

DOW CITY ITEMS

Last Sunday being Memorial day was observed in the usual manner. Sunday morning, beginning at 10:30, an appropriate service was held in the Methodist church. The usual Sunday morning services at the Baptist and L. D. S. church were dispensed with as is customary on these occasions. The service was opened with a song, "Faith of Our Fathers," by the congregation. The scripture lesson was then read by Elder J. L. Butlerworth. A double mixed quartet, composed of Prof. O. R. Bentley, Hugh Butlerworth, Mrs. A. W. Wilson, Miss Vivian Sharp, Miss Bernice Hunsicker, Mrs. R. E. Lusk, E. G. Wiggins and James Scott, rendered a beautiful selection. After this number prayer was given by Rev. G. A. Barker of the Baptist church, followed by another song by the double mixed quartet. Rev. A. B. Adams, the Methodist pastor, delivered the address of the day and held the wraps attention of each one during his entire discourse. He concluded his address with a tribute to the men of the G. A. R. which had been written by himself about twenty years ago, and also one to the soldiers in France, this having been written last January. Both were fine and were listened to with much interest. At the close of the address "America" was sung by the choir and congregation and the benediction was given by Rev. Barker. Mrs. Jess Coburn and two children returned to their home in Denison Sunday after a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Carbaugh, and also with her sister, Mrs. Art Banyard, and family. Word reached here Sunday that Frank Honz, who sailed for France some two weeks ago, had arrived there safely, which is good news to the folks at home. The seniors of the local school will put on their class play entitled, "The Call of the Colors," Thursday evening of next week, June 6th, at the opera house. Every one should plan to attend this play as it promises to be a good one. Mrs. Arch Laird has been quite ill the past week with tonsillitis, but is better now. Mrs. Eliza Winters and daughter, of Manning, and Mrs. Percy Dodge and little daughter, Gloria, of Arion, were pleasant visitors at the A. L. Brown home Saturday. The L. D. S. people are improving the interior of their church by having it repainted and papered this week, Jim Butler, of Arion, doing the work. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brinkman on the Howarth ranch southeast of town was again entered by the death angel early Monday morning, when their youngest child, a son, was taken from them, his death being due to stomach trouble. The little one was taken ill Sunday afternoon and lived but a short time, passing to the great beyond about 2 o'clock Monday morning. It will be remembered that only a few weeks ago another son was taken from this family, his death having been caused by the same disease. Besides several months ago while residing in Black Rock, Ark., they were called upon to part with a son, this being the third death in the home within the past year. This is indeed a very sad affair and the grief stricken parents have the deepest sympathy of everyone in their great loss. An son, Clarence LaVerne, youngest son of Theodore Brinkman and wife, was born in Black Rock, Ark., May 27, 1917, and passed away near Dow City May 17, 1918, his first birthday. He leaves to mourn his father and mother and one brother in whose hearts the departure of this dear one will be so keenly felt. The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon being made in the Dow City cemetery. A. H. Cook and son, Oliver, were Omaha visitors Monday. Miss Lola Fishel went to Mapleton Friday to attend the commencement exercises. She remained with relatives for several days. Mrs. Acker entertained her sister, Mrs. Florence True, of Dunlap, over the week end. Clair Butlerworth was a caller in Denison Monday. John O'Meara and his sister, Mary, returned Saturday from a several days' visit in Nebraska City, Neb. Mrs. Acker is enjoying a visit from her brother, Mr. Tilden, who arrived the latter part of the week from out west. The Joe Galinski family were here from Woodbine Sunday and visited at the Herman Lasserus home. The sad news reached here Monday that Dr. Don Talcott had passed away in a Sioux City hospital, his death being caused by pneumonia. The deceased was well known here, having been born and reared to manhood in this vicinity. Mrs. Robt. Robinault and son, Raymond, were down from Denison Saturday visiting with the Claus Hansen family. The latter was among the men from Crawford county who left Denison Tuesday for Camp Dodge. The W. H. Buss family were callers at the county seat Saturday. A patriotic service was held Sunday evening at the Methodist church. A large number gathered for the occasion, but many were compelled to leave shortly after the services began owing to the rainstorm. Attorney J. Carl Fryor, of Council Bluffs, was the speaker of the evening and his address was very good. Music was furnished by the double mixed quartet and some mighty fine selections were rendered. The Baptist people closed their church that evening in order that they might attend the patriotic services. Mrs. A. J. Mackey was a passenger from Logan Sunday, where she has been visiting relatives for several weeks. She is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Fred Coleman and also calling on other friends. Chas. McGlade of the State Teachers' college at Cedar Falls is to be the speaker. The annual alumni banquet will take place the same evening after the exercises. Both will take place in the school building. Word was received here by relatives and friends the first of the week stating the safe arrival of J. O. Turnlund, F. O. Reynolds, Asa Dwyne and Guy Rockwell, also Morris Hefferman in France. These boys with Floyd Riggs left here together three months ago for Camp Greene, N. C., where they were in training for several weeks. The latter has been confined in a hospital in New York for three weeks or more, having had an operation performed. Vernon Clothier and Alfred Hansen were Denison callers Monday. The Methodist church in America is raising one million dollars to assist the government in carrying the spirit of the training camps and in Europe. The War-Work-Team of the local church consists of E. G. Wiggins, D. E. Bremser, George M. Talcott, Clarence Bryan and L. E. Poltevin. Miss Pearl McElwain and Miss Helen Rule are receiving a good reception in getting plans for the Epworth League delegates at the coming district convention held here June 12 and 13. Mr. and Mrs. James Ballantyne and children drove to Denison Sunday evening to attend the union meeting. Virgil Fetters came home last week on a four days' furlough, returning to camp Sunday. D., came Monday evening to visit her mother, Mrs. Wm. Marr. Mrs. Wm. Eggers went to Bonsall, S. D., to attend the funeral of her nephew, Mr. Burke, who was struck by lightning Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kevan and children visited Arion friends Sunday. Chas. Holliday and Miss Emma Farn surprised their relatives and friends by going to Dunlap and getting married Friday. Charlie is an expert mason and is doing well and Emma has been one of the best of daughters and has made a good home for her father and brothers and will be a true helpmate. The best wishes of many friends are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Holliday. Walter Lingard left for Denison on Monday to join the army. The British government had expected Walter in its service, but he took out naturalization papers and prefers to fight under the banner of his adopted country. Miss Gertrude Talcott left Sunday afternoon for Crofton, Neb., to attend the funeral of her brother, Dr. Don Talcott. A number of neighbors took a day to help John Eggers, who returned from Chicago, where he had gone with cattle, to find that a cyclone had spared the lives of his family but had wrecked the fine cattle barns only lately finished. A miracle is the word generally used when the place is first seen. No other word seems fitting where a house, a mother and little children were unharmed in the midst of uprooted trees, roofs and the debris of a disastrous storm all about it. N. F. Stilson has been quite ill lately, but is recovering. Lynn and Cecil Talcott are spending their vacation learning to farm at the home of their uncle, Val Talcott. Miss Iona Brosius visited a sister in Boone and attended the Congregational conference at Ames last week. L. C. and Chas. Butler went Monday to Crofton, Neb., to attend the funeral of their nephew, Dr. Talcott. Mrs. F. Baker has returned from a visit with relatives at Des Moines. School closed with a picnic dinner, after which a program of music and recitations was given by the pupils. One drill given by Miss Hird's pupils was especially good. The teachers, Professor Wiseman, Miss Hird, Miss Perrine and Miss Nora Stephenson, have been re-elected for next year. Mrs. M. Conroy and son, Martin, and Mrs. M. L. Houltham have made a number of trips to Denison to see Mr. and Mrs. Brian Houltham, who were so badly hurt in the storm. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hamann, son, Emil, and daughter, Minnie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamann and daughter, Velma, John Martens and Miss Leona Hamann drove from Persia to spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nelson and to see the effects of the cyclone. News of the death of Dr. Don Talcott at his home at Crofton, Neb., after a short but severe attack of pneumonia reached here Sunday morning, causing the deepest sorrow to the family and to many friends. Don was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Talcott, who were well known residents of this county. After graduating at the Dow City high school he went to the Denison Normal college, where he will be remembered as a good student and a keen and witty debater. From there he went to study medicine at the State university. After finishing the course at Iowa City he went to Crofton, Neb., and began to practice with his brother, Dr. J. M. Talcott. Since then his visits home have been few for he has devoted himself to his profession, risking his life to save that of a patient in a flooded cabin or as certainly by overwork. Of a generous disposition no appeal was made to him without a response. A convincing speaker, he used his talent unflinchingly for the Red Cross. He took a post graduate course in New York, was worshipful master of the Masonic lodge and president of the district medical association for several years. Many mourn the loss of this life of achievement and of promise-cut short.

WALL LAKE ITEMS

Sunday morning at the Methodist church, Rev. W. E. Ellison preached at a union service, the Memorial sermon for this year, from the text, "As dying and yet we live," urging and we make it a time of remembrance not only of the ones who had given their lives for the principles of the republic, but of the things for which they died. It was a fitting preparation for the services of Thursday, which will be held at the opera house beginning at 2:00 p. m. The service Sunday also included the call from the food administration to a great saving of food, especially wheat, as the need for more to be sent abroad is greater than was planned. If the waste of grains in liquor manufacturing is stopped, we can all afford to stop the use of wheat entirely until after the next harvest as a thank offering. At a meeting of the Epworth League Sunday evening the officers were installed for the following year, and delegates elected to the district convention to be held at Quincy, June 4 and 5, with Dr. Craig and Bishops Lewis and Johnson as speakers. George Kuypers, Will Anderson, Jas. Duffy and Henry Wunschel left the first of the week for Camp Dodge going to Sac City to report on Monday and joining their party on Tuesday. Last Thursday evening about sixty friends of Jas. Duffy gathered at his home to spend the evening with him before he left for camp. They took their suppers with them, and a writ-

BUILDERS TO USE TREENAILS

How Framework of Ships Under Construction for Uncle Sam Will Be Held Together. The framework of the wooden ships which are now being built for the United States Emergency corporation will not be held by even a single metal nail. They will be pinned together with treenails cut from the trunks of live oak or yellow locust trees. There are two or three causes for the use of wooden nails. One is the great need of iron and steel in other lines of war activity where wood could not be used, and another that the wooden pin is lighter than a metal one and less expensive. Each ship's hull will require 300,000 of the treenails, and they will be fastened in place by splitting each end and driving in a white oak wedge. Each ship will require 600,000 wedges. It is said that the wooden pins are more quickly put in place than are metal ones. Treenails are 24 inches long, an inch and a quarter in diameter and perfectly round. They are used to fasten the planks to the boat frames. Soon after a vessel is launched the pins swell to a snug fit in the framework. The United Kingdom has long taken the lead in the manufacture of walking sticks, and a large proportion of the output was made of raw material grown in the British Isles, such as ash, chestnut, oak and similar woods. The importation of finished sticks has always been small, but before the war a considerable amount of raw or partly finished material was imported, such as malacca canes, ebony, wenge, rose, root bamboo, algherri, etc. Cherry sticks and what is known as "Congo" wood were formerly imported from Germany and Austria, where they are grown. For a time after the outbreak of the war the stocks on hand, both here and in neutral countries, met the demand, but gradually the trade has become more dependent upon home-grown goods, and consequently a greatly increased demand for domestic raw material has arisen.

EVERYONE MUST HELP. Wars cannot be fought without money, and upon the Treasury centers every financial demand upon the Nation. The rich of this country cannot alone meet the needs of the Nation; the men of the country cannot do it alone; the women of the country cannot do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partisanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determining to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do. W. G. McADOO, Secretary of the Treasury.

MEMORIAL DAY THURSDAY, MAY 30. ON this day we have a privilege which seldom comes in the life of a nation—that of paying patriotic tribute to our heroes of the past, the present and the future. Let us as individuals observe the day properly and join with our friends and neighbors in paying glorious tribute to those who fought in the dark days of '61 and those who fight today for the cause of human rights and freedom. THOSE who have loved ones gone on before have a sacred duty to perform in keeping their memory ever green. No better way to fulfill this duty and perpetuate a loving memory can be found than by erecting an artistic monument. We make monuments of every description, from the simple markers to the most elaborate work. We guarantee our monuments to "stand the test of time." Information and estimates gladly furnished. SAY GOODBYE TO DOUGHNUT

Soaks Up Fat Which Can Be Put to Better Use, is Judgment of Hoover. The doughnut is doomed, says the Indianapolis News. Recent intimations of disapproval by the food administration of this maternal confection might have been regarded as a spur to conservation and a threat that would not be carried out unless as a last resort. Bakers are prohibited in making bread or rolls from adding sugar or fats to the dough during the baking or afterward. Some difference of opinion as to what are rolls has given the doughnut a respite, but it is to be short-lived, according to the state food administrator, who brings this significant news from Washington: This ruling gives sweet dough goods a temporary lease of life only. Mr. Hoover has a special grudge against doughnuts. They soak up fat which we do not need and our allies are suffering for. So doughnuts and frying pan foods will shortly be taboo and we must not eat or make them until the war is over. Thus is the fate of the doughnut sealed. Mr. Hoover is known as a determined man who cannot be moved from a course which he thinks will serve the interests of his country. The statement, however, that the food administrator has a grudge against the doughnut will pain many who have peculiarly strong fondness for it as an accompaniment of the morning meal, though Mr. Hoover's animus may arise from motives of patriotism, not prejudice. If the government says the doughnut must go out of our lives, then go it must. But there will be some natural regret at parting with an old and tried friend. The doughnut, like pie, has become a part of our common life. Many will find breakfast without sinkers an incomplete and unsatisfying repast. But perhaps the abstinence will bring better digestion and more equable tempers.
