OMAHA MARKET LETTER TO DATE

Receipts Today Were 748 Cars in All—16,281 Cattle, 1,725 Hogs, 26,500 Sheep and No Horses.

NEW RECORD CATTLE RECEIPTS
 High Mark Established Two Years Ago Beaten Today by Over 2,000 Head.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 6.—Dealers were generally more or less surprised at the heavy run of cattle today as it was generally thought that this week's supplies would be lighter than last and that next week's supply would be the banner run of the season. Dealers said the western cattlemen could not get the cars back in time to load this week but in this they were evidently mistaken.

Up to noon a total of 603 cars were received, which estimated at twenty-seven head to the car would mean a run of 16,281 head. This is nearly 3,000 in excess of the previous largest run, October 31, 1908, when the official receipts showed 13,501 head. One good feature of the run today was that the big bulk of the stock arrived in good season Sunday or this morning and was in shape to be shown and sold before noon.

Receipts of cattle were the heaviest of the season, also the heaviest in the history of the yards. The proportion of beef steers was small and the quality of the offerings hardly as good as last week. The more desirable grades changed hands at quotably steady figures while the short fed and warmed up grades had to go a slightly lower price, although it could hardly be said that prices were materially lower than last week, inasmuch as the offerings were too limited to afford anything like an adequate test of the market.

Cows and Mixed Stock—There was a good outlet for cows and heifers, but the excessive supply enabled buyers to cheapen up on the stuff and prices shaded lower as a general rule. Outside butchers and local packers were keen buyers for the more desirable grades and prices were not a great deal different from the close of last week for this class of stuff. The trade was slow on the fair to medium stuff and trend of values lower. There was the usual inquiry for the canner stuff and prices were pretty much in the same notches as toward the latter part of the last week. Veal calves were in liberal supply and sold at more or less shaded figures but the market for bulls, stags, etc. was reasonably active and quotably above steady.

Stocks and Feeders—With very little stock being carried over from last week yard traders were all out after supplies this morning, but the excessive supply put them in a rather bearish mood and they made a strong effort to depress values right from the start. Strictly good to choice fleshy feeders as well as the best of stock cattle were picked up in pretty good season at prices that compared favorably with prevailing values at the close of last week. On the general run of stuff bids were generally 10c or 10 to 15c lower than Friday and a good share of the trading was on this basis. Compared with the early part of last week most grades of stockers and feeders show a 25 to 30c decline and prospect of further heavy supplies this week created a bearish feeling in the trade, but it was hard work to get sellers to shade prices where they had good to choice stock and the brunt of the decline fell on the rough, heavy and common light and medium weight grades.

Hogs—The supply of hogs was very moderate this morning and trains being late in arriving, there were very few hogs on sale at any one time. The trade was reasonably active at prices that were a big 10c higher than Saturday's general market. Early arrivals were all disposed of in very good season, but a few hogs that came in late after the most of the orders had been filled did not sell quite so well, the close being slow and a little lower, most of the early advance being wiped out. Bulk ranged from 8.95 to 9.05, with tops at 9.40.

Good to choice lambs.....$5.50 6.75
 Fair to good lambs.....6.15 6.50
 Feeding lambs.....5.00 5.40
 Heavy yearlings.....4.60 5.00
 Heavy feeding yearlings.....5.00 5.40
 Good to choice wethers.....4.25 4.60
 Fair to good wethers.....4.00 4.40
 Feeding wethers.....3.75 4.15
 Breeding ewes.....4.25 4.65
 Fat ewes.....3.75 4.15
 Feeding ewes.....3.00 3.45

Sheep—The supplies were heavy this morning, but all classes of buyers were present, with result that there was a good market for feeding lambs and shoop. Prices paid looked about the same as those prevailing at the close of last week and the trade sufficiently active to clean up the offerings about as fast as they came in and were put in shape to be shown. Fat sheep and lambs were not so active for the reason that packers were not operating to any extent on account of its being Labor Day and their requirements were by no means urgent. For this reason the trade on killers was rather dull and the feeling weaker.

Grasshoppers.

The Iowa State College Experiment station sends out the following bulletin with reference to grasshoppers:

Grasshoppers have become very common in many parts of the state this year; the exceptionally dry season being more favorable for their development. Meadows in many localities abound with the insects, which are liable to cause damage to other crops. They belong for the most part to two species: the larger one, the two-striped grasshopper and a smaller one, the common red-legged grasshopper.

The mature grasshoppers lay their eggs in the fall, usually in unplowed ground. The following spring these eggs hatch out the young grasshoppers, the little fellows without wings.

The young ones feed all through the summer, attain wings toward fall and then deposit their eggs in the soil.

An easy way to kill grasshoppers in the field is by the use of a poisoned bait or "Criddle Mixture." This mixture is a compound of horse manure, salt and Paris green, and is thrown out over fields infested with grasshoppers. The insects take to the mixture readily and are easily killed in this way. The "Criddle Mixture" has been used with great success in Canada.

This mixture is made in the following manner: Take about 100 pounds of horse droppings, mix in a box or barrel with 2 pounds of salt and 1 pound of Paris green. Five 10 quart pails make about 100 pounds. The Paris green should first be placed in half a pail of water and stirred well before adding to the manure. More water may be added if necessary, so that the mixture is well moistened. Manure with little straw is best.

A large shovel of the mixture will be sufficient for every two rods square in the field.

No losses to poultry have been noticed in fields where the mixture has been used, but due care should be taken in exposing stock to these fields.

A Diplomat.
 "And how should you say I am?" giggled the golden-haired spinster, with a coy glance at BJones.

"Ah, Miss Smiley," replied BJones, with a low bow, "I do not think you are old at all. Ask rather how young do I take you to be."

And she was so pleased she forgot to.—Harper's Weekly.
