FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The church was appropriately decorated for the harvest home service last Sunday morning and a splendid audience was in attendance. The Sunday school went over the top, surpassing the goal by 21. Nearly 100 per cent in attendance of the force of teachers. The young people's service was another record breaker and the evening service, the crowning gathering of the day.

This will be the climax of the "Win My Chum" week. Evening evangelistic service, 7:30. Everybody be present. All welcome. A meeting for men at 3 o'clock. ### STORE TO CHANGE LOCATION

E. C. Chamberlin Will Move From Present Location to Store Room Adjoining First National Bank

E. C. Chamberlin has leased the store room formerly occupied by the Knapp Drug company adjoining the First National bank building to the north and will move his jewelry store to that location January 1st. For several years past Mr. Chamberlin has conducted his jewelry business in the Laub block in the room occupied by the U. G. Johnson book store. Mr. Chamberlin's business has so increased that his quarters have become cramped and he is moving to the other location which will afford him more room to display his stock. He carries one of the largest jewelry stocks in this territory and in addition handles the Victor talking machines and has on hand a complete line of both machines and records.

We have not heard who has leased the room now occupied by the jewelry store. The high school football team will journey to Audubon on Friday of this week where they will play the high school team of that place. On Thanksgiving day the team goes to Ames to play the high school team of Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wilkin, of Hering, are the proud parents of a daughter, who came to brighten their home on November 16th. The mother and babe are doing nicely and are being taken care of at the Meehan hospital. Mrs. Wilkin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bretthauer of this city.

WESTERN ROCK-SALT-BLOX
"LET THE CATTLE BE THE JUDGE"

Best Because Purest

There are two ways of producing salt. Ordinary white salt is produced from wells, by evaporation. Water is pumped down into the salt vein, where it dissolves the salt, after which it is pumped up again and evaporated. Any minerals or other impurities in the water used, remain in the salt. All soluble impurities in the salt vein itself are brought up with the brine, and cannot be eliminated by evaporation.

Western Rock-Salt-Blox is made of clean, finely crushed rock salt, pressed into 50 lb. blocks under tremendous pressure. They are gray—the natural color of pure salt. No white blocks will resist rain or snow like Western Blox—nor stand so much handling—nor last so long.

PINE STUMPS WORTH MONEY

Those Left in Cut-Over Lands Are in Demand—Yield Many Valuable Products.

Increased demand for naval stores and a slight falling off in the supply have together called attention to the value of the stumps left in the fields in cut-over lands of the south. A Washington letter of July 6 told of the result of investigation by Clement S. Ucker, vice president of the southern settlement and development organization, in the South Atlantic states, from which he learned that the stumps left in the fields do not die with the cutting down of the tree, but, on the contrary, continue to draw from the soil sap rich with the elements of naval stores.

From these old stumps may be distilled some twenty or twenty-five different by-products, including rosin, turpentine, pine and other oils, acetate, tar, pitch, alcohol and others. By one process rosin and paper pulp may be procured. Other processes leave a residue of valuable charcoal. It seems that the destruction by fire of these stumps in the clearing up of the land is uneconomical. They can be sold for enough to pay for the clearing and leave a surplus, so that we may yet see manufacturers of naval stores bargaining with the owners of cut-over land for the stumps—upon it and extracting them themselves.

GIVE COLOR TO LANDSCAPE

Though the Daisies Grow Like Weeds, They Have a Beauty Too Little Appreciated.

They lift their heads to heaven, seeking to mingle with the stars—millions of them, scattered in wild profusion over meadow and pasture land. Men walk on them, tramp them down, but they rise again, serene, confident, searching the light which gives them life.

Daisies! Our fields are full of them. From afar their white heads give color to the landscape. Their yellow centered blossoms, blown by the wind, weave obscenities to the day and, by their graceful beckoning, invite us to take them home.

Daisies! Our empty vases call for them; our umbrella stands, our jardiniere, yearn for their beautiful blossoms. And they are so near to us, so easy to get, that it seems a pity to waste their beauty in an unfrequented field.

Get them for the house, for the office, to grow. Even though like weeds they grow, God's love shines from their faces and blesses the corner they fill.—Toledo Blade.

Huns Polluted Interned Ships.

The condition of the interned ships, after their German custodians had left, was something indescribable; they reflected great discredit upon German seamanship, for it would have been impossible for any people which really loved ships to permit them to deteriorate as had these vessels and to become cesspools of filth, says Rear-Admiral William S. Sims in the World's Work for July.

For three years the Germans had evidently made no attempt to clean them; the sanitary conditions were so bad that our workmen could not sleep on board, but had to have sleeping quarters near the docks; they spent weeks scrubbing, scraping and disinfecting, in a finally successful effort to make the ships suitable habitations for human beings.

Has Never Seen His Country.

The only United States marine in the world who has never seen the United States is on duty at the American legation in Peking, China. He is Private C. W. F. Childress, who was born of American parents in China. When he became of age a few weeks ago he decided to join the marines and enlisted at the legation.

Childress is a tall, good-looking young man who can speak the Chinese language like a native. His services as an interpreter are especially valuable to the marines. Through association with his parents and other American residents of China he is thoroughly familiar with the traditions and customs of the United States. He is looking forward to the day when he will see the country whose flag he serves.

White Mule.

Dixon H. Bynum, assistant city attorney, comes forward with an explanation as to how "white mule" got its name. Mr. Bynum, who did government legal work in the southwest, says that the term came into use in connection with the efforts of the government officials to stop the traffic of liquor among the Indians.

Whenever an Indian was caught with liquor, he invariably told the same story as to how he got it.

Every Indian, it seemed, got his liquor from "a one-eyed negro on a white mule riding west."—Indianapolis Star.

Women Now Eligible to V. C.
A royal warrant consolidating and extending provisional royal warrants regarding the Victoria Cross was published recently in the London Gazette. The principal feature is that women are now made eligible for decoration, it being ordained that matrons, sisters, nurses and the staff of the nursing services and other services pertaining to hospitals and nursing, and civilians of either sex serving regularly or temporarily under the orders, direction or supervision of any of the armed forces of the crown, shall be eligible to the cross.

The one big event of the season will be the football game on Thanksgiving between a team made up of ex-servicemen and a team from the home guards. It promises to be a battle royal from start to finish and there is considerable speculation as to which team will carry off the honors. Both aggregations are practicing every evening and are being coached by everyone who ever witnessed a football game. The legion team is fast working into condition and they boast that the St. Mehl drive will be tame as compared to the way they will carry on the offensive over the home guards. The home guards are not saying much but they are calling into service the best available material composed of men who have starred on high school and college elevens. The game is scheduled for 3 o'clock Turkey day. Every physician and surgeon in the city will be urged to attend to render first aid to the injured back of the fringe line.

Governor Cox should now be a qualified expert on tidal waves.

TRAINED NURSE ADVISES PEOPLE

"I was a great sufferer of stomach and liver trouble and cannot say enough in praise of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It has done so much for me and I am recommending it to other sufferers. I was a trained nurse in marine and other hospitals years ago, therefore many come to me for advice. I certainly received great benefit from Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.—Adv.
