

LET ELECTRICITY RUN YOUR HOME

Terms of the "Juice" and What They Mean in a Kitchen—Household Labor That Can Be Done.

MOTOR INSTEAD OF 'ELBOW GREASE'
Cost of Electrical Cooking Devices Ranges From $3.50 Up As High As You Care to Go.

THERE are two kinds of electricity—alternating current and direct current. An explanation of the characteristics of each and the difference would involve technical terms, and since either kind acts the same with electrical cooking and heating appliances this knowledge is not essential to the housekeeper.

However, when ordering or purchasing a machine that uses an electric motor always learn from the office of your electric lighting company the voltage and kind of current supplied to you.

The words "volt," "ampere" and "watts" frequently occur in speaking of electricity, but the average housewife has a vague idea of the meaning of these terms. Owing to the similarity of the two, electricity may be likened to water in a pipe. The number of volts or electromotive force is the force that tends to make a current of electricity flow through a wire, a lamp or a motor. It is the pressure, and as we speak of the water supply pressure at the faucet being thirty-five or fifty pounds, so with electricity we speak of the pressure as 110 or 120 volts.

The ampere is the unit of rate of flow and may be likened to the cubic feet per second or gallons per minute of the water supply and designates the volume of the stream with respect to time. In a water system the size of a stream may vary with the pipes, while with electricity the number of amperes denotes the size. Thus an electric iron or toaster requires a medium sized stream, five amperes; a suction cleaner or washing machine a small stream, one to two amperes, while a heater or range takes a large stream, ten or more amperes.

The watt is the unit of power and denotes the rate of work. In the case of water this work is indicated by gallons per minute, with the resistance to flow taken into consideration, while with electricity we would say so many watts were consumed.

The cost of electrical cooking devices ranges from $3.50 for toasters, flat-irons and such small implements, to $15 for chafing dishes, sewing machines and portable ovens. The cost of operation ranges from 4 to 6 cents per hour when the electric rate is 10 cents per kilowatt hour. Electric washing and wringing machines may be purchased from $50 up, and they cost about 2 cents per hour to use. One may pay as little as $18.75 for an efficient electric suction cleaner or as high as $130. The cost of operation varies from 1 to 4 cents per hour.

One kitchen "power unit" conquers many tedious and disagreeable kitchen duties, such as kneading bread, grinding meat, coffee or spices, turning the ice cream freezer, raisin seeder, cherry pitter, potato ricer or slicer, cake mixer, egg beater; polishing silverware and cutlery and other kitchen work requiring strength and patience.

Easy Way.
To clean brass flowerpots or trays rub them with a piece of lemon, then pour boiling water over them and finally polish with soft, dry cloth.

Silk hosiery should be washed in lukewarm, soapy water only. Soap should not be rubbed directly on the fabric, and hot water must not be used. White soap is recommended. Do not dry in the sun or even in strong light. If these directions are followed stockings will give good service.

Flaky Pie Crust.
The following method will make flaky pie crust with less trouble than is required for puff paste. When the pie is ready for the top crust roll out dough the size of the pan. Spread with lard, then sprinkle over the lard about two tablespoonfuls of flour. Pat down gently and cover the pie. When ready for the oven pour over this lard covered crust a cupful of cold water. Drain off extra water and bake pie as usual.

Lady Fingers.
A cupful of sugar, an egg, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, an even teaspoonful of soda, three tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, nutmeg. Mix with flour to roll out thin, sprinkle powdered sugar over and cut in long thin strips. Bake quickly.

THE RUSSIAN MIDDY.

There is a new sort of sport middy this year. It is the Russian sport blouse, a cousin of last season's smock, but a much daintier affair. It slips on over the head and is belted at the waist line, the part that falls over the hips having slashes at either side like a man's shirt. Sometimes there is smocking at the shoulders, or the fullness may be added by box plaits. The deep collar tapers in front to a long slash which is closed over a buttoned flap.

MRS. H. G. LOCHMILLER DIES.

Death Occurred on Monday Morning at the Family Home on East Walnut Street, This City

Mrs. Henry G. Lochmiller died at the family residence on East Walnut street on Monday morning, September 25th, after an illness of almost two years' duration. About a year and a half ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time has been confined to the home. During her long illness she bore up bravely, never complaining of her lot.

Iida Caroline Lochmiller was born on the 31 day of March, 1879, at Garnaville, Clayton county, Iowa. In the year 1875 she moved with her parents to Crawford county, settling on a farm south of Denison. In 1891 she was united in marriage to Mr. Henry G. Lochmiller, they making their home on a farm south of Denison until about a year and a half ago, when they moved to Denison, purchasing the J. H. Gable residence. The deceased was the mother of five children, two of whom died in infancy. The surviving children are Louie, Reinhardt and Mildred, who, with the devoted husband, are left to mourn her death. She also leaves her father, Mr. L. Mueller of Manilla, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Amelia Salzwedel Herman and John Mueller, of Manilla; Mrs. Bertha Lochmiller, of Denison; Mrs. Alvina Bohlander and Mrs. Anna Bohlander and Miss Augusta Mueller, residents of Manilla, and Mrs. L. C. Schultz, of Denison.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church in this city, Rev. Wm. Freese officiating. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery.

LEASES OPERA HOUSE

Jay Wiggins, Former Denison Boy, to Conduct Opera House in Connection With Picture Show.

Jay Wiggins, a former Denison boy, now residing at Jefferson, has leased the opera house at that place for a term of years and will make it supplementary to the moving picture show which he owns there.

From the Jefferson Bee we learn that the Masonic lodge which owns the building will spend $3,000 in improvements, including a fine new $2,000 steam heating plant for the entire building.

The friends of Mr. Wiggins here in Denison will be glad to learn that he is making such a success of the show business. For several years he has been operating the leading motion picture theater at Jefferson.

Pert Caddies.

Harry Varlow, the famous English golf player, says in the Golfers' Magazine that American caddies are as a class more independent than their English cousins. He instances the case of a boy in Florida who, coming to him eagerly in the middle of a round, exclaimed, "Here, hold these clubs for a minute and I'll go and kill that snake for you."

This story is fairly matched, however, by that of a Scotch caddy who on Mr. Varlow's dissenting from his judgment as to a certain shot exclaimed indignantly: "All right. You can have your own way now till the finish. Don't ask me anything else."

DUNLAP ITEMS.

The hard thunder storm here Saturday night committed the peculiar phenomenon of breaking a large plate glass window in the front of the E. B. Arton's Clothing store by the jar of the thunder.

Mrs. F. H. Morgan, of Denison, visited Mrs. J. R. Wheeler Saturday. Dr. H. A. Cobb has sold his residence to John Smith and leaves at once for Council Bluffs to enter the practice of medicine there.

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Moore were Denison callers Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Packelman were Sioux City fair visitors last week.

The Women's club are planning to hold a "Harvest Auction" on Saturday at the city hall to help defray the expenses of installing the fountain in the park. Vegetables, canned fruit, jellies and all articles verdant to the season are to be auctioned.

Mr. Fisher has located in Dunlap as an expert furnace man in the employ of J. Wilson.

Mrs. Cronkleton returned to her home in Council Bluffs Thursday. Mr. Vic Remde attended the Interstate fair at Sioux City on Friday.

The football boys are giving their annual dance Thursday evening to help defray the expenses of the coming season.

Mrs. Frank Howorth, of Dow City, has commenced with her music class again and is meeting her pupils on Friday and Saturday of each week. Mrs. E. L. Manchester, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Kuisell, is visiting relatives in Holyoke, Minn.

Charles Vollmer has returned from the hospital in Omaha, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The Industrial club met last week with Mrs. Arch Cook, Mrs. Mary Wetengel was elected president for the coming term and Mrs. Jennie Nurse was initiated into the mysteries of the club as a new member.

The conditions of some of the victims of the auto accident a week ago is still very serious. Mrs. Dunham developed blood poisoning in her scalp wound and had a specialist from Omaha one day the past week. Mrs. Jones is still in a very critical state. Mrs. Dunham was taken to an Omaha hospital Tuesday A. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Freeport, N. I., are the guests of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Burling, Mr. and Mrs. Bartcher and little girl have also been spending a few days at the Burling home. They were returning from a western trip.

The small daughter of Willis Roberts fell and received a broken and also dislocated arm on Monday evening.

The small child of Ralph Cue died on Sunday.

Compulsory Sport.

"So you've joined a golf club?"
"Had to do it," replied Mr. Growcher.
"The only chance of seeing some of the men I have to do business with is to meet 'em on the golf links."—Washington Star.

Economy.

"You spend entirely too much money on dress," said the man of the house.
"That simple little frock Mrs. Smythe wore last night looked a great deal better than that elaborate gown of yours."

"Of course it did, my dear," replied his wife sweetly. "That simple little frock, as you call it, cost $300, while mine cost only $150."

"Well, then, go out and buy one about twice as elaborate as the one you've got. Maybe you can get it for nothing."—New York World.

ARRESTED FOR BOOTLEGGING

Two Young Men Arrested and After Hearing Were Bound Over to Await Action of Grand Jury

Two young men who are alleged to have sold liquor to parties in Dow City last Thursday were arrested and brought to Denison to answer the charge of bootlegging. A preliminary trial was held before Justice Rollins and after hearing the evidence of the case they were bound over to the next meeting of the grand jury with the bonds fixed at $500 each. Not being able to furnish the required bond, they are now in the county jail. The men were identified by witnesses and gave their names as Frank Mitchell and George Welch. It is said that they were going to drive to Jefferson when in fact they drove to Omaha where they purchased the liquor. They admit that they invited several men to take a drink at Dow City, but that no money was received for the courtesy extended. When they were arrested, there were eighteen quart bottles of beer in the car but no whiskey.

COLLEGE NOTES

The board is equipping the domestic science laboratory this week. The class will have a very convenient and modern outfit. One item is a fine Hoosier kitchen cabinet.

Last week the class in normal training and didactics was dismissed to attend the teachers' institute. They took notes in place of their regular class work. On Thursday afternoon the whole school adjourned to attend the institute.

On Tuesday noon the students organized the athletic association, electing officers and appointing a committee to look after the athletic arrangements.

This week Mr. Floyd Hill, of Wall, entered school to take up commercial work.

Miss Steenhusen, of Irwin; Miss Saylor, of Manilla, and Miss Lyons, of Charter Oak, stayed with the girls at the hall while attending the teachers' institute.

A Different Matter.

"How absurd!"
"That's what I said when I heard it."
"You mean thing!"—Boston Transcript.

A Splendid Pose.

"How would you like to be the captain of a submarine liner?"
"The idea doesn't appeal to me at all," answered the man who is fond of display.

"Well, why not?"
"For me half the fun of being the captain of an ocean liner would be to stand on the bridge and sweep the sea with my glasses in full view of hundreds of admiring passengers scattered about on the upper deck."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

NEW WEDDING RING.

To Be Up to Date Your Ring Must Be Double.

For the autumn bride there is a new sort of wedding ring. To the casual eye it appears to be just the ordinary gold circlet, heavy yet narrow, as fashionable wedding rings are now. An adroit twist of the fingers, however, and, behold, the ring becomes two rings, the rounded edges at the outer side and a flat surface within. On this flat surface the bridegroom may have engraved a secret inscription of sentiment, which nobody but the bride—and himself, of course—will ever be able to read unless some one discovers the trick of opening the ring. The best wedding rings are of fourteen carat gold, heavy and solid and not too wide. Very wide wedding rings have gone out of fashion, and the modish band is narrow and well rounded at the outer side. A ring of eighteen carat gold has a beautiful color, but will not wear as well as the fourteen carat ring, and, of course, a ring that is never removed from the hand is apt to have hard usage, to come into contact with surfaces that would scratch or dent any metal not very hard in itself.

Fall Millinery.

The array of styles in all white hats, especially in satin, is astonishingly large. The present novelty, however, is the reappearance of medium and small shapes. Turbans are likewise represented. In these a new model with the brim arranged in five peaks is especially noteworthy. For early fall wear feather trimmings and ribbons share first honors. Fasted breast, bird, wing and quill effects are all represented. From present indications the early fall hats are to be subdued in color, with emphasis chiefly on black, a new chocolate shade of brown and the ever popular navy. Among the novelty shades are the new Bordeaux red, a soft, dull gray and a deep purple.

Latest Topcoats.

Separate coats are still quite full. Belts begin on the inside of the coat and appear outside at unexpected places, usually fastening in the front. It will be the usual rather than the unusual thing to find the strap buckles fastening instead of buttons. But when buttons are employed there seems to be no limit to the numbers. Cheruit is using alpaca for topcoats, and when lined with an effective silk it makes a most attractive coat. This is to be used for between seasons, however.

Spoiled by the Exception.

"How did you find your dinner when you came home late last night?"
"Pretty good, except the course my wife introduced in the bill of fare of tongue served with hard sauce."—Baltimore American.
