PICK-UP COLUMN

Six girls, inmates of the state reformatory at Rockwell City, were arrested last week, charged with trying to escape. The jury found four not guilty, a fifth was found guilty and the sixth waived her trial and plead guilty to the charge.

A movement is on foot in Harrison county to build a new county home. A. J. Shinn, who has been running the county home for a number of years, working his own farm and caring for the inmates, has sold his farm and will retire. J. M. Watson has been given a contract for the curing of the poor, and the new home will be built on the place now occupied by Mr. Watson, east of Logan.

At the democratic state convention held in Des Moines Wednesday of last week the delegates at large chose to attend the national convention at San Francisco where Willbur Marsh, Waterloo; Edwin T. Meredith, Des Moines; Tom Shuele, Sioux City; N. F. Reed, Ottumwa; W. J. Jamieson, Shenandoah; W. J. Cassady, Knoxville; Dr. J. W. Reynolds, Creston; and Louis Murphy, of Dubuque. The tenth district delegates are M. F. Heale, Ft. Dodge, and C. E. Murling, of Algona. After the delegates at large had been named a Mrs. Hurnmel was permitted to speak, as follows: "You are not playing fair. What if I had a great house, its each and every room were filled with wonderful opportunities. Suppose I invited you to a party and let you in by the kitchen door, but permitted you to go no further than the kitchen? That is what you would do with us. You invite us to become democrats, invite us to your councils, and then offer a slate of eight men as delegates at large to the national convention. I ask that women have at least four of these places."

Because of partisanship for the league of nations, N. Rex Bennett, a Congregational minister at Atlantic, and his congregation have severed relations with the Rev. Bennett resigning. He has been "kicked out" with trying to run the church.

The Iowa democrats have killed the presidential boom for Hoover in Iowa. The convention held at Des Moines last week turned down a resolution presented by Earl Bronson, a delegate from Clay county, who tried to launch Hoover for president. Bronson was given a place on the resolution committee by the convention, and at a meeting of the committee he sought to have a Hoover resolution submitted to the convention. It met with opposition and after a short debate the boom died.

Counting the alternates to the democratic national convention, Iowa will have thirteen votes in the party.

A great granddaughter of the famous Indian chief Red Cloud of the Sioux tribe, has become a resident of Iowa and Jackson county. She is Mrs. Adolph Paneratz, nee Miss Beatrice Wright. She was for many years a trained nurse and taught school on the Pine Ridge Indian reservation. Four years ago she was chosen by the riding committee of Cheyenne to ride for world championship honors in the ladies' riding contest at the Cheyenne frontier days.

The town of Sheffield found no difficulty in putting over a bond issue for $25,000 for a memorial hall, and the town of Vinton is raising $100,000 for a memorial hospital.

The citizens of Carroll now have up for consideration the proposition of a city park and playgrounds. A Mrs.

Daugherty has made a proposal to donate the grounds if the city will undertake to beautify it and maintain it as a park and playgrounds. A committee has been appointed to confer as to the advisability of raising funds to put the deal over.

Sac City and her citizens seem bound to do things this year, and if all the projects that are being undertaken are carried out, Sac City will be on the map with an improvement record for the year 1920. The good people of that city recently awarded a contract for a $98,000 school building; and are now raising $60,000 for a Community building, and this last week the city council passed resolutions calling for bids for 111,160 square yards of paving and 60,000 lineal feet of curbing. The paving will be 28 feet in width from curb to curb except on one street and there it will be 30 feet wide. Bids for this work will be received on March 9th. It will be noticed the job is a much larger one than the Denison job.

S. Andrew Stouffer, son of S. M. Stouffer, of the Sac Sun, now attending college at Mountingale, interviewed ex-President William Howard Taft and dined with General Leonard Wood, when these two distinguished gentlemen visited at Sioux City last week. The entire Stouffer family is editor of the Morning Inside Collegian Reporter.

Dr. R. L. Osborne, a brother of Mrs. Hugo Gebert and Miss Bernice Osborne, of Denison, who at one time practiced dentistry in Denison, sends from Gravette, Ark., clippings to the Harlan Republican telling of the death and burial of a leading American ace, and of the granting of a Carnegie hero medal to a nephew of Dr. Osborne, Dr. Lloyd A. Osborne, of Fremont, Iowa. The ace who recently lost his life was Capt. Field Kindley. At the time of his death in Cravette, he was commander of the 84th aero squadron located at Kelly field. He had been decorated by four of the allied nations for bravery in action. The funeral held at Cravette was attended by more than three thousand people, including many military and aero officers. The Carnegie medal, awarded to Dr. Lloyd Osborne, was determined recently by the committee having the fund in charge. The award was for the heroic act of the deceased in rushing to the attempted rescue of a boy who was drowning in Swanik river. Dr. Osborne and the local Baptist preacher were at the river with a company of Boy Scouts. Both the doctor and the preacher were drowned, along with the boy whom they were attempting to rescue and medals were awarded to preacher and doctor.

The contract to pave twenty-two and one-half miles of hard surfaced roads in O'Brien county will be let at Prichard March 19th. The contract will involve about $1,000,000.00 and is said to be the largest contract to be let in the state this year. The road to be paved is what is known as the North Iowa Pike, and extends along the northern half of O'Brien county, connecting the towns of Sheldon, Sanborn and Hagley. The pavement will be 18 feet wide, 8 inches thick in the center and 7 inches at the sides. In connection with the paving project eleven miles of tile will be used. The plans call for bids on brick, concrete and reinforced concrete.

John Cavanaugh, president of the Des Moines National bank, was on Friday last appointed receiver for the Associated Packing company of Des Moines, capitalized at $5,000,000. The appointment was made upon the petition of H. M. Havner, state's attorney general. The attorney general alleges fraud in the organization of the company and in the sale of stock. The petition charges that about $3,000,000 of stock was sold to residents of Iowa.

A resolution proposing to buy the Bermuda Islands from Great Britain was introduced to the United States senate Friday by Senator Kenyon of Iowa.

Plans for the largest road making job in America were completed at Ames on last Friday in connection with the conference of Iowa road officials, which closed a three-day session at the Iowa highway commission headquarters. Boards of supervisors and county engineers from every county in the state were in attendance at the meeting. The plans as outlined for road building include the construction of 6,400 miles of hard surfaced road. It is not expected that all of the work will be completed for several years, however. The plan is known as the primary road system and will enter every county in the state with a road east and west and one north and south. Funds for this work have been provided by the state in co-operation with federal aid.

WAGES AND PRICES
When a generous minded and liberal employer, under last year's conditions, found that he was making a good deal of money, his first thought was to give his help a voluntary increase in pay. It was a just and necessary step in many cases. Yet there were many instances where a better effect would have been produced on the country as a whole by keeping wages where they stood and reducing the prices of the goods.

Capital and labor often agree harmoniously on very high rates of wages and pass the full cost onto the public for some one else to pay. This has left large classes of people who have not had their full advances in pay, restless and dissatisfied.

A raise in pay always makes things temporarily smoother in the industry where it is effective. But it creates friction in every other industry where the people have to pay the higher cost for the product.

It is claimed another government bond issue may be necessary if congress does not retrench. This will strike some people as a complete solution of the question.

Mr. Hoover does not know whether he is a republican or a democrat. The ordinary citizen never gets into that unfortunate predicament, as he always knows how his father and grandfather voted.

"Let Your Next Furnace Be A COLONIAL"

Building, Buying OR Remodeling

It Is Important That Your Home Have An Efficient Furnace

YOU are always assured of a reliable, economical and healthful heating system if you choose the Green Colonial.

Health, comfort and happiness usually receive the first consideration when one is to build, to buy, or to remodel a home. Without them one would have only a house

Of all the modern conveniences and necessities installed in the homes today, health, comfort and happiness considered, none are of more importance than the heating system. There is no system which supplies as healthful heat as a properly installed warm air furnace, the kind you have when you buy a

GREEN COLONIAL FURNACE

The COLONIAL furnace not only heats the air but circulates it as well. A water pan supplies moisture, making it balmy and healthful.

Naturally with the high prices of coal you are interested in fuel saving features in the furnace you buy.

Fuel economy and durability were paramount ideals in designing the COLONIAL. That is why every COLONIAL has Green's Dome Heat Intensifier, air blast fire-bowl, separate grate bars, crescent-shaped radiator, direct and indirect draft, large, roomy ash pit and one-piece base ring.

The castings which make up the COLONIAL are much heavier than those used in the average furnace. That is why the average life of the COLONIAL is so much greater.

Consider the After Cost

In buying a furnace there are two costs to consider, the first cost and the after cost. Often the final cost on a low-first-cost furnace is much greater than the final cost of a quality furnace.

The COLONIAL is the cheapest furnace for you to own for there is practically no after cost. Every part of every COLONIAL except the grates, is guaranteed against cracking or burning out for five years.

Every part of every COLONIAL is guaranteed for the life of the furnace against cracking or burning out from defect in manufacture. How many conveniences and necessities in your home have such a guarantee?

REMEMBER, TOO

A COLONIAL furnace may be installed in your favorite way as a Pipe System, Pipeless or Three Way System. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

We Can Sell You a Cheaper Furnace— BUT WE DON'T WANT TO

You'll be satisfied with a COLONIAL; it will last for years after the cheap, ordinary kind have been junked. The makers of the COLONIAL have been in business since 1869, and have a reputation to maintain. No matter what you pay for a COLONIAL, it's cheap. When you install a COLONIAL it stays installed.
