MEMORIAL DAY SATURDAY, 29TH

Memorial Sunday Services at Presbyterian Church Well Attended—Appropriate Music Rendered

THE MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Exercises at Cemetery in Forenoon As Usual and in Afternoon at Old Germania Opera House

The annual union memorial day address of the Denison churches was delivered by Rev. J. C. Tourtelot at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, a large congregation, including the W. R. C., G. A. R. and S. of V. organizations, who marched in a body to the church, having gathered to pay tribute to our departed heroes. The choir sang two beautiful anthems appropriate to the occasion and Rev. J. L. Boyd led the opening prayer.

The memorial sermon, while expressing deep appreciation of the foundation laid for our country by the old soldiers, even at the great price of sacrifice and bloodshed, set forth the evils of this day in our country and called for the correction of some of our laws to save our nation at this time from ruin, not through bloodshed, but through vice. It was a thoughtful and impressive sermon and made loyalty to our nation in a moral sense, very plain.

In closing Rev. Tourtelot expressed the hope that a large number of the patriotic citizens of Denison might be in attendance at the memorial day program to be given at the old opera house on Saturday afternoon, May 29th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Memorial day will be observed in Denison on Saturday of this week, when members of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps and all loyal citizens will pay tribute to the old soldiers buried at Oakland cemetery who fought to preserve the union during the war of the rebellion. The exercises will commence in the forenoon at 9:30, when a parade will be formed on Main street to go to the cemetery for exercises at the graves of the departed veterans. In the afternoon the exercises will be held at the high school gymnasium just east of town, commencing promptly at 2:30. Rev. J. L. Boyd, pastor of the Methodist church, will deliver the memorial address.

The program as printed in last week's Review will be carried out with a few minor changes. It is hoped that the business houses of Denison will close on Saturday afternoon during the exercises so that every citizen may be in attendance and show his respect to the few remaining veterans. Below is printed the program for the day:

Who says the small boy is not patriotic, day parades he always follows close behind the big bass drum?

Hemphill of South Carolina rushes into print to defend John Shelton Williams who, he says, "would rather fight than eat." That's just the trouble. The comptroller of the currency isn't hired to be a plug-ugly.

The Houston Post does not regard with favor the attempts of McAdoo and Williams to have the Riggs bank suit dismissed on a legal technicality. This sterling democratic newspaper remarks that "the man who is conscious of his own integrity is generally the last to invoke the aid of a technicality."

There is no occasion for excitement over the destruction of the Gulflight. Mr. Bryan's voice is still vibrant on the chautauque circuit and he will not unless any harsh words simply because an American ship has been torpedoed and an American life lost. What are these things in reality as compared to a Nobel peace prize (value $40,000) as a possibility?

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Rev. Boyd, of M. E. Church, Preaches Excellent Sermon—Glee Club Leads in Song Service.

On Sunday evening one of the largest congregations ever present on an occasion of this kind was gathered at the Methodist church to take part in the baccalaureate services of the Denison high school. The church looked very pretty decorated with bridal wreath and snowballs. Miss Hazel Laub played a beautiful organ solo as the members of the class of 1915, followed by the faculty of the high school, took their places directly in front of the pulpit. The services were opened by the singing of the hymn "Abide With Me," followed by prayer by Rev. J. A. Lemke, pastor of the German Methodist church. The choir, made up of high school voices, very beautifully rendered "The Radiant Morn," under the direction of Miss Beatrice Lally, after which a very fine baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. J. L. Boyd, pastor of the M. E. church.

After a few words of hearty commendation and congratulation to the members of the graduating class, Rev. Boyd preached a most impressive sermon from the text, "Gold and silver have I none, but such as I have, give I unto thee." The sermon did not present methods of gaining material success in life or attaining position, but was a plea for the acceptance of Jesus Christ and His religion as the source of the greatest happiness and service.

The services were closed by the hymn, "Lead, Kindly, Light," followed by the benediction pronounced by Rev. J. A. Lemke.

"If Roosevelt were running for president today his vote would be smaller than that of the socialist candidate," asserts the Creston Advertiser.

In "the rapidly growing strength of the woman's movement in nearly all lands," the Iowa City Citizen sees "a promise to the world of better things to come."

The Pocahontas Democrat wonders if some of the numerous candidates for governor might not be induced to accept the United States senatorship when Cummins becomes president.

The Perry Chief suggests that the state try having those auto plates manufactured in some of the state institutions. "They couldn't be made any uglier and they might be made faster," it concludes.

MAKE STUDY OF AGRICULTURE

Farmers and Iowa State College Will Join in Study Visit to More Than 200 Farms in Month of June.

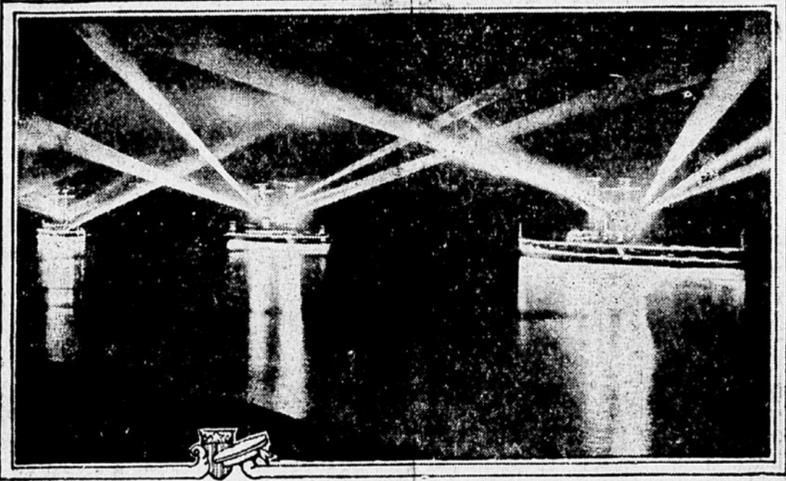

42 COUNTIES WILL BE VISITED

Automobile Tour of Each County to Be Organized by the Farmers and Business Men.

In each county an automobile tour will be organized by the farmers and business men and the day's run will include stops at some of the best farms and homes. At each place the lecturers will give talks on farm animals, crops, soils and buildings. The women are not to be overlooked and lecturers from the home economics department will discuss various home problems at each stop. It is likely that at each tour there will be from 100 to 200 automobiles and that from 500 to 1,000 people will be reached each day.

"See your county first," would be a good motto for this tour. It is quite customary for residents of one county to talk about the fine live stock and other agricultural achievements of some other section of the state and overlook the good things within a few miles of them, merely because they do not know about them. This tour gives the farmers excellent opportunity to study local conditions.

GREENE COUNTY VOTES BONDS.
Authorizes the Issue of $150,000 in Bonds for the Construction of a New Court House.

Jefferson, May 26—By a sweeping majority of two to one, the voters of Greene county indorsed the new courthouse proposition at the special election held yesterday, voting in favor of a bond issue of $150,000.

The vote of approval was far more decisive than anyone had anticipated, the county precincts, with one or two exceptions, coming forward with majorities of from two to one, up to nine to one in favor of the new building. The eight townships which contain no towns—Willow, Greenbrier, Kendrick, Cedar, Grant, Dawson, Jackson and Hardin—voted 256 for and 152 against. Six of them were for it and two were against. Hardin carried the banner in the county vote by giving 44 for to 5 against; while Cedar was strongest in opposition with only seven votes for and 46 against.

Among the townships containing towns, Bristol was foremost in support of the proposition with a vote of 29 for and 17 against, while Junction No. 2 came second with 36 for and 17 against. Grand Junction gave the heaviest adverse majority—34 for and 155 against—due, it is believed, to the fact that they have just built a new $45,000 school building and the tax question entered in as a controlling factor. The same situation applies to Scranton and Churdan, where there were majorities against, but not nearly so decisive as in Grand Junction. Hippy joined with Cooper, Dana and Farlin in giving the proposition a majority.

Jefferson came forward with by far the largest vote in her history, and with the most united front she has ever brought to any public question. The second ward was the banner one in percentage, with 183 for and 12

THE FUNERAL OF THOS. ADAMS

Well Known Stock Raiser and Farmer of Near Vail Dies at His Home Wednesday, May 19th.

RESIDENT OF IOWA SINCE 1878 For Many Years Resident of Stockholm Township, and in 1895 Moved to Farm Near Vail.

Vail, May 24—Special—Thomas A. Adams was born in Berkshire, England, July 12, 1844, and died Wednesday, May 19, 1915, aged 70 years, 10 months and 7 days. Mr. Adams was one of the oldest settlers of this community. He lived in England until he was 25 years old. He came to America in 1870 and located at Greensburg, Ind., where he lived for five years. He then moved to Iowa Aug. 28, 1878, he was united in marriage to Jane Clark and in 1895 they moved to Vail, where he has since resided. Mr. Adams was a tireless worker; never could be contented to be idle. He was known far and near as a successful stock buyer. Everything he turned his hands to prospered. Six children were given them. One daughter, Ellen, died April 4, 1912, at age of 19 years, and five survive their father: Arthur, William, Cora (Mrs. E. E. Hoffman), Vincent and Elmer. Mr. Adams had always enjoyed good health and had been a very active and rugged man until the last few months. To mourn his departure he leaves his wife, children and many friends and neighbors; also one sister and one brother, both residing in England. Those bereft have the tender sympathy of many in their sorrow. The funeral was held Friday at 10 o'clock a. m. at the Presbyterian church, Rev. R. E. Jones conducting the services, followed by interment in the Vail cemetery. The pall bearers were Clark White, E. T. Ryan, R. Brockelshy, Henry Stuck, A. J. Barrow and John Walsh.

Need Double Force.
"New York, with only 50 per cent more registrations than we have in Iowa, has 129 clerks in the auto department. In Iowa we are allowed seven regular employees for this work. Even extra help is allowed to equal, in the aggregate, three or four extra people for the entire year. The force we now have should be doubled in number, and it would require about this many additional clerks to keep the work up as it should be. I want the people to know that it is through no fault of this department that applicants have to wait so long to receive their number plates after sending in their money and applications therefor.

"You refer to receiving for money sent. To do so would require nearly as much time as to examine the application itself, so that, out of necessity, we are compelled to take these applications up in their regular order—and it is, each day's mail by itself—that we are now three weeks in arrears."

Secretary Allen's estimate of 150,000 cars in Iowa does not include ordinary classes of commercial trucks. against a score of 94 per cent favorable. The third ward had 247 for and 138 against; and the first ward was 235 for and 30 against. The total Jefferson vote was 665 for and 60 against, giving a majority of 605. The total vote polled in Jefferson was 735, which is about 80 per cent of the 933 voters which Census Taker Rutter has found here in the census just completed.

The proposition was not carried by Jefferson's vote. The outside came down to the county seat border with a clear majority of 17 votes in favor of the new court house.

Is Injured by Dynamite.

Dunlap, May 22—Lloyd Chambers, a young man employed on the M. P. Brace farm east of town, was painfully injured by a dynamite explosion. He had set three charges and after lighting the last charge noticed a bar standing up against a stump where he had his first charge. Thinking the bar might strike him when the explosion occurred he went to remove it, but had scarcely reached it when the charge went off, closely followed by a second one nearby. Young Chambers was thus caught in the very midst of an inferno. Several injuries were made about his face and arms by pieces of wood from the stump and both ears required several stitches. An artery was severed in his forearm causing the loss of much blood before medical aid could be secured. Although the injuries are quite serious the young man is rapidly recovering and will be able to be about in a few days.

New Parties Buy Candy Kitchen.
The candy kitchen at the corner of Adams and Fifth streets will undergo a change of name and of nationality, when it is reopened in the near future. It will no longer be the Olympia candy kitchen and will not be run by Greeks, but will be the Carroll candy kitchen and its proprietors will be of Italian nativity. The names of the new proprietors are Mike Tesaandri and Ernest Marciell. They now have a similar establishment at Denison, which they will continue to operate. Those who have been in the Denison place say that it is kept in an admirable shape and are confident that they will give Carroll an attractive and reputable place of refreshments. They have signed a long term lease for the entire building and will use the basement as an ice cream factory.—Carroll Times.

UNITED STATES HITS AT BLOCKADE

To Deny the Recognition of British Sea Rule, Hint—Secretary Bryan Puts End to State Parleys.

AMBASSADOR MAKES INQUIRIES

British Foreign Office Requested for Meaning of Statement Made on Thursday of Last Week.

Washington, May 22—The determination of the United States government not to recognize or be bound by the provisions of the British order in council, which has declared an embargo on all commercial intercourse with Germany, as well as inward or outward bound through neutral countries, was manifested in several ways today.

The foreign trade advisers of the state department announced that they had decided to suspend all conferences with British embassy officials here with reference to the informal arrangements which had been in progress not only to assist American cotton exporters in obtaining payment for cargoes detained, but also to secure for American importers American owned goods now in Germany, contracted for before the order in council went into effect. Secretary Bryan said this step had been taken in order to secure a better understanding with the British government as to the capacity in which the foreign trade advisers were acting.

Page to Ask Explanation.
Ambassador Page, at London, was instructed also to inquire of the British foreign office the meaning of the statement made in their memorandum issued on Thursday that the terms of an arrangement between American cotton representatives and the British government were acceptable to the United States.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador here, called on Secretary Bryan during the day to explain that he also had always understood that the United States government was not to be considered as having recognized the British order in council, irrespective of the assistance given the cotton shippers for the foreign traders' advisers of the state department. Some error is understood to have been made in London on the subject.

The decision of the trade advisers to suspend their conferences, however, was reached before the British foreign office memorandum was issued and based on differences of a practical character as to the shipment of American owned goods from Germany through neutral countries, some of which had been contracted for and some of which had even been paid for before the order in council was issued. The text of the trade advisers' statement follows:

Diplomatic Conferences Stopped.
"In view of the differences which have arisen in the informal and unofficial conferences between Sir Richard Crawford, the commercial adviser of the British embassy, and Robert P. Rose and W. R. Fleming, the trade advisers of the department of state, who have been in a personal capacity representing the importers of the United States. Mr. Rose and Mr. Fleming have decided that they can not continue these conferences until certain of the difficulties have been removed, and they have therefore made a full report of what has taken place to the department of state and will await its action."

While officials of the department were reticent concerning the differences referred to by the foreign trade advisers, these are understood to relate to correspondence between British officials and the advisers, offering a plan for the treatment of the American owned goods. Originally the time limit for the shipment out of Germany of American goods ordered before March 1st was set for June 1st, but the British government announced several days ago that this period had been extended until June 15th.

Private Shippers May Bargain.
In granting this concession the British officials are understood to have referred as a concession to the United States government, and this, as well as other features of the plan whereby American owned goods were to be shipped through neutral ports from Germany to the United States, were of such a character as to cause the state department to believe that any acquiescence would be construed as a legal recognition of the British order in council. Until a different understanding is reached or the plan for the handling of American owned goods is vitally changed, the foreign trade advisers will not participate in any conference on behalf of the American importers or exporters. Individually, American merchants, of course, can continue their negotiations with the British government, either through the British embassy here or at London.

"The people of the United States who don't want war with Germany or any other country may thank their lucky stars that Theodore Roosevelt was not elected president in 1912," suggests the Fairfield Ledger.
