

Dow City Department By Mrs. Binnall

Miss Mildred B. Wiggins was hostess on Saturday to the Priscilla club and a number of guests. The afternoon was devoted to fancy work and sociability. A tempting menu, which found favor with all, was served. Mrs. Hiatt, Misses McChesney and Herkimer, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Ollie Talcott, of Wagner; S. D. were out of town guests.

The All Nation baseball club appeared here June 2d, as scheduled. It was to be expected that the day was so showery as to put the diamond in poor shape. Our boys were in good form, however, and considering that this was their first game since organizing, they did excellent work and up to the last inning held the visitors to one score. In the last half the visitors perked up pretty lively and made the score read 4 to 0. They went from here to Woodbine, where they played Wednesday.

People of the community were surprised to learn Thursday forenoon of the death of Alex Carbaugh. Although he has been in very poor health for several months, it was not generally thought that he was in such a serious condition. He was able to be up every day and was sitting in his chair when death seized him. Alex Carbaugh was born in Henry county, Ill., May 4, 1864, and died June 4, 1914, aged 50 years and 1 month. He was married to Miss Minnie Sester July 4, 1891. To this union were born a daughter, who died in infancy, and two sons, Lloyd and Lawrence, and these with the widow survive him. Mr. Carbaugh had many friends for he was an honest and upright man. The funeral was held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the services being held in the yard to accommodate the friends who gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to their neighbor. Elder Chas. E. Measures were taken by which it was hoped that an operation may be avoided but at this time it has not been determined as to whether it can be done or not. The many friends of the family trust that the trouble may be overcome without the necessity of resorting to surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Igou were in Denison Saturday patronizing the stores at that place and visiting relatives.

The death of Mrs. Roy Craig, which took place last Thursday evening at the Denison hospital, brought forth many expressions of sympathy. Although she had lived here but few months, our people became much interested in her during her weeks of illness.

Clara Furay was born in northwestern Nebraska, March 7, 1890 and died June 4, 1914. She was one of a family of nine children, her mother dying while she was but a child. She was united in marriage to Roy Craig in September, 1909, the wedding taking place at Omaha. They continued to reside in the vicinity of Omaha until April, 1913, when they came to this place and went to work on a farm near here. About eight weeks ago, she was taken ill, and in spite of all that could be done, she grew worse. It became evident that her only chance of recovery was through an operation and she was taken to the Denison hospital where she was operated upon two weeks ago. She had been in a precarious condition since that time but was apparently improving, when she was stricken, death ensuing before her husband could be notified. The body was removed to Scherer's undertaking parlors, from which the funeral was held on Friday afternoon, Rev. Senseny, of the M. E. church conducting the last rites, the burial taking place in Oakland cemetery. Thus at the early age of 21 the wife and mother received the final summons of her maker, and in the twilight of a beautiful summer day, her soul went out to answer that summons, leaving a sorrowing husband and two beautiful children, a son of four years and a baby daughter of four months. It seems a sorrowful fate that both Mr. and Mrs. Craig lost their mothers through death in early childhood and their children are now bereft of that most sacred thing—a mother's love. Kind friends are caring for the children until Mr. Craig's relatives can be heard from. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in their bereavement.

Mr. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Flora Hiatt and son, Kenneth, Miss Alice McChesney and Miss Hazel Herkimer arrived last Wednesday evening from Glen Ellyn, Ill., to visit at the Charles Smith home. They made the trip in an auto, it taking but two days for the run.

The peal of the firebell last Tuesday noon called our citizens to aid in extinguishing a fire at the Albert Alexander home. It seems that their grandson, George Alexander, discovered some matches in a downstairs bedroom, and, childlike, lit them. He became frightened when the matches ignited and threw them down, thus setting fire to the bed clothes. Early arrivals at the scene carried out the burning articles and it was not found necessary to use the hose. Everyone rejoices that the fire amounted to no more than it did, notwithstanding that the wood work, and furnishings in the room were considerably damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Omeara are the proud parents of a son, born Sunday, June 7.

Nelson Butler and William Etleman were among those attending the big ball game at Woodbine Wednesday.

Jay Baber went to Lake View Saturday for an outing, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tripp are the parents of a new boy born to them Monday, June 1.

Will Fishel was at Clarinda last Friday where he visited the state hospital, spending a few hours with Marion Cole and William Luck both of this place, who are inmates. He found no change in the former but the latter was greatly improved. Mr. Fishel was informed that if Mr. Luck continued so well mentally for another week or two, he would be released on parole and could thus return here to his home. This is good news indeed to many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. Arch Wright autored to Denison last Thursday to do some shopping.

Miss Gertrude Welsh has finished her year's school at district No. 9, Paradise township and returned the first of the week to her home at Elliott, Iowa, where she will spend her vacation.

R. W. Houston sold two cars last week, both going into the country north of town. P. P. Carl, the Kenwood merchant, got a Ford and Kenney Mahoney purchased a dandy new Studebaker.

Miss Jennie Rae, who has been teaching in the high school at Watertown, S. Dak., arrived here Saturday night for her annual vacation visit with her aunt, Maggie Talcott.

The Palo Alto club was delightfully entertained by Miss Esther Turnlund last Thursday afternoon. Social chat and fancy work occupied their time. An elegant two course lunch furnished a fitting close to the session.
