Local Matters.

Prof. Carr. Will give an Entertainment at Odell's Hall at 8 o'clock to night. Go early, as the programme is an excellent one, and he a more than ordinary artist.

Auction Sale. Harvey Wells' auction sale of household and farm materials will take place June 24. This will prove one of the best opportunities to purchase valuable material ever offered in the valley.

Lt. Doane's Mission. Lieut. Doane was at last accounts yet at the Agency, awaiting arrival of his supplies. With his accustomed energy, he has worked until he has secured about 400 warriors, and will start upon his mission immediately upon arrival of the train.

Army Reduction. Gen. Gibbon has been advised that the reduction of the army mentioned in our news column contemplates no Cavalry reduction, but that all Infantry companies will be cut down to 37 men each.

Clark's Fork. We are advised that propositions looking toward lease of the Clark's Fork smelter are being considered, and that active operations will result. At Cheyenne considerable interest is manifested in these mines, as a result of exhibition there of specimens from the various lodes.

M. O. Page Drowned. A letter received from Col. Sanders, dated Harrison, 13th inst. says that while he and Mr. Page were crossing the Madison 12 miles below Kennedy's bridge, the latter was drowned. The horses were also lost, and Col. Sanders narrowly escaped. At present we have no further particulars of this sad accident.

Camp Baker. We are obliged to Captain Combs, Acting Assistant Quartermaster, for an abstract of bids filed at this Post, on 26th ulto. Our list, as published on the 10th, was not correct as regards the wood bids of W. Gaddis—he having offered to supply 800 cords pine at $4.20, and 200 cords quakingasp at $5.90. Otherwise it was correct.

New Grow Agent. The Christian Advocate, April 26th, says: "Hon. Geo. W. Frost, of Omaha, has been nominated by our Mission Board for Agent of the Crow Reservation, Montana. His appointment has also been strongly recommended by many influential persons connected with the Government." Mr. Frost is editor of the Omaha Herald.

St. James Church. As announced, a meeting of members of St. James Church was held at the COURIER office on the 15th, to elect delegates to Deer Lodge. The following gentlemen were selected delegates—Messrs. S. Ruffner, J. S. Wilson and J. V. Bogert. Alternates—Messrs. G. W. Langhorne, J. B. Mendenhall and S. W. Langhorne. After transaction of other business the meeting adjourned till June 9th.

Miles. Paul McCormick has been appointed U. S. Commissioner for this point, and H. H. Miles for the Cantonment. About fifty houses have been erected, and a large population is promised. From letters received by us from Bismarck and Tongue river it would seem that a large Eastern emigration to the Yellowstone is probable, and Miles having been located with a view of future county-township, the town will be built to stay.

Down the River. Messrs. T. Burns, A. L. Pichler and L. D. Smith, of Helena have gone to Tongue river—the latter two will open a hotel at Miles.

Mrs. Jos. W. Allen and family will leave via boat on Monday for Big Horn City, where they will join Mr. Allen as permanent residents.

Messrs. Mounts and Herendeen will return by boat to Fort Pease and Tongue river on Tuesday. Surgeon Paulding will take advantage of this opportunity to return to duty.

The Governor. On the 7th acting Governor Callaway appointed J. R. Alden Secretary of the Territory, and sent orders to Alden and Auditor Outhbert to turn over all public books and documents then in the Governor's office. It occurs to us that Mr. Callaway has gone too far in this particular matter, no matter what the merits of the general quarrel may be. We have a letter from Helena asserting the incorrectness of the New North-West's expatriation of the Alden charges, and asking if the COURIER will publish a counter statement. Most certainly—send it along.

Four mash whisky at Odell's Hall.

The Campaign.

[Specials to the COURIER.] FROM TONGUE RIVER. AFTER THE HOSTILITIES. TONGUE RIVER CANTONMENT. April 30th 1877.

A command, 600 strong, including the Montana Cavalry, left here to-day upon a thirty days scout. It will move to the upper waters of Tongue River, thence to head of Rosebud and Powder toward Little Missouri. Grain having arrived from Buford by train, the movement was immediately ordered. ALPHA.

THE BIG-HORN POST. APRIL 30th, 1877. It is probable the Montana column will be ordered to Fort Smith upon conclusion of the present scout, to act as guard in securing lumber for the new Post. Upon its completion it is thought Gen. Brabin will be placed in command.

E. A. G. SITTING BULL. APRIL 30th, 1877. Yellowstone Kelley has returned from Fort Woody, where he had been sent by General Miles to confer with Sitting Bull. He found him there with but 15 lodges, and, though apparently willing to surrender, fearful of consequences. Kelley returned to General Miles, who has ordered him back with assurances to Sitting Bull that he will not be imprisoned or molested if he will come in. AMICUS.

[NOTE.—The Bismarck Tribune of May 2d says regarding this mission: "There seems to be no doubt that they are at present either across the line, or in its close vicinity. Information from Indian sources places their strength at about 3000 fighting men, and that they were all killed by Sitting Bull to meet him at Little Wild Horse Lake in council, that they might determine upon their future movements and plans. Sitting Bull is reported as saying previous to this council that he thought he should visit Fort Garry, and there await future developments, his action depending upon the course pursued by the Government toward hostile Indians, and that, if the hostiles were dismounted he would not return to the country—if this was not the policy pursued he would come back. Sitting Bull had with him about 160 lodges, and was at Wild Horse Lake very near the line, well armed and ammunitioned. The other Indians were at Woody Mountain. Kelly regarded the Indian report of the strength of the hostile camps as untrue—their lodges are to be computed upon the footing of "war lodges" as to warriors, and will doubtless average more than two to a lodge. He estimates their strength at 1000 fighting men. The council, it is understood, finally decided to continue the war. PROSPECTORS.

APRIL 30th, 1877. With the Command go 75 prospectors, who will thus be enabled to get into the country so persistently sought by the Bozeman expedition of three years ago. They, if possible, will push for the Big Horn Mountains where large deposits of mineral are supposed to exist. E. A. G.

[NOTE.—As the Inter-Ocean says: "These mountains are supposed to be the great gold deposit of which the Black Hills are merely the outcropping."—Ed. COURIER.]

APRIL 30th, 1877. Sitting Bull sends word to Miles that he declines him, and will show him the war is not over so soon as he can get ready to move. TROOPER.

RETURN OF GENERAL BRIBIN. APRIL 30th, 1877. General Brabin is so ill that he has been advised to return to Fort Ellis. He left yesterday, accompanied by Assistant Surgeon Paulding. The latter will return by boat. A. B.

THE SURRENDERS. APRIL 30th, 1877. To date, the hostile surrenders amount to about 300. As a rule, they represent the riff raff of the Cheyennes, only about 26 Sioux being included. The arms and horses surrendered are worn out, and it looks as though the surrenders are made that time may be gained by the hostiles yet out. ALPHA.

That Sausage. Benton Record: "One of our townsmen received a Bologna sausage wrapped up in a copy of the COURIER, the other day. He says it's the best article he ever saw in the COURIER."

COURIER: "One of our townsmen received a Bologna done-up in a copy of the Record. He says he refused it—not because he objects to sausage, but because he always objects to the thing sausage is done-up in."

Record: "We can't stuff that sausage. Your townsmen may have been thin-skinned enough to object to the outside covering, but no Bozemanite would refuse a sausage or any other article of grub, however objectionable its appearance might be."

Well, Bozemanites may be hungry; but no dozen how careless they may be over their "grub," we notice they don't take much "Buck" in theirs.

Quartermaster Dispatch Boats. An Evansville dispatch thus refers to these boats, which, as lately stated by us, will be utilized in Yellowstone improvement: "The Cameron and Gen. Sherman were contracted for to be built and completed, one in fifty-four and the other in fifty-eight days, on the 23d day of February. The Cameron is finished and the Sherman will be done in two days more. They are now receiving carpets, etc., and will leave for the Yellowstone river in about one week. Each boat is thoroughly furnished with all the modern appliances. They are 154 feet long, 28 feet beam and 4 feet hold, 20 rooms in length in the cabin, engine 12 inches in diameter, with 44 feet stroke, two 38-inch boilers, 20 feet long, of steel."

Hayden Surveys. This year the Hayden party will operate in Wyoming. The Cheyenne Leader states one division will go to the Black Hills, another to the Big Horn and another to the Laraine Peak country.

Personal. Corinne freight is on the way for G. H. Campbell, B. F. Biesel, J. Bastnik, G. H. Davis, Strasburger & Spurling and R. Locky.

Fort Ellis.

FORT ELLIS, May 15th, 1877. Lieut. Gragan, 2nd Cavalry, relieved from duty at this Post and of late Acting Signal Officer at the East, has been detailed to horse-inspection service at Fort Whipple.

Born—to the wife of Capt. J. M. Marshall, Assistant Quartermaster, U. S. A., a son. General Brabin and Assistant Surgeon Paulding reached here from Tongue River Cantonment on Sunday. The General shows signs of severe illness, but will recuperate if not again ordered out. By overturning of the ambulance near Hoppy's, Surgeon Paulding was slightly injured, but is now recovered. He returns, at his own request, by boat on Tuesday next.

A son of —Arnold was drowned above the Post on Sunday. During his struggles to escape a son of Mr. Connors nearly lost his life in the attempt to aid him.

Remembered here that this Post will be included in General Miles' Yellowstone District, and that he, staff and band, will winter here. CAVALRY.

Big-Horn City. Anticipating ultimate selection of the mouth of the Big Horn as the site of the new Post, population is flocking that way. The residents now there number thirty, and late arrivals from Tongue River state the probable exodus from there of many Eastern and Western emigrants. M. M. Black is now there with 50,000 pounds of Pease & Black's stock, which will make the fourth permanent business location. Guy & Ralston have 10 to 15 acres plowed and will put in a large vegetable crop. The buffalo ran off eight head of their oxen lately; but with this exception no mishaps have occurred. McCormick has commenced the demolition of the Fort Pease stockade, removing the material to the town site.

The Green River Press has the following: "H. Caldwell, who left Green River last August, and went to the Big Horn country, returned last Saturday, for the purpose of purchasing supplies, and from him we learn the following concerning that country. He says: 'Our party prospected Ten Sleep, Shell, Gray Bull and Owl creeks, and numerous others which had no names, to our knowledge, and found prospects which paid 25 cents to the pan, and plenty of prospects, with wood and water plenty. The mountains are full of rich quartz. Our party crossed over to the head of the Big Horn Canon, and found prospects there that would have paid us well, if we had been left alone, but we were constantly in danger of Indians. At this canon we found plenty of water for all purposes, and plenty of good prospects. The country is well adapted to farming and stock raising, and trapping is very good, and, as soon as the fort is built on Tongue river so as to afford protection to settlers, that country will become densely populated with sturdy farmers and stock men.'

The Yankton Press says: "Prospectors in the Big Horn country report numerous rich quartz ledges, assaying $1,000 per ton, placer diggings paying from $7 to $10 per day to the man, and plenty of water."

By this means his instruments are brought into competition with others, and invariably come out victorious. Address all communications to Daniel F. Betty, Washington, Warren County, N. J. District Court.

During the week the record has been as follows: Territory vs. Canis. Judgment for defendant. T. C. Ward vs. J. A. Culver. Judgment for defendant. Fredericks vs. Davis and Gilbert. On trial.

"What Everybody Says Must be True." The incontrovertible testimony offered by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the doctor to sell it under a positive guarantee. Many ladies have refrained from using it on account of a general feeling or prejudice against advertised medicines. Let me ask a question: Are you prejudiced against sewing machines because you have seen them advertised or can you doubt their ingenuity and skill required in their invention? Again, would you refuse to invest your home because the company advertised that it had paid millions in losses, and yet had a capital of several millions? Do such advertisements shake your confidence, and create prejudices? Then why refuse to credit the testimony of those who have found the Favorite Prescription to be all that is claimed for it in overcoming those ailments peculiar to your sex? Why submit to the use of harsh, and perhaps caustic treatment, thus aggravating your malady when relief is guaranteed, and a positive, perfect and permanent cure has been effected in thousands of cases?

WABASH STATION, ILL., Oct. 24, 1876. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.: DEAR SIR:—Allow me to extend my most sincere thanks to you for the great benefit my wife has received from the use of your Favorite Prescription. She suffered almost intolerably before using your medicine, and I had tried the skill of several physicians, but to no purpose. Finally, I thought I would give the Favorite Prescription a trial, and she is now sound and well. Very gratefully yours, D. A. HUNTER.

Medical men who have witnessed the healing and purifying action of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP upon the skin, pronounce it an excellent specific for scorbatic eruptions, and one of the most efficacious colorizers and disinfectants in use.

Missoula. Misoulian.—Mr. Medary will cease to be Indian agent as soon as his successor, Mr. Roan, can qualify and reach his post of duty; but it has seemed proper, in face of the almost universal presumption that every Indian agent is a thief, to say to him in these matters and that his good name has suffered without fastening upon him any criminality.

Madison. Husbandman.—The soap works of J. P. Nelson are doing well; have a capacity of 400 pounds per day; the product sells as fast as made, but scarcity of stock prevents full running at present.

WIFE No 19;

OR A LIFE IN BONDAGE, [BY MRS. ANN ELIZA YOUNG.] Giving the only complete expose of Mormonism and Polygamy ever written, and is Truthful and Authentic in every particular. 30,000 Copies Printed inside of three months. Three paper mills and five presses running night and day to supply the demand.

Although other books on Mormonism have been published, nothing has ever before been written by a real living, Mormon woman, born and brought up in that strange superstition. Mrs. Young was born a Mormon, brought up in that faith, and knows more of the dark side of the horrible system than any other living woman could possibly possess. Her parents were Mormons, and until years after her marriage with Brigham Young, she had never spoken with a Gentile.

The book contains over 600 pages and nearly 2000 illustrations, and is written in a clear, chaste and literary style. Mrs. Young has the endorsement of the Clergy and leading professional men of the land, who bid her God-speed in her noble work, and there is good reason to believe that through her persistent efforts in lecturing throughout the country, and by a wide-spread circulation of her book, this iniquitous system will be brought to an end.

Being interested in the sale of the book, and having rescued her mother and her two children from this life of slavery, she devotes her share of the profits to their support and education; and every copy sold is a cheering help to Mrs. Young in her self-sacrificing labors. S. M. REDD has the Agency for this work. [27 ft]
