THE BOY AND HIS BALL GROUND. Loading habits of boys are largely due to lack of convenient playgrounds.

It is the rule in the majority of towns, that though there may be a few outlying playgrounds, yet the average boy has difficulty in finding a place where he can set of youngsters can meet.

Boys are very tribal in their habits. Each has his own set, and dislikes or dreads to break into some other set.

He will venture into another neighborhood only on being becked and protected by a group of his own comrades.

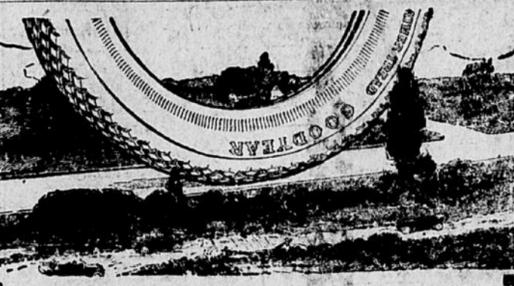

The neighborhood ball nine may journey over to the other end of a town on a Saturday afternoon for a match game.

But ordinarily they will play in their own district or not at all.

It is not practical to establish a playground for every little section of a town. But there are vacant lots, and owners should be generous.

Also the neighbors should not be too sensitive. The chances may be many, but the chance to play freely near home may be the making and saving of them.

Two games of basket ball were played at the Germania hall Friday evening. The high school boys played Carroll. The game was very interesting.
