From reports received just before going to press we are informed that the election yesterday was a great victory for the republican party. Late reports by telephone to this office are to the effect that it is a close race between Wilson and Hughes, but Hughes is leading with one electoral vote over his opponent. It is conceded that Hughes now has 252 electoral votes while Wilson has 251. The states of Indiana, New Hampshire, New Mexico and Oregon are all considered as doubtful. All that Hughes needs is Indiana with its 15 electoral votes, which will give him one more than necessary.

Hughes lead Wilson in New York state with a plurality of 65,152, although he lost New York City, but the upstate vote was strong enough to overcome this setback. Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts and in fact all of the New England states were carried by Hughes.

The Result in the State.

Here in Iowa the usual republican majority was rolled up, which is estimated this afternoon at better than 60,000. The one surprise of the campaign in this state was the great record made by W. L. Harding, his vote being estimated at anywhere from 50,000 to 100,000 more than E. T. Meredith. It was a walk away for the republican candidate notwithstanding the mud slinging campaign carried on against him by the Des Moines Register and its consorts. It is the general opinion that the Des Moines Register and the other papers fighting him carried their campaign to such an extent that it won votes for him at every hand. It is doubtful whether Meredith carried a single county in the state although he did manage to carry his own ward in Des Moines by a majority of 676 over Harding. It is predicted that Iowa will give Hughes one of the biggest majorities in the history of the state.

It is reported that Congressman Steele, dem., was re-elected while all of the other members of congress will be republican. Frank P. Woods carried the big Tenth district with the usual majority.

The early returns on supreme judge while meager show that Deemer and Evans will be returned to the bench.

Nebraska Goes Dry

There is little doubt but what Nebraska will be counted among the dry states for the vote has been so heavy that there is little doubt it can be overcome by the wets. Senator Hitchcock, democratic senator of Nebraska, will be returned to the senate.

The election in Crawford county was quiet yesterday although every effort was made to get out the full vote. A drizzling rain set in during the forenoon, which was enough to dampen the spirits of the most optimistic politician, but there was very little speculation over the general results until evening when the returns began coming in at the Commercial club room and the Review office.

A few bets were placed during the afternoon on Hughes and Wilson and several bets on Meredith and Harding were made before afternoon. There was very little betting on the county ticket everyone believing that it would be a close race.

Telegraph returns were received at the Commercial club, where the members and invited guests remained until the wee small hours of the morning in hopes of getting an inkling as to how the candidates for president were running.

Returns from the precincts in Crawford county were received at the Review office, which kept open all night long and was the only Denison newspaper which made any attempt to furnish the public with the county returns. The office was packed all night long and as soon as reports were received they were telephoned to the Commercial club for the benefit of those there. The Review arranged with a party at each precinct to send in the returns just as soon as the vote had been completed. These reports commenced arriving at the Review office at 9 o'clock and kept up until just a few minutes before going to press and we are glad to present the readers of the paper with a complete table showing how each county candidate ran in the 27 precincts of the county.

KLINKER, KAHLER AND ROSBURG DECLARED WINNERS HARDING BY 100,000

Moeller Said to Have Been Defeated by Twenty Votes—Official Count May Change Results—Democratic Board of Supervisors Elected—Kolls, Republican Member Goes Down.

County Officers Elected.

P. J. Klinker, State Representative.

Louis Evers, Treasurer (dem.)

J. W. Monaghan, Clerk (dem.)

H. J. Cummings, Sheriff (dem.)

W. A. Cramer, Recorder (rep.)

A. H. Rosburg, Coroner (rep.)

John A. Holland, Supervisor term beginning 1917 (dem.)

Wm. Eggers, Supervisor, term beginning 1918 (dem.)

Hans Hagege, Supervisor, term beginning 1918 (dem.)

The result of the election in Crawford county yesterday is very satisfactory to the republicans who entered into the campaign against tremendous odds. A large democratic majority was to be overcome, and the election of Klinker, Kahler and Rosburg is gratifying. Moeller's defeat for the office of clerk by only 29 votes is to be regretted and the official count may change this vote.

H. C. Kolls, the present republican member of the board of supervisors, is defeated as well as the remainder of the ticket, and will retire with a record for business from the word go. Messrs. Weed and White made good showings in the face of heavy odds, while Alfred Wright and E. E. Lehman both made exceptional runs. Had the campaign continued for another week there is little question but what the tide would have swung in favor of the republican candidates and the results would have been different.

Mr. P. J. Klinker, the republican candidate for re-election to the office of state representative, made another of his record runs and carried all but five precincts in the county, having a majority over John Hagege of 873. The voters of the county knew only too well that it would be a mistake not to return Mr. Klinker to the house. He has made an exceptional record during his one term in the office and the county is proud of their representative at the state capital.

Although Crawford is a strong democratic county the democratic ticket was unable to swing the result in favor of Wilson, Hughes, the republican candidate receiving 2811 votes against 1884 for Wilson, a majority of 927. Harding, the republican candidate for governor, carried the county over Meredith by 1478.

Early reports last night showed Wright leading Portz by a small margin for the office of county auditor, but these reports were mostly from the republican precincts and when the solid democratic precincts reported the majority was soon wiped out and it was evident that Portz was a winner. Lehman, of Schleswig, made a nice race for the office of county recorder and early returns showed him to be leading Cramer by a small majority. Later, however, the returns rolled in from the democratic predicts and Cramer soon had a big lead. All day it was conceded that Moeller had defeated Monaghan for the office of county clerk and it was not until the returns from Vail reached here at 4 o'clock this afternoon that it was found that Monaghan had been re-elected by a majority of only 29.

Green made a nice run against Sheriff Cummings who next to Evers is considered the strongest candidate in the county.

W. E. Kahler was elected to the office of county attorney by a majority of 44 votes. Kahler led in almost every precinct when the first returns were received and when he carried Bell's old home town of Dow City it was evident that it would be a close race. It was not until after 4 o'clock
