

AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS MEETING

Met Monday Evening For First Time In Their New Quarters At The City Hall—Goodly Number In Attendance

LECTURE COURSE PLANS MADE

Active Campaign For Season Tickets Sales Will Be Waged. Plan Series of Dancing Parties For Winter Months.

The Denison Post of the American Legion held their first meeting in their new quarters at the city hall on Monday evening and a goodly number of the members were in attendance. A report of the state convention held last week was made by Clement J. Welch one of the local delegates. He stated that service men of Iowa are taking an active interest in Legion affairs. At the first convention only about three hundred service men were in attendance while at the convention held last week there was close to five hundred present. The convention went on record in favor of legalizing boxing, and the course selected and are anxious that a law be passed by the next legislature permitting this sport.

Those in charge of the Legion picnic on Tuesday of last week reported to the effect that the affair was not a money maker but that the revenue would probably take care of all the expenses. They are well pleased with their efforts and hope to make it an annual event and even more successful each succeeding year.

It was decided to give another series of dances this fall and winter which will be welcome news to our young people who enjoyed the parties given the past winter.

As was announced some time ago the lecture course this winter will be given under the auspices of the Legion and as the first number will be given the middle of next month it has been decided to push the sale of season tickets in the near future. The course selected this year is made up of the highest grade talent ever brought to Denison by a layman and in order to make it a success Mr. O'Connor, who is necessary that the Legion receive the hearty support of our citizens.

Plans are being made by the service men for furnishing their new quarters in the city hall. The course recently been redecorated but lacks the necessary furniture. It has been suggested that the people of Denison be appealed to, to donate pieces of furniture for fitting up the room. This suggestion is a good one. There is hardly a home but what has some article of furniture but what could be spared for the Legion quarters and would be gladly donated.

THE BREEDERS SPECIAL APPRECIATED

Many compliments have reached this office during the past week of the fine breeders edition published last week. These words of praise are appreciated by those connected with the paper and affords them much encouragement and a desire to better serve the community if possible. Publishing a newspaper especially in these times is not an easy task and people generally are more apt to find fault with the publisher than to encourage him.

The Review is endeavoring to give to the people of Crawford county a creditable newspaper—one that they may be proud of—and one that at all times is boosting for the best interests of Crawford county.

This week we received a letter from one of our prominent farmers and stock raisers which we are taking the liberty of publishing.

Denison, Iowa, Sept. 4, 1920.

The Denison Review
Mr. Tucker, Editor Farm Department:

I have not words at my command to properly express my appreciation of the Breeder's Special of Crawford County of your paper. It is in a way itself and far ahead of anything I have ever read on the subject of not only hogs but of any other kind of livestock, that here is no room for comparison. It is an encyclopedia of information for breeders who should and I believe do feel indebted to you more than you will ever know.

Chas. Speck
Denison, Iowa.

PULLING TOGETHER

Unity is fundamental to all other factors that create community advance. If you have not got a lot of people who pull together you will not have the good schools and good stores and improvements and the other conditions that create and stand for progress.

If there are many personal jealousies in a city, if organizations cherish bitter feelings of rivalry, if different neighborhoods are unfriendly, you are not pulling together every effort that anyone makes to improve conditions.

People will not give time and effort to public causes unless they feel that they have universal cooperation. Neatness, beauty, public spirit, business, honest, good schools, good stores, improvements, pulling together, these are the things that you are pulling together for.

News and Comment About Iowa People and Events

Shotguns to act with the sheriff. Hidden telephone lines will extend from the telephone offices to their homes, as well as to the county sheriff and other peace officers. Telephone operators will be given extra pay to be on the alert, and, when a robbery occurs, to immediately notify the vigilantes and the sheriff. In case telephone lines to other towns are cut by the robbers other means of communication are being arranged. In addition large rewards are being put up for the taking dead or alive of any one who attempts to rob a bank. Already three counties have been organized and more are in process of organization.

The passing of what promised to be a thriving little city in the southern part of Delaware county is told by J. W. Dossie, of Monticello, Jones county. When he says that Sand Spring has been eliminated as a station of the Milwaukee railroad. The post office was discontinued months ago and its citizens are accommodated by a rural route out of Hopkinton. We recall the time when Sand Spring was expected to be a metropolis. It had a newspaper long before one was established at Monticello, and it had a big three story hotel that was one of the sights of Southwestern Iowa. The brick building, the "mansion house" upon the hill. The newspaper evaporated, the hotel burned and the "mansion house" once the home of gaudy and hopefulness, fell into decay. The location of Sand Spring was good and it received a vigorous start, but when the early boosters passed away there were lacking those who had the aptitude for town building.

The board of control of state institutions have fixed October 1st as the day for opening the new juvenile home at Toledo. This home has been established for the reception, care and education of dependent, neglected, delinquent and destitute children under fifteen years of age who have legal residence in Iowa. Dr. A. E. Keppford, formerly state lecturer on tuberculosis, has accepted the position of superintendent.

Game wardens and deputies are endeavoring to break up the habit of slaughtering of birds by section men on the various railways. These men are generally foreigners, largely Mexican in most communities, and they kill any kind and every kind of bird that they run across and convert the meat into food. The birds are game fowl, of what they regard as a very palatable soup. At Burlington the other day a Mexican was caught with three turtle doves in his possession and the justice fined him $25 for each bird. Turtle doves are unusually plentiful this season, so much so that they visit stubble fields in flocks after the manner of blackbirds. These doves are game fowl in Colorado, the open season opening

August 1st and closing December 1st.

Capt. Albert Head, of Des Moines, has a suggestion as to the best method of disposing of Camp Dodge, now that it is to be abandoned. He suggests that the land be divided into five and ten acre tracts and sold to the public at a reasonable price, on long time and at a low interest rate. There is sewerage, paving and water available for a city of 50,000. Mr. Head says he is ready to undertake a campaign to put his plan into effect but he suggests that the executive men get busy and he believes it could be worked out.

The state executive council will probably recommend that Iowa take greater advantage of state park sites and equip many of these sites as playgrounds for Iowa citizens. If the members of the council have just returned from a trip about the state. Their recommendations to the governor will probably be as follows: Adoption of measures looking to construction of a dam and reservoir enclosure with a symmetrical archway overhead is large enough to contain all of the pipes necessary in bringing the steam heat and hot water to the state capitol building. The dam and reservoir for people to walk from the heating plant to the building.

Thomas Waldon died in a hospital in Minneapolis and his remains were taken to his old home at Decatur, Winnebago county, for interment. He enlisted in 1861 in Co. D of the First Rhode Island light artillery and reenlisted in 1864 for the war. He was in Washington when Lee surrendered and was in Ford's theater the night President Lincoln was shot. He saw J. Wilkes Booth jump from the box to the stage after the shot was fired.

There are 42 one room schools in Jasper county without teachers. This is a fourth of the total number and school is scheduled to start in three weeks. This shortage of teachers is prevalent over the whole state so the situation is not peculiar to Jasper county, but it is sufficiently alarming to cause those who are interested in the welfare of the school children to do everything in their power to remedy the situation. The wages paid in this country are on the average as high as higher than paid in any county in the state. Teachers holding first grade certificates are offered from $90 to $115; those who hold a second grade may receive from $75 to $90 and third grade teachers are getting from $55 to $90.
