

OPEN FILM FIRE ON ANARCHISTS

Catholic Council Lays Barrage to Teach True Americanism in Dark Quarters.

Washington.—Training thousands of batteries of movie machines on the quarters where ignorance and illiteracy hide true American democracy from nine million foreign-born or un-informed people, the National Catholic War Council has begun a nation-wide campaign of civic education that will enlist twenty thousand workers. Behind a barrage of patriotically educational films, fitted for the comprehension of every foreigner and of every illiterate, regiments of minute men, trained to the language and customs of these classes, will fight to bring to them the real meaning of democracy, their rights and obligations under the American democratic government and the fundamental principles of industrial justice. Until every district, darkened to true Americanism, is so enlightened that Bolshevism cannot breed there the civic campaigners of the National Catholic War Council declare that they will never let up in this most vital of all their post-war activities.

From the decks of a fleet of auto-trucks that will carry a "camionette" film service to the most isolated groups of miners and woodmen as well as from every available platform in the congested quarters of the larger cities, the minute men of this movement have already begun to drive home the truths of democracy in the tongue and vernacular of their various audiences. Their itinerary is based on a special survey of the location of the five million immigrants who know little or nothing of America and its language and of the four million native-born illiterates. Between specially prepared patriotic, civic, social welfare and vocational reels, interspersed with clean comics, stirring talks on the history of the struggle of democracy in this land and among other nations, on the American rights and obligations and on vocational opportunities and industrial justice will be given in the language of the hearers.

Although intensive drives to reach into the heart of the foreign and illiterate quarters throughout this country will be one of the main objectives of the civic educational campaign of the National Catholic War Council, its reels and speakers are also prepared to offer to all English-speaking audiences, such as groups of women who may desire more information of American civic fundamentals, comprehensive courses on the workings of our government. In every case these entertainments will be brought as close as possible to the people and will be entirely free and open to every one who cares to attend them. Beyond a preliminary course of six weeks and a continuation course of twenty-four weeks with films and speakers the National Catholic War Council is prepared to offer simple text books to all its auditors who are interested.

Summarizing the objects of their new civic campaign, leaders of the National Catholic War Council declare that "in civic education the following points should be emphasized: (1) All the people, both native and immigrant, should know what democracy means. (2) They should be acquainted with their rights under democracy. (3) They should have a knowledge of their obligations in a democracy. (4) They should be acquainted with the simple workings of the government. (5) They should know how to invoke the powers of the government for protection and understand the voting privilege. (6) Finally they should be acquainted with fundamental principles of industrial justice.

ALWAYS A PLEASANT FRIEND

It is True, of Course, That "Money is Not Everything," But See What It Will Do.

"Money isn't everything," says the spendthrift as he scatters his wages to the four winds.

Then he reaches middle life, with old age in the foreground, vainly wishing for the return of the misspent coin.

It may be true that money isn't everything, but one thing is absolutely certain. Old Man Money, if he is cultivated through life, will not desert the friend who has cultivated him. When every human friend has fled Old Man Money sticks. You can start him off with five or ten cents a day in early life and keep feeding him that amount all through life, and in old age you will have on your hands a financial Frankenstein, albeit a pleasant and highly agreeable one.

But money isn't everything, at that.

POVERTY IN SOUTH AMERICA

Appalling Conditions Under Which Many Have to Exist in Latin American Countries.

Consider for a moment the conditions under which thousands upon thousands of Latin Americans live. Out in the country they can get fresh air. But in the city they live with one window and a door. Seventy-five per cent of the houses have no baths and 28 per cent have no water facilities. Eight to ten families use the same faucet and toilet in the open court. Men, women and children live in the same room, without ventilation.

Now, it is bad enough for men and women to live so, but it is worse that children should grow up without any memories of a pleasant home. Yet there are thousands of children to whom the necessities and the decencies of life are unknown and to whom "home" means an old freight car.

Many Mexican girls marry at thirteen and have ten or eleven children by the time they are twenty-six. They men are employed at seasonal jobs in the sugar-beet fields, on the railroads, in the mines, harvesting beans, in orange and lemon orchards and doing construction work. Drunkenness is common. Babies are born into a world which has no clothes for them and shirts and overalls are lacking for the older children. Ignorance and superstition abound.—World Outlook.

A Mountain Camp.

I have spent one perfect night on a mountainside. Others were lovely enough, but this one was the pure idyllic moonshine, the dream come true. We made a good stiff run through the day. Late in the afternoon we left Santa Fe to climb the Giorleta pass through a country of rolling red hills, thick with cedar, broken by cliffs and mesas, and cut by the deep gorge of a little stream.

We scanned the clearings with an eager eye. At last we found the thing we sought. It was the ruins of the first church built on American soil by the Spanish fathers. Away back in 1450 Coronado found here the thriving village which encouraged him to pursue the conquest of the new world, and here commenced the civilization which lingers unchanged in the back country today.—John Breck in Kansas City Star.

Feet Act Like Suckers.

Hoofed or ungulate animals, such as sheep, pigs, camels and elephants, have given up using their fore limbs in a handlike manner, and employ them solely for progression. Consequently tree climbing is out of their line. In Africa and Syria occur, however, certain representatives of the order known as rock rabbits, or hyrax, the Syrian species being the one referred to in the Bible as the coney (the old name of the rabbit). Certain African hyraxes have, however, taken to tree climbing, and the way they manage it is this: In each foot the sole is somewhat cup shaped, and by the aid of muscular action the center can be more elevated, so that when the edges are applied to the bark the foot acts like a sucker.

Getting into a Scrape.

Rabbits, men, golf and Scotland conspired to produce the expression of "getting into a scrape." In that part of Great Britain the game was first played. The rabbits were plentiful! then as now, they had a habit of making little hollows in which to rest. Whenever a ball stopped in one of these scraped-out spots, the player had a real problem to solve. Finally the protests became so numerous that the golfing societies amended the rules and permitted the players to take certain privileges after "getting into a scrape." From that time, with the difficulty decreased, the game flourished.
