

HOME BUILDERS' PAGE

Each week during the building season the Review will run a series of views of modern residences, with floor plans, descriptions and estimated cost prices, on this page. Many residences will be built in Denison this year and the future rapid growth of the city is assured.

The owning of a modern home is one of the high ideals of man and there never was a better opportunity to build than right here in Denison now, either for the investment or home side of the question. Get in with the crowd and show your faith in Denison by erecting one, either to live in, sell or rent. It will be a profitable investment any way.

Denison has competent and reliable contractors, builders, decorators, and firms who furnish all the material, fixtures and supplies for building and equipping these homes, and their announcements concerning the part they will take in the big building operations this year are here appended. Consult these men and they will gladly furnish you all the information desired for your building project.
