THE ANNUAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Representatives of the Schools of the County Convened at Denison Last Week.

MISS SNELL, STATE WORKER,
Much Earnestness Shown for Better Methods and Founding of New Schools in the County.

The 1912 convention of the Crawford County Sunday School Association was held at Denison July 9th and 10th at the Baptist church. The opening session was held on Tuesday evening and presided over by Rev. J. Jas. DePree. The features of this session were the addresses by Mr. Thos. Nugent, representative of the American Sunday School union, and Miss Eloise Snell, the field secretary of the Iowa State association.

Mr. Nugent, in his opening remarks, gave a detailed statement as to his work in this part of Iowa in founding Sunday schools, visiting in the country districts and distributing bibles and literature. He then made a strong appeal for personal work in the conversion of the children to christianity. His remarks were most earnest and his listeners were well pleased.

Miss Snell, in a most entertaining talk, spoke briefly at this time of the work of the international and state associations. She laid further emphasis on the necessity for individualizing Sunday school work. Her manner was such as to hold strict attention and her words gave promise of good things to come in her further stated addresses.

Mr. Meyers, the county secretary, gave an outline of the program for the following day and the first session closed with a feeling that the time had been profitably spent.

The Wednesday forenoon session was called to order by Mr. Meyers and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Reagan, pastor of the Baptist church at Dow City. The first business was the report of the county secretary as to the condition of the work. He was able to report that twenty-five schools were in operation in the county, the total enrollment of which was 2,050. The following are the names of the various schools and the superintendents presiding over them: Denison, Presbyterian, Prof. E. W. Fellows; Methodist, Prof. W. C. VanNess; Baptist, Mrs. Dr. Plimpton; German Methodist, John Schnoor. Charter Oak: Methodist, Rev. C. N. McMillan; Presbyterian, Miss Mable Bornholdt. Kiron: Baptist, Wm. Paulson. Willow: Methodist, Fred Wiemer. Vail: Presbyterian, Miss Manetta Jorgensen; Methodist, Mrs. Palmer. West Side: Methodist, S. W. Melott. Boyer: Methodist, Jas. D. Fleming. Manilla: Presbyterian, F. J. Campbell; Methodist, John Vennick. Boyer township union school, T. C. Christiansen. Dow City: Baptist, Willie Walters; Methodist, Herman Logsdon. Paradise, Rev. Calkins. Arion: Congregational, N. F. Stilson. Slater Hill union, H. J. Cook. Coon Grove union, Richard Bear. Deloit: Methodist, Chas. Shives. Mr. Meyers reported that township conventions, in which much interest had been shown, had been held during the last year at Boyer, Vail and Paradise Center, and that a new school has just been organized at Slater Hill in East Boyer township and a school at Coon Grove reorganized, and both seemed ready to do good work.

A call was made for a report from the schools represented in the convention. Mr. John Richardson spoke for the Denison Baptist, Prof. Fellows for the Denison Presbyterian, Mr. Logsdon for the Dow City Methodist, Mrs. Criswell for the Denison Methodist, Rev. Calkins for the schools at Arion and Paradise, Rev. Reagan for the Baptist at Dow City, Miss Jorgensen for the Presbyterian and Methodist at Vail, and Miss Morris for the Methodist at Deloit.

Miss Snell, the state worker, was introduced and gave a strong talk on behalf of teacher training and organized classes. She explained the helpfulness of the teachers' training course, which could be taken, either by correspondence or in classes, and that certificates of progress and final examination were issued. She insisted that the organized class was one of the most efficient methods of helping a Sunday school. Her remarks were given with such enthusiasm that a number of the delegates pledged themselves to either take the training course themselves or organize a class in their school and to put into effect class organization.

At the Wednesday afternoon session the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. R. A. McNall, of the Vail Presbyterian church. Mrs. Dr. Plimpton, superintendent of the Denison Baptist Sunday school, gave a remarkably interesting and thoughtful talk on supplementary work. This consists in memory work, such as learning the divisions of the bible, the repeating of choice chapters and becoming familiar with the lives of the great characters of the bible. Miss Jorgensen, of Vail, explained some of the methods which had been successful in her school, such as using attendance certificates, buttons, roll of honor. Rev. Reagan dwelt on the importance on teachers' training classes and preparation for the best of work. He told of one school where each class had two regular teachers and how helpful this was in making the school a success. Mr. Logsdon told of the plans which he had put in operation to make his school a power for good. During this session there was much interest taken by all present and a most helpful discussion given of each paper. The session was closed by a spirited address by Miss Snell, who explained as to the latest helps which provided for graded work, and urged that these be put into the various schools. The chairman appointed as a committee on nomination of officers for the coming year, Mr. Logsdon, Miss Jorgensen and Mrs. Penney.

Rev. J. H. Senseney conducted the devotional exercises at the evening session. The evening had been set apart for a stated address by Miss Snell. She took for her subject "The Work of the International Association," and presented in glowing language the great gatherings which had been held in which delegates by the thousands were in attendance and of the enthusiasm which was thus engendered. She told of the preparations being made for the international convention to be held at Zurich, Switzerland. Her address was most inspiring and she was warmly congratulated at the conclusion.

The committee on nominations reported through the chairman, Mr. Logsdon, the following list of the officials for the new year, and the report was adopted:

President, Rev. E. D. Calkins, of Arion.
Vice-President, Herman Logsdon, of Dow City.

UNVEILING CEREMONIES.

Woodmen of the World Hold Fitting Ceremonies at Two Cemeteries Last Sunday Afternoon.

The Woodmen of the World order dedicated two monuments to departed brothers last Sunday afternoon. One to Edward Blackman, recently deceased, and the other to John D. Gaffey. The services for Mr. Blackman were held at Oakland cemetery, and were in charge of Mr. Bert Harvey, who delivered a well worded and very touching address. Music was furnished by a male quartet composed of Messrs. A. C. Green, J. B. Lyon, Nick Schlueter and Asa Brown. About seventy-five members of the order, together with members of the Woodmen Circle, were present at the services. After the unveiling of this monument a procession was formed and moved to the Catholic cemetery, where a similar service of unveiling the monument to John D. Gaffey was carried out. Mr. C. D. Davis making the address. The Woodmen of the World order has a beautiful service in connection with the unveiling ceremony, and the different parts were well taken by members of the order.

FACE LACERATED WITH BARB WIRE

J. D. Newcom, of Stockholm Township, Thrown From Vehicle and Is Severely Injured.

HE HAD PASSED MR. GARRISON
Team Becomes Unmanageable, Breaks Tongue and Runs Away—No Blame Attached to Anyone.

Mr. J. D. Newcom, of Stockholm township, happened with a peculiar and rather serious accident Tuesday morning while enroute from his home to Deloit to do some trading. He was driving a young team of horses, and when near the old J. T. Newcom home he passed a couple of autos, but the team apparently paid no attention to them. A little farther on Mr. Newcom met Mr. T. J. Garrison, of Denison, who, with his son, Earling, and a couple of Earling's playmates, were on their way to the lake for a day's outing. Mr. Garrison was running slow, and seeing the team made a wide turn out, and passed without exciting the team's attention in the least. After Mr. Garrison had passed he heard a noise and on looking backward noticed that the team was in a mixup, and had started to run. The tongue to the vehicle was broken and the team turning short, the broken tongue ran into the ground and overturned the buggy, and Mr. Newcom landed in the wire fence. The team had by this time broken loose from the buggy and ran through the fence. Mr. Newcom was quite severely cut about the face and hands, and had several bruises upon his body.

Mr. Garrison, of course, immediately stopped his machine and went back to Mr. Newcom's assistance, and, loading him into the car, brought him to Denison with all possible speed, where a physician dressed his wounds and he was able to again return home. Mr. Newcom says that Mr. Garrison was in no way to blame for the accident, and that he doesn't know how it happened at all as it was done so quick. A coincident in connection with the accident is that Mrs. Newcom, the night before, had dreamed that Mr. Newcom was in a runaway, and that he had received an injury.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION
Ends Up Sewer Matters, Listens to Petitions and Orders in Some Permanent Crossings.

The city council met Monday night and transacted considerable business in connection with the sewers recently completed. A number of citizens appeared before the council and asked for different improvements, namely the citizens living on West Prospect street ask for a sidewalk on the north side of Prospect running to the Central depot. The Illinois Central people are contemplating the removal of their freight house to a location opposite the tower house and the residents in that neighborhood are very desirous of a walk. Property owners residing on Vine street between Sweet street and Locust street, are asking for a walk on the south side of Vine abutting the C. Green property. In another column will be found an advertisement calling for bids for the building of a number of cement crossings, one crossing State street at Main; another crossing Chestnut street at Sweet; another crossing Sweet street at Chestnut, and one crossing West Prospect at Main. The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for this work, and the city is going to see to it that some walks lasting for all time will be built. The bidder will be asked to put up a bond as a guarantee that the walks will be substantial and lasting. The council meets again tonight for the finishing up of the bond issue.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Deloit M. E. church will hold a market day Saturday at the Deloit meat market, to which all are cordially invited to extend their patronage.

SERIOUSLY INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

Mr. Hans Neissen, Working for Jerry Jepsen in Goodrich Township, Gets Caught in Wagon Wheel

HEAD IS TERRIBLY BRUISED
Was Hauling Hay from the Field When Team Ran Away and Over-Turned the Load.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Hans Neissen, who is employed by Mr. Jerry Jepsen, on the old Jepsen farm in Goodrich township, met with a severe accident, from the effects of which he will not recover for some time. He had been in the hay field and was returning with a load of hay, when the team he was driving became frightened and ran away. The load was overturned and Mr. Neissen was thrown in such a manner as to become fastened in the rear wheel of the wagon, and had it not been for the timely action of Martin Saggau, Jr. he might have received permanent injury, if not death. As it was his head was lacerated and there were several bad bruises over his body. Young Saggau managed to get the team under control, and assisted in extricating Neissen from the wagon, and he was quickly brought to Denison, where a physician dressed his wounds, and he was able to return to his home.

On Wednesday morning, while Mr. W. D. Mundt was assisting his brother-in-law, Henry Meyers, in putting up hay, he met with a very serious accident. In some unaccountable manner Mr. Mundt fell from the load of hay, sustaining quite a severe fracture of his right shoulder. Mr. Mundt was taken to the house, where a physician was called and dressed the wound. The many friends of Mr. Mundt wish him a speedy recovery.

Wm. Cruzan is in Glidden today visiting with friends.
