

TWO DEATHS AT SCHLESWIG

Mrs. Wm. Stegemann Dies on Wednesday, October 16th—Ill but a Very Short Time

CARL LOHSE DIES OF INFLUENZA

Illness of One Week Develops into Pneumonia and Death Ensues—Funeral to be Held Thursday

SCHLESWIG, Oct. 22—(Special to the Review)—The residents of Schleswig and vicinity were greatly shocked on Wednesday, October 16th, to learn of the death of Mrs. Wm. Stegemann which occurred at her home. Mrs. Stegemann had been ill for the week previous, but was considered much improved and on the road to recovery when death overcame her suddenly. Marguerite Flin was born in Cedar county, Iowa, Oct. 5, 1858. The first nineteen years of her life were spent on a farm at that place and on the 21st of March, 1876, she was married to William Stegemann. They remained on the farm for one year when they moved to Morgan township, Crawford county, where they lived for another year. They then moved to Otter Creek where they resided on a farm until 1911, when they moved to the town of Schleswig, where she lived until the time of her death. Eight children were born to this union, six of whom are living, two sons and four daughters, namely: Frank and William, both of Otter Creek township; Mrs. Emma Mohr, of Schleswig; Hattie, Tena and Hannah, at home. She also leaves to mourn her demise three brothers and three sisters, William Flin, of Early; Henry, of Huron, S. D., and John, of Wilton, Iowa, and Mrs. Lizzie, Rosburg, of Osmund, Neb.; Mrs. Anna Colly, and Mrs. Albert Duffy, of Wilton, besides nine grandchildren and other relatives.

Funeral services were held from the home in Schleswig on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Wetzel officiating, and interment was made in Morgan cemetery by the side of her husband who preceded her in death on July 21, 1914. Mrs. Stegemann was one of the pioneers of this city and thus was very well known in this community and had a host of friends who will mourn her departure. She was a kind, loving mother, and a helpful and sympathizing friend and will be sadly missed in the home and community.

SCHLESWIG, Oct. 22—(Special to the Review)—The death of Carl Lohse occurred at his home in Otter Creek township one and one-half miles from Schleswig on Monday, October 21st, following an illness of one week. Mr. Lohse suffered an attack of Spanish influenza which rapidly developed into pneumonia and thus caused his untimely death.

He was born in Crawford county on May 19, 1858, and thus was 59 years, 5 months and 12 days of age at the time of his demise. He was married on Jan. 5, 1909, to Miss Anna Johansen of Schleswig, who with three children, namely, Elroy, age 7, Elvera, age 4 and Mary Ellen, age 2, survive him.

Besides his immediate family he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lohse, residing in Schleswig, two brothers, Theodore, in France, and John at home, and four sisters, Mrs. Emma Jacobsen, of Ida Grove; Mrs. Elma Johannsen, of Battle Creek; Mrs. Lena Reefe and Mrs. Bertha Wellendorf, of Schleswig, and Miss Anna at home.

Funeral services will be held from the home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment made in the Morgan cemetery.

KICKED BY A HORSE, DEAD

Lloyd Frederick, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schierenbeck, of Kiron, Sustains Fatal Injury

KIRON, Oct. 22—(Special to the Review)—The death of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schierenbeck occurred on Sunday, October 20th, resulting from an injury received on Saturday when the child was kicked by a horse. The little fellow was taken immediately to the Meehan hospital at Denison where an operation was performed, but to no avail and the little life departed at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Lloyd Frederick was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schierenbeck and was born July 9, 1916, being 2 years, 3 months and 11 days old at the time of death. He was a bright, lovable child and his sudden death is a great shock to his fond parents. He is survived also by two brothers, Leslie and Leonard, aged respectively 4 years and 6 months, besides his loving grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hansohn, of near Deloit, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schierenbeck, of Davenport. Funeral services were held at the home near Kiron on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Firnhaber, of Schleswig, having charge, and the little form was laid to rest in Nissen cemetery. The pall bearers were the little cousins of the deceased, being Wilbert and Emil Carstens and Arnold and Frederick Miller.

BONDS NOT ALONE EVIDENCE OF LOYALTY

Some men attempt to prove their loyalty by the number of government bonds they have purchased. That is no test at all. It is a duty everyone owes themselves to invest their money in government bonds, for there is no safer or better investment. It is not much of a test of loyalty to have your investments insured. Some men seem to think they can purchase loyalty. They remind one of the man trying to get to heaven on his wife's religion. Loyalty is love, love of country, love of God. Without the love—regardless of the number of bonds you have purchased—you are not loyal. Willingness to sacrifice must also accompany the claim to loyalty. There is no sacrifice when a man invests in government bonds, unless he first borrows the money and pays interest on the money he loans the government. In that case there is some loyalty, for he has not made a financial profit by the transaction. Even a number of interned Germans recognized the Liberty bonds as a good investment and bought them. Give us less talk about the buying of Liberty bonds to prove loyalty. The purchase of Liberty bonds is not a test of loyalty, it is a proof of business sanity. While Iowa was the first to "go over the top" in the fourth Liberty loan drive she does not point to this fact alone to establish her loyalty, oh no. There are better evidences of her loyalty round about us. For instance, there is the record of the Rainbow division, and thousands of other Iowa boys—God bless them—over in France doing their very best. Many of them were between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one when they willingly went forth to battle for the freedom of the world at thirty dollars per year. There are mothers and fathers who freely consented that the son they cherished more than all else, should uphold the honor of our country and are now uncomplainingly giving EV-ERYTHING for assistance their unstarved support. Many of the blue stars in our service flags have been changed to gold and still we press on, ready and willing to give our all for our country. We consider it a blessed privilege, and not a burden, to buy Liberty bonds. We recognize that the Liberty bond is one of the things that goes with the love of our country. "No cross, no crown." No sacrifice, no loyalty.

The friends of Mrs. Amsden and Mrs. Una Hopkins, who reside at Pasadena, Cal., will learn with deep regret of the death of Edward J. Nixon, son of Mrs. Amsden and brother of Mrs. Hopkins, which occurred at his home in Los Angeles recently. Mr. Nixon was born in Denison and lived here until a young man. He was employed in a bank at Charter Oak for some time and afterwards held a similar position in a bank at Red Oak. He then moved to California and became an eye specialist, and had a large practice in Los Angeles. He was a man of splendid character and ability and was greatly loved by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and his mother and sister mentioned above. Shortly before his death he had invented a goggles for the use of aviators and had secured a government contract for the manufacture of same. It far surpassed anything in present use for this purpose in the army. Mr. Nixon had a long and serious illness and death came as a great relief to him.

STANDARDIZING STYLES

The war industries board recently undertook to standardize the prices of shoes and has arranged for minimum and maximum prices running from $3.00 to $12.00. Now if the styles of shoes could only be standardized, permanent source of expense could be cut off and shoes would always sell for less.

Every few years there is a change of fad in regard to shoes. At one period pointed toes are the rage, and then there is a reaction to broad common sense toes. These changes involve very heavy expenses for new lasts and patterns; which are all added to the price the consumer has to pay.

If the public would only be content to buy the same standard designs year after year, it would be much less costly to produce shoes. Even if the government should not insist upon this, it would seem the manufacturers of shoes might get together and arrange it, as a matter of public spirit and national thrift and efficiency.

WHEN THE GERMAN RETREAT BEGAN

Stars and Stripes, France: It is good to be able to see the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-second and Forty-second divisions called that in print, to see them cited in a general order by their first names, shorn for a glorious instant of the anonymity which is one move in the game of beating the kaiser. You came to the battlefield at the crucial hour of the allied cause. And it may now be told how one regiment from among those eight divisions came to the battlefield. They reached it from a quiet sector 125 miles away, after five days and nights—a forced march if there ever was one. The Germans were pouring down toward the Marne. At that particular moment, in that particular spot, in the whole confusion of the ruptured line the order was given for retreat. "Retreat, hell!" said the colonel. "I just got here."

DEATH AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS

Mrs. Anna Leahy, Mother of Frank Leahy, Dies on Saturday Last After a Short Illness

WAS MOST ESTIMABLE LADY

Was the Mother of Thirteen Children, the Son, Frank, Being the Only One Surviving Her

The death of Mrs. Anna Leahy occurred at her home in this city on Saturday evening, October 19th, at 9 o'clock, following an illness of but a week's duration.

Anna Tiernan was born in Ottawa, Canada, in 1840, coming to the states with her parents when but eight years of age, and settling in Clinton county, Iowa. In 1855 she was married to Timothy Leahy and continued to make her home in Clinton county until the year 1880, when they moved to Crawford county. Her husband preceded her in death, departing this life June 5, 1892. Their union was blessed with thirteen children, several of whom died in infancy, three growing to maturity, but only one surviving, namely, Thomas, who died Aug. 27, 1905; Mary, wife of J. B. Malloy, of West Side, and who died Jan. 23, 1902; and Frank, of this city, who survives his mother, and with whom she has made her home for the past several years, and who has been an unflinching comfort to her in her declining years. She also leaves to mourn her death six grandchildren in whom she took an unusual interest, and whose names are as follows: Frances, to whom she was a mother, having cared for her since babyhood, and who will sadly miss her kind and loving care; Maudie, now Mrs. Frank McBride, of Logan; Melvin and Mabel, of this city; James P. Malloy, of West Side, and Lloyd B. Malloy, who is in service in France.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on Monday morning, October 21st, Rev. M. J. Farrelly officiating. Members of the Catholic church rendered the beautiful hymn, "Heaven is the Prize," and Miss Beatrice Leahy, very touchingly sang "Face to Face." The remains were taken to Vall where interment was made in the Vall cemetery beside the body of her husband.

Mrs. Leahy was a most estimable lady possessed of a kind and loving disposition which greatly endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. She will be deeply missed by her surviving loved ones, especially the son and granddaughter with whom she lived and to whom she was an affectionate mother and constant companion, and by the many friends for whom she always had a cheery and helpful word.

Relatives from out of town who were in attendance at the funeral were J. B. Malloy and son, James P. of West Side; Mrs. Frank McBride, of Logan; and Miss Sue Tiernan, a niece, of Scranton.

The Review joins the many friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved loved ones, in their hour of sorrow.

CRAWFORD COUNTY JUNIOR RED CROSS NOTES

By F. L. Hoffman

We have word that the teachers' manuals are now off the press and will soon be available for distribution to the schools of the county.

We have just supplied each school auxiliary chairman with a supply of the enrollment blanks for your use. Use the blue ones if you are re-enrolling your school this fall, and the white ones if you are enrolling for the first time. Make out all enrollment blanks in duplicate and send both to your local school auxiliary chairman.

The state-wide quarantine and the closing of practically all the schools have delayed the work of organizing our schools. The state committee has decided to extend the time of the special drive from Friday, October 25th, to Wednesday, November 27th, the day preceding annual Thanksgiving. It recommends that the patriotic programs which were to be held October 25th be held on November 27th instead.

Last week we shipped from the county superintendent's office three large bags and a large box of the fruit pits and nut shells in to headquarters for the gas masks.

Crawford county had a quota of 2000 pounds as the minimum amount of clothing for the Belgians to be furnished. As usual the county has gone away over the top in this. Denison and one or two other towns sent more than this amount alone. Reports continue to come in from other towns and communities of excellent collections of clothing.

Kiron sent over 900 pounds, Dow City nearly 1100, Buck Grove three large boxes, and so on.

We now have directions to ship all collections to the Belgian relief commission at Des Moines, instead of to New Jersey as heretofore. At Des Moines they will probably collect it in car load lots and save much work in handling. Let all committees take notice and ship to Des Moines from now on. All collections should be shipped now without delay so as to reach Belgium and France for winter use. No doubt we shall have another call for help about next spring for spring and summer wear.

The present work for the Juniors is the gathering of fruit stones and nut shells and now comes a special call to save tin. The government needs 80,000 tons this year and the best it can figure is 75,000 tons in sight. There is a shortage of about 5,000 tons. We are all urged to save all kinds of foils such as tobacco, gum, tea, etc. pewter articles, as they all contain considerable tin. Tin cans are not wanted as the cost of extracting the tin is more than its value.

Let the Juniors get busy and gather the foils and pewter for tin and bring the same into headquarters for Uncle Sam's use.

Atlantic News Telegraph: If Germany is determined to be an outlaw she must not object if she is treated as such.

Dubuque Telegraph Herald: Czar Ferdinand explained his abdication as due to "a succession of circumstances which have occurred in my kingdom." Somewhat lacking in clearness and detail and yet not at all unsatisfactory.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

But if the old time study of arithmetic had little value for direct use in work, it did have other uses.

Arithmetic, particularly mental arithmetic, makes people good reasoners. When we were given those old tangles about how many sheep a man would have, if he had half as many again and so on, to be determined only after long and tortuous processes, a fellow had to do some thinking. The long practice on this type of problem made the graduates of the Little Red School House mentally alert. The long examples in interest and fractions made them accurate. They learned to perform all processes with methodical precision, a gift that the graduates of modern schools do not always have.

For training in mental alertness and accuracy, arithmetic is one of the corner stones of practical education. Algebra and geometry are a great deal more serviceable and developing along this line than most people realize. Practical education means turning out young people who can think things out straight for themselves, and no subject is better for that than mathematics.

The old time schools overdid geography. It has some effect to broaden the mind. But the interminable memory work in learning the rivers of China and the mountains of South America was mostly lost time. Much of the information could be given as a reading lesson.

Old fashioned education placed great emphasis on teaching people to read with intelligent inflections and clear enunciation. It was a fine accomplishment, yet not very practical. The modern tendency toward written work leaves some educated people so they can not read anything without stumbling. We have gone from one extreme to the other. Practical education will not attempt to make its young folks elocutionists. But it will insist that they be able to read aloud so they can be understood.

Carroll Herald: If you had your way, what disposition would you make of the kaiser? Would you let him off with the mere loss of his crown? We would let the head go with the crown from the neck up.

Muscatine Journal: The Beast of Berlin remains the beast, even in sheep's clothes. Prussia is attempting to convert a military disaster into a victorious peace. She seeks to create dissension between the United States and the allies.

Denison Man Sings Praises

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After the last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot sing its praises too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Rudolph Knaul, Druggist.
