WORLD'S RECORD IN FINANCE

More Than Three Billion Dollars Are Raised by the People of the Empire, Says Treasurer.

NATION IS NOW IN GOOD SHAPE

Officials Declare That the Country is Now Financially Able to Continue the War Indefinitely

Berlin, Sept. 24.—The German war loan raised September 21st is the largest financial operation in the world's history, said Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the imperial treasury, to the Associated Press today. With a total of 12,000,000 marks ($3,000,000) and some small sums not yet reported the secretary said, it exceeds Great Britain's last loan, which attracted much attention all over the world as an unprecedented piece of financing.

"The present loan," Dr. Helfferich continued, "enables the government to liquidate treasury bills taken over by the reichbank and other banks, provides Germany with money for the winter campaign and renders unnecessary the raising of another loan before March."

Germany's Expenses Less.
"England hitherto has raised $1,062,500,000 and Germany $6,250,000,000 in long term loans, whereas England's war expenditures up to the present time are hardly less than Germany's and soon will exceed Germany's for England is now spending nearly $25,000,000 daily against Germany's not much above $15,000,000. That means that Germany is spending 25 cents per capita daily and England 55 cents. I doubt therefore, whether England's financiers possess confidence that their resources will outlast ours."

"Everything said abroad about Germany putting on pressure and using force to secure subscriptions to the loan is pure invention. We appealed solely to the financial power and patriotism of our fellow citizens. Our success must open the world's eyes to a recognition of how strong is Germany's financial power and how strong is her will."

Standing on Own Feet.
"I am confident that the success of this loan, which proves that we are standing firmly upon our own feet, will contribute toward the good relations between Germany and the United States, notwithstanding the Morgan-Holden incident. Independence is the first word in American history as well as the first word of true friendship. America cannot class us among her poor relations."

Dr. Helfferich asserted that Germany was financially able to continue the war indefinitely. Her people, he said, were earning higher wages and saving more money than in times of peace. The country was supplying its own needs and buying little abroad and making no debts to foreign countries. People Learn to Economize.

In conclusion the secretary said a shortage in the supplies of some raw materials, like cotton and wool, might cause inconvenience, but the people were learning to economize. Old woolen clothing was being reworked into shoddy, and coats could be worn shorter. Substitutes for some materials were being found, he added.

The British parliament passed last week a credit of $1,250,000,000. It was the seventh since the war began and brought the total amount to $5,310,000,000. Premier Asquith said the daily expenditures of Great Britain was $17,500,000, but that there was a likelihood of it increasing, owing to advances to Great Britain's allies and her dominions and to provide for munitions.

Dr. Helfferich's reference to the "Morgan-Holden incident" possibly has some connection with the conference in New York between Sir Edward Hopkinson-Holden, managing director of the London City and Midland bank, and J. P. Morgan with regard to the loan the British and French commissioners are endeavoring to secure in the United States. Sir Edward is a member of the British commission.

It looks as if the Mexican peace conference, like the house of governors at Boston, would reach some mighty interesting conclusions in regard to the best brands of cigars and the way to make a mint julep.

Some one asks what has become of the man who used to live contentedly at a $7.00 a week boarding house. Well, just now he is down at the office of his $5.00 per day hotel kicking because the food is not as good as he is used to having.

ALL STAR CAST IN "TIPPERARY"

Frank Mahara, Who Has Been Coming Here Each Season for 30 Years, Now Brings "Tipperary."

GUARANTEED BY MR. KRAUTH
If Attraction Monday Night Doesn't Prove Satisfactory, Go to Box Office and Get Your Money

The management of the opera house announces for one night only, Monday, October 4th, the star cast for Frank L. Mahara's Irish comedy, with music, "Tipperary." This will no doubt be the theatrical treat of the season, for the company numbers well known players, among whom are such excellent players as Miss Laura Frankfield, late star in "Madam X," and Boyd Trousdale, whom everyone will remember in "The Man on the Box" and "Mary Jane's Pa." These two players are ample guarantee of a good evening's entertainment. One knows that he cannot afford to miss so promising an evening's enjoyment.

Mr. Mahara has brought a number of plays to our city and has yet to fail us. He has always had one of the best shows of the season and this year he brings us the most expensive undertaking of his career. The costumes are most beautiful. In fact to those theatergoers who want something just a little better and something they will long remember, we can think of nothing better to recommend than Mr. Mahara's beautiful production of Irish comedy and romance, "Tipperary."

IDENTIFIES BROTHER

Sister of One of the Two Men Killed at Manila August 8th, Identifies Him As Her Brother.

Manilla, Sept. 27.—(Special to the Review)—Miss Catherine McGovern, of Milwaukee, Wis., arrived here last Monday to identify one of the two men killed in the wreck of August 8th. She told Messrs. McLaren and White her brother had a perfect set of teeth with the exception of one tooth which had the enamel broken off. The body was exhumed Monday and Miss McGovern was satisfied as to the man being her brother. The body was prepared for shipment and was taken to Manitowish, Wis., for burial beside her father and mother, this being his childhood home.

Miss McGovern is an experienced nurse in Milwaukee, and said it had been six years since she had heard from her brother. He was a railway engineer and one of four children in the family of two girls and two boys.

There is a widespread feeling that the gardens of the town must be maintained in all their beauty if it takes the neighbors from dawn to dusk to keep them up.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY OCTOBER 9

Governor Clarke Issues Fire Prevention Proclamation in Order That People May Take Precaution

CALLS FOR PUBLIC MEETINGS

Large Number of Fires Past Year Due, for Most Part, to Carelessness—Look at Furnaces.

The last report of the state fire marshal shows that in 1914, 4,296 fires were reported to his office, and that they involved a loss of $5,858,985.00, or $16,062.00 per day. This does not cover the total number of fires or the total loss, because some officials fail to make reports. The same report shows that the damage to dwellings in 1914 was $106,819.00 more than in 1913, and that thirty-eight more barns and fifty-seven more stores were destroyed or damaged than in 1913, and that fifty-five factories were damaged or destroyed. The loss from defective flues was $84,157.00 more in 1914 than in 1913 and from sparks from flues $64,000.00 more. Sixty fires were caused from defective wiring in 1914 and the loss occasioned from the careless use, handling and storage of gasoline was $131,127.00.

It must be said that a very great portion of this loss is due to carelessness and negligence and that it ought not to be so. The people ought to give careful consideration to these matters. In order to call their attention directly I do hereby proclaim Saturday, Oct. 9, 1915, Fire Prevention Day, and request that it be observed in the schools, in public meetings and in such other ways as may be deemed suitable, to the end that the people may be aroused to the necessity of examining carefully into the condition of furnaces, the inspection of the condition of the wiring of their homes and other buildings, the condition of flues and roofs, the storage of gasoline, the deposits of waste and, generally, to the elimination of any and all conditions likely to cause a conflagration.

It is a reproach that Iowa should suffer millions of dollars of loss annually from fires caused by pure negligence. It is inexcusable that the careful, cautious property owner should lose his home or other buildings because of his careless, reckless neighbor. It is a matter of community interest and it is entirely worth while that a day be set apart to arouse the people to the necessity of reducing the danger to the minimum. The masters of cities and towns it is hoped will inaugurate general clean up and inspection movements.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Iowa. Done at Des Moines, Iowa, this 13th day of September, 1915.

NEXT SATURDAY "HAULING DAY"

Volunteers Will Haul Lumber for the Forsythe Tabernacle Next Saturday—Monday Building Day

TO BE GREAT RELIGIOUS EVENT

Dr. Forsythe, Now at Kirksville, Mo., Reports Great Meetings; Denison and Vicinity Will Respond

There is every evidence that the coming of the evangelist, Dr. Forsythe, to Denison will be the greatest religious event for Denison and vicinity which has occurred since the history of the settlement of the county. Adequate preparations are being made by the membership of the various churches interested and everything points to a great awakening of religious interest. The committee on the building of the tabernacle has decided that it will be erected on Monday, October 4th. Mr. Charles Tabor, with his usual characteristic kindness, has donated the use of his lots one block south of the Halle-Brodersen corner on Main street and the great tabernacle will be placed there.

Next Saturday will be "hauling day." At that time all interested in the success of the meetings and who have teams are invited to give the day to the hauling of lumber from the various yards to the place where the tabernacle is to be erected.

On Monday every person who is possessed of a saw and hammer and feels that he is competent to work under the direction of the carpenters in charge, is asked to come to the grounds. It is planned to witness the erection of the tabernacle in one day. Plans which have been used many times before are at hand and it is believed that this work can be accomplished according to program.

It may be difficult for dolls clothing or Christmas notions factories to fit up to make rifles and shrapnel, but the people who are scrambling for war stocks wouldn't see any obstacles in the way.

Over in Europe they suppress news papers that give away information valuable to the enemy. In the United States a lot of the newspapers would suppress the officials that refused to give out such information.

PHONE COMPANY IN NEW HOME

Moves Into Permanent Home, and on Sunday Service Was Furnished With Modern Switchboard.

HAVE ALL MODERN EQUIPMENT

Rural Patrons, As Well As Town, Will Have Improved Service, Standard of Which Will Be of Best

The Crawford County Telephone company cut into service Sunday with a switchboard of the very latest type. This central office equipment was purchased after many miles of underground and aerial cable had been put into service and the outside plant equipment brought up to the standard of the large cities.

In the reconstructing and preparing for the installation of this equipment, the stockholders of the company have been called upon to make an expenditure of approximately $25,000. The new building cost $3,000, the switchboard $7,500 and the underground and aerial cable, including the labor, $8,150. They feel that their improvements can bring the Crawford County Telephone company's service up to the metropolitan standard as in keeping with other lines of progress in Denison and will be appreciated by the telephone using public.

It will interest the people of Denison to know that this switchboard is second to none in Iowa or elsewhere. It consists of the very latest devices that have recently been developed in telephone equipment.

When city subscribers call central, a miniature lamp is illuminated in front of the operator and when the conversation is completed another lamp immediately calls to her attention that the connection should be taken down.

In providing modern equipment for the citizens of Denison, the telephone company has not overlooked its rural subscribers, but has provided a means for improving their service to the standard never before reached in this class of service. Heretofore, considerable trouble has been experienced with rural connections, the difficulty being in the failure to attract the operator's attention after she had put up a rural connection. This is now overcome by what is known as the Flashing Recall System. This system was only developed a few months ago and this is the first installation of its kind in the west. When the rural subscriber has finished a conversation and again wishes to signal the operator or ring off, if the generator handle of the telephone is turned the lamp in front of the operator and also in front of the chief operator's desk keeps flashing until the operator cuts in on the connection. The rural service will now be greatly improved.

This new switchboard was manufactured by the Western Electric company, of Chicago, Ill., and was installed under the supervision of Mr. F. J. Koch, general foreman, and Mr. R. W. Harper, job foreman. Mr. Harper has been in Denison for the last six weeks and is one of the Western Electric company's expert telephone switchboard installers. He made a trip abroad last year to study European telephone methods. Mr. Harper, with a gang of electricians, completed this installation in the record time of forty-five days.

Since the new switchboard has been cut over there has not been a single hitch with the operation of the equipment. Mr. Harper should therefore feel proud of his good work, and the manner in which he has handled this installation is a credit to himself and his company.
