RED CROSS

Surgeon General Gorges of the U. S. army has requested the American Red Cross to make a nation wide survey of its nursing resources.

This includes graduate nurses, pupil nurses still in training, under graduate nurses, trained attendants, practical nurses, midwives and the women who have taken the Red Cross courses.

This survey, when completed, will mean that every community will have at hand a complete record of all material available in time of need.

It will do much to check future epidemics and to meet future emergencies by eliminating the necessity for investigation and organization when emergencies arise.

Questionnaires will be sent to all persons in the county available for registration in this survey, whose names it has been possible to acquire, by every available means.

Anyone not receiving her questionnaire by Jan. 20, 1919, has certainly not been overlooked intentionally and one will be sent to her immediately upon receipt of such notification by the committee.

The filing out of a questionnaire does not, in any way, involve compulsory service, but merely furnishes information.

It is the patriotic duty of every nurse in the county, trained and untrained, to assist in carrying out the request of the war department by filing out and signing a questionnaire, and it is equally the patriotic duty of each community in the county to see that no nurse is overlooked.

"Im-thru-enza" Germ Makes Debut The following exchange first appeared in the Southern Bulletin and has since been widely copied:

With the cessation of hostilities the Red Cross is called upon to combat a new epidemic, originating this time within its own ranks. The affliction is known as "Im-thru-enza."

The initial symptom is a sense of lassitude—a feeling of "What's the use? It's all over. Why should I work?" Steps are being taken to isolate the germ—also those who are carrying it.

The epidemic is not widespread; nevertheless an effort is being made to stem its advance.

"Cold feet" is a marked symptom. Another indication of the presence of the germ is forgetfulness (that the boys are still over there).

The victim, as a rule, cannot concentrate the mind (on knitting). The sight becomes impaired (can't see to sew).

The ears become affected (can't hear the appeals of hundreds of thousands of refugees who must be fed, clothed and housed).

Heart doesn't beat as it used to, and in advanced stages that organ apparently turns to stone.

A vaccine consisting of equal parts of tincture of I-won't-quit and Red Cross spirits, a dash of patriotism and a peck of pep is effective.

Now it remains to be seen whether the returning soldiers will all flock into the big cities where there are two men for every job or go out into the country where there are two farms for every man.

The innocence of the people who know where all the Hog Island money went to is about as convincing as that of the Sunday school class ten days before Christmas.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Past Matrons' league of the Eastern Star enjoyed a most delightful time at the home of Mrs. Lillian Kemp on Tuesday afternoon.

An enjoyable social time was spent, after which a delicious supper was served at the refreshments having been provided by the members, in the nature of a covered dish party.

Following the report the election of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of Mrs. Anna Romans as president and Mrs. Emma Richardson as secretary.

Mrs. H. T. Wilson was hostess to the members of the F. H. club on Friday afternoon when the usual jolly time was enjoyed by those present.

This being the annual election of officers, the following were elected: President, Mrs. J. Phil Jones; vice president, Mrs. Sophia Lehfeldt; secretary, Mrs. F. L. Hoffman; treasurer, Mrs. John Silletto; press reporter, Mrs. S. P. Jacobsen.

A most appetizing supper was served following the business meeting.

The Coffee club met with Mrs. J. B. Romans on Thursday afternoon of last week at the college dormitory.

In spite of the severe weather all the members and a few invited guests responded to the invitation. The afternoon passed pleasantly in a social way, and at 5 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where they were served to a bountiful supper.

The H. H. club held their regular meeting at the club room on Thursday evening of last week with Miss Kate Hasset as hostess.

The club has decided to hold meetings every week for the next few weeks on account of having missed so many meetings during the influenza quarantine.

The Woodman Circle club had an unusually jolly time last Thursday when they were royally entertained by Mrs. J. H. Watke.

A few guests shared in the afternoon's pleasures and were delighted to be included in the good time. The main feature of the afternoon was a Christmas tree when the members exchanged presents.

An elegant three course dinner was served and all voted the occasion just one of the best.

The writer had the pleasure yesterday of going through Mr. John Schnoor's beautiful new residence located on the corner of Broadway and Locust streets and can truthfully say it is one of the most modern and complete homes erected during the past year.

In the basement Mr. Schnoor has his funeral chapel which runs practically the full length of the building north and south with large windows which afford plenty of light.

The entrance is on a level with the sidewalk making it most convenient. The chapel is 16x42 feet. One of the nice features is the private room for mourners located just off the chapel.

The laboratory is situated in the north end of the basement and contains all of the necessary equipment even a cabinet for fumigating garments being provided. A steel receiving vault opens into this room.

The arrangement of this funeral chapel shows considerable study and every convenience has been provided. The first and second floor is occupied by the Schnoor family and is as cozy a home as one could wish for.

The rooms on the ground floor are all finished in beautifully grained red oak and the rooms fitted with exquisite furniture. The arrangement of the rooms is ideal, the one thought of convenience being carried out in every detail. Three bedrooms and a bath make up the second floor. The home is of the bungalow style with stucco finish and presents a most pleasing appearance.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The National W. C. T. U. requests that January 9th be observed as a day of prayer for the ratification of the federal prohibition amendment.

The Denison union class arranged with different pastors of the city to have the above topic taken up at prayer meetings this week. It is also hoped that those who are unable to attend the same will remember the day of prayer in their homes.

An appeal has gone out from the women of France to women of all countries in behalf of the war victims of their own sex.

A nation wide campaign is on to get the signatures of a million women in America to a petition to the peace conference in the interest of our sisters in the allied countries who have suffered at the hands of the enemy.

The national W. C. T. U. voted to co-operate and called on all unions to endorse a resolution embodying the petition and reasons therefor.

At its last regular meeting the Denison W. C. T. U. unanimously endorsed such a resolution which will be forwarded to headquarters.

To whom it may concern: Have you lately read the laws of Iowa regarding to selling or giving cigarettes or cigarette papers to minors?

Question is asked what all the rifle factories shall do for work now? Well the kids always require a vast amount of air guns to shoot at the neighbor's back shed windows.

Some people say they won't advertise because everyone knows where their stores are. Also everybody knows where the cemetery is, but they don't go there very often.
