

EXQUISITE FILM "EVANGELINE"

Full of Exceptional Pictorial and Dramatic Beauty at the Opera House Sunday and Monday

FROM THE POEM "EVANGELINE"

The Land of Acadie and the Little Village of Grand Pre Are Wonderfully Visualized

Those interested in pictorial and dramatic beauty will find much that is exceedingly worthy while in the William Fox motion picture version of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's exquisite poem "Evangeline"—a classic the world over which will be presented at the opera house Sunday and Monday, April 4th and 5th.

First of all must be noted the beauty of the production. The land of Acadie and the little village of Grand Pre are wonderfully visualized, as are the wanderings of the unhappy Acadians after their exile.

Much credit is due Miriam Cooper for her interpretation of the title role. Her mobile face reflects every thought of the unfortunate heroine, from the happy days in Acadie through the agony of the exile to the final reunion in old age with her lover Gabriel.

Spotlighted Aitken appears as Evangeline's father, James Marcus as Basil the blacksmith, and Paul Weigel as Father Felician. R. A. Walker has also gained new laurels by his direction of this charming picture.

That a poetic masterpiece of the delicate texture of "Evangeline" should be adapted for the screen without the sacrifice of any part of its charm as literature is an astonishing feat—and one that places William Fox several steps further forward in the true advancement of the motion picture.

DOW CITY ITEMS

Ed Burns and wife left Monday for Council Bluffs, where they will spend their vacation. Mrs. Fred Bandages and family recently returned to Greenwood. Mr. Burt has recently sold out his business interests at Greenwood and he and his wife have been nearly two weeks visiting relatives and friends, also looking up a location. As yet they have been unable to find anything to their liking, but may decide to return later.

Carl Hansen was down from Denison Monday visiting at the parental, Claus Hansen, home.

Howard Alexander, of Early, arrived Monday and visited with friends and acquaintances.

The Elmer Riddle family are making arrangements to move to their property south of town and to occupy one of the outbuildings until the new residence is completed. Fred Weldon, who purchased the residence property vacated by them in the east part of town, will move his family in without the property. The Methodist people are to make their annual donation of eggs to the hospital in Des Moines as an Easter offering and those wishing to contribute to this cause are requested to leave donations at the home of Mrs. Robert Docherty not later than Thursday. Last year only one case of eggs was sent out and it has been requested that this amount be doubled this year.

Little Helen Laubsch, who was taken to a hospital in Omaha last week to undergo a series of treatments, has had an operation performed for the removal of her tonsils. Her father who had an operation performed there several weeks ago, is still unable to leave the hospital.

Mrs. H. N. Engelman returned to her home in Dunlap Monday after a week's visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Jason, and family.

Harold, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Terrill, met with an accident Monday evening which may cost him his life. During the afternoon the lad, with Leslie Best, a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Best, who had gone out to the Terrill home with his father that day, were playing about the place and Harold suggested that they play cowboys. He then secured a horse that he mounted and began chasing a cow and while thus engaged the cow fell, the horse falling over the cow, throwing the rider in such a manner that the horse rolled over on him. Leslie, who had been standing nearby watching him, was the only one there to render assistance and he did his best by helping the unfortunate lad back onto the horse and brought him to the house. A physician was summoned, who pronounced him very seriously injured internally, the ribs being crushed into the lungs. A physician was called from Denison and after a consultation with the local doctor, an operation was performed for the removal of a blood clot which had formed on his spine. The doctors were with him all night and everything possible is being done to save him. Although small hopes are held for his recovery, he is reported slightly improved at this writing. Friends of the family sincerely hope for the best.

The town election was held Monday and was resulted in the choice of E. H. Swasey for mayor, E. E. Newick, treasurer; Asa Dwine, assessor, and Zeph Fleinhold, Chas. Smith, T. K. Coleman, O. C. Collins and J. L. Butterworth for councilmen.

Davenport Times: Some people are deeply disturbed because Mary Pickford refuses to talk about her visit to Reno and its reluctant divorce. They seem to forget that the little lady belongs to the silent drama, where talking is a lost art. Screen artists, it must be remembered, are paid fabulous salaries to be seen and not heard.

Formerly the roadsides were lined with blacksmith's shops to keep the work horses of the country shod. Now they are lined with garages to keep the pleasure cars repaired.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Studebaker and Ford Cars Collide at the Corner of Chestnut and Sweet Streets Saturday Afternoon

A Studebaker touring car driven by H. F. Beerman and a Ford car driven by Carl O. Swanson, of Kiron, collided at the intersection of Chestnut and Sweet streets Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Mr. Anderson, who was riding in the back seat of the Swanson car, was thrown to the pavement and badly bruised, but fortunately was not seriously injured.

Mr. Beerman was driving north on Sweet street while Mr. Swanson was driving east on Chestnut. Swanson reached the intersection but two days were passing in front of the A. T. Curry residence and it was necessary for him to slow down as the street was obstructed. The Studebaker struck the Ford in the center and damaged the car to some extent. Mr. Beerman's car was slightly damaged.

Mr. Anderson was carried to the Carpenter tire shop and a physical called to administer to him. He was able to return to his home at Kiron that evening.
