Miss Janet Muir came down from Denison Saturday to spend a few days with friends southeast of town. Miss Muir taught several terms of school in that neighborhood and thus made many friends in that vicinity.

Mrs. Bertha Butler and daughter, Elizabeth, arrived last week from Pierson and went out to the home of her father, Jack Veentrees, for an extended visit.

Mrs. Herman Lazerus and children are back from several weeks' visit with her parents in Omaha.

Word has reached relatives here of the illness of Grandpa Cole at Glenwood. Mr. Cole is over 80 years of age and this but makes the case more serious. We are informed that word arrived later announcing that he was somewhat improved.

Mrs. John Gibson and daughter, Margaret, returned Sunday from a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Mart Henry, in Denison.

Mrs. Marie Quick came up from Dunlap Saturday for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Link Riddle. Two of her Moore's daughters accompanied her. They returned to Dunlap Sunday.

Aunt Mary McHenry has been sick the past week and is still confined to the house.

Mrs. J. R. Griffin visited last Friday at the Henry Mesenbrink home, north of Dunlap.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ahart and son, George, went to Battle Creek last week Tuesday to attend the wedding of Mrs. Ahart's niece. They returned home Thursday.

Hank Cummings and G. L. Caswell, of Denison, were Dow City callers last Friday.

Henry Galland, of Arion, was a business visitor in town Saturday.

Mrs. Dave Miller, who lives in the east part of town, still continues in very poor health and relatives are somewhat worried over her condition.

Mrs. John Miller was down from Denison Friday visiting her mother, Mrs. Henry Roy.

Mrs. Woodford Jobe returned to her home at Dunlap Saturday after a couple of days' visit here with friends.

Miss Elizabeth Slattery went to Council Bluffs Tuesday and spent the day with friends. On Wednesday she spent the day shopping in Omaha, returning home in the evening.

Mrs. Arthur Brown spent Sunday in Arion with her mother, who is in very poor health.

Mrs. John Gregory has been ill for a week or more at her home two miles north of town.

Benson Smith's baby, who has been so very ill with pneumonia, is reported to be improving, but is not considered out of danger, however. We trust to hear soon of her complete recovery.

Miss Jean Woodruff, of Omaha, accompanied by her friend, Miss Mary Day, also of Omaha, visited last week with Miss Sybil Woodruff at the G. M. Talcott home. All three young ladies went to Denison the last of the week to visit friends, Miss Sybil returning here Sunday to resume her school work, the other young ladies going back to Omaha.

O. W. Rogers came up from Woodbine Thursday to look after his farming interests west of town.

Mrs. Herbert Fishel and baby came down from Denison Saturday for a visit at the W. E. Fishel home.

The Guy Moore family, which has been in quarantine for smallpox, was released last week and two days later little Dorothy, the two year old daughter, was taken ill with the same disease, and thus they were put in quarantine again. The first quarantine lasted but eighteen days.

Dave Terrill, Sr. died at his home in Galland's Grove last Wednesday. He was over 80 years of age. The funeral was held at the home, burial taking place in the Galland's Grove cemetery. He leaves a number of grown children.

Mrs. E. N. Chamberlain entertained the Priscilla club last Thursday afternoon at her pleasant home and in her usual delightful manner. A number of other guests were present and all shared the pleasures of the afternoon spent together. All enjoyed the fine lunch the hostess served.

Miss Louise Koenekamp came down from Denison Sunday and will visit a while with her sister, Mrs. Joe Best. The Rebekahs were busy last week Wednesday evening conducting candidates through the mysteries of the degree, after which a fine lunch was served, and then followed a social hour. A very pleasant evening is reported.

Claude McDonald came down from Denison Sunday and spent a couple of days out at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McDonald.

Will Thompson expects to leave this week for Arkansas, where he intends to spend the summer.

Mrs. J. O. Hecker came up from Dunlap Friday and went out to the Frank Odell home for a visit, returning to Dunlap Saturday.

Fred King swore out a warrant for Fred Shreves Saturday, charging him with assault and battery. The trial was heard Monday, the defendant being found guilty as charged and the justice assessed him $5 and costs, amounting to $14. The trouble occurred over settling the ownership of a stack of straw.

Geo. Rule, Jr., of Lake View, and Will Rule, of Dunlap, were here one day last week to visit their mother, Mrs. Geo. Rule, Sr. Mrs. Rule is nearly 85 years of age and certainly appreciates these frequent visits of her children.

A new business has been established in our town and one that has been needed badly. Philip Deitrich, of Omaha, has opened up a shoe repair shop in the Stepanek harness shop, and although the business at this writing is but one day old, Mr. Deitrich has been kept busy and has the outlook of a rushing trade. The proprietor has been in this business for years and is a skilled workman. His household goods have arrived and his family will be here this week. We welcome them to our midst and trust that his patronage will warrant their remaining here permanently.

Mrs. Mary Terry, of Denison, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Alexander, for several days past.

Roman Holcomb had an experience last week that he doesn't care to have again. While driving near the city park his team, hitched to a wagon containing a hay rack, started to run. Roman is a husky lad and used so much strength in trying to check the runaways that one of the lines snapped in two, leaving him but a single line. With this he turned them west near Mrs. Crandall's and they ran into a pile of stove wood, upsetting the wagon and throwing the driver out. He continued to hold the one line and succeeded in stopping the horses. He was bruised, but he considers that he came through the accident well.

Nelson Butler went to Pierson Monday to spend a couple of days there with his father, W. V. Butler.

Miss Phoebe Pett, who is attending school in Denison, spent the week end with her father, Fred Pett.

Frank Odell was in Omaha Saturday.

Chamberlain and Ahart shipped a car of mixed stock to Omaha Sunday night.

School will be dismissed Wednesday to allow the teachers to attend the sessions of the Northwestern Educational association, which convenes at that time at Ft. Dodge. All the teachers will attend. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stepanek were "at home" to their friends last Saturday. A large number of young people gathered at their home for a social hop. A very pleasant evening was spent and all went home happy.

Misses Anna and Lizzie Zimmer visited friends in Denison Saturday.

Presiding Elder C. L. Baxter was here from Council Bluffs Saturday and held the business session of the district quarterly conference and found everything among the church affairs in flourishing condition. On Sunday morning he preached a most excellent sermon to an appreciative audience. A pleasant feature of this service was a duet sung by Mrs. Frank Rowe and Miss Helen Swasey.

Last Friday was the thirteenth anniversary of the organization of the Royal Neighbors of this place and the event was celebrated by holding a banquet. The pleasure of the day was greatly increased by their having four candidates to initiate. After the initiation was over the tables were spread and all did ample justice to the fine supper set before them. The celebration of this day is observed every year in some way and all the members of the order look forward to the event. The lodge hall was prettily decorated in the order's colors, purple and white. The day will long be remembered by the members present.

Mrs. Alfred Jackson visited relatives in Dunlap last Thursday.

Rev. Royce will be here next Sunday, coming from Dell Rapids, S. D., and will preach both morning and evening in the M. E. church. This will take the place of the regular services. Mr. Royce is an excellent speaker and will have an interesting and instructive address to deliver. Every one cordially invited to be present.

Paul Wight was up from Council Bluffs one day last week and spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Wight.

Chris Koenekamp and wife visited here last week at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. R. Best. They returned the middle of the week to their home at Republican City, Neb. Chris and his brother, Bernard, have been farming near here and have made a success of it.

Miss Myrtle Jobe was in Dunlap on Monday having dental work done.

Miss Mildred Wiggins was in Denison Monday afternoon, Miss Agnes Goddard teaching in her place.

School election passed off quietly last Monday. Two directors were to be chosen, W. C. Rolls' term having expired, and there was a vacancy by reason of Herman Logsdon removing from the district. Dr. Potter and W. C. Rolls were candidates for the first named place, Elmer Newkirk and J. H. Pearsall were nominated for the second. Rolls and Newkirk were elected. Both of these are men of good judgment and will give excellent services in their capacities as directors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kummer are the parents of a baby girl, born on Monday.

Miss Lillie Gibson was an Arion visitor Tuesday.
