Hon. L. M. Shaw was in Denison Saturday and Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Voss. Mr. Shaw came out from New York to attend to some business matters in Council Bluffs and left here Sunday evening for that place.

A local in the classified department in the Review will bring the desired result. If you have anything for sale or trade or if you want to buy something, place a small ad in this column and see how quickly it brings results. It is doing it for others and will for you, too.

Chas. Eland, of Vail, was a pleasant caller in Denison Saturday. Mr. Eland called at the Review office and extended his subscription for this paper for another year. He told us that he enjoys the Review more than any other paper he receives and said that it gives him the news from the entire county.

The Prison of Sark.

Sark, the loveliest of the channel islands, possesses a quaint old prison of two cells more as a matter of form than of necessity, for serious crime is almost unknown in the island, which has no paid police, but simply an elected constable. It is some years since the prison was called into requisition; and on the last occasion the bolt was found to be so rusty that it had to be broken before the door could be opened. The prisoner was then put in, left all night with the door open and made no attempt to escape.

On another occasion a young English servant who had stolen some clothes was sentenced to three days' imprisonment. The prospect so terrified her that the authorities took pity on her loneliness and considerably left the cell open. The little maid sat in the doorway and was consoled by kind hearted Sark women, who came to keep her company. A still more curious incident is told of a man who was convicted for neglecting his wife and children. He was ordered to betake himself to the prison and there wait for the arrival of the constable. This he did, sitting outside until the door was opened.—Strand Magazine.

The Alpine Guide in London.

Melchior Anderregg proved when he visited London that a great Swiss guide's topographical sense is not necessarily confined to the mountains. He was met at London Bridge station in a thick fog by Leslie Stephen and T. W. Higginbotham, who accompanied him on foot to Hinchliff's rooms in Lincoln's Inn Fields. "A day or two later," says the biography of Anderregg in "Florence of the Alps," "the same party found themselves at the same station on their return from Woolwich. Now, Melchior," said Mr. Higginbotham, "you will lead us back home." Instantly the skillful guide, who had never seen a larger town than Berne, accepted the situation and found his way straight back without difficulty, pausing for consideration only once, as if to examine the landmarks at the foot of Chancery lane.—London Spectator.

Too Much of One.

He—You do not seem to be so anxious for a flat now. She—How can I be? Didn't I marry you?—Baltimore American.

If fun is good, truth is still better and love best of all.—Thackeray.

Stick a Screw in Soap.

A carpenter who has to insert a screw in hard wood pushes the screw first straight into a lump of soap. This makes it easy to screw into the wood. Soap is much better than oil, as the latter is so quickly absorbed by the wood that this swells and the screw jams.

His Handicap.

"The real man rises above his handicap."
"I rise before mine."
"Before?"
"Yes. She makes me get up and get my own breakfast."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Harvest is Sure.

"It's a true saying that 'What a man sows that shall he also reap.'"
"Alas, yes! No chickens scratch up the seeds we sow in our spiritual gardens."—Boston Transcript.

Easy Solution.

Husband (shrilly)—Understand me, madam, your extravagance will have to cease sooner or later. Young Wife—Well, then, we'll make it later.—Boston Transcript.

Bellows.

It is proved by ancient carvings unearthed in Egypt that the bellows were in use for forging fires in the 15th century B. C.

Too Good.

"Mary, after the week is out I shan't need your services," the boarding house keeper told her cook. "Your cooking doesn't suit me."
"But the boarders seem to like it, ma'am."
"Yes; that's why I must get another cook."

Cause of His Worry.

Ned—I'm dreadfully worried about my debts. Jack—It must be frightfully annoying to be continually damned. Ned—Oh, hang the duns! What worries me is the melancholy fact that I can't get any more credit.—Kansas City Journal.

Handing Him a Jolt.

Mabel—How are you getting on at college, Percy? Percy—Oh, all right, I'm trying awfully hard to get ahead, you know. Mabel—Well, heaven knows you need one!—Judge.

His Specialty.

"They tell me the apothecary at the corner is quite a poet?"
"Why not? Isn't poetry well known as a drug in the market?"—Baltimore American.

The worth of a state in the long run is the worth of the individuals composing it.—John Stuart Mill.

ARION ITEMS.

A fair congregation attended church last Sunday, nearly all of the choir being back in their places. A clarinet solo was played by Jud Butler, accompanied by Miss Stella Butler. Rev. Priestley preached. Following are the hours of services March 28th: Sunday school at 10 a. m. Morning service at 11; evening service at 7:30 p. m.

The choir is practicing a cantata called "A Tale of a Hero" which will be given in the near future.

Miss Anna Egan, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Grederman, returned to her home in Carroll last Thursday.

Isaac Howorth was in Arion Saturday with some cattle which he had sold here and others which went to Charter Oak. He also bought some Shorthorn calves from an Arion herd.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson came from Charter Oak Thursday to spend the day with Mrs. Mackey.

March 18th was the twelfth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Talcott. The church choir and orchestra went to their home in the evening and completely surprised them. A very pleasant evening was passed and after a nice supper had been served a handsome tablecloth was presented. Arion people appreciate the help that Mr. and Mrs. Talcott have given in the music of the church.

Mrs. A. A. Conrad and Miss Helen Stevenson were Dow City visitors on Monday.

Earl Mackey came from Sioux City last week to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Amanda Mackey.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Butler went to Denison to attend the Masonic banquet.

A number of our young people attended the St. Patrick's dance at Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee are moving to Denison, where he will drive a delivery wagon for the Menagh store.

Hillie Newman, of Ainsworth, Neb., is visiting Arion friends.

A party of Charter Oak young ladies, Misses Perry, Bornhoff, Ferrell and Hancock, spent Sunday with their friend, Miss Alta Mackey.

Mrs. Percy Dodge is visiting at Manning.

Patrick Behan shipped two cars of fat cattle and Mr. Behan and Emil Schwarz together shipped a car of hogs to Omaha Wednesday.

Leon Kepford and Miss Gretchen Galland went to Denison Thursday and were married by Justice Rollins. Mr. Kepford is an exemplary young man who is making a success at farming, and Miss Galland has been one of our efficient operators at central. They have gone to housekeeping on the Granger farm and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future happiness.

County Attorney Andrew Bell was in Arion Thursday morning.

Mrs. Louis Kepford has been visiting at Jake Kepford's the past week.

Mrs. M. M. Remy is suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

Oiry Meets With Board

The board of education met in regular session last Monday evening. County Superintendent Oiry was present. Many changes for the advancement of the West Side schools are contemplated, but we are as yet not in a position to give an exact outline. Several new studies must be added in this school in order to maintain same on fully accredited list. The board is making every possible effort to keep our schools up to standard, and Mr. Oiry gladly gives all the assistance asked. The more we get in close contact with Mr. Oiry on the school proposition of Crawford county and the school work in general, the more we find that he is without a doubt a very capable man to make the schools of this county a success. He plans and works, works and plans continuously, to raise the standard of the Crawford county schools. We feel that right at this time it would be a very sad mistake to take Mr. Oiry from the helm of the Crawford county schools. He will be needed there much more so the next few years than he has ever needed before. Think before you make a change.—West Side Journal.
