It will be some time before he will be able to be up and around again, but his many friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving. A deal was consummated lately whereby Mr. P. D. McMahon becomes the owner of the Kelly building, located on Main street, and which is occupied by the Norris shoe store and the upper floor by the telephone company. This is considered to be one of the finest building blocks in the city. On Monday morning at 8 o'clock occurred the marriage of Chas. C. Wood and Miss Annie Mundt at the Presbyterian manse in this city. The young people both live at Vail and have a host of friends in that locality who wish them success. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Jas. DePree. Mr. Joseph Gillen, engineer at the Denison Electric Light & Power company, received a telegram this morning from Dixon, Neb., stating that his mother, Mrs. W. M. Gillen, die dearly this morning. She was a woman fifty-four years of age and leaves seven children to mourn her death. Mr. Gillen left this noon for Dixon. Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Coon and son, Lewis, and niece, Miss Helen Schouten, returned to Denison the latter part of the week from their trip around the world. Dr. Coon has many interesting things to tell his Denison friends about the wonderful trip that he has had. He has prepared a very interesting letter, but on account of the lack of space this week the letter will not be published until next week. What was formerly the "Busy Hour" theater has been completely turned over to Alva Dannels. Alva has been running the show for some time past and now that he has complete control and management of the theater he says there will be a few radical changes take place. Alva is a good fellow and there is no doubt but that there will be changes for the better.

The council met on Monday evening, at which time Dr. L. M. Coon was elected to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation before he left on his trip around the world. No further business was transacted. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Balle and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Balle and daughter, will leave Sunday for New York City. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. His wife and Mrs. Thomas Higgins, of Dunlap, are up today visiting him. C. D. Fink was down from Deloit Tuesday transacting business and calling on Denison friends. Mr. Fink called at the Review office while in the city and left an ad which appears in this issue of the Review. Mr. Fink is the agent of the Ideal Silo company and will sell their product in this locality. Those who are interested in silos should read his ad, which appears in this issue of the Review. Friday afternoon the case of Ben Smith vs. Leo Meade was held at Justice Rollins' court. The case grew out of some difficulty between the defendant and Mr. Smith a couple of weeks ago and a charge was brought against Mr. Meade of assault and battery by Mr. Smith. A number of witnesses testified before the court and both sides were represented by attorneys. After all the evidence was in the court imposed a fine of $50 and costs against the defendant, which was paid. Sidney Landon appeared on the lecture course on last Wednesday evening at the opera house. Mr. Landon is an impersonator and delighted the audience with impersonations of Longfellow, Mark Twain, Edgar Allen Poe and delivered sketches from some of their writings. Mr. Laandon missed connections at Fort Dodge and did not arrive in Denison until nine-thirty. The audience was entertained until his arrival with motion pictures which the management of the opera house gave to afford amusement until his arrival. The statement of the Crawford County State Bank which appeared in the last issue of the Review, shows the bank to be in excellent condition with a total footing of almost a million dollars. It is a splendid testimonial to the management of this bank—that in a few years it has developed into one of the strongest financial institutions in the state. Denison has reason to be proud of many things, but none more than its banks. They prove not only strong and capable men, as managers, but also a prosperous and progressive community. On Monday evening a wrestling match was held at the opera house between William Von Dollen, of Davenport, and Walter Hertz, of Omaha. Von Dollen is a young man who is known well in the city and vicinity and has built up quite a reputation for himself as a wrestler. Hertz is a professional wrestler, and it was understood that he was to throw VonDollen twice in one hour. He gained the first fall in 38 minutes, but failed to throw Von Dollen the second time before the time was up. A couple of fast preliminaries were held by some of the home boys before the big match was pulled off. The receipts at the door failed to pay the expenses of the match. The socialist who spoke at the court house Monday night had a most sure cure for all industrial evils. He said "Put my party in power and it will vote to have things right and that will make it so." He gave a most earnest invitation to the ladies to be present, but his language was not such as most husbands would like their wives to hear. His appeals might have weight on the street corners of great cities where there is a chance to arouse prejudice against capitalists who conduct great manufacturing industries, but in Denison he could make few converts. Both Bryan and Roosevelt came in for severe denunciation at his hands. He had a large assembly to talk to. There has been some talk of late that Mr. T. C. McCarthy was going to build a fine brick block on his property on Main street just south of the Review office. In an interview with Mr. McCarthy this morning he stated that he had been contemplating the construction of such a building, but that he has not made any definite arrangements as yet, but is waiting to see if other property owners in the same block will build also. The frame buildings that now occupy this portion of Main street are an eyesore to the city and it would be a much-needed improvement if a fine brick block could be erected on the site. The building would bring a fine revenue for the owners and no better investment could be made.

SOCIAL NOTES.
The senior class of the high school entertained the juniors Saturday evening at the Carnegie club room. The room was very artistically decorated in valentine effect and colors and the elaborate three-course menu was also of a "hearty" nature. Covers were laid for fifty-five at tables that were beautiful in the red and white decorations. The Misses Margaret and Mary Jane McCarty entertained a very large party of friends at cards Monday evening. A jolly game was enjoyed and late in the evening a tempting luncheon was served. All voted the young ladies royal entertainers and were enthusiastic over the fine time. The Coterie club was delightfully entertained on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Simpson at her cosy home in North Denison. About thirty members and guests were present and enjoyed the afternoon with games and fancy work. Very delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the Misses Anna and Sarah Boyle. Miss Marion Scriver entertained Dix on Saturday afternoon, when the usual good time was enjoyed by all. The Woodmen of the World, and ladies of the Circle enjoyed a sleigh ride last Thursday evening, out to the hospital home of Ben Foderberg. A royal good time with a fine luncheon served to make this affair one of the bright spots in the Woodmen's world. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Naeve gave a very elegant and formal dinner on Thursday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Balle, who leave next week for a pleasure trip to Germany. Covers were laid for eight and a sumptuous and elaborate menu in five courses was served by Mrs. Silletto. The table was beautiful with a miniature ship as a center piece, while favors in the shape of suit cases, hat boxes, baskets, etc., carried out the very appropriate idea of the coming voyage. Mrs. Naeve is a pains-taking, ideal hostess and never leaves anything undone that will add to the pleasure or enliven the interest of her guests. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bollen entertained at dinner on Monday evening, complimentary to the Balle's before their departure for foreign lands. A very fine dinner was served and a pleasant evening enjoyed at this hospitable home. Miss Eunice Jones was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise party on Monday. It was her birthday and a few special friends helped her to celebrate it in a pleasant and informal manner. A tempting luncheon was served with a birthday cake with candles and tiny flags as favors. From the fact that the guests just numbered fourteen, we think we can guess the young lady's age. The Catholic Ladies' Birthday club met with Miss Julia Jones on Tuesday afternoon and enjoyed their usual jolly time and good supper. Mrs. Julius Balle entertained the Dix club on Tuesday afternoon in a very pleasant manner.
