 30,000,000 cubic yards of material to be removed, whereas, more than 48,000,000 cubic yards have been removed. This is the backbone of the canal. When it is dug out the way will be well open for the transit of vessels across the isthmus.

Even at the rate of excavation in May, the Culebra cut would be dug out by the end of 1912. But, as the rate year by year averages considerable better than that, it may be expected that the Culebra cut will be dug out before the close of that year.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Carl Motter, of Arlon, is again a patient at the hospital. He is having an operation of skin grafting on his injured foot, and is making a good recovery.

Adolph Erihen, of Boyer, was brought in this week, suffering from a case of blood poisoning in his arm. Peter Thompson, of Schleswig, who has been in this country but three months, was brought to the hospital on Tuesday with a severe injury of the spine.

Miss Winkler, the head nurse, will return from her vacation the latter part of this week.

THE IOWA SILO.

Two years ago the agricultural engineering section of the Iowa Experiment Station invented a new kind of silo which was called the Iowa silo. This silo is built of specially made hollow tile. It is as permanent as a cement silo, and much easier to construct. It costs no more than the best grade of stave silo and will last several times as long.

Since this silo was first devised, thirteen have been constructed in various parts of the state. A careful account was kept of actual cost of construction. The manner in which the silage kept was also watched carefully. Without exception these silos are proving satisfactory.

Bulletin 117 of the Iowa Experiment Station has just been received from the press. It gives complete figures on the cost of the thirteen Iowa silos that have been constructed. Complete directions for putting up an Iowa silo are given. By following these, any mason, or any farmer who has had any experience with brick or cement work, can put up a satisfactory silo.

The bulletin is free and may be had by applying to Director C. F. Curtiss, Ames, Iowa.
