THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

A Proclamation by the President of the United States. Has long been the custom of the people of the United States on one day in each year, especially set apart for that purpose by their Chief Executive, to acknowledge the goodness and mercy of God and to invoke his continued care and protection.

DEFEATED BUT NOT DISBANDER.

SPARKS will get in his work now.

OH, WELL! This is an "off year" anyhow.

If any man attempts to pull down the majority treat him on the spot.

DE LESSEPS still claims the Panama canal will be finished inside three years.

It is reported Idaho has elected Fred. Dubois, Republican, Delegate by 1,500 majority.

Now that it is all over, let's shake one another and be contentedly friendly for two years.

WOULD you be surprised if Maginnis should succeed Hauser as Governor before the Legislature meets? We wouldn't.

The Independent claims a Democratic majority in the Legislature on joint ballot.

WITH the number of newspaper men elected to the Legislature, we may expect some sensible act relating to printing at the next session.

MRS. STEWART, whose estate is estimated at $30,000, took good care of her relatives in her will, but left little to charitable or benevolent purposes.

SINCE the election is over one hardly knows what to write about first. During the campaign we had politics to write about first—and all the time.

WHEN "lines" is called two years from now the Republicans will be at the scratch again. In fact it might as well be admitted they were "at the scratch" too much this time.

ACCORDING to Republican reasoning, the people of Montana have, by electing Mr. Toole, endorsed the administration of Cleveland, Manning, Sparks and all—Miser.

REMARKABLE as it may appear, it now seems Lord Randolph Churchill's recently announced policy is now semi-officially endorsed by the Cabinet programme of the English government.

THE Toole people are blowing about their majority. Why? When we are downed? We wish it was 300,000. Then the Democratic Congress might admit us as a State with Dakota. If it's majorities you want, read Thompson's majority for Clerk and Recorder this county.

AFTER this week "the press gang" will be entitled to a season of rest. There has been a stiff newspaper fight during the campaign—the most vigorous on both sides that we have noticed in any of the Territories—while it is fun for the newspaper boys and as well as other politicians, it's hard work for them and they get the hardest knocking with but ill result. There ought to be a special convention to have a stock on hand called for an "experience meeting," every member under the solemnity of his obligation to give his wide-open opinion about matters and things generally. If we can't do that we can go fishing.

DEALERS should take special notice of the "Bugs Butter" bill which went into effect last Sunday at midnight. The special tax on oleomargarine under the law going into effect October 31st is as follows:

Manufacturers, per annum, $300

Wholesale dealers, per annum, $40

Retail dealers, per annum, $20

Special tax on oleomargarine, per pound, 1 cent

All special taxpayers must procure and make returns to the Collector (Form 11) before commencing business. Dealers were specially cautioned to have stock on hand October 31, 1886, in wooden packages containing not less than ten pounds each, with proper tax stamps, marks and brands affixed, as there is a heavy fine and penalty in case of violation.

It being suggested by an experienced newspaper man to Robert Bonner that an improvement might be made in a certain department of the New York Ledger he said he wouldn't do for a thousand dollars although it would improve it. He says the human eye is the most conservative thing in the world and he had lost patronage by changes that improved his paper. Every newspaper man knows this. His readers like what they are accustomed to and resent any change. We had an instance of this a few years ago in adopting the present head of the New North-West, a work of art in its way, for an old letter that gave us the hearts every time we saw it. We heard more "kicking" about the retirement of that old head-line than anything that ever appeared in the paper, and if later day manifestations had been in vogue then we haven't the slightest doubt we would have been boycotted for it. Bonner is right. It is hard for a paper to be in any particular an exact proportion of its subscribers would not resent any change.

TEMPORARILY OBSTRUCTED.

It does not take long for the smoke of battle to clear away enough to show that we are defeated in the delegate contest. We believe Montana is Republican. The Republicans had the best of every argument and the ablest candidate. Why then do we hear of the facts as to our defeat, against a lavish expenditure of money by the Democrats all over the Territory; against the vote of the Montana Central in Lewis and Clarke; against every narrow prejudice that could be worked upon from the position Col. Sanders had taken on the various questions that were decided years ago while his competitor was a minor and had no record to be held to; against a vile perversion of the facts as to his connection with the Northern Pacific Co. Company; and against his present and past attorney of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and a real or pretended apprehension that his services in Congress would be controlled by that company. There has never been a campaign in Montana so exhaustively made. The press has presented every issue in all its aspects and a cloud of speakers, in numbers unknown before, have harangued the multitudes in our churches, schools, theaters, mills, stores and in the open air until his own quiet was vexed with oratory, and his coal and oil smoke. Men generally had determined what their vote would be before election day. The "floaters" were scarcer than ever known at an election in Montana and poll workers complained that their occupation was gone—that every one seemed to have determined how he would vote.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

THE REPUBLICANS MAKE HEAVY GAINS IN CONGRESSMEN.

Hewitt Elected Mayor of New York. NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—No doubt that Hewitt is elected mayor of New York. The Republicans have gained three Congressmen in the State so far.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The weather here to-day is all that could be desired. The same report comes from all parts of the State, and with a beautiful clear sky and warm sunshine a very heavy vote is being brought out.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Sixty hundred precincts give Republican re-election majority 6,541; Democrat, 1,189; Congress, 3,600 majority; Mason, 4,100; Adams 510 majority; Lawyer, Democrat, 332 votes; Glasgow, Labor, 357.

INDIANA.

HARTFORD, Nov. 2.—With very few votes to hear from, the state stands 14 Republicans and 10 Democrats, a Republican gain of 1. The lower house, with four votes to hear from, and reckoned as voting the same as last year, stands 134 Republicans and 113 Democrats, a Republican gain of 21.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—Returns from yesterday's election are still incomplete, but enough have been received to show that the entire state Democratic ticket has been elected.

NEW JERSEY.

NEW JERSEY, Nov. 2.—Late returns received by the Democratic State central committee show the Democrats two majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. The Legislature is also claimed by the Republicans.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—The indications point to a solid Democratic delegation to Congress from Louisiana.

NOVEMBER ELECTION.

The Result in the Territory to Date.

As fully as we can learn up to this time the result of the election in the several counties is about as follows:

Silver Bow county seems to be the only county that has given Sanders a majority. In 20 out of the 22 precincts of the county Sanders has 2,929 and Toole 2,809—French and Brown's republicans to hear from. The entire Republican ticket is elected except Clerk and Recorder, Probate Judge and possibly one Commissioner. Lloyd's majority for Sheriff is possibly 400.

Beaverhead county gives two majority for Toole. The Republicans elect three county officers.

Missoula county is conceded to have gone 250 for Toole. The Republican legislative ticket is elected. The vote on Sheriff, Probate Judge, and Assessor is close. Lem (Rep.) is elected Clerk and Recorder.

Gallatin county is claimed for Toole by 300 majority.

Jefferson county is close.

Choteau is claimed 300 for Toole.

Madison will possibly give Toole 30 or 30 majority.

Custer county is claimed to give Toole 600 majority.

Meagher claims 250 for Toole.

Lewis and Clarke is conceded to give 500 majority for Toole. It is thought Hathaway and Baldwin, Republicans, are elected, but the Beaverhead camps on the Missouri had not been heard from yet.

Custer and Dawson returns are meagre.

The telephone line being down the past two days between Deer Lodge and Helena and special telegraph facilities not available here our reports are not complete later than yesterday.

The Granite Mountain and Mt. Metallie people are getting very much excited over the plying of West Granite shares on the claim that the West Granite contains the continuation of the Granite Mountain lode.

The Mt. Metallie is just West of the Granite Mountain and is bounded on the south and west by the West Granite. The Mt. Metallie is owned principally by Messrs. Clark and McClure of this city, and Dr. Merrill of Montana, and they say the stock is not on the market. They claim that the continuation of the Granite is their property. Mr. Ches. Clark said this morning that he would put in $100,000 against $100,000 of the West Granite property, to winner to divide the lode with the poor of Deer Lodge county, Montana, on the following proposition: He will bet that the Granite Mountain vein is not bedded by any porphyry dike or granite horse into the Rattlesnake claim of the West Granite property, and he will give the West Granite people three months to prove that it is. It is claimed that 20,000 shares of West Granite have been placed in this market at an average price of $1.15. It goes to the breaks at $2, and it is claimed some has been bought as low as $1.35.—St. Louis Post Dispatch, Oct. 14.

It was for a woman's sake.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—London date: It is now whispered, and the story finds many believers, that the czar's reason for killing his aide, Count Reuten, was that he suspected the Count of maintaining a liaison with a female member of the Imperial family. Count Reuten had earned the reputation of possessing in a high degree the qualities of a "Don Juan" and the Countess had not held her head but had been the subject of the study of the Duke of Orleans. Whether he was a burglar or a political enemy of the Count, is not known.

The Count of Paris visited.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—It is reported that the Count of Paris, one night last week, was sitting in his bedroom in the Rue de Valenciennes, when a man entered the room, and he had been asked by the Count, "What do you wish?" and he did not get up, but he had a revolver at the intruder, who fled. The servants had previously seen a stranger prowling around the house. The man entered the room, and he had been asked by the Count, "What do you wish?" and he did not get up, but he had a revolver at the intruder, who fled. The servants had previously seen a stranger prowling around the house.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—At noon 39,000 votes in the interior had been counted, giving Swift, governor, 15,993; Bartlett, democrat, 14,194; Russell, prohibitionist, 1,039; Wigington, American, 1,804; O'Donnell, independent, 493. Swift's plurality in this county is the state, outside of San Francisco, is 979, which if maintained, would give him a plurality in the state, outside of this city, of 5,000. At noon 14,772 votes had been counted, giving Swift 4,535; Bartlett, 5,644; Wigington, 389; O'Donnell, 3,829. Bartlett's plurality in this county is 864, which, if maintained in the same proportions throughout the total vote, would give him a plurality of 3,000, giving Swift the entire vote of the State 3,000. Garter, republican, for congress, is probably elected in the first district; Campbell, republican, in the second; McKenna, republican, in the third; and Morrow, republican, in the fourth. In the fifth district, Felton, republican, is probably elected by Frank Sullivan, democrat. Lynch, democrat, leads in the sixth.

Daring Female Highwaymen.

STRACRE, N. Y., Nov. 1.—That part of Onondaga county bordering on North Wood is all excitement over the arrest of two daring women for attempted highway robbery, a thing almost unheard of in this part of the country. While the crime was committed more than a month ago, the victims were so intimidated they dared not make the complaint till now. High Dorrity and Miss Stracre, who live at North Wood, were riding along a lonely highway late in the night, when they were halted in the night, and they were halted in the hands, as they supposed, of two men mounted on horses. A demand was made for their money and valuables. Then Dorrity obeyed. The telephone line being down the past two days between Deer Lodge and Helena and special telegraph facilities not available here our reports are not complete later than yesterday.

A TERRIBLE WRECK.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 28.—The Evening Wisconsin's special from Portage, Wisconsin, says: Last night, soon after midnight, the west bound limited express was derailed at East Rio Sidney, a small station about thirteen miles east of this city on the main line of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad. There are two side tracks at the place, and at the time the train was derailed there last night, both were occupied by freight, one by a wild train and the other by train No. 14, Conductor H. P. Hanky, of this city, which had just pulled in from the west to allow the limited to pass. No. 14 was very long and the conductor was at the head of the train relying upon the brakeman to attend to the switch. One report says to the rear brakeman, whose business it was to close the switch after the train, for some reason neglected altogether to do so. The other, and more probable story, is that he started back to close the switch, but before he could reach it, the limited, which does not stop at any except large places, came tearing down the grade at fifty miles an hour, and left the rails at the open switch. The siding is a cut where the road curves, so that the switch light cannot be seen from the east until the train is within a few rods, and the engineer of the limited could not see the switch light until the wrong way until it was too late to stop. The engine left the track, ran a short distance and brought up against the side of the cut, toppling over the baggage car, and the two regular coaches followed, while the four sleepers kept the train from falling into the ravine. The engine and cars that went off were badly smashed and soon took fire from the stoves. Engineer Little and Fireman Egan crept out from under the locomotive badly bruised and scalped. The baggage man had his leg broken. All the passengers in the sleepers got out unharmed except with slight bruises, but in one day coach thirteen were pinned in and literally burned to death. Many others were injured by the severe shaking up. The names of the victims are not yet known here. The whole limited, except one sleeper which was able to couple and draw away, was burned up. It is believed twenty-six persons were killed.

SHIVERS AND HOPE.

The following poem by John G. Whittier appeared in print Oct. 28th, the day of the unveiling of Bartholdi's Liberty.

The land that from the rule of kings, In freedom's name, has set her feet free, Our old world sister, to us brings Her harp and crown of Liberty.

Unlike the shapes on Egypt's sands, Unfreed by the toll-woman's hand, On freedom's soil with freemen's hands We wear the symbol free hands gave.

O, France, the beautiful; to thee Once more a debt of love we owe; In peace, beneath thy fleur-de-lis, We hail a later Kochanek.

Ripe, steady symbol; holding forth Thy light and hope to all who strive In chains of darkness; but the earth With watch-fires from thy torch uplift, Reveals the primal mandate still Which chiseled, and ceased to be; Trace on mid-air the eternal will In signs of fire: "Let man be free."

Shine far, shine free, a guiding light To Reason's ways and Virtue's aims; A lightning flash the wretch to smite Who shields his license with thy name.

CARRYING TOO MANY CATTLE.

Breaks an Illinois Bank.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 29.—The failure of the banking house of Wm. M. Dustin & Co. caused great surprise to-day. The assets, according to the sworn statement of Dustin and Co., in the lawsuit, reached $67,000. These assets are estimated by an intimation levelled in the interest of the banker's wife, who has a suit for alimony pending in the courts. The liabilities reached the following amounts: Due Dustin and Hough in Montana, for cattle, etc., $75,000; other banks, $25,000; other debts, $10,000; due depositors, $78,000. The failure is due to the branching out of the head of the firm in the cattle business in Montana, with one loan incurred. Though, where $75,000 debts were incurred. A note given by the firm for $25,000 came here last week. This, with a gigantic lawsuit pending against him in the interest of his former wife, created uneasiness, and precipitated a run yesterday on the bank. The bank stood the run, but deemed it unwise to open this morning. There are 200 depositors and creditors in this place. Dustin has decided to assign, and will make the depositors preferred creditors. The bank has been in existence since 1857, and up to a few years ago was flourishing.

LINCOLN, Oct. 28.—The Dustin bank failure assumes greater proportions as the days pass. Dustin's Montana liabilities now reach $65,000. The total liabilities foot up over $300,000, with only $97,000 assets. The loss to depositors is a cool $100,000. Dustin is preparing to assign and it is barely possible he will be able to pay 25 cents on the dollar.

Blaine the Favorite in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—The Press's Scranton, Pennsylvania, special correspondent says: The two great cities of Wyoming Valley yesterday afternoon and evening opened their arms of welcome, and shouted their voices of greeting to Blaine. The demonstrations, despite the adverse weather, were marked by unbounded enthusiasm, and furnished abundant evidence that Lusk, Hanna and Lusk are for Blaine, and will be for Blaine in 1888, as they were in 1884. The route hither from Pittsburg was beset by rain, but at every step the crowds were waiting in the mud and bursting with cheers for Blaine. The end of the tour tonight warrants every confidence that Blaine has not traveled over 900 miles in his native State without making assurance doubly sure, and sealing the certainty of a rousing Republican victory on Tuesday next. It was asked in one of Pennsylvania's most prominent politicians whether the zeal he has shown in the management of this second Blaine tour meant he was for Blaine in 1888.

"It is true," he said, "I have heretofore opposed Blaine's nomination in every convention, State and National, for ten years, but I now say that only Blaine himself can prevent his nomination in 1888. No private citizen in the world ever received such an ovation as has Blaine during his tour in Pennsylvania. Workingmen have come up from their mines and out of their factories and stood in the rain to cheer him. I say that the united Republican party ought to give him an unanimous renomination, and serve a notice to George William Curtis and the rest of the Mugwumps that, as the united Republican party will stand or fall, and that there is no longer any separate Blaine party within the solid Republican ranks."

"What do you mean when you say that only Blaine can defeat his own nomination?"

"His name is now on every Republican tongue, as Tilden's was on every Democrat's tongue from 1876 to 1880, but yet Tilden defeated his own nomination in 1880. I mean that unless he himself declares he will not accept it, his nomination in 1888 is certain."

We have received a prospectus of the Milwaukee Down soliciting our patronage. All right; send it along. We don't know anything we want more than we do some of that.

The Herbold States of Liberty Enlightening the World was unveiled with imposing ceremonies at Bedford's Island, New York Harbor, on Thursday of last week. President Cleveland and several members of his cabinet were present to receive it on the part of the United States from the representatives of France. Over one million people participated in the festivities. Salutes were fired from the fleets and shores for half an hour. The naval display of over two hundred vessels was the finest ever seen in New York harbor. The statue is a magnificent conception, grandly executed, and its gift and acceptance binds still stronger the ties of friendship between the two Republics.

Salisbury's New Policy.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The diplomatic view of the Bulgarian crisis is this: "A fresh shuffle of the cards since Salisbury returned from the continent relieves Russia apparently from serious opposition on the part of Great Britain. Salisbury's policy now is to encourage Russia to restrain Russia's getting into difficulties in any way she desires—the Balkan States in any way she desires—lose nothing, and has both hands free to prepare for events later on. Consequently the opinion grows that Russia will be allowed to do what she pleases, so far as the great Powers are concerned. Austria has so managed matters with Germany, Russia, France, and more particularly with England and Turkey; that she is for the moment isolated, and it is the isolation of weakness. Her statement are intent on defeating Russian schemes to make the Czar's influence predominate in Bulgaria. The Sultan, who is clamorous for the recognition of his right to enter Bulgaria, now recoils from the proposal, with the added condition that while the Ottomans occupy one end, Russia should appear on the scene at the other end. England, under the changed conditions, professes she would not interfere now, even if Russia were to be content with nothing less than absorbing the whole country."

The Thunderer's Sneeze.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The second editorial in the Times of this morning is devoted to the dedication ceremonies of the Statue of Liberty. It designates the whole affair as being a curious festival, and asks why Liberty should be exported from France, which has so little thereof, to America, which has so much. The article is written throughout in altogether a spiteful and contemptible vein, which shows clearly the prevailing jealousy against the United States in this country, as well as the old hatred to France. Bartholdi is designated as an Alsatian scoundrel who is a convinced Republican with a proclivity for doing things that shall insure him against obscurity and oblivion.

Frank Hurd Discouraged.

TOLSON, Nov. 3.—The majority of 1,000 in the tenth district will be about 1,500. Frank Hurd accepts his defeat gracefully and left to-day for the mineral springs at Mt. Clemens, Mich., as he is suffering from rheumatism. From there he goes to New York to bring a summary case against the Chicago Tribune, and intimates that he might in the future try for congressional nomination in the Toledo district, and has been three times elected. Beginning with defeat he has been successful every alternate time until the present election.

Feeling Their Way to India.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A traveler from Bokhara, who reached Peshawar, on the Afghan frontier, near the Khyber Pass, reports: The Russians have completed the Merx & Oxus Railway to within five stages of Sarakhs. The Governor of Tashkend has summoned several Mohammedan officers for special purposes. The Russians intend to establish a military cantonment for 20,000 men at Shirabad, near Bokhara. Russian officers disguised as Uzbek merchants are actively engaged in Balkhash inspecting the citadel and the passages to India. The Czar is displeased at the Ameer of Bokhara for refusing to enlist Russians among his troops.

Grand Commander Fairchild's Staff.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29.—Gen. Lucius Fairchild, Grand Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, announces the appointment of the following staff: Adjutant General, E. B. Gray, of Madison, Wis.; Quartermaster General, John Taylor, Philadelphia; Judge Advocate General, Henry E. Taintor, Hartford, Conn.; Assistant Adjutant General, F. W. Oakley, Madison, Wis.; Senior Aide-de-Camp, Phil. Cheek, Jr., of Baraboo, Wis.

NOTICE.

OFFICE QUALITY MORTGAGE INVESTMENT COMPANY, Room 35, No. 204 North 3rd Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Pursuant to Section 228 of the General Laws of Montana: This is to certify that the capital stock of the Quality Mortgage Investment Company in the amount of $100,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each, has been fully paid up.

Section 228 of the General Laws of Montana, and the charter of the Quality Mortgage Investment Company, passed September 1, 1886, by the laws of Montana, are hereby published for the information of the public. The total amount of the capital stock of the Quality Mortgage Investment Company is $100,000, divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each, which amount to 10,000 shares of $10 each, and 10,000 shares of $10 each, and 10,0
