SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES

Side Lights on Next Sunday's Lesson for Teachers and Pupils Edited by Charles K. Meyers.

June 6—Nathan Rebukes David. 2 Samuel II, 1 to 12. 7.

We have a lesson today which I would like to skip writing about. It tells of the beastly sins of David, whom I have been holding up as a model of right doing.

Would that the writer never had happened. Writers of ordinary history seldom fail to pass lightly over the wrong doings of their heroes and make excuses for their frailties, but this is not the bible way of doing.

David did wrong in secret and may have thought that it could remain so, but God told him through the prophet Nathan that what he had done should be proclaimed after and thus his humiliation must be to the very depth.

In the chapters previous to our lesson it is told how David was overcoming the armies of many nations. Things were most favored in overcoming the combined armies of his enemies. Things were going well with him, and it was just at this point that he fell. In brief, it can be said that he saw a woman and was so impressed with her beauty that he wanted her for his wife.

She was the wife of another man, Uriah. David arranged a plan to have Uriah put at the front of the battle and when he was killed took the widow for a wife.

Our lesson verses tell how the prophet Nathan went before David complaining that a rich man had robbed a poor man of his chief treasure, his ewe lamb, when he had flocks and herds in plenty.

Such injustice roused David's indignation and he promptly said the offending man die as well as restoring the lamb four fold to the poor man "because he did this thing, and because he had no pity." Nathan then said "Thou art the man."

The arrow went home and mighty repentance followed.

Yes, repentance followed, but this did not make David escape the consequences of his sin. From that time on there was war and strife in his kingdom, his sons and daughters did most nasty, beastly things, his son, Absalom, led a revolt which caused the king to fly for his life. His son, Absalom, died in battle although the father tried hard to save him, causing greatest grief. Because he was a man of war David was not allowed to build the great temple at Jerusalem.

While David was given evidence that his repentance availed and was forgiven, yet the consequences of his sin were not removed.

The farmers admit that they may get smashed up by automobiles when they drive through the country at night without carrying lanterns, but their grandfathers never felt that lights were necessary.

How easily you could get a good looking front lawn, if you could only make the grass believe it was the back yard.

Now that the girls are playing baseball so much at their schools, the notion that women are unfit for the higher education seems completely demolished.

There is a general conviction that if you don't like the dust thrown from some other people's automobiles, you should get a machine of your own and throw some on other people.

It is often noticed that the men find the demands of their business very exacting at the time when the carpet beating season comes on.

By All Means, See This Car CHANDLER SIX $1295 Now With Seven-Passenger Body If you haven't been in to see the new seven-passenger Chandler, arrange to call at once. We do not remember that any other car has been viewed with such enthusiasm. You will surely be delighted with it. Admirers of the Chandler—and they are a host—have found everything to please them, and not a thing to disappoint them, in the New Season's seven-passenger model. A distinctly reassuring feature is the fact that there is not a single thing about this car that's of an experimental nature. The $1295 Chandler price announced in January holds good on this big, roomy seven-passenger model, still not a detail of design or materials anywhere in the car has been cheapened in quality to make this price possible. Except for the longer wheel-base and the seven-passenger body, and some lesser refinements and improvements, it is the same Chandler that was so popular last year at $1595 and with only a five-passenger body. In the tonneau of the new seven-passenger body there is no cramping or crowding. You will be impressed by the clever construction of the auxiliary seats. When not in use they fold away neatly into the floor and the back of the front seat, converting the car into an exceptionally spacious five-passenger carriage. No thumb-screws or levers of any nature are necessary for their adjustment. The demand for the Chandler all over the country is so sweeping that the factory will be hard driven to fill all orders, even with its production for the year immensely increased. Our allotment is liberal, but limited. And beyond that limit we shall not be able to supply our patrons. If you will get your order in now we will take care of you. OLDER BUT STRONGER To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty. Is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years. To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.
