DENISON HIGH'S FIRST DEFEAT

Played the Council Bluffs Team on Saturday Afternoon and Were Defeated 28 to 6.

FINE EXHIBITION OF FOOTBALL

Team Greatly Handicapped When Right Half Locke Was Compelled to Withdraw From Game.

The Denison high school football team met with their first defeat this season at Council Bluffs on Saturday afternoon, when they played the fast high school team of that place, the score being 28 to 6. According to reports of those from Denison who witnessed the game, it was one of the best exhibitions of football that Denison has figured in this far this season, and was devoid of rag chewing, and both teams played a good, consistent game. Denison has no excuse to offer for the defeat that they met at the hands of the Council Bluffs team. It is true, however, that the local team was greatly handicapped during the early part of the game when Right Half Locke was compelled to withdraw on account of a badly wrenched shoulder, but this happened after he had crossed the Council Bluffs goal line for the only touchdown which Denison made during the game. Council Bluffs had a fast team and proved too hard a nut for Denison to crack although they did make a great showing.

The Council Bluffs Nonpareil of Sunday printed the following account of the game, which will be of interest to one of the Council Bluffs high school football team has afforded its local supporters this season, Denison was defeated yesterday afternoon at Athletic park by the decisive score of 28 to 6. Denison came to town Saturday morning, confident of victory, and with the proud record of not having been beaten this fall, but before leaving in the evening was compelled to dip its colors to the crimson and blue.

Bill Landon, about whom Coach Chet Dudley has built his football machine, was easily the star of the game. He made three of the Bluffs' four touchdowns and successfully kicked goal on each of his four attempts. Landon started the scoring within five minutes after the game started. A series of line plunges brought the ball within five yards of goal, where Denison rallied and offered stonewall resistance. For the first time Denison held up valiantly to ward off a touchdown, but for the fourth time Landon hit and his hard and the Denison defense crumbled sufficiently to let Landon through.

Immediately after this Denison showed a flash of the best this season has seen on the local field this season. Receiving the ball on the kickoff it took the Crawford county players just four downs to move almost the length of the field to a touchdown. Right Half Locke carried the ball over. With an almost perfect interference and by use of the forward pass and end runs, for a brief time the crimson and blue defenders were completely baffled. This one time, though, was the only stage of the game when the Bluffs was in serious danger. The Denison interference was solved and time after time the Bluffs back field mashed into the visitors' defense for substantial gains.

Ouren made the Bluffs' second touchdown when he recovered a Denison punt which fell behind the goal line. Landon made the remaining two touchdowns, one in the second quarter on a perfectly completed forward pass about fourteen yards from goal and the final one in the third period.

Denison was given somewhat of a handicap in the early portion of the game when Right Half Locke was forced out by a wrenched shoulder. However, the visitors fought gamely all the time to stem the tide of defeat which was flowing against them, and although the game was apparently lost as far as they were concerned the last minute found them offering the same stubborn resistance as that displayed in the first part of the game. Denison used the forward pass with indifferent success while the Bluffs had a fair degree of luck in the open field. Mahoney got away with two splendid passes, each of which netted about twenty-five yards. "Dick" Wood performed at half in stellar fashion and played one of the best games of the season, breaking through time and time again for substantial gains. "Hay" Brewick played a brilliant game, at tackle and repeatedly opened up holes through which Bill Landon conducted his sensational plowing operations. Magee at quarter showed fine head work and directed the movements of his team like a general.

In the absence of Coach Dudley from the city, Paul Kramer, a Colgate man who has been helping in the coaching this fall, was in charge of the team.

The teams lined up as follows:

NEW CHURCH ASSURED.
Subscription Committee Appointed to Raise Funds for L. D. S. Church Meeting With Success.

The subscription committee and also the building committee of the new Latter Day Saints church are receiving substantial encouragement in their work. The subscription committee have been busy the past week and report a goodly sum donated for their new church, which will be erected in East Denison.
The building committee has purchased the John T. Carey frame building located south of the post office, and this building was wrecked last week and much of the lumber will be used in the church structure. More than one-half the lumber for the new church is now on the ground and carpenters and masons will commence building operations some time this week.
It has been planned to erect a commodious structure about the size of the Christian Science edifice.

KUEHNLE TALKS AT GRINNELL

Herald Tells of Mr. Kuehnle's Address and Says It Was One All Young People Should Hear.

WAS REplete WITH QUOTATIONS

Was Talk of Man Who Has by Experience and Hard Knocks Made a Success in Life.

Hon. Carl F. Kuehnle, of Denison, is in the city today. He came because invited to address the students this morning at chapel. Mr. Kuehnle is an attorney and banker at Denison, a former law partner of Secretary Shaw. Mr. Kuehnle is one of the most prominent and active men in western Iowa, and has a wide acquaintance throughout the state and nation. He is especially widely known as a Knight of Pythias, having served as grand chancellor, and having also been grand delegate ten or twelve years. He has served also as regent of the State university.

The address today was such as young people ought to hear. The theme was "The Salvation of the Dawn," and was especially designed to fire youths to higher and truer effort. The ideals in character which the young should strive for were described as "integrity, industry, loyalty, patriotism and service."
Each of these was explained at length and their application to good citizenship enlarged upon. The necessity of building characters that will bear the severest test was alluded to and a short review of our natural resources was made.

The address was replete with quotation and precept, closing with a brief quotation from Longfellow. It was a worthy talk by a man who has lived the life he urged others to live and was well received. Mr. Kuehnle today met a number of our citizens. He is a candidate for governor of Iowa, and is basing his hope for consideration on the thought of "a business man for a business administration." He has a pleasing appearance, is ready and strong, and would make a business governor.—Grinnell Herald.

Soft Corn Suggestions.

1. If corn was frosted when beginning to dent, heavy cattle can be fed out on it and finished in the following manner: Soft corn and pasture from October 13th to November 17th; soft corn and hay from November 17th to January 12th, and soft corn, gluten feed and hay from January 12th to April 13th.
2. If corn was not dented when frost came, light cattle can be fed on it, carried through the winter and finished next spring on pasture.
3. In feeding cattle, the soft corn should be supplemented with some concentrated feed as cottonseed meal or cottonseed meal and molasses feed. The usual amount of supplement can be reduced.
4. Cattle require more pounds of soft corn than of mature corn.
Experiments in feeding soft corn to cattle were conducted by the agricultural experiment station at Ames in 1902, when the corn crop was similar to this year. Two groups of cattle were fed, one according to No. 1 above, the other the same, except that mature corn was fed. The results showed that cattle fed on the soft corn made nearly as heavy gains and finished as well as those fed on mature corn.

HORSE PLAY

The Mount Vernon Record urges Carl Kuehnle to get astride the uniform fire insurance law and make it his hobby horse in his wild ride for governor's chair. Nothing doing, absolutely nothing doing in that line. Brother Tom Purcell, of the Hampton Chronicle, saw that hobby horse first and is entitled to ride him. Let Kuehnle avail both his turn and the pleasure of Tom.—Grundy Republican.

DEATH AT AGE OF 76 YEARS

Mrs. F. W. Pithan, of Charter Oak, Passes to the Great Beyond on Tuesday, November 4th.

WAS MOTHER OF JOHN PITHAN

Had Planned on Returning to Old Homestead but Death Intervened—To Crawford in 1874.

Charter Oak, Nov. 8.—(Special to the Review)—Mrs. F. W. Pithan died at her home in this city on Tuesday, November 4th, at the ripe age of 76 years.

The deceased was born in Schleswig, Germany, Oct. 26, 1844, and with her parents came to America in the year 1861, locating in Jackson county, Iowa. She was married to F. W. Pithan, who survives her death, in the year 1861, and in 1874 moved to Crawford county, locating on a farm five miles southeast of Kiron. They resided on this farm until the year 1889, when they removed to Charter Oak, where they have since resided. She is survived by her husband and two sons, John Pithan, who resides on the old homestead near Kiron, and Henry, of this place, and one daughter, Mrs. Minnie Pirwitz, also a resident of Charter Oak. She also leaves two brothers, Hans Koll, a resident of Jackson county, and Henry Koll, residing in Louisiana; two sisters, one living in Jackson county, and Mrs. Henry Brinkman, formerly a resident of Stockholm township, this county, now living at Gauley, S. D.; twenty-three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren who are left to mourn her death, together with a large circle of friends, both in Charter Oak and in Stockholm township.

Funeral services took place Saturday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the Charter Oak cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Pithan had planned to move back to the old homestead in Stockholm township into a new house which had just been erected for them, and where they could receive the care of their oldest son, John, and his family. But the unexpected happened and Mrs. Pithan passed to her heavenly home. The funeral was largely attended, many from a distance coming to pay their last respects to their beloved friend and neighbor. Those from Stockholm township in attendance at the funeral were John Pithan and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Hansohn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gronau and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gronau.

After a careful examination of several trousseaus of autumnal brides, a feminine friend reports a bewildering array of party gowns, but very few working dresses.

MAY VOTE AWAY FROM HOME

The Last General Assembly of the State of Iowa Passed An Important Election Law.

"The most important act of the Thirty-Sixth General Assembly relative to suffrage and elections concerns the so-called absent voters' ballot," says Professor F. E. Horack in an article on the legislation of the last General Assembly of Iowa recently published by the State Historical Society of Iowa. "This is a long act of fourteen sections providing that any qualified elector of the State of Iowa, who is registered where registration is required, and who on account of the nature of his business is absent or expects in the course of his business to be absent from the country in which he is qualified to vote, may vote at any election by making an application to the county auditor or to the city or town clerk for an official ballot. This application is made on a form prescribed by law, with proper safeguard against abuse or fraud. The absent voter must mark his ballot in the presence of an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, but with no other person present. The absent voter must first exhibit the ballot to the officer that he may testify that it was unmarked, then in the presence of such officer, but without his knowing how it is marked the absent voter marks his ballot, folds it, seals it, and sends it by registered mail to the county auditor of the county of his residence. On election day these ballots are cast by the judges of election in the regular ballot box."

MEMORIAL OF BATTLESHIP MAINE

There has just been placed in the rooms of the State Historical Society of Iowa a bronze tablet which is the gift of the "Pilgrim" chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The tablet is a memorial of the United States battleship Maine, which was destroyed in Havana harbor on February 15, 1898, and recovered by the government of the United States in 1912. The memorial is cast from metal secured from the ruins of the vessel. From the recovered metal eight hundred tablets of the same design were ordered cast by the department of the navy and are being distributed to various military organizations in the United States. Only two of the tablets have thus far been assigned to organizations in Iowa—one to the Fort Madison chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, presented to the public library at Fort Madison; the other to the Pilgrim chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Iowa City. Malono has his auction calendar at the Review office and farmers who wish to make arrangements for sale dates may do so at this office. From present indications this will be a busy sale season and we urge those who are to hold sales to settle on their dates as soon as possible.

TELEPHONE TALK AT BUCK GROVE

Enthusiastic Meeting Held Saturday for Purpose of Discussing Exchange at Buck Grove.

MEET AT ARION ON SATURDAY

Arion Preferred for Switchboard Location As Bell Telephone Company is Located There.

Buck Grove, Nov. 8.—(Special to the Review)—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at this place Saturday evening for the purpose of discussing the installation of a new telephone exchange here in Buck Grove.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Stephen Reiff, who was made permanent chairman, with Mr. Frank Slater as secretary. Mr. Reiff said he and others were out among the farmers of the community and had endeavored to finish up a list of forty subscribers before the meeting was held, but had fallen a few short. In his opinion there was no doubt but what the deal would go through and especially as patrons at Arion and Charter Oak were organizing. Mr. Eggers and Mr. Witt were present from Arion and made arrangements with members here to hold a public meeting in Arion at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 13th. No doubt many from Buck Grove will be in attendance at this meeting.

There was some discussion about the location of the switchboard, but this matter will be left until the first meeting of the stockholders of the new company, which will probably be held on the afternoon of November 20th at Buck Grove. In the meantime, those who have subscribed and those who are solicited will be asked as to their preference if they have any. For many reasons Arion is now preferred, principally on account of the Bell telephone being there and because they have a larger number of possible subscribers and it would be easy to connect with Charter Oak and Dow City.

BUSY SALE SEASON.

Auctioneer E. T. Malone Booking Many Sales Over County—Date Calendar at Review Office.

Auctioneer E. T. Malone was over from Charter Oak Thursday transacting business at the county capital, Mr. Malone has his auction calendar at the Review office and farmers who wish to make arrangements for sale dates may do so at this office. From present indications this will be a busy sale season and we urge those who are to hold sales to settle on their dates as soon as possible.

LIFE OF BLACK HAWK

Famous Indian Chief Wrote Story of His Own Life—Dedicated to Gen. Henry Atkinson.

Among the many valuable books in the library of the State Historical Society of Iowa at Iowa City is a life of Black Hawk, dictated by that famous chief himself, and translated into English by Antoine Le Claire. The book is dedicated to General Henry Atkinson, who was the leader of the United States forces, which defeated the Indians in the Black Hawk War. "The changes of many summers have brought old age upon me," wrote Black Hawk in his dedicatory preface, "and I cannot expect to survive many moons. Before I set out on my journey to the land of my fathers, I have determined to give my motives and reasons for my former hostilities to the whites, and vindicate my character from misrepresentation. I am now an obscure member of a nation that formerly honored and respected my opinions. The path to glory is rough, and many gloomy hours obscure it. That you may never experience the humility that the power of the American government has reduced me to, is the wish of him, who, in his native forests, was once as proud and bold as yourself."

ABNER GRAVES DISCOVERS ORE

Well Known Crawford County Man Now in Denver, Colo., Discovers Rich Tungsten Ore Field

MAY DEVELOP REAL SENSATION

Rocky Mountain News Tells of Mr. Graves' Discovery in Way to Interest Crawford County Readers

A copy of the Rocky Mountain News, published at Denver, Colo., received at the Review office the fore part of the week gives an account of a new tungsten ore field discovered by Mr. Abner Graves, a resident of Denver, but formerly living in Crawford county. Mr. Graves resided in Denison in the late 60's, later removing to Dow City. After the town of Charter Oak was started he became interested in that place and was one of the leading and influential citizens of the county until his departure for the west. In Charter Oak he constructed the opera house block as well as several other, brick business blocks. It is an interesting fact to note among the various activities of Mr. Graves' life that when a young man he was the originator of the baseball game in New York state. In later years he has been living at Denver. He has many friends in this county who will be interested to learn of his great find and who wish to see the Denver News is as follows:
The discovery of a rich tungsten and gold ore field in Boulder county, a field that promises to develop one of the real mining sensations of this section—has been announced by Abner Graves, mining engineer of Denver, who returned yesterday after a week spent in prospecting.

Mr. Graves declined to reveal the location of the new field, but asserted that it is entirely separate and apart from both the Nederland and Lakewood districts, being from fifteen to twenty miles from either of these fields and twelve miles from Boulder.

The mining engineer declares there is untold wealth in tungsten and gold ore in this new field, and that he will not announce the exact location until he has completed all legal requirements for control of the district.

Last week Mr. Graves was asked to pay this field a visit and inspect the tungsten ore which had been found on the surface.

When he returned to Denver yesterday he brought with him three magnificent specimens of the ore which, in states, runs $150 per pound, or about $2,000 per ton. Mr. Graves declares much of the ore will run as high as $4,000 per ton.

The ore found in this new field is in veins varying in width from five feet to ten feet, and running half a mile in length.

There are several of these large veins on the property, Mr. Graves says, and, in his opinion, tungsten ore and gold are there in unlimited quantities. The gold ore, he says, is similar to that now being mined at Cripple Creek. It is the intention of Mr. Graves to form a company for the development of the find, which, he declares, is as good or better than either the Nederland or Lakewood fields.

RARE TREAT FOR REVIEW FAMILY

"Neal of the Navy," Said to be One of Strongest Photo-Serials Ever Produced, Starts Next Week.

LOOK FOR OPENING CHAPTERS

First Pictures at Germania Opera House Wednesday, November 24th—Story Starts Next Week.

Another fine feature is in store for readers of the Review and is one that will be welcomed by all. By special arrangement the management of this paper has secured the publication rights in this territory of the great serial story, "Neal of the Navy." While the expense for this feature was considerable, we believe that nothing is too good for the Review family. The story was written by Mr. William Hamilton Osborne especially for the Pathe Film company, who are spending twenty-five thousand dollars in producing it in motion pictures. The story will commence in the Review on next Wednesday, November 17th, and will continue for fourteen weeks. The motion pictures will be produced in the Germania opera house every Wednesday evening, commencing Wednesday, November 24th.

The author of this wonderful story is a well known writer and his books, such as "The Red Mouse," "The Running Fight," "The Cat's Paw," "The Blue Buckle," etc., have made him renowned. The photo-aerial "Neal of the Navy" is of unusual and timely interest, telling a strange story of telepathy and mental suggestion centered about the individuality of a man in Mr. Osborne's home city. There are only two incidents in the story, but they cover a period of twenty years, and are true in every detail in spite of the apparent embroideries of fiction. Neal is a clean cut young chap, thoroughly American, full of "pep" and "guts." Through the crookedness of another, Neal is barred from Annapolis. Determined to win a commission, Neal enlists as a common seaman and puts in many a hard lick before he wears the epaulet.

You will be intensely interested in the many stirring adventures in his fight to save Annette Hington from the power of unscrupulous villains. Arrayed against Neal are Welcher, the renegade rival, Hernandez, the clever Spanish adventurer and his henchman, Ponto. This trio of cutthroats lead Neal a merry chase through many exciting adventures that will hold you spellbound as you read this wonderful story. The photo-play by the Pathe company is an exceptionally fine picture with a wonderful drawing power to their quality, they will cover that decidedly interesting subject, the American navy, in which at present every one is interested.

This is by far the greatest serial story ever published by the Review and not a single reader can afford to miss reading it from week to week. Don't forget that the opening chapters will be printed in next week's issue, the same week that the "Broken Coin" serial ends.

"IT DON'T HURT A BIT."

According to information sent out by the Greater Des Moines committee there is an effort on the part of California papers to discredit Iowa, the state that contributes more to her support than any other single industry she has. The exaggerated stories of crop failures are being used as a scare-crow. What they hope to accomplish is more than revealed.

"True it is, Iowa has only about a 30 per cent crop. We are talking of marketable corn. But what of that, Iowa has not the kind of farmers who sit down and hold their hands when a little thing like a partial crop failure hits them. Talk to the farmers of your community today and every one of them has already figured out just what he is going to do with that unmarketable corn. A thirty per cent crop doesn't mean a 70 per cent loss in Iowa. The Iowa State college at Ames foresaw just this condition which was liable to happen and as a result of their warning to the farmers many of them were prepared for the handling of the situation beforehand. It doesn't hurt much. The loss of a crop of Iowa people in California would be a fatal blow to California, because she has her heart set on the annual harvest from Iowa people. It would strike her a blow in the solar plexus, from which she would not shortly recover. Iowa's corn crop is not a failure from a long ways and as far as California's reaping her annual harvest from Iowans spending their corn money in California this winter she will then realize that "somebody lied."—Ogden Reporter.

About this time many young men on a $15.00 a week salary discover that a $60 dress suit is essential to their success in life.

The fact that the boys take readily to the idea of military drill in schools does not prove that they should lower their dignity by marching in with the girls at the Sunday school concert.

The foot ball players are submitting to rigid training rules, but you can't get a boy to live on bread, meat, and cereals and go to bed at 10 o'clock merely to pass in his studies.
