STANBURGER & SPERLING.

In Town.—Judge Jos. Hill and wife, of Sun River, have been spending the week in Bozeman.

Mr. George Budd and his interesting family are on a visit to Bozeman, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clark. Mr. Budd is a brother-in-law of Mr. Wm. Goodyear, formerly a resident of this place. Mr. Budd has purchased the Canyon House, near Gallatin City, and has located there with his family.

J. K. Harvey, Esq., of Enigrant Gulch, came in last week. He reports about forty men mining and about the same number engaged in other enterprises in the gulch, and the miners are hopeful of striking bed-rock soon, when, it is thought, a rich harvest of the precious metal will reward the efforts of the pioneer miners of Enigrant. Mr. Harvey says Bear gulch, about forty miles from Enigrant, is attracting considerable attention, and promises to be a good paying camp. Several companies will commence work there in the spring.

OUT OF TOWN.—Jos. Holzman, Esq., is on a visit to Helena.

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER, at a dozen years of successful publication and a hand-to-hand fight with swindlers, quacks and humbugs, "still waves." Although persecuted and black-mailed by the rascals it has exposed in its "Rogues' Corner," it has built up a circulation of 50,000 copies, and flourishes as never before. If you want true news stories, poems, tales, sketches, wit, humor, etc.—if you want a safeguard against imposition and swindling—if you want to read a live paper—try the BANNER. A large 8-page, 40-column paper, only $1 a year. In addition, every subscriber receives a superb pair of GENUINE Prang Chromos, alone selling at $2. There's nothing like it—never was, never will be. EVERYBODY NEEDS IT. Only ONE DOLLAR secures it a year, and its charming Chromos are sent prepaid to all. Specimens, six cents. Send for one to STAR SPANGLED BANNER, Hinsdale, N. H.

HON. JOHN H. ROGERS, of Deer Lodge, was Speaker of the House of Representatives at the late session of the Legislature, and in that capacity discharged the duties incumbent on him in an able and impartial manner. His good nature and sound judgment admirably fitted him for the position, and we felt sure when he was chosen as Speaker that he would acquit himself in a manner satisfactory to the members of the House. The same may be also said of G. W. Stapleton, President of the Council. Both of these gentlemen were among our earliest pioneers—they were boys then, but they have now become good citizens, by securing better halves, who have straightened both of them out in a wonderful manner.

The Wyoming Monthly Souvenir is the title of a magazine issued from the office of Wyoming Leader, at Cheyenne. It is devoted to literature, and edited with ability. In size and appearance, it compares favorably with similar Eastern publications, and its reading matter we regard as superior to that found in a majority of Eastern magazines. It should be the pride of Western people to sustain home publications of this character.

APPOINTMENTS.—The Governor re-appointed and the Council confirmed R. O. Hickman as Territorial Treasurer, to hold for two years. Mr. Hickman is the present incumbent, and has made a faithful and competent official.

Dr. George Callaway has been appointed and confirmed as Auditor. He is a brother of Secretary Callaway.

The Legislative Assembly, with great unanimity and enthusiasm, made an appropriation of five thousand dollars to facilitate the exhibition of Montana products at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876, to be opened by the commissioner, alternate and members of the Woman's Centennial Commission.

We think our citizens should be making some arrangements to secure an Agricultural Fair near Bozeman next summer. Suitable grounds can now be procured at low figures, and lumber is now cheaper than it ever has been or is likely to be hereafter. The necessary buildings would cost but very little. A good fair here would be of great advantage to Bozeman. Who will move in this important matter? Let us hear from some of our stock men at early day.

Special Notice.

The Executive Committee of the Yellowstone Wagon Road and Prospecting Expedition having started the first detachment of the same, announces that it now proposes to organize a second, which it hopes to place in marching order at an early day. No supplies remaining on hand, men must come fully equipped, but an attempt will be made by the Committee to provide extra ammunition.

Men are also invited to proceed at once to join the command now on the march, and are requested to file their names with the Treasurer as they pass through Bozeman. Teams outfits are specially invited, and correspondence is desired with any who may wish information on the subject.

Contributions of supplies may still be sent in, which will be useful in outfitting the many needy but good men, who daily apply for enrollment.

For the Committee, J. V. BOGERT, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Ball To-Night.

The arrangements for the ball at Speth & Krug's Hall are complete. Everything that could be suggested for the comfort and pleasure of those who attend has been arranged. A new floor has been placed in the hall, and a new music stand erected in the center. The hall has been handsomely festooned and tastefully decorated with evergreens and pictures, and our National Flag is conspicuously displayed. Everything augurs well for an enjoyable occasion, and we hope the attendance will be large.

Correspondence.

BOZEMAN, February 17, 1874.

DEAR SIR:—The Expedition Committee having had so many calls upon it, resulting in over disbursement, desires your assistance in reducing its debt.

Will you lecture for the benefit of its fund? If so, your assistance will be gladly accepted, and the Committee is at your service in the matter. Asking a reply.

I am, for the Committee, J. V. BOGERT, Sec'y and Treas. H. R. HORN, Esq.

BOZEMAN, February 19, 1874.

DEAR SIR:—In reply to yours bearing this date, I would state that I will be at the Committee's service, and accompany them and others through "Egypt and the Holy Land" on Thursday evening, the 26th inst., to start from the Good Templars' Hall.

Truly Yours, H. R. HORN. J. V. BOGERT, Sec'y and Treas.

We invite special attention to the "Special Notice" of J. V. Bogert, Secretary of the Yellowstone Wagon Road and Prospecting Expedition, and invite parties who are inclined to join in the enterprise will report to him. As the Expedition just gone will make slow marches, there will be no difficulty in overtaking and joining them. All who go will be welcomed by those in advance, as the more men go with it, the more likely are the objects to be accomplished.

We want every citizen of Gallatin county to become a subscriber to the COURIER. Any one not now taking it, will please come forward and have his or her name placed on our subscription books. Stand by your county paper and it will champion your interests. Give us adequate support and we will be able to give an improved paper. Bear this in mind.

DR. CALLOWAY, brother of Secretary Calloway, has been appointed and confirmed as Auditor in the place of Captain Rodgers. Those who know him well, speak very highly of his qualifications, and think he will make an excellent public officer. His predecessor retires with the honor having discharged his duties faithfully and honestly, with no loss to the Territory during his administration.

FUN AHEAD.—As will be seen by correspondence, the witty, versatile Horn will let the people of Bozeman "hear from him" on Thursday evening next. Want of space precludes an extended notice, but be in attendance and you will understand that Harry can speak for himself—he needs no encomiums from us.

On Tuesday evening the friends of Major Bowen and his estimable lady surprised them with an impromptu dancing party. All were received with much cordiality, and in the pleasant and warm rooms of the mansion dancing was kept up to a late hour. The surprise was a pleasure much relished by host and hostess.

At least seventy-five of the men, who are in the Yellowstone Expedition, are owners of ranches in Gallatin county, and have, also, been engaged in mining at various times. The balance are nearly all old miners. If there be gold where they are going, it will be found by these intrepid pioneers. Success to them.

The Ladies' Societies met at Mrs. Arch Graham's on Wednesday evening, and was well attended. The storm during the day prevented many from being present. On Wednesday evening of next week it will meet at Mrs. Wakefield's. A general invitation is extended.

Our Chinese population welcomed the advent of their new year with considerable gusto, and enjoyed the attending holidays in their usual style.

DISTRICT COURT commenced on Monday last at Hadersburg, Judge Surin presiding. District Court commences at Bozeman on the second Monday in March on the 9th day of the month.

PATTON & LAMBERT of Virginia City have purchased the stock of groceries held by W. G. Pious of that place. This house is rapidly growing to be one of the large concerns of Montana.

J. Ellis, of Ellis & Davis, who recently established a branch house in Helena, came over from that place a few days ago.

FROM JUDITH BASIN.

White Man Killed by Indians.

TROUT CREEK, JUDITH BASIN, M. T., February 8, 1874.

Editor Avant Courier:

Thursday, February 5th, an old trapper, a Frenchman, by the name of Louis Gaznon, was killed by a party of Indians on Warm Spring Creek, about twenty-one miles from this fort. He was camped there with a man named James Campbell, and had gone out to set a beaver trap. This was about 3 p. m. Campbell was sitting in the lodge, when he heard two shots in quick succession. He seized his gun and jumped out of the lodge, when he saw four Indians coming toward him. He ran, crossed the creek and made his escape up the bank. The Indians did not follow him. After waiting a short time on the hill, without seeing anything of Louis, Campbell struck out for this place, and got here about 11 o'clock at night. Saturday, a party of four of the hunters stopping around here returned with Campbell to see if Louis was killed. They have just returned. They found the body in the willows, shot three times—through the leg, the body and the head. He had apparently died without a struggle. He was not scalped nor cut in any way. His gun, cartridges and knife were gone, but the lodge, with all its contents, except a pair of blankets, some sugar and a few beaver skins, was unmolesed. Strangers of all, they left a horse, after taking off the lariat and the hobbles. Nothing was found to indicate what tribe the Indians belonged to; but it seems as if they must have been afraid of being found out if they took the horse. After burying the body on the hillside the party returned. They saw tracks of nine Indians.

With this exception, everything has been quiet in the Basin. A few lodges of River Crows are camped within the stakeade of the fort, and keep good watch for us, especially since one night shortly after their arrival, when the Flatheads stole twenty-six horses from them.

Several parties of hunters are in the Basin. Those hunting elk and deer are doing well, while the wolves are not earning their salt.

If the good people in Bozeman have heard of the killing of Gaznon, before you get this, I presume they have all killed and the post taken and burned; but they need not be afraid. We will give them a call next summer, and with our scalps on.

We are living in deep ignorance of what is going on in the world, as we have had no mail since the visit of Major Pease and Hoffman. Yours, truly, P. K.

P. S. If anybody in Bozeman should know the address of any relatives of Gaznon, they would oblige me by informing them of his death. I understand that a brother of his is living somewhere in the Walla Walla country.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue of the "Lee Monument Portrait" of Gen. Robert E. Lee. This picture is the only correct likeness ever obtained of Gen. Lee, and is pronounced by connoisseurs the finest art work of the kind ever before produced. Of the many styles and characters of pictures of Gen. Lee submitted to the Association this one was adopted as being the most like and possessing the finest artistic merit. It is life size and makes a fine appearance when mounted. It is sold only by subscription—price $5. Joseph Wright is the local agent, and is prepared to fill orders.

We have received from the Grand Worthy Secretary, Masson Ballard, the proceedings of the sixth annual session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T. of Montana, which shows the order to be in a flourishing condition. The present number of Lodges in good standing in the Territory is seventeen, with an aggregate membership of 656.

WHILE all of the Territorial papers have noticed favorably the Yellowstone Expedition on its departure, the Helena Herald wholly ignores the brave men who have gone with this enterprise, which is to do more real good to Montana than any ever undertaken since the organization of the Territory.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—Rev. L. B. Stalter, Presiding Elder, will hold a quarterly meeting in Bozeman, on the first Saturday and Sunday of March. First service at 7 o'clock p. m. Saturday.

JUDGE J. M. CARTER, one of the officials of the Council, is again at home, looking far younger since he has let his dark whiskers grow out.

Mrs. J. M. CARTER, who was recently injured by the upsetting of a sleigh, is much better, and we trust will be soon entirely recovered.

The prospects of an increased number of visitors to the National Park the coming season is said to be good.

Proceedings of the National Grange.

ST. LOUIS, February 11.

In the National Grange to-day on the report of the committee, resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted. The resolutions are long, and set forth in detail the objects and aims of the Patrons of Husbandry, as they have heretofore been proclaimed in Grange conventions and through the press, and the essential points which are embodied in the following extract from the resolutions:

To develop a better and higher manhood and womanhood among ourselves and to enhance the comforts and attractions of our homes, and to strengthen our attachments to our pursuits, and foster mutual understanding and co-operation, in order to reduce our expenses, both individual and corporate; to buy less and produce more, in order to make our farms self-supporting; to diversify our crops and crop no more than we can cultivate; to condense the weight of our exports, selling less in bushel and more on hoof and in fleece; to systemize our work and calculate more intelligently on probabilities; to discountenance the credit system; mortgage system, fashion system, and every other system tending to prodigality and bankruptcy.

As Grangers they appeal to all good citizens of all classes for support in their efforts toward reform, and they declare that one of their cardinal principles is to assist and relieve any suffering brothers, and finally proclaim that one of their purposes is to inculcate a proper appreciation of the abilities and sphere of woman.

A memorial to the Patrons of Husbandry in the cotton States, presenting arguments in favor of the system of mixed husbandry in the South instead of devoting the entire land and labor to the production of one crop was also submitted and adopted.

Resolutions further declare a desire to bring farmers and manufacturers into more direct relations by dispensing with middle men, and assert that they wage no warfare on other interests, but on the contrary, their efforts tend to the benefit of all classes. They recognize the necessity and benefits of transportation facilities, and favor their increase, and especially favor improvements in the natural channels of commerce. We denounce Communism and agrarianism as foreign to the objects of their Order, and reiterate their opposition to exacting monopolies and "the oppressions of capitalism, and labor removed."

They were opposed to high salaries, high rates of interest and exorbitant profits.

The fifth resolution was then considered. It is as follows:

We emphatically and sincerely assert the truth taught in our organic law that the Grange—State, National or Subordinate—is not a political or society organization. No Grange, if true to its obligations, can discuss political or religious questions, nor call political conventions, nor nominate candidates, nor even discuss their merits in its meeting; yet politics and all true statesmanship, if properly carried out, will tend to purify the whole political atmosphere of our country, for we seek the greatest good to the greatest number, but we must always bear in mind that no one by becoming a Granger gives up that inalienable right and duty which belong to every American citizen, to take proper interest in politics and his country; on the contrary, it is right for every member to do all in his power legitimately to influence for good action any political party to which he belongs. It is his duty to do all he can in his own party to put down bribery, corruption and trickery, to see that none but competent, faithful and honest men who will unflinchingly stand by our industrial interests are nominated for all positions of trust, and should characterize every Grange member, and that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office.
