SATURDAY OCTOBER 18, 186

The Rebel Offer to the North West The election in Illinois takes place on the 4th of November. We apprehend the same result there as in this State. Illinois, like Indiana, has proved her deep devotion to the Union by sending to the battle-field more than her quota of volunteers without resort- the duty of the President of the United ing to a draft. But there is a party there. as there is here, which is opposed to the war for the preservation of the Government, and | this section, and to apply and use the same which has considered it a higher duty to vote and remain at home than to fight for the dearest rights of the people of the West. ficer of the army or navy of the rebels in The people of that State, like the people of arms against the government of the United Indiana, have been forced into a bitter political struggle through the action of the no mistaking one thing, and that is, that there is a party in both States which is work ing to make the States of the Mississippi val DAVIS.

The rebel Congress offers, on the one hand, the free navigation of the Mississippi to the commerce of the West, and the politicians of the peace-compromise anti-war party, on the other hand, are striving to ed Confederate States of America, or under make that offer plausible and acceptable to any of the several States of the said Confedthe western people. There is no disguising this fact. It is plain to every observer that there is a party in the States of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, which, is endeavoring to make the bribe of the rebel Congress acceptable. There is no disguise about the matter. The argument used is that the Western States nust belong to the Government which controls the navigation of the lower Mississin, a river. And to impress the consideration of this subject upon the people, politicians of this school advocate the impossibility of crushing the rebel Govern- sufficient bar to every suit brought by such ment. There is a concert of action and person for the possession of the use of such gave manna in the wilderness. entiment between the Government of JEFF Davis on the one side, and the peace-compromise and suct-war politicians on the other. We have written on this subject several times, but as circumstances develope themselves, the more plainly does this plan become known. The whole matter is, as Mr. Douglas stated, that there are but two parties, one for the Government and the other against it. The one is for the consolidation of the Western States with the government of JEFF Davis, the other is for the preservation of the Union at all costs of blood and treasure. The one favors the doctrine of practical secession, the other despises and denies the heresy of secession. If the former succeeds, the great republic becomes Mezicanized, if the latter is successful, the Union will be maintained, and we will exist as one of the most powerful nations of the earth.

The queston is one as to whether we will become Mexicanized or exist as a great nation, respected by all the powers of the earth. There are but two parties to the question either at home or abroad. The one for the Government and the other against it. It is the Government or an aristocracy founded on slavery, or the Government of a Republic. Every careful observer heholds this fact. The people here have taken sides, and the people of Europe have taken their position also. It is a struggle of republicanism against the combined powers that despise it. Abroad the opposition party is led on by the London Times, and furnishes the rebels war material and denounces the Federal Government for its effort to maintain its territory unbroken and vindicate the majesty of its laws. The same party at home sympathizes with the rebels and manifests sympathy for them by warring upon the government in the bitterest manner, and endeavoring to make the bribe offered the West by the rebel Congress acceptable. With the home secession party, it is the consolidation of the Western States with the Confederate States of the South It is Unroxism on the one side and Secretionism on the other, all the way

The mass of the people do not yet fully understand the movement to be made, but will fully explain itself soon. The result of the elections in this State, Ohio and Illinois, will be worth more to JEFFERSON DAVIS than five hundred thousand armed soldiers. Democratic President and cabinet plotted the | ment all the information within their power overthrow of the Government while in power, and the compromise, peace, anti-war to perpetuate their work by recognizing the ings in court. THE Richmond Enquirer is prepared for all conscious of the giant preparations which Lincoln is making. His vast drafts of men are not all. His shipyards are busy, and gunboats of heavy draught and light draught, cased in iron armor, and fitted up with all ity, are being constructed in great numbers." And it continues:

We must prepare for these gunboats, not by flippantly sceering at gunboat panicsthat would be very unwise; not by timid apprehensions of inability to resist them-that would be very unwise also; but we must prepare defences on the rivers and obstructions in their channels. We must try all the virtues of sharpshooters on the banks and the sub-aqueous batteries in the stream.

LOOK! LOOK! IMPORTANT TO SOLDIERS. We call the attention of all having relations of friends in the army to the fact that "Hoofland": German Bitter's" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large propertion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Disases resulting from disorders of the digestive or gans are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost. We call particular attention to the following re-nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters." Pathadelphia, August 23, 1862. Messrs. Jones & ETANS: - Well, gentlemen, your Icofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There s no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numberof my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my ardnous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflamation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was fol-lowed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White onse, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality.

For a week or more i was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was markable and well-anthenticated cure of one of the immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under such circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians, who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergy man, and to make such advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acqueintance who visited me at the hospital An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Prederick Steinbrown, of Sixth below Arch street, advised me, as a foriorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles. I have already gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wile and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for HAVING recently purchased the Coal Ben, for merly known as the "SCHER MINES," one invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears-to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.
