MINES NEAR ELLISTON.
Some Mention of a New Deer Lodge Camp that is Showing Favorably.
Special Correspondence New North-West.
ELLISTON, MONT., Feb. 12, 1886.—Perhaps the most interesting of the new mining camps in Montana is Elliston, a few miles north of Deer Lodge. Attention is attracted to it by a short description of one of the most promising mining camps in Montana. I allude to the mine near Elliston and in Deer Lodge county. A NEW DEAL.
Organization of a New Publishing Company in Butte.

Today the formation of the Free Press Publishing Company, a corporation under the laws of Montana, was effected, and the papers were dispatched for filing in the office of the Secretary of Montana, and a copy was deposited in the office of the Clerk and Recorder of this county.
The incorporators are R. M. Cobban, W. C. Oakley, A. E. Pound, J. E. Hendry and J. A. Hyde, all of Butte. The chief place of business will be Butte, the term of existence twenty years, the paid up capital $75,000. The objects of the corporation are the publication of a daily, semi-weekly and weekly newspapers, or any or all of them, and the conduct of a general book and job printing business. Beside the incorporators named, several other gentlemen are subscribers to the stock of the company.

It will be noted that some of the incorporators of the Free Press Company are now connected with the Town Talk, and in explanation it may be said that the plant and business of this paper is merged into the new company. As soon as the organization is completed the transformation will take effect, and the Town Talk will be the Free Press—the proprietors believing that the present name is of too narrow and peculiar local significance to carry at the head of a paper which is expected to attain a much wider circle of patronage and influence than the immediate locality of its publication. Hence the name Free Press was selected as being broad, appropriate and suitable.

THE BAND BALL.
At the Pavilion, Washington's Birthday.

The Ball to be given under the auspices of the Deer Lodge Cornet Band and Social Orchestra, at the Pavilion, on Monday evening, will, of course, be as illustrious a great dancing event of the season; and all who indulge in the salubrious art, or even do the decorative business as well-flowers, have the evening of the 22d set apart for this occasion. The band and orchestra, under direction of Prof. Rhodes, will both be out in full force, furnishing the music for the occasion, which alone would be a sufficient attraction. The supper will be furnished by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. at 9 o'clock. Tickets are now on sale, and procuring them in advance will obviate delays and inconveniences at the door.

Minning Troubles.
Anaconda Review, 18th.
There has been some trouble in some of the mines near Anaconda. The Blue-Heads of the mine has paid a well-earned but long-looked-for claim near it, and has been digging in hope of striking the same lead. The Millwright had adjoining the above named mine on the east, and was the cause of some difficulty on last Thursday. It all arose from the fact that Thursday a number of parties went up, armed with Winchester, and ordered them to get out work and move on. Those in possession told the attacking party that if they could prove a better right to the ground it would be given up to them; but unless the right could be proved, the claim would be held. After some trouble the invading party withdrew. Hilbert left McCoy in possession and went to Deer Lodge to look up the ownership of the claim, and there the matter has been given up.

The Lyceum.
The attendance at the Lyceum, last Friday evening, was quite large, and the talks of the society were well received. Rev. Streator's lecture on "The Order of the Ages" which was illustrated by charts. While many do not accept his theories, all were pleased with the Lecture, and the talks of the society were well received. Rev. Streator's lecture on "The Order of the Ages" which was illustrated by charts. While many do not accept his theories, all were pleased with the Lecture, and the talks of the society were well received.

James Patten is still pushing the incline, the head of the incline. There is enough ore in sight in this mine to justify the solid corporation in stocking and thoroughly prospecting it. In every level of the Frieshe shaft there is not less than four feet of solid quartz, averaging throughout better than 60 per cent. The present owners have sold this world's goods to hold on and develop slowly, but it would be a Red Letter Day for the camp if Patten, Caples, Smith & Co. would stand up to the property and push the work on a more extended scale.

WARREN EVANS, KIRKENDALL & BROWN'S general wagon-master, is in town. When it comes to dancing, this gentleman can work the mazy in a more artistic and finished manner than George Hammond. Ed. Zimmerman, of Helena, visited us during the week past. Time changes Ed, but little. Just as alert, enthusiastic and good-looking as he was 20 years ago. After looking over our mines, he left for home strongly impressed with the value and permanence of the district.
The Band will give a ball St. Patrick's day. I mean by that, that the fifteen gentlemen who compose our Silver Cornet Band will make everything pleasant and enjoyable on the 17th of March next. We expect visitors from Deer Lodge City on this occasion.
So long. SAND BAR.

A MILLIONAIRE'S BRIDE.
Pioneer Press, 12th.
The reported engagement and coming marriage of the well-known Montana millionaire, Thomas Cruise, to Miss Maggie Carter, of Helena, is correct, and the parties will be married on the 17th inst. The wedding is to be a grand affair and the most elaborate of all Helena society. Mr. Cruise is a well-known resident of Helena, who has lived in and about that city for many years. He is one of the early pioneers of Montana, and has experienced all of the varying ups and downs of a prospector's life. About 1867, he discovered and located the famous Drum Linnon mine. He was then a young man, and his wife, who is now a widow, was with him at the time. He is now a wealthy man, and his wife is a very young lady, highly educated, and moves in the best social circles in the city.

DEAR LODGE OREM FIGHT.
McDonald Knocks Orem Out in Two Rounds.
Butte Miner, 14th.
Last evening the much-talked-of glove contest between the local champion, George McDonald, and Orem, of Dillon, took place at the Amphitheatre, before a rather small audience, and it was of very short duration. McDonald appeared in the ring at 8:15 o'clock, and Orem came up at 8:20. The referee, James H. Miles, called the men to the ring, and they were introduced to the audience. McDonald was in good condition, and many were surprised at the splendid showing made by Orem when he stripped for the fight. Jimmy Bates and Jack Orem were the ring boys. The fight was a very close one, and the referee, James H. Miles, called the men to the ring, and they were introduced to the audience. McDonald was in good condition, and many were surprised at the splendid showing made by Orem when he stripped for the fight.

MYSTERIOUS KUKLUXING.
A Band of Maskers Use Up a Music Teacher.
Bozeman Chronicle.
On Monday morning about four o'clock Deputy District Attorney Campbell was called by a woman, who was an individual who bore the appearance of having just passed through a threshing machine. His head and face were covered with blood, his clothes torn and muddy, his entire make-up was a mass of mud. He was taken to the hospital, and the doctor pronounced him to be in a very serious condition. The woman who brought him to the hospital was identified as Mrs. W. H. Ulin, of Spring Hill, an unmarried music teacher. His story was soon related, and it was about 10 o'clock on Sunday night he was teaching music to a large class at Grange Hall, about fifteen miles from Bozeman, when the door was suddenly thrown open and a band of masked men, armed with shotguns, revolvers and knives, entered the room. They held them to the wall, and ordered them to get up. They then proceeded to search the room, and found a large quantity of money. FIVE CENTS FOR MAKING CHANGE.
Another Small Extortion Over Eight Cents a Mile.
To the Editor New North-West:
As I read the article from the Bozeman in last week's New North-West, your comment thereon, in relation to passenger fares, I have written to Mr. Eastman, an incident on a recent trip to Montana.

By buying my ticket for a short distance on the N. P. R. R., I asked the station master how much it would be, and the reply was, "45 cents." I asked the station master, "I had no time to stop to make change, so paid $1.50."
Now this seems to me a small thing for a "rio" corporation, whose rates are already enormous; to do, and passengers on said road would do well to provide themselves with plenty of small coin when traveling.

Story's Current Wheel.
Idaho Statesman, 12th.
This wheel was invented for the purpose of raising water for placer mining, irrigation and other purposes. A current with the velocity of five miles per hour is sufficient to work the wheel, which will raise water 20 feet high, and will be used in the placer mining, such as is generally used on Snake river placer mines for saving four gold.
