GALLATIN COUNTY MILITIA. Fall in!

A company of Cavalry is now forming, and the roll is receiving general signature. The Governor has been notified.

Bozeman Items. Ellis & Davis throw down the glove this week, and we call attention to their advertisement.

Four Indians were seen at the Cheesnut colliery on Sunday. They were mounted and armed, but not having been seen since, may have been wandering Grows.

It is probable the Main brothers may leave the Metropolitan hotel, and open it improved and renovated during August.

Ponsford has just received a shipment direct from the East of Bass' Ale and St. Louis Bottled Lager Beer. Both are superior, and are sold at reasonable rates.

A sudden alarm of fire took all the town to Judge Davis' office last Friday. Cause—some defect in the flue. Result—a general exodus of law books and arrival of ladders and buckets. Damage slight. The flue was a good one, and the event shows the necessity of great care in the management of fires and stove-pipes.

A Nez Perce Indian came over from the Crow camp on Sunday, driving a head of stolen Crow horse. Being drunk, he was arrested and locked up. Some think he has been interviewing the Grows with hostile intent, but he hardly looks like an ambassador. Deputy Sheriff Boerum has gone to the Agency for witnesses that the case may be investigated.

While driving in from the Post Sunday night an attempt was made to stop and board our conveyance by a man standing in the gulch at the foot of 8-hill. A combination of licks with the whip upon the horse and man freed us, and we hustled to town without looking back. We hear of a somewhat similar attempt made on the road a few nights previous, and advise carrying a six-shooter. It may be that no harm was intended, but such demonstrations are unpleasant to a short sighted man on a dark night upon a lonely road at the foot of a hill.

Tongue River Mail. Upon completion of the Baker City ferry, now constructing by Messrs. McGirl & Co., the route will change to the opposite side of the river, which offers a better road. Mail, which the Tongue River Postmaster thinks was placed in the sack at that place, was lately picked up on the road and returned to that office. This is a strange occurrence, and may explain the cause of the non-receipt of letters of which we hear so much.

The New Posts. A letter from Tongue River assures us that while few of the steamers employed can carry their freight up the Big Horn, sufficient will be landed at its mouth to supply the Post. We are also advised that Gen'l Sherman disapproves the site of the Tongue River Post, being of the opinion it should be located upon the Yellowstone, and that it should be changed in accordance with that idea.

Thirty-one applicants for the Fort Custer tradership had filed their papers, but as the council had not been commenced, no action had been taken.

The Conference. The members of the conference are arriving—Bishop Bowman is at Mrs. Alderson's; Presiding Elder Rignin, at Mrs. Story's; Rev. Clark Wright, at Mrs. Long's; Rev. Mr. Shippen, at Mrs. Martin's; Rev. Mr. Duncan, at Mrs. May's; and Rev. Mr. Van Ordel at Mrs. Tracy's. Rev. Mr. Hall of Missoula may be detained by Indian troubles, and others are expected as we go to press.

A subscription toward payment of the church debt is under way, and we hope to be able to announce its success in our next issue.

Bishop Tuttle's Appointments. The Bishop has so changed his appointments that he will be able to remain at HAMILTON Saturday night, August 4th, and will hold service there at 11 a. m. SUNDAY the 5th. He will reach BOZEMAN during the afternoon, and preach at St. James Church in the EVENING. This course is suggested by Bishop Tuttle that Hamilton may have a Sunday service, and in courtesy to Bishop Bowman, who is announced for that morning at Bozeman.

Personal.

Agent Frost and family will soon proceed to the Agency.

Mrs. R. F. May and son have returned after a protracted Eastern visit.

Marshal Wheeler and C. A. Broadwater returned with the Sherman party. We are under obligations to the Marshal for favors conferred.

John Alderson passed the Big Horn on the 21st—leaving his flour there upon sale, but continuing with his lumber for Tongue river.

Ernest Ingersoll, special correspondent of the New York Herald, and a literary gentleman well known to the magazine reader, is here on special duty for that paper. He will return East via Benton.

Dr. Marsella, once stationed at Ellis and later at Fort Shaw, but who resigned from the service some time since, is visiting town, and may decide to remain here in the practice of his profession. We but echo general sentiment in hoping he may conclude to do so.

Grasshoppers. The damage so far reported is serious on the East and West Gallatin, Reese Creek, Cottonwood, &c. Wherever the pest has appeared, loss has followed—to oats one-half; barley, total; wheat, one-third. Vegetables have suffered severely, and, though the fly parasite is killing the grasshoppers in large numbers, eggs are being laid in many sections.

The School House. The bids opened on the 28th were rejected and changes made in the specifications—the requirement of cut stone giving way to a boulder foundation.

The bids filed, as nearly as we can obtain data, were as follows: Chesnut, $11,224. Less $50 to $200 upon change in specifications. Bell, $11,500.

The second opening took place on the 1st inst., resulting as follows: J. C. Switzer, $12,000. J. J. Tasker, 12,450. G. Senieur, $11,500. W. H. Tracy, $11,493.

The plan cost $100, the bonds $75, and the ground, which is a high piece of Main street, to the rear of Kay's furniture factory, was purchased of Mrs. Rouse for $425. The award was not made as we went to press.

Are We in Danger? We present full details of the situation in Western Montana, giving all data received up to time of going to press. While we cannot at present understand why the Indians were permitted to escape, and who they were, we must object to the criticism of Howard and his officers indulged in by the correspondent of the Independent. We know of no evidence in support of such wholesale charges.

The probable escape of the hostiles to the Yellowstone is an important feature of the case, and although the circumstances seem to point to premeditated intention on their part, our people should not relax in vigilance. Our settlements may, indeed, be endangered—we are almost without troops, and have as yet no militia organization. True, the 2d Cavalry may soon be here and by the time of its arrival the situation may have so changed that the Column will be retained here. However, we owe it to ourselves to move in our own protection.

In addition, the following from the Cheyenne Leader is of importance: "It is reported that several parties of Indians are stealthily making their way north from Red Cloud and Spotted Tail Agencies, and some fear that they intend concentrating on the Yellowstone during the summer. Although these bands are crossing the trails of Black Hillers, they are not molesting anyone. It is believed that a union movement to attack General Miles is on foot."

Gen. Sherman's order for return of the Cavalry gives such leeway, that it will not be operative in case of apparent necessity for its retention below—consequently, we should not depend too much upon its appearance at Ellis.

A conference of Major Walsh with Sitting Bull at Wood Mountain was under way between the 15th and the 25th, and may result in something positive regarding the fugitive band. But at present the entire matter can hardly be understood, and is considered— we can only counsel vigilance and preparation.

Marshal Wheeler thinks the escaping Indians are not hostile, and that they are attempting to escape via Ocean Pass to the Sheep Eaters' country, where game is abundant and the white man is almost unknown.

Public Survey. The Herald announces that "Surveyor-General Smith has awarded contracts for public surveys to the amount of the appropriation for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1877. Messrs. DeLacy & Kellogg have a $10,000 contract, and are already in the field. Their work for the season will be confined to the Muschelshell country. The remainder of the appropriation is embraced in a contract awarded to Mr. Linn McFarland, who will soon take the field in Deer Lodge county, where his instructions direct him."

We had hoped for survey upon the Yellowstone and think the interests of the Territory demand it. Settlements are being made at one point and another from Shield's river to the Big Horn, and constant enquiries at the local land office show that absence of survey delays bona fide location in many instances. We certainly think this section is as much in need of attention as the Muschelshell country, and more so, and that a portion of the appropriation should have been expended upon the line of the Yellowstone.

Miles City. A letter from Miles City speaks very encouragingly of the prospects of this place. Business is improving, and strangers are constantly arriving from the East. Jno. McCormick is building the county jail, which promised early completion. Private Clary, whose shooting of a soldier we reported last week, has been turned over to the civil authorities, while the sheriff had in custody for examination several horse thieves and other criminals. Unless Judge Blake may decide to hold court at Miles, all prisoners must be brought to Bozeman for trial, but as the Judge has been communicated with, it may not prove necessary.

From the Command.

THAT CROSSING THE LINE REPORT—THE TROOP UPON THE LITTLE MISSOURI—2d CAVALRY MAY WINTER AT TONGUE RIVER.

(Special to Courier.) On board steamer Rosebud, Mouth Tongue River, July 18, 1877.

I reached here yesterday. As requested by you, I have investigated the matter of the report that Sitting Bull had crossed the line about the first of this month. I finished the dispatch to that effect published in the COURIER were supported by news received here by Gen. Miles.

No news from the command since it started on the 4th and 5th. Companies F, G and H, 2d Cavalry and one company 7th Cavalry, and six companies of Infantry form the column commanded by Major Lazelle, 1st Infantry, now following an Indian trail on the Little Missouri. Gen. Brisban and Lieut. Jerome started to join them, and the former will assume the command upon arrival.

It is reported here, and generally believed, that the Fort Ellis Battalion, 2d Cavalry, will winter at this Cantonment. OLD GUARD.

RETURN OF THE COMMAND—300 to 400 HOSTILES FOLLOWED—ANOTHER SCOUT—ETC. ETC.

Camp Glendive, July 19, 1877. Our Battalion arrived here to day. When I first wrote you we were crossing to the north side of the river, and were bound for Fort Peck with 7th Cavalry. But during the night of the 3d, an order came which stopped the crossing, and sent us by steamer to Glendive, and thence to join Lazelle on the Little Missouri. He had sent in dispatches asking for Cavalry without delay. The next morning Capt. Ball, with H and G companies, 2d Cavalry and Lieut. Schofield, embarked upon the "Arkansas," and Capt. Tyler with F company, followed upon another steamer. The three companies left Glendive on the 8th, and marching to the Little Missouri followed an Indian trail two days. We estimated the camp at 300 to 400 without lodge poles running from us as rapidly as the extreme heat would permit.

We followed as rapidly, but they succeeded in escaping across the river into the bad lands, when, reduced to one day's rations, we were obliged to return to Lazelle, then on Beaver Creek. The march was a terrible one through a horrible country—all bad lands and alkali water, flies, mosquitoes and blazing sun. We were then ordered back to this camp, and Lazelle with his three companies of 1st Infantry started for mouth of Cedar Creek, after sending the Battalion 2d Infantry, via Fort Lincoln, to Department of the Lakes, Assistant Surgeon Brown accompanying them. General Brisban, ordered to rejoin us, met here, as did Lieut. Jerome and McGierand. We now await further orders, and expect to return to the Little Missouri.

The 7th Cavalry is now upon Sunday creek, 20 miles from Tongue river. Sitting Bull, we find, was at last reports in the British Possessions, and the information received here to the contrary seems to have been unfounded. We know of no hostiles around except the band we followed.

CAVALRY. Gen. Sherman. The steamer Rosebud left the Cantonment on the 19th for the Big Horn, with Gen. Sherman, Terry, Miles, Poe, and Card, Col. Bacon and Capt. Smith, and Mr. T. E. Sherman. The party, escorted by L. Co., Capt. Norwood, 2d Cavalry, reached the mouth of the Big Horn on the 22d, and proceeded to Fort Custer, where Gen. Sheridan and party were met—Gen. Hensden acting as guide from the Cantonment.

Last Friday a telegram was received at Ellis, which necessitated dispatch of a messenger to intercept Gen. Sherman, who was thus advised of the Eastern strikes and of probable necessity for his return.

Ex-Sergeant Anderson carried the message and met the General at Clark's Fork, who, with General Poe, Colonel Bacon, and Mr. Sherman, arrived at Ellis yesterday, the remainder of the party having returned to Tongue river, and East.

It is understood that the trip to the Park and the visit intended to Missoula and Walla Walla will be abandoned, in consequence of the riots at the East; but the General's movements will depend somewhat upon the result of dispatches sent East on Tuesday.

A company of 1st Cavalry had been ordered to meet the party at Missoula if possible—but if not, Capt. Norwood and company were to continue the escort through, and will not, in any case perhaps, return to the command.

On the 23d a council was held on the steamer Big Horn between Sherman, Sheridan, Terry and Crook, at which the Indian campaign was considered and plans arranged. The steamer Rosebud was the scene of quite a reunion of officers, there being present, besides those already mentioned, Col. Sackett, Lieutenant-Col. and Major Forsyth; Major Bartlett, Capt. Gilbreath, and Lieutenants Whittey and Macklin, 11th Infantry; Lieut. Garpenster, 9th Infantry; Lieut. Pinney, 6th Infantry; Lieut. Burke and Schuyler, Aide-de-Camp to Gen. Crook, and Asst. Surgeon Patski.

Glendive. This camp, now occupied by the Fort Ellis troops, is thus described by the Sioux City Journal: Glendive is finely located on the north bank of the river, opposite the mouth of Glendive creek, on a beautiful plateau of prairie land, about three miles wide and six miles long, with fine-looking bluffs to the rear. The buildings are of logs, covered with turf, and of a number and capacity to accommodate four companies of troops.

Mr. Daniel F. Beatty, of Washington N. J., the energetic and persevering manufacturer of the Beatty Piano and Golden Tongue Parlor Organs, deserves the highest credit for having produced the most perfect musical instrument combined with the utmost beauty and chasteness of design yet offered the musical public. See his advertisement in another page. Address Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, N. J. 36-4t.

Fort Ellis.

On Sunday, the 12th inst., Bishop Tuttle will hold service at the Post at 3 p. m. An invitation is extended to all to attend.

Helena advices mention the extraordinary marches effected by Capt. Browning's company on the road to Missoula. Heat and dust, both almost intolerable, seemed to have no effect upon them as they almost ran along the road.

Our command dispatches mention the rumor, that the Cavalry may not return here, but may winter at Tongue River. Nothing has yet officially reached the Post in the premises, but such a rumor has been current there also during the week.

Advices from below indicate the probable recall of Asst. Surgeon Paulding's order to return here. Dr. Brown accompanying the Eastern bound 23d Infantry, and many contract surgeons resigning because of stoppage of pay, he may be retained with the Montana column.

Three men bound the guard on Friday while on water duty at the creek below the Post, and, taking his gun, deserted to the brush. A gun was left loose upon their cover and a vigorous shelling kept up for an hour, but nobody came in from "the front." The next day one of the party came in and surrendered, but, to date, no others have "crossed the line."

We mentioned last week the fact that Major Beuhm, commanding, had exerted himself to retain the Cavalry detachment sent to Missoula. We are advised that he as well did everything possible to secure retention of the infantry, but without effect. The result is the depletion of the Post, which will be able to render little assistance in case of a local Indian raid.

FOR MISSOULA! Second Cavalry Ordered There. L Co. to Go Immediately.

General Sherman upon receipt of dispatches regarding the Missoula danger, ordered the transfer to Western Montana of the entire Battalion 2d Cavalry. The companies reported by us as at Glendive will reach here in about three weeks, unless the order may have reached there after departure upon the contemplated scout.

L. Co., Capt. Norwood, now due here with Gen. Sherman, will move without delay for the scene of action, and the remaining three companies will follow, unless the danger may have passed over before their arrival at Ellis.

Temperance Lecture. By Rev. Clark Wright, on Tuesday next, at 8 p. m., at the M. E. Church. Admission free.

A WORD TO CASH BUYERS. Ellis & Davis. Are receiving the largest stock of goods ever brought to Bozeman. They assure the people of Gallatin county they will sell CHEAPER FOR CASH than any other house in Bozeman will or can. They do not quote prices, as that is useless. Call and examine the goods and consider the low prices, and you will decide that they MEAN BUSINESS.

ELLIS & DAVIS. [38-4t] Montana Notes. The Miner moralizes thus: Of you who are animated by a prejudice against Helena we beg leave to ask: Have you ever inquired as to the grounds of that prejudice? Have you ever asked yourself how much of a foundation it has of fact or of reason? Perhaps it is the wealth of Helena. That wealth is the result of industry and of business sagacity, and any feeling of envy entertained on its account is the smallest spite of a smaller mind. But whatever it is, go there and live awhile; and observe the enterprise of its citizens; and the generous public spirit with which the principal taxpayers treat any subject, such as the school question, that involves the privileges of their poorer fellow-citizens, and you will return with your dislike converted into admiration of Helena and its people.

Madisonian: There is something remarkable in the rapid growth of the cattle trade in Montana during the last two or three years. Previous to 1874 few, if any, cattle were purchased here by eastern buyers, and the drives to other markets were made exclusively by residents of the Territory. Now this state of affairs has changed, and this summer there are several buyers looking for marketable cattle among our stock-growers. It is a fair estimate that one hundred thousand dollars will be left here by these men, and the business promises to be a steadily increasing one. We hear it said that one firm alone was prepared to buy to the extent of sixty thousand dollars this season, if they could have found suitable stock for their purpose.
