

The Three Prime Virtues

in a photograph--
Likeness, Artistic Quality and Permanency.

OURS have all three.

The Ferguson Studio

Makers of Fine Photographs.

Local Events

Miss Albertine Grover, of Vail, is a pleasant Denison caller today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Conner visited Mrs. H. H. VanBrunt in Council Bluffs Sunday.

Mrs. Marie Ahrenkiel, of Vail, visited Mrs. Robert Hannah Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Meyer and daughter, Margarete, of Omaha, are visiting at the Julius Balle home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lillieholm are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Wednesday, February 26th.

Owing to the illness of so many members the meeting of the Penelope club will be postponed two weeks.

Mrs. Anton Ahrenkiel and daughter, Ethel, of Vail, visited her friend, Mrs. Robert Hannah, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Melson came down from Jefferson Saturday for an over-Sunday visit at the E. Gulick home.

Mrs. Jurgen Schroeder was down from Schleswig over Sunday visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. N. Olry.

The Misses Grace and Jessie Fleming, of Boyer, were pleasant callers at the Robt. Hannah home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Dudley, of Council Bluffs, arrived in Denison today for a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Conner.

Mrs. M. J. Talbot, of Omaha, visited her sisters, Mesdames J. H. Healy and Margaret Connor, and families the past week.

Henry Frahm and wife left today for their home in South Dakota, being called to Denison on account of the death of Mr. Frahm's mother.

Albert Strissel, Frank and John Hennings, together with Charles, Max and Emil Quandt, all of Charter Oak, were in Denison Friday transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rohwer were in Arcadia Saturday, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Wm. Bohling. Mr. Bohling was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Rohwer.

Mrs. Geo. McHenry will leave Friday for Lincoln, Neb., where she will attend the annual banquet of the Delta Gamma sorority, of which she is a member. She will return the fore part of next week.

C. L. Voss is in Sioux City today transacting business.

Mrs. D. O. Johnson is reported on the sick list this week.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Luft, on Sunday, March 9th, a daughter.

Joe Mills, of Logan, was a guest at the A. D. Randall home Tuesday.

Miss Clara Hill, of Schleswig, was in Denison Tuesday shopping and visiting friends.

Mrs. E. K. Burch is in Schleswig this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Albert Stoltenberg.

Otto Koenck, of Everly, has been in Denison the past week visiting at the home of his brother, Carl.

Claus Pahl and wife, of Charter Oak, were pleasant visitors in Denison Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Childress are down from Deloit today calling on their many friends in the city.

Francis Gable, of Lincoln, Neb., dropped into Denison Thursday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gable.

E. L. Champion expects to leave Sunday for an extended western trip. He will visit points in Idaho and Washington with a view of permanently locating if he can find a suitable location.

Mrs. N. J. Wheeler returned last Saturday afternoon from Omaha, at which place she has been for several weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Wescott. Mrs. Wescott accompanied her mother back to Denison.

Mrs. Robert F. Romans returned to her home at Aberdeen, S. D., Sunday afternoon after an extended visit in Denison at the parental, W. J. Scrivener, home. She returned by the way of Omaha, where she stopped off for a visit with a school friend.

Under the leadership of Rev. Williams of the Baptist church a prayer meeting was held at the Fred Bradbury home on Tuesday evening, where Mr. A. H. Miller is bedfast with paralysis, helpless. Such meetings show that Rev. Williams and his capable wife are alive to do practical christian work.

W. W. Cushman, Sam Wright and A. F. Boylan spent several days at Lake View the latter part of last week hunting. The ice on the lake has not broken up as yet and very few ducks were seen by the party, but they were not compelled to return with empty bags for during their stay nine ducks were bagged.

Miss Kate Henry, the accommodating clerk in the Balle-Brodersen grocery department, is reported to be on the sick list.

T. J. Garrison and son, Earling, were in Omaha last Friday evening, where they saw Wm. Faversham play "Julius Caesar."

Mrs. August Voss was down from West Side Tuesday to attend the birthday party given by Mrs. Charles Bollen in honor of Mrs. Augusta Hamley.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sharer, of Salina, Kans., have been visiting at the Bolton home for several days. They left for their home this morning. It will be remembered by many that Mr. and Mrs. Sharer left the vicinity of Dow City twenty-eight years ago. He says the old friends do not look as young as they did then for some cause or other.

A. B. Reesberg has moved his tailor shop from the old location in the Sonksen block to the building belonging to Jack Welch on Main street. Mr. Reesberg has taken these quarters for the time being only, as he has made arrangements with the new opera house company for quarters in the new building as soon as it is erected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Saul returned Thursday evening from Lewisburg, Kans., where they have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. S. R. Cole. Mr. and Mrs. Saul returned by way of Indianola and visited their children, who are attending school at Simpson college. They report a most enjoyable time while on their visit, but were glad to return to Denison.

A. D. Randall went to Omaha last Friday and is now in the Methodist hospital in that city undergoing treatment. "Lon" has been in poor health for several weeks and was not improving as rapidly as he had hoped for and thought it advisable to take a course of treatment at Omaha. Mrs. Randall visited with him in Omaha on Sunday and reports his condition as somewhat improved.

On Tuesday evening a number of friends gathered at the Chris Hennings home in this city to shower Miss Elsie Hadenfeldt and Mr. Carl Berndt, whose marriage will take place some time this spring. About twenty were present and each brought some kitchen utensils for the new home. The evening was a most enjoyable one, games being played after which delicious refreshments were served.

Peter Krauth, manager of the Germania opera house, informs us that the work of getting the opera house in running order is progressing rapidly and from present indications the building will be in such shape that the picture show can be resumed about the first of April. Workmen have been working for the past two weeks excavating for the basement and the new foundation will be laid as soon as the weather permits.

Just as we go to press we learn of the death of Mrs. Sarah Kimball, who for the past ten years has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Matt Wells in this city. Mrs. Kimball was a woman in advanced years, being at the time of her death nearly ninety-two years of age. For some time she has been in falling health and at 10:30 this morning death came. The funeral services will be held at Kirkwood, Shelby county, on Friday afternoon, where burial will take place.

Denison was cast into entire darkness last Saturday evening about 6:30 when the large dynamo at the electric light plant burned out. The small dynamo was at once substituted and light was furnished the business houses, the capacity of the little dynamo not being large enough to accommodate the entire city. The electric light company have sent the old dynamo into Chicago to be rewound and it will be two weeks before it will be in use again and in the meantime the little dynamo will have to furnish the current for the entire town.

Chas. Bartcher has rented the store room in the Laub block, which is now occupied by the Otto cigar store, and will take possession in the near future. Mr. Bartcher was forced to find a new location for his business on account of the Sonksen property having been sold to the new opera house company. While the new store room is not as large as the one he now occupies, he will have ample room for his flowers and picture framing and it is his purpose to rent another room for a store room. His new location will be much better and no doubt will be just as satisfactory.

Miss Ethel Chamberlin will leave on Friday of this week for Lake City, where she will take part in the sub-district oratorical contest. It will be remembered that Miss Chamberlin won first place in the high school contest that was held Friday, December 20th. She will go to Lake City and present the humorous selection, "A Woman's Bright Invention." Miss Chamberlin will have won a place in hand and we predict that when the judges render their decision Miss Chamberlin will have won a place in the state contest. A number of the high school faculty and students will accompany her to Lake City.

Mrs. Ada Linn, of Volga, S. D., has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bolton, for the past few days, returning to her home this morning.

The friends of Mr. Lally are delighted to hear of the splendid progress he has made since his operation at Rochester a week ago this morning. He is writing letters to Denison, saying that he is feeling fine and that he expects to be home within a few days. This is most encouraging in view of the fact that when he went away no one expected his recovery from the operation sufficiently to enable him to come home for several weeks. The community will welcome his return, and will wish him a complete and full recovery from his trouble.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand, for advertising his paper. He speaks of the Bulletin leading for the last ten years with the choicest list of paid subscribers that it is possible for any paper to attain in this county. The Review frankly concedes that the Bulletin has the choicest list of paid subscribers that it can secure, but when he undertakes to claim that the Bulletin holds over the Review in this respect he is simply proving the confidence that can be worked up in behalf of one's investment. When it comes down to the choicest list of subscribers and the largest list of subscribers in the county the Review is the paper that leads the procession, which it has done for a number of years. We have no quarrel with the Bulletin and congratulate it for the character and number of its subscribers, but it should not assume to get into the class with the Review.

Under the head of "Consolidation a Good Thing" in last week's issue of the Bulletin, the editor certainly proved his ability, with the material at hand