The Majestic Range should be in every kitchen because it heats up quickly, bakes perfectly, uses less fuel, and I think, is the best all around range on the market.

—Jacob H. Galle
The Great Majestic Range should be in every kitchen because it does not take much wood, coal or cobs. And it is a good and pretty stove. It heats quickly. It's not such a clumsy looking stove like some. It's not so large, but plenty large enough to cook and bake in and is large enough to put two boilers on when you wash. And everything is handy on the Great Majestic stove.
