

LIVED IN COUNTY SINCE YEAR 1869

Mrs. Richard B. Johnston, One of the Earlier Settlers of Crawford County, Died Monday.

DECEASED BORN IN CANADA

Kind, Loving and Conscientious Woman Whom All Loved to Meet—Mother of Twelve Children

Mrs. Richard B. Johnston died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Brogden, on Monday morning at 3 o'clock after a prolonged illness. Elizabeth Herner, daughter of George and Sarah Herner, was born in Canada, Aug. 24, 1841. At the age of eleven years she came with her parents to Mt. Carroll, Ill., where on Jan. 15, 1856, she was married to Richard B. Johnston. The young couple took up the duties of married life at Mt. Carroll and lived there until in June, 1869, when they decided to try their fortunes in the golden west, immigrating to Crawford county and settling in Goodrich township, where they resided eight years, then moving to a farm near Back Grove. On March 12, 1880, misfortune overtook them when the family home was destroyed by fire, and two dear little girls, Elizabeth and Emma, were lost in the flames. Immediately after this the family returned to Goodrich township, where they lived until the spring of 1902, when they moved to DeLoit. In 1910 they came to Denison, where Mr. Johnston passed away Jan. 10, 1913, since which time the mother has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Brogden.

In 1861, while living in Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston united with the church of God and continued their membership therein, although no church of this denomination was found in this locality. Twelve children were born to them, ten of whom survive. Those living are Henry and Mrs. Sarah Schroeder, of Canada; Allen, Mrs. Mary Mullenger, Mrs. Ida Brogden, William and Richard, all residents of Denison; Mrs. Olive Langley, residing in Nebraska; Mrs. Clara Johnson, of Texas, and George, of Auburn. The deceased also leaves three brothers, Messrs. Adolph, John, of Illinois, and Reuben, of Council Bluffs. Mrs. Johnston was one of those kind, loving and conscientious women that everyone loved to meet, and whose very presence was a ray of sunshine that cast a precious light around about her. Her fondest ambition was to make her home the center of attraction for her husband and children, and all of them appreciated to the utmost "Mother's" efforts. Her life was a testimony of christian goodness, and when the final summons came, after several weeks' illness, she went to meet her Maker with the assurance that she would receive the reward she so fully deserved.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Brogden, Rev. J. L. Boyd, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating, after which interment was made in Oakland cemetery. The Review joins with the many friends of the bereaved children in extending sympathy.

MRS. FRED LENZ DEAD.

Acute Appendicitis Causes Death of Well Known Goodrich Township Woman—Funeral on Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Lenz, of Goodrich township, passed away at the family residence on Friday, September 7th, at 3 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Lenz had been ill but a few days, suffering with an attack of acute appendicitis, and underwent an operation on the day previous to her death. Anna Otto was born April 7, 1881, in Rock Island county, Ill., and came with her parents to Crawford county in the year 1883, residing here continuously until the time of her death. She was married to Mr. Fred Lenz in the year 1900 and besides her husband leaves three sons, Edward, Walter and Robert, to mourn her death. She also leaves her father, Mr. Henry Otto, and two brothers, Herman Otto, of Denison, and Henry Otto, residing at Windom, Minn. The deceased had a large acquaintance in the county and her sudden death caused a profound sorrow. She was a woman loved and admired by all who knew her. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the German Lutheran church in Denison, the pastor, Rev. Wm. Frese, officiating. The service was largely attended and in fact it was one of the largest funerals ever held in the city. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery. The Review joins with the many friends of the Lenz family in extending heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FREML.

The funeral of Mrs. Wesley Fremel was held from St. Ann's church in Vail on last Wednesday, Rev. Father Murphy officiating. The deceased was born in Brunswick, Canada, in 1849 and came to Iowa with her brothers and sisters, locating at Iowa City, and later moving to Crawford county. She was united in marriage to Henry Seigner and this union was blessed with four children, namely: Henry, Mary, William and Adolph, all of whom reside at Vail. Mr. Seigner departed this life in 1897. Mrs. Seigner later married Mr. Wesley Fremel and to this union were born two children, George and Margaret, residing at home. Mrs. Fremel, as was stated in last week's issue of the Review, died on Monday, September 3d, following a stroke of paralysis. She had left her home to walk to the home of her son, who resided only a short distance away, when she suffered the stroke and her body was discovered in the road by passersby at an early hour Monday morning. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

A number of auction sales are advertised in this issue of the Review, which should attract the attention of readers. Many people are resorting to auction sales rather than to dispose of their property at private sale. It is a well known fact that the auction method of disposing of property is the quickest and surest method, and nine times out of ten is more satisfactory than at private sale. The Review will print each week from now until the end of the season the sale dates claimed columns as has been our custom in the past. Those who intend holding auction sales and who have decided on the date should notify the Review at once so the sale may be listed in this column. The Review makes no charge for listing a date in this column and it will prevent two sales being held in the same neighborhood on the same date. A word in regard to your auction sale advertising. The Review has a competent force of men who are experts in public sale advertising. We will be glad to assist you in writing your advertising and helping you to pull off a successful sale. Of course you will want to advertise the sale in the Review for it reaches the buyers in this territory that you are anxious to have attend your sale. The Review prints more public sale advertising than any paper in western Iowa. The reason for this is apparent.

We wish to call attention to the following sales to be held in the near future:

Farm at Auction. On another page of this issue will be found an announcement of the Luther Auction company of Grand Junction, who are advertising a 240 acre tract of land located 1 1/2 miles east of Glidden that will be sold at public auction on Saturday, September 22d. The land is in a high state of cultivation and well improved. For details in regard to this sale see the advertisement on another page.

Horse Sale. C. G. Simpson, of Logan, is using space in this issue of the Review to announce a public sale of brood mares and work horses that he will hold at Brown's barn in Logan on Friday, September 21st. Anyone in need of some good horses and mares should investigate this sale. Read the announcement and plan to attend.

Sale at Manila. Gunther Schmidt, of Manila, has decided to retire from business and will dispose of his modern brick building located on the south side of Main street in Manila on Tuesday, September 18th, commencing promptly at 2 o'clock. Anyone who is looking for a good business location in Manila should investigate this sale. Tate & McLaughlin, of Manning, will cry the sale. Remember the date, Tuesday, September 18, at 2 o'clock.

Sale at Aspinwall. The dance hall, billiard hall, house and six lots belonging to John F. Brus of Aspinwall, will be sold at auction on Wednesday, September 19th, commencing promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Brus is retiring from active business and for this reason wishes to dispose of his property. For details of this sale read the announcement on page two of the first section.

Farm at Auction. One of the fine farms advertised at public auction in this issue is the 213 acre farm of A. B. Venteicher located 7 1/2 miles southwest of Glidden in Carroll county. The owner is in poor health and has decided to retire and desires to dispose of his fine farm. All of the land is tillable and considered one of the best farms in the locality. It will be sold by Tate & McLaughlin, of Manning, on Friday, September 14th, commencing at 1 o'clock sharp. Read the advertisement on page six of the first section for details.

Crawford County Farm at Auction. Cols. Tate & McLaughlin, of Manning, are using space in this issue to advertise the sale of 160 acres of land located in section 21, Iowa township, at public auction on Friday, September 21st. Here is an excellent farm, well improved and one that will make a fine home for anyone. Read the announcement on page six of the first section and plan to attend the sale.

Duroc Jersey Boar Sale. Hunt & McDonald are using space in the Review this week to announce their annual sale of Duroc Jersey boars, which will be held at Laub's sale pavilion in Denison on Wednesday, October 10th. We shall have more to say of this sale in a future issue.

Chester White Boar Sale. Breeders of Chester White hogs should not overlook the sale of pure bred boars which will be held by John F. Holst, Jr. on Wednesday, October 10th, at his farm just west of Denison. Mr. Holst has an exceptional offering and should have a large crowd at his farm on sale day. If you are in need of a really good boar, write Mr. John F. Holst, Jr., Denison, for a catalogue of his offering.

HENRY FAUL TO SCHLESWIG

Well Known Denison Printer Purchases Leader at Schleswig and Has Taken Possession.

MAY GET SOME COUNTY WORK

The Fact That Mr. Faul Had Charge of Job Department of Bulletin for Years May Help Secure Printing

The Schleswig Leader, which has been owned and edited for the past three years by Fred C. Freeman, was sold last week to Mr. H. W. Faul, who took possession of the property on last Monday. The change of ownership came as a surprise to the people of Schleswig, as there was no intimation that Mr. Freeman was even considering selling the publication. Mr. Faul is an experienced printer and in fact has been associated in the printing and publishing business for the past twenty-three years. For a number of years he has been connected with the Denison Bulletin in the capacity of foreman. For some time he had complete charge of the job printing department of the Bulletin and much of the intricate county printing was done by him. At one time Mr. Faul was in the employ of the Review and we found him to be a printer of great ability. As owner and editor of The Schleswig Leader we predict he will meet with success. He is of German blood and will give the people of Schleswig and locality a newspaper that they may well be proud of. No doubt Mr. Faul will be awarded a portion of the county printing as he is a staunch democrat and deserving of some of the patronage. The fact that he is thoroughly familiar with all classes of the county printing will prove him in good stead.

The old editor of the Leader, Mr. Fred C. Freeman, has been in charge of the Leader for the past three years and during that time greatly increased the business. The paper enjoyed a large advertising patronage and in fact it contains more advertising than any other paper in a town of its size that comes to the Review's exchange table.

Mr. Faul in announcing the purchase had the following to say in the last issue of the Leader: "With this issue The Leader is published under new management. Mr. Freeman, the former publisher having disposed of his interest to the undersigned September 1st. It will be the aim of the new publisher to keep The Leader up to its past high standard in the community, and if possible to even better it. We will use our best efforts to further the business interests of Schleswig, to assist in every way to uphold the city along all lines. This can only be done by the hearty co-operation of all our business men and citizens. "The Leader in the past has enjoyed the support of all the business men and citizens and the paper has been one of the best in Crawford county, and we ask that this same support and patronage be extended to the new publisher and we shall make a special effort to merit it. "H. W. Faul, Publisher."

Making a Marine. It takes longer to make an efficient marine than to make an infantryman. This because the marine is a man of many specialties. He is, of course, in season and out of season, an international policeman. That's his job in time of peace. But when he fares abroad to fight his country's battles he may be called upon to do almost any kind of work. He may be an artilleryman, a signalman, an airplane pilot, and usually is, anything that his country needs at that particular time. And he is trained to meet the emergency.

Lime in the Garden. Lime will speed up garden crops. It is particularly beneficial on new land. For both flower and vegetable gardens hydrated lime is safest to use. Sprinkle it around the base of the plants and along the rows close to the plants, but not touching them, and work it in the soil.—New York Sun.

Success. "My first rich patient was the making of me," confessed the doctor. "Did you make a marvelous cure?" "Oh, no. But I got enough money to move into a fashionable neighborhood, and then I called myself a specialist."—Philadelphia Ledger.

To Be Fully Covered. Man—No; I am carrying all the life insurance I want. Persistent Agent—I notice you have a wooden leg. How about fire insurance?—Boston Transcript.

Men are sent into the world with bills of credit and seldom draw to their full extent.—Walpole.

SOCIAL NOTES.

H. H. will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting in the club rooms on Thursday evening. Miss Gertrude McWilliam will be the hostess.

The St. Rose Circle met with Mrs. Mary McMahon last Wednesday afternoon. After the regular business meeting light refreshments were served.

P. E. O. met with Mrs. E. C. Chamberlin on last Friday evening. At that time two new members were taken in, Miss Mary McHenry and Miss Ethel Chamberlin. After the formal meeting was over a very delicious lunch was served.

A special meeting of P. E. O. was called on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hugo Gehert for the purpose of taking Miss Harriet Gehert into the order, she being absent from the city on Friday evening.

Trinity Guild is being entertained at the home of Mrs. Geo. McHenry this (Wednesday) afternoon. Following the usual business meeting light refreshments will be served.

If any member of the Red Cross who is entitled to the magazine and who has not received it will send their name to the secretary, Mrs. F. M. Server, the matter will be adjusted.

Residents of Nishnabotny township were shocked last week when news was received of the death of Mrs. Earl A. Law, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mullenger, which occurred at her home near Kimball, Neb., on Wednesday, September 5th. It seems that Mrs. Law was dressing and in taking some clothes from a bureau drawer accidentally discharged a revolver which was kept there. The bullet inflicted a mortal wound resulting in almost instant death.

Ruby Edith Mullenger was born on the 11th day of December in the year 1889, at Denison, at which place she spent all of her girlhood days. She was a young lady of pleasing personality and her friends were numbered by her acquaintances. For a number of years she corresponded for the Review, furnishing the paper with the news of Nishnabotny township. She was married to Earl A. Law on Feb. 7, 1917, at which time they moved to Kimball county, Nebraska. She leaves to mourn her untimely death her devoted husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mullenger, brother, William, and sister, Mildred.

The remains were brought to the old home where the funeral services were held Saturday afternoon. Rev. J. L. Boyd, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Interment was made in Oakland cemetery. The grief stricken husband and father and mother have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. Mrs. Mary McMahon entertained the Woodman Circle Thimble club on last Thursday. The afternoon was spent in needlework, after which a two course luncheon was served. All present reported a good time.

Aviation Tests. Could you learn to write? Try the following tests, which were given to a number of would be government aviators who were examined recently in the government school of aviation: Balance thirty seconds on either foot with your eyes closed. Walk backward and forward thirty paces with your eyes closed and see how far you have strayed from a straight line. Sit on a revolving chair and twirl yourself around a half dozen times; then, without opening your eyes, name the direction you are facing. Put cold water in your ears; then replace it with warm water. If the effect is the same in both cases your ears are normal as far as susceptibility to altitude is concerned.—Chicago Tribune.

Carnegie's Advice. Andrew Carnegie, who for years yielded an influence in the industrial world as great perhaps as any living man, came to this country practically penniless when he was twelve years old. His phenomenal rise in life may be attributed to his following clear principles and methods. In an address to students in a commercial college he said: "Avoid speculation; avoid inducements. Aim high. For the question, 'What must I do for my employer?' substitute 'What can I do?' Begin to save early—'capitalists trust the saving young man.' Concentrate your energy, thought and capital; fight it out on one line."

In ancient times, before the invention of stirrups and luxurious saddles, horses were taught to kneel to permit their riders to mount. A beautiful Greek vase in one of the museums in Petrograd shows a war horse of many centuries ago kneeling low before an amazon. The riders in those days mounted from the "off" side in contradistinction to the modern usage. Plutarch tells how in the first century of this era certain effeminate Roman riders found even the horse block of too little assistance and had their horses trained to kneel to them.

CAMP COPY, NEW MEXICO.

ready market that is found within a short distance of the Mimbres valley encourages the farmers and their wives to cultivate these branches.

Columbus in the southern part of Luna county, is the only port of entry from Mexico between Texas and Arizona, and thousands of dollars are collected each year in duty on the shipments of livestock from the republic on the south of us.

Denim, the county seat of Luna county, is a thriving, progressive city of 5,000 inhabitants. It possesses two banks which are rated among the finest financial institutions in the state; the leading religious sects are strongly represented, each of them collected each year in duty on the shipments of livestock from the republic on the south of us. Denim's schools are conducted by a faculty that is not excelled by that of any other county in New Mexico and the curriculum embraces the widest possible variety of subjects; fraternal orders flourish in Denim, practically all of the major orders having lodges in active operation; and Denim stores compare favorably with those of cities many times the size of Denim.

Three railroads, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Southern Pacific, and the El Paso & Southwestern, pass through Denim, tapping one of the richest territories, in agriculture, mining and stock raising in the southwest. Denim is the logical market for all the business of the rich mining camps of the surrounding counties, and the volume of trade with these camps is growing in importance each year.

Within the past year many new enterprises have been started in Denim among them being the Denim Canning factory, the Denim Roller Flour mills, the Empire Smelting and Refining company, the Denim Ice Cream factory, none of which was subsidized in any manner. Many other lines of industry are represented in Denim, electricity, machine shops, garages and water works being among the most important.

The driving force behind the activities and progressiveness of Luna county is the Denim Chamber of Commerce, which is ever on the alert to advance the welfare of the people of the county. In this work it is admirably aided by the newspapers of Denim, the Headlight and the Graphic, and by the Columbus Courier, each of which is a force for good in every branch of the life of the community.
