EASTER FALLS TWO DAYS LATE
It Will Be Twenty-seven Years Before It Again Comes So Late— Peculiar Features of Year:
EASTER SELDOM COMES SO LATE
This is the first year in forty years that began on Saturday and will end on Sunday.

Easter Sunday this year will come on just about as late a date as it possibly could, approaching within two days of the extreme limit allowed for that church holiday to fall upon. This year Easter Sunday falls upon April 23d, the latest Easter has been since 1905, when it was on the same date. Not until 1943 will Easter again come as late in the year and then it will fall upon April 25th—the latest possible date. Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday were established by the Council of Nice, A. D. 325, the former to occur forty-six days in advance of Easter Sunday and the latter to be fixed by solar and lunar calculations. According to the Nicene laws, Easter day shall occur annually on the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox, which generally falls on March 21st. As this indicates the earliest possible date on which Easter may fall is March 22d. Ash Wednesday this year will occur on March 8th. Few persons now alive will probably live to see Easter occur again so late except in 1943, as after that year Easter will not be observed as late until the year 2000, when it will fall on April 23.

Another event, noteworthy because of its uniqueness this year, is the fact that the year began on Saturday and will end on Sunday. This gives the year fifty-three Saturdays and fifty-three Sundays. Were it not for the fact that the calendar of the Gregorian calendar provided that centuries not divisible evenly by four shall not be leapyears, this would occur regularly every twenty-eight years. Hence when such a century occurs as did 1900 there is a lapse of forty years between leap years that begin on Saturday and end on Sunday.

John Benedict was on the cattle market in South Omaha Tuesday.
The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Moore is still in a very critical condition in an Omaha hospital. His mother is constantly at the bedside and everything is being done to save the little one's life, but the disease is so complicated that it does not yield to treatment readily and his recovery is doubtful, a fact very much regretted by the many friends of the family.
Mrs. J. J. Peters is still confined to her home with an attack of bronchitis, aggravated by cold and grippe. Her many friends hope to hear of her speedy recovery.
Miss Elizabeth Patterson, of Mercersburg, Pa., is making an extended visit among her many relatives and friends here. She was born and grew to womanhood in Dunlap and lived at this place until the death of her parents a few years ago, after which she made her home in Mercersburg. This is her first visit here and is naturally a pleasant one for she has so many warm friends.
The Dunlap Fortnightly club was very fortunate in securing Carl F. Kuehne, of Denison, to deliver a lecture on "American Ideas," before that club Monday evening.

Attorney General Gregory publicly promises not to "harass business." Promise not necessary. Business has recovered its nerve and won't stand for harassing. Juries don't seem to approve of it either. So there you are.
Although eastern manufacturers and exporters have been the chief beneficiaries of war order business, it is reported that one wheat exporter at Portland, Ore., has made, "a cool million" on contracts for shipment of wheat to the warring nations. There are evidently a few "spots" of war prosperity in the far west.

BIELBERG - NAEVE WEDDING

Very Attractive Wedding Takes Place at Henry Naeve Home—Daughter Bride of Mr. Bielenberg

Schleswig, Ia.—(Special to the Review)—On Saturday Jan. 15 at 10 o'clock Fred Knudtsen, who lives north of town, passed away after an illness of one week from pneumonia and influenza. Fred Knudtsen, second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Knudtsen, was born September 26, 1894. He was confirmed at Grant township in 1909. He had spent the greater share of his time at home with his parents. The funeral services were held at Grant township on Tuesday January 18th at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Schewnk, and interment was made at the Grant township cemetery. A large number of friends and relatives attended the funeral and everyone extends their sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

DEFIANCE GET TOGETHER MEET

The Business Men and Farmers Meet Informally at Hotel and Discuss Mutual Needs.

HAVE SPEECHES, FEED, MUSIC

Remarks Show Need of Co-Operation Which All Present Decide to Promote—Will Meet Again.

Defiance, Jan. 22—The Defiance business men had a banquet at the Fox-hoven hotel Thursday evening, January 20th, for the purpose of reorganizing the Commercial club. Pink and white carnations were used for the table decorations and a splendid menu was served.
W. R. Orchard, editor of the Non-Parade, was the principal speaker of the evening and emphasized the necessity of unity of spirit among the business men and co-operation with the farmers to promote intensified farming. His address was very impressive and well received and the business men would be glad to have him with them again.
The music was furnished by Miss Emma Byers, Mrs. Edith Christie and a male quartet.
Short speeches were also made by Rev. Berkeheiser, Rev. Scoggan, Prof. Boylan, F. J. Kuhl, R. G. Penniston, O. E. Kelso and Rob Davis. The program was informal and for the purpose of getting the business men and farmers to express their views as to what is needed for the improvement of the community at large.
Such enthusiasm was shown it was decided to have another banquet on the twenty-eighth and permanently reorganize the Commercial club.
