The Balle-Brodersen windows have been attracting considerable attention for the past ten days with their fine showing of fall merchandise. The windows are the most attractive they have ever been and Otto Reyer, the decorator is to be congratulated on his efforts. All of the backgrounds are original designs worked out by Mr. Reyer who attended personally to every detail. His windows are not surpassed by any store in this section and the fact that he recently won a first prize in a national contest goes to prove he is one of the leading window decorators in the country.

We call attention to a large advertisement for Felton & West, to be found elsewhere in this paper. This firm maintains offices in Omaha and at Ogallala, Neb., and deals in northwestern Kansas lands—Thomas county, Kansas. They are a reliable firm, and what they say in their advertising may be relied upon. Kansas has long been identified with the wheat industry of the country, and this firm claims to have the best wheat land in the state of Kansas. They are far enough west to escape the hot winds of eastern and central Kansas, and yet never have the severe cold weather of winter. They own all the land advertised, and their plan of selling enables one to purchase land on very reasonable terms. Look the ad up and if interested write the firm, mentioning the Review.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Today is mine—one royal, golden day. Filled full of restfulness and sweet content. I will forget tomorrow and its care; I have today. What more has anyone? —F. A. Jones.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Frozen dishes of all kinds, punches, frappes and sherbets are most welcome during the sultry hot days of midsummer.

Caramel Ice Cream.

Measure one and one-third cups of sugar. Take half of it and caramelize it by melting it in a smooth iron frying pan, stirring constantly until a rich brown in color. Add this very slowly to a hot custard made with two cups of milk, one tablespoonful of flour, one egg and a bit of salt. Cook until smooth and flour is cooked, flavor with vanilla and when the caramel is dissolved freeze as usual.

Fruit Ice Cream.—Take the juice of two oranges, the rind finely grated of one, the juice of two lemons, two cups of sugar, and a quart of rich milk or thin cream. Freeze as usual.

Macaroon Ice Cream.—Take one quart of cream, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and one cupful of dry pounded macaroons. Add a tablespoonful of vanilla and freeze.

Banana Ice Cream.—Rub four ripe bananas through a sieve, add one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one cupful of sugar. Stir and mix well, then add one quart of cream. Freeze as usual.

Strawberry Ice Cream.—Wash and hull three pints of berries. Add one and three-fourths cups of sugar and a quart of thin cream. Put the berries through a sieve after mashing them. Strain to remove seeds if desired and freeze after mixing the ingredients.

Lemonade.—Make a sirup by using two cups of sugar, a quart of water and two-thirds of a cupful of lemon juice. Dilute with water to suit the individual taste. Lemon sirup, using a cupful of lemon juice to two cups of sugar and one of water, cooked for five minutes, may be bottled and kept indefinitely. A tablespoonful of the sirup to a glass of water will furnish a glass of lemonade. Orangeade may be prepared in the same way, using a half cupful or less of orange juice in making the sirup.

Cause and Effect.
The old miser, who buried his money in the fence corner near the big tree last week has missed part of it. The gully person has not been apprehended. Andy Dillard went to Plunkville yesterday and purchased himself a fine suit of clothes.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

Life Made Up of Surprises.
Life is a series of surprises. We do not guess today the power of tomorrow.—Emerson.

Some folks are terribly indignant that it costs more to run pleasure cars, but the expense of running tractors for food production does not seem to excite their indignation.

"Dandies" Among the Ancients.
According to a Greek writer, effeminate dandies in ancient Greece sometimes slept on beds of sponge. Fashionable people in Athens slept under coverlets of dressed peacock skins, with feathers on. Cushions of pink and purple supported their heads.

The Automatic Washing Machine

It is the most simple, with the fewest operating parts.

It washes and wrings separately or both, at the same time.

The wringer can't sag, having an unusual substantial mounting.

Two levers control everything, responding instantly to a touch.

It washes a tubful in seven minutes, and washes clean.

Wringers are three-position swinging reversible with the best rolls made.

Instant release on wringer, preventing accident.

Motor fully enclosed, protected from water, and has plenty of surplus power.
