SCHLESWIG ITEMS

The big barn on the Albert Stegmann farm three miles southeast of Schleswig was totally destroyed by fire last Wednesday morning at 8:30. The barn is occupied by William Linke and the loss is a heavy one to him. The fire started in the hay mow and when discovered by Mr. Linke the entire north end of the barn was in flames. They called for help and neighbors responded in a hurry and saved the other buildings. The barn contained 65 tons of hay, 1,000 bushels of oats, 500 bushels of barley, 2 buggies, a hay loader, fanning mill and other machinery and all were consumed by the fire. Mr. Stegmann carried insurance on the barn and it was one of the largest and strongest built barns in northern Crawford county. Mr. Linke also carried insurance on the hay and grain but he will be a heavy loser.

Many of the townships of the county have lost in population since the 1910 census as shown by the report. East Boyer in 1910 had a population of 543, and the last report shows a population of only 520; Goodrich township is reduced from 600 in 1910 to 571 in 1920; Hanover is reduced from 706 in 1910 to 651 in 1920; Hayes township from 660 to 532; Milford, including the town of Deloit, reduced from 912 to 795; Morgan from 810 to 585; Paradise, including a part of Arion reduced from 694 to 682; Stockholm from 754 to 650; Willow township from 544 to 545.

In 1900 the census report showed that Crawford county had a population of 21,685; in 1910, 20,041 and in 1920, 20,614, therefore showing a loss since 1900 of 1,071 inhabitants. Denison township, including the city of Denison, has gained in population 517 since 1900.

Chas. N. Waldemar has been spending the past week at New Hampton, looking after farm interests he has there.

D. F. Tucker, of Denison, on his way to the Harry West hog sale at Boyer Friday, stopped off at Kiron for a short visit.

Albert Dierson, prominent young farmer in the neighborhood north of Odebolt, transacted business in Kiron Friday.

Dr. J. O. Nystrom, of Omaha, while on a trip to Meridian, the latter part of the week, stopped at Kiron for a visit.

The railroad section crew at Kiron had a thrilling experience and a close call one day last week. With their gasoline car on their way over the track toward Boyer, traveling at a fair rate of speed, they were struck by a work train coming in the opposite direction.

They barely escaped by jumping off their car just as the train smashed the car. Had they been a few feet further it might have proven very serious as they would have had to jump from the high bridge they were approaching. The trees alongside the track on the curve were they met, preventing both the train and section crew from seeing each other.

Aug. Linnam came out from Omaha last week for a short stay with the children on the farm.

Oscar Tellgren and family autoed over from near Wall Lake Sunday to visit friends and attend the meetings at the Mission church.

The two weeks series of meetings at the Mission church closed on Sunday evening. Good attendance and interest were manifested throughout the session. The splendid preaching and song service were not alone enjoyed, but will prove a blessing to those attending. The meetings were in charge of Rev. Arvid Peterson, assisted by Rev. Milton Nelson, both of Oakland, Neb., and they were assisted in the song service by their wives.

Rev. Peterson and wife leave Kiron for a short visit at their home in Oakland and to prepare for their journey to South America, where they have been called to go and preach the gospel.

During their stay in Kiron they formed many friendships and well wishes and prayers will follow them as they carry the gospel message to the heathens in South America.

Peter Johnston spent Sunday at Denison at the bedside of his wife who has been sick at the home of E. P. Slevens, where she went to visit. Her condition is far from hopeful, considering her advanced age.

Andrew Anderson, well known to many older residents here, passed away at his home in Morningside on Friday night at the age of 91 years. Mr. Anderson resided on a farm northwest of Kiron for many years. The cause of his death was due to old age. He was born in Sweden in 1829 and came to America in 1854, making his home in the nearby neighborhood of Kiron, where he followed the occupation of a farmer until 1893, when he removed to Woodbury county and continued farming until 1915, when he retired and removed to Sioux City.

The widow and eight children survive him. Two sons, Chas and John Anderson, and three daughters, Mary and Mabel and Mrs. J. R. Elder, live in Sioux City; one daughter, Mrs. Claude Newberg, lives at Sedro, Wash., and a son, Fred, resides at Pernley, Nev.

The Baptist annual prayer conference will be opened on Tuesday evening and continue over Sunday. From the program it is noted that a number of ministers will be present to take part in these meetings. Many visitors from different parts of the state are expected to attend. This prayer conference was started by the church at Kiron several years ago and proved such a success that it was decided to hold a session of this nature annually. An interesting and profitable meeting is anticipated and should result in a great blessing to individuals as well as to the entire community.

Eldridge Larson and family, who had to vacate the Albert Bringleton residence last week, not being able to secure a vacant residence in town, moved their household goods out on the Benedict place southeast of town where they will make their home until a vacant residence can be secured.

Bob was riding a bicycle in the gutter and the auto with the car made a sudden swing to avoid a collision with another car and ran over Bob. There seems to be no blame attached to either. Bob is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Anderson, who are well known here. He has visited many times at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor.
