 An advertisement in the Review will be read in more homes in Crawford county and Denison than when placed in any other Denison paper.
 Miss Flo Caswell, who teaches music in the schools at Ida Grove, enjoyed an over Sunday visit in Denison at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Caswell.
 Misses Jessie and Nellie Fleming and Tina Nelson, who reside near Boyer were in Denison last Saturday attending the teachers' meeting and visiting with friends. They took occasion to call at the Review office while in the city.
 Mrs. E. W. Pierce and Mrs. C. L. Voss left today for Coin, Iowa, where they will remain for the balance of the week in attendance at the annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Pierce is district president and Mrs. Voss the secretary.
 Mr. James Mitchell spent last Thursday in Des Moines in attendance at the annual convention of the Iowa Hatmakers Association, being the delegate from this district. On Monday of this week he attended the district convention of the same association and reports a most profitable meeting.
 Mr. Adam Sneekloth has let the contract for the erection of an eight room bungalow to be erected on the fine lot on W. Walnut St., just west of E. T. Cochran's residence. Men are now engaged in excavating the foundation, and it is planned to have the new home ready for occupancy by early fall.
 Mrs. Stephen Thew and children departed the first of the week for the new home near Bradenbury, Sask., Canada. Mr. Thew went up some time ago and had the house all settled before writing for his family to join him. They have leased some of the McHenry land for a term of years.
 The one important topic of conversation among the leading Democrats of Denison, is—Who will succeed Alfred Wright as postmaster? From all reports the owner of the Denison Bulletin, State Senator and Field Secretary of the Iowa Press Association might throw some light on the matter if he were disposed to do so.
 The Review had intended publishing the names of the delegates elected to the county convention which will be held at the court house on Saturday May 6th, but at the time of going to press the names were not available at the county auditor's office. County Auditor Portz has not finished listing the returns of the recent primary election, but we hope to be able to publish the delegates' names in next week's issue.
 Mr. C. Green and daughter, Mrs. Ida Kelly, returned Saturday from Los Angeles, Cal., where they have been spending the winter. Mr. Green, who was in such poor health last fall before departing for the west, returned greatly improved. Mrs. Kelly is spending a few days this week in Des Moines visiting friends, and upon her return will accompany her father to Lake Okoboji, where they will spend the summer at their delightful cottage on Hayward's bay.
 The beautiful Whittall Anglo Persian rug which stood the test of fifteen days of hard wear out on the sidewalk in front of the Boys store was sold at public auction on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. W. V. Hoffman purchasing the rug for $48.00. This rug, after enduring all kinds of weather and being walked over by hundreds of people was shipped to the Whittall factory in Massachusetts, where it was thoroughly cleaned and when it returned to Denison looked every bit as good as a new rug. The rug was sold at public auction, W. J. McAlhnen auctioneering and the big rug department of the Boys store was taxed to its capacity by people who were interested. It was a novel demonstration of the wearing qualities of the Whittall line of rugs and proved to be one of the best advertising stunts put on in Denison for some time.

The Realities of the Deep.

Across the sea, beyond the trail
 The dismal thoughts of life prevail;
 'Tis April and the raindrops fall:
 O tears of love that I recall!
 Ah, o'er the lonely church yard wall
 A silent language mutes slow
 A benediction; seeming so
 Iridescent in its gleam,
 Lights the depths of life's sad dream.
 O friend you reap your blessings deep
 Whilst sleeping an immortal sleep:
 Love tears in rain, in falling mist,
 Alight o'er the clay and amethyst;
 Reflection charms me as I list.
 The blithesome scenes of springtime
 rare
 Reveal the trust, the truth, the care
 Of yesterdays so sweet to thee,
 And treasured in my memory.
 While pondering alone tonight
 My thoughts are gone in precious flight—
 The lonely land beyond the trail,
 The seas the listless zephyrs sail,
 The clime where dismal things prevail,
 Arise in thought as gleams of care,
 As gleams celestial and rare,
 And April's visage so sublime
 Lingers in the flight of time!
 —Robert Lile Hunt.

"If Cummins is nominated, Wilson will lick him out of his boots," predicts the Britt Tribune, "but Cummins will not be nominated and Wilson will not be elected."

The word going the rounds that and that is just what in all probability there ought to be fewer newspapers, if there will be if the price of print paper keeps soaring.—Sioux City Journal.

The democrats in the senate are averse to following the house in the absolute repeal of the free sugar clause in the Underwood tariff. They are trying to postpone the operation of the measure until 1920. That will be a presidential year and the purpose is plainly political. However, by 1920 a republican administration will have been in office for three years and a republican tariff law will be in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Gilbert, who reside at Wasau, Wis., arrived in Denison last Thursday for a visit at the home of the latter's brother, Mr. W. J. Schriver. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert have visited in Denison before and have many friends here who were pleased to renew former acquaintance. Mr. Gilbert returned to Wasau Sunday evening. Mrs. Gilbert remaining for a more extended visit.
