

Denison Local

Butler and son, Roy, returned to Ottawa, Ill., last Wednesday after a two weeks' visit at the home of the former's aunt, Mrs. J. E. Walsh. Andrew Paulsen has been visiting his parents in Denison the past week. On Tuesday of this week, he returned to Plymouth, Neb., where he is working. Among the farmers from south of Denison who were in Denison Saturday, we mention William Hein, on route 1, out of Manilla. While in town, Mr. Hein favored the Review with a call. E. R. Adie, of the Review force, accompanied by Mrs. Adie, is spending a two weeks' vacation at his old home in Maryville, Mo., where he is visiting his mother and other relatives. C. F. Hansen, of Goodrich township, was a Review caller on Saturday and enrolled as a subscriber. He reports his crops of small grain turning out fairly good, the oats giving 40 bushels to the acre. L. Cornwell and wife returned from their sojourn at Lake Okoboji Friday, arriving in Denison at 8 o'clock in the evening. They found the roads from Storm Lake rather heavy, caused by Thursday's rain. Mrs. Thomas Lister, who has been spending the week in Omaha, returned home Sunday. Mrs. Spencer Lister, and children, of Spencer, Neb., after visiting in Denison, accompanied Mrs. Lister to Omaha. Misses Kathryn and Joanna Naughton and Miss Margaret Houlihan departed Sunday morning for Clinton, where they will enter Mount St. Clare academy to complete the high school and music courses. The two ladies came by auto and report some exceptional experiences. C. L. Voss, E. Gulick, Leslie Gulick, and Mrs. L. M. Baer motored up to Lake Okoboji Monday afternoon for a few days' outing. The Gulick and Voss families will all return to Denison the last of the week, after having spent the summer there at their cottage. From the Sac Sun we learn that Tony Miller recently sold the Quality meat market at Sac City to A. W. Mahoney, of Denison, the new owner taking possession August 14th. Harold Silletto spent the past week in Des Moines, where he visited his brother, John, and attended the state fair. On Monday, he went to Iowa City, where he registered as a student for the coming term. He expects to return to Denison, however, before college begins. Storm Lake holds the record for law enforcement of the automobile laws. On Sunday, August 13th, only 177 were fined for violating the speed ordinances of that city. With a good car and favorable weather it is almost impossible to hold the blame auto down to fifteen miles on the Storm Lake pavement. The rain of last Thursday caused the water ditch on Washington avenue to cave in, and traffic on some parts of the avenue was retarded. The big auto delivery of the Balle-Broderick Co. was stalled in the ditch for about an hour at the intersection of Tremont and Washington avenues, sinking as low as the springs. George McAllister, former treasurer of Carroll county but now of Omaha, where he has been filling a position as grain inspector, has filed a petition for bankruptcy. His assets are listed at $3,000 and liabilities at $2,260. The cause is given as "money borrowed on hypothecated mortgages" and several business men of Carroll are named as creditors. William Rogers, claiming to be an escaped convict, gave himself over to Marshall Hannah of Vail last week. He said he escaped from a company of convicts doing state work at Cherokee, and said he was tired of dodging the officers and wished to be returned to finish his sentence. Deputy Sheriff Costello went to Vail and brought the fellow to Denison. H. G. Lockmiller and Son of the Lincoln Highway Garage report the sale of three cars last week. A Maxwell roadster was purchased by John Woodruff, O'Shea Bros. purchased a Maxwell touring car and August Schultz bought a Chalmers touring car. Jay R. Pithan, of Boyer, was a county seat business caller Saturday. Misses Birdie Berg and Marie Rath left Saturday for Schleswig, where they are teaching school this year. County auditor P. J. Pertz has been mastering a new machine placed in his office on trial the past week. The machine is "hubbed" the merchant and is a calculating affair. Mrs. Blain Wilson underwent an operation Monday forenoon at the Meek hospital. We are glad to report that the operation was successful and that the patient is doing nicely. Miss Elizabeth Meehan was called to Chicago last Wednesday on account of the illness of a close friend. During her absence the hospital is in charge of Miss Satterfield, a trained nurse from LaCrosse, Wis. It is an innocent looking device, but will add, subtract, multiply or divide, according to the way it is manipulated. It is the brainiest device we have yet seen for performing things heretofore done by means of thinking processes. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Racine left last Wednesday for Austin, Minn., where they spent several days looking over some farms with a view of purchasing one. From there they went to Owatonna, where they are making a visit with relatives. The writer and several members of his family motored to Denison Friday last and looked over that thriving city, also visited the newspaper offices. The city is putting in thirty-two blocks of concrete paving this year and has let contract for about as much more to be done next year. Coming home, drove over the ridge road to Manilla. Found most of that road brought to grade and one can travel over it with less than half the effort formerly required. Crawford county will bring its whole county roads system to grade. Shelby county ought to do likewise.—Harlan Republican. W. E. Ramsey, of Council Bluffs, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Denison calling on a few of his old-time friends. Mr. Ramsey was one of the first printers in Denison, working on the Review, then owned by J. D. Ainsworth. He taught A. B. Keith how to set type and printed the first issue of the Ida Grove Pioneer with Review type and on the Review hand-press, while Mr. Williams, who founded the Pioneer, was in Chicago purchasing materials. Later Mr. Ramsey travelled all over Iowa, for years, selling goods on the street, and then moved to Atlantic, where he engaged in the hardware business. About 16 years ago, he went to Council Bluffs, where he engaged in the hardware and turnkey business on 218 E. Broadway. He came to Denison Wednesday expecting to attend the Old Settlers' Picnic, but found the date was for Thursday. Remaining over night, he was again disappointed because of the picnic being postponed on account of the weather. While in the city, Mr. Ramsey had a very pleasant visit with George W. Stephens, who was in the printing business during the early days.

Leslie Bremner, of Vail, was a visitor in Denison Saturday. Miss Ocea Norris, who teaches in the public schools at Independence, arrived in the city Friday for a few days' visit at the Thos. Norris home. Miss Norris formerly taught in the public schools in this city and has many friends who were glad to renew acquaintances. The rural schools of the county opened yesterday morning for the fall term. County Supt. F. N. Oiry informs us that eight of the schools did not open on account of lack of teachers, but these schools will commence as soon as teachers are procured. The superintendent has been in correspondence with superintendents in adjoining counties, endeavoring to procure teachers, but finds that other counties are meeting with difficulty in procuring enough teachers.
