MRS. SHIRTLIFF PASSES AWAY

Death of Most Estimable Lady of Willow Township Causes Much Sorrow Among Many Friends. FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY P. M. Married to Mr. F. R. Shirteff at Council Bluffs in 1880 and Was the Mother of Two Children. The death of Hattie A. Shirteff, which occurred at Charter Oak Friday, January 14th, caused great sorrow among the many friends of the deceased in Crawford county. Mrs. Shirteff has been in poor health for a number of years, but the last few months she seemed to be enjoying better health until about a week before her death, when she contracted a severe cold which developed into lung trouble. It was not thought by her friends that the end was so near until Wednesday evening when she became rapidly worse and at about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon she passed peacefully to her rest. Hattie A. Cady was born at Fort Dodge, Iowa, Aug. 26, 1866, being the youngest child of S. J. and Almira P. Cady. She was united in marriage with F. R. Shirteff on the 28th day of September, 1880, at Council Bluffs. She leaves to mourn her death two children, Mrs. B. F. Coleman, of Arion, and S. F. Shirteff, who lives at home; four grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. J. G. Sanborn, and one brother, F. S. Cady, of Tecamah, Neb. She had lived all her life in Iowa, residing for several years at Deloit and for the last twenty-five years on the farm in Willow township. The members of the community lose a true friend in the death of Mrs. Shirteff. She had been a faithful worker all of her life and was of that sympathetic nature which always seeks to lighten the burdens of those about her. She was a kind and loving mother and willingly deprived herself in order to make her children happier. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church in Charter Oak on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, interment being made in the Charter Oak cemetery. The Review joins with the many friends of the family in extending heartfelt sympathy.

ARE HAPPILY WEDDED.

Mrs. Sallie Smith and Frank Fares Were United in Marriage in Omaha on Last Saturday. The news of the marriage of Mrs. Sallie Smith, of this city, to Mr. Frank Fares, of Kansas City, which occurred in Omaha Saturday, came as a complete surprise to the friends of Mrs. Smith in Denison. The wedding took place at the home of relatives of Mrs. Smith in Omaha, and the happy couple returned Sunday evening to Denison, where they are making their home on East Tremont street at the home of the bride. Mr. Fares has been living in Denison for some time, making this his headquarters when traveling for a nursery concern.

Early Settlement of Iowa.

The rapidity with which the early settlements spread westward in Iowa is illustrated by the following extract from an article by Mr. John E. Briggs, published by the State Historical Society of Iowa: "The first settlements in Iowa clustered along the Mississippi River. Dubuque, Davenport, Bloomington (now Muscatine), Burlington and Fort Madison sprang up from mining camp private land reserve, boat landing, trading post, frontier town. But it was not long before the fertile prairie to the west began to lure the pioneers away from the hills along the river. In August, 1836, the population of the two counties in the Iowa country was 10,531. Twenty-one months later the census showed an increase of one hundred and seventy persons. Of the 22,559 persons then in Iowa, 7,755 or over 33.9 per cent. were living in counties not washed by the Mississippi; and after two more years out of a total population of 43,112 over 44.1 per cent., or 19,041 people were inhabitants of inland counties."

Mission of Third Parties.

Many people have always been inclined to sneer at the minor or so-called "third party" parties. They have said, for instance, that people not belonging to the two principal parties, the Republicans and the Democrats, were wasting their votes and their time. Natural as this attitude may be, it is shown to be unjustified by a volume on the history of third party movements in Iowa, written by Dr. Fred E. Haynes, which is being published by the State Historical Society of Iowa. Dr. Haynes shows that these minor parties have often been in control in a large number of states, besides exercising strong influence in Congress. And even when unsuccessful at the elections, such parties as the Grangers, the Greenbackers, and the Populists were able to bring about needed reforms and secure desired legislation by forcing one or both of the leading parties to adopt their issues. In this way the minor parties have many times gained important victories, although apparently defeated. An interesting feature of Dr. Haynes' volume is to be found in the frequent references to the part played in these movements by the late General James B. Weaver of this state.

Marriage Licenses.

Only three marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Hangan during the past week and those were issued last Saturday to the following: Hans Hansen and Anna Kelm; Herman C. Bielenberg and Meta Naeve and Oswald Zobel and Anna Wiegert.

Church Notes

Methodist Episcopal Church Notes. The regular services of the church will be held as usual on next Sunday, preaching services morning and evening by the pastor and Sunday school at 12 o'clock noon. The Epworth League service will be full of interest next Sunday evening as the lesson will be in charge of the newly organized Epworth League gospel team. On last Sunday evening the mission topic, in charge of Miss Hazel Laub who had kindly consented to lead the meeting, was most profitable and highly appreciated by the large number of leaguers present. Miss Laub, who is especially interested in home missions, presented an excellent lesson. The teachers' training class will meet on Thursday evening immediately following the address by Dr. Joy in the Methodist church. On Sunday afternoon the members of the Epworth League cabinet met at the home of Mrs. Frank Woolston to discuss plans for the work of the chapter. It was decided to hold a masquerade party within the next two weeks, the exact date to be announced on next Sunday. Miss Pearl Rank, fourth vice president, has requested that the guests come to the party dressed to represent characters of books, different nationalities, etc., putting time and thought into the selection of their costumes. Every leaguer will be given a cordial welcome. The Philathea class of the Sunday school is planning a social meeting to be held the latter part of next week. The members of the class will be asked to bring a book, a picture, or a memento of some nationality, etc., putting time and thought into the selection of their costumes. Every leaguer will be given a cordial welcome. The Girls' Home Guards society will hold a market sale at the Rachwitz meat market on Saturday afternoon of this week. Presbyterian Church. The coming Sabbath, January 23rd, services will be as usual. Do not forget the hours of service, 10:30 and 7:30, not 10:45 and 7:45, as many of the people are in the habit of thinking. The morning theme is "Bearing One Another's Burdens." There will also be a special talk for the boys and girls. The evening service, after an interesting song service, will take up a discussion of the subject, "How Good Does God Expect a Man to Be?" If you would be of real help to the church be in place each Sabbath on time. Pray for the service, whether you can be present or not. Seek some form of useful service as a Christian and a church member. J. C. Tourtelot, Pastor.
