Hops.

Hops are grown in a number of states. In the central and northern part of the state of New York many farmers make a specialty of their growth. The yield is from 700 to 800 pounds the acre in that state, but on the Pacific coast, where most of the hops consumed here are grown, the yield is between 1,000 and 2,000 pounds per acre. Oregon produces more hops than any other state in the Union. By far the greater part of the hops raised have been consumed in the breweries of the country, but they are also used in pharmaceutical preparations. The present one-half of 1 per cent beer contains hops, but not in such large quantities as in beers of the larger alcoholic content. And then it is not likely that the kind of beer permitted under the prohibitory law will appeal largely to the drinkers of old-time beer. It seems certain that the demand for hops will fall off greatly.

Coal Gas as Automobile Fuel.

In the course of the world war many motor vehicles were operated in England with coal gas because of the scarcity of gasoline. The gas was contained in collapsible bags made of rubberized balloon fabric. At present, however, compressed gas in steel cylinders is being tried. It is stated that the gas is forced in to pressures as high as 2,250 pounds per square inch. The cost of compression is stated to vary between 40 and 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of free gas, and the cost as fuel in the engine is equivalent to a cost of 12 cents per gallon on the liquid fuel replaced.—Scientific American.

Miss Julia Davis, the pretty and talented daughter of the American ambassador to Great Britain, is a popular member of London's younger social set.

Not by the Hour.

"Do you understand the new telephone rates?"

"No. Can you explain them?"

"I think so. Of course you know we are to have metered service."

"Yes; I saw that in the paper."

"That means we will be charged for every call."

"Each call will be a distinct charge, then?"

"Yes."

"I'm glad of that. I had an idea when they put a meter on the line they were going to charge us by the hour, and judging from the time it takes me to get a number now it would bankrupt me.—Detroit Free Press.

Querier Queries.

"Have you the 'Meditations of Mark Anthony?' asked a lady of the clerk in a book store.

Which reminds us of a query put to an attendant of the library: "Where can I find Shakespeare's 'Taming of the Crew?'" The questioner was a husky looking chap and may have been the coach of a bunch of oarsmen.—Boston Transcript.

It's different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on enamel stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.

All we ask in trial: Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish. Made in liquid or paste—same quality.
