—An exchange tells its readers how to "mind their p's" in the following paragraph: Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press have peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket book kept plenteous by prompt paying patrons he puts his pen to the paper in peace. His paragraphs are more pointed, he paints his pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy some place where all can perceive it.—Ex.

—The case of the State of Iowa vs. Frank Segar, on the charge of feloniously breaking into and stealing by night time from the hardware store of R. G. —State Dairy Commissioner Norton was in town last Friday and investigated the matter of several of our citizens using butterine and promised to get the opinion of the attorney general on the law. He claims that it is unlawful to use butterine that is colored to represent butter and there is a fine of $400 for each sale made by a resident of the state. There were about forty families that were using it, not knowing the law, but they have concluded to quit. In a dairy county like Delaware every one should make the home market as good as possible, for while they may pay a little more for a good article yet the prosperity of our farmers and our county depends on its main industry being kept up and every citizen more than gets back the difference between good butter and butterine.—Earville Phoenix.

—On going to the bank Tuesday morning H. G. Millen opened the front door and saw the back door open and then saw tracks on the floor and he made tracks to the safe in quick time, where he found that burglars had been at work. They had drilled a hole near the combination one-third of an inch deep and must have been scared away for a fuse and dynamite csp were left unexploded. A crowbar, monkey wrench and hatchet were left, which they got from the railroad tool house. About one a. m. Herman Philipp was returning home from his father's, who was ill, and seeing some one in the bank, he went to the hotel and found Night-watch Luckenbill and both went back to the bank, but when they arrived the burglars had picked up their tools and slipped out into the night. This is the second attempt of burglars to get our bank's money and it is hoped the last, but should they try it again we wish that they may be caught and sent to the pen for a long term.—Earville Phoenix.

John Houlahan, Sr.
Our citizens were greatly shocked last Saturday evening upon the news being brought to town that John Houlahan, whose farm is three miles west of here, had died quite suddenly. He had been in town that afternoon doing some trading and started home shortly before six o'clock apparently in his usual good health. He arrived home all right and was engaged in putting the team away when he was either kicked by one of the horses or suffered an attack of heart failure; it is hard to decide which. However, upon being discovered he was found to be directly under one of the horses, but whether he fell or was knocked down will probably never be known. His forehead was quite badly bruised in two places and the marks of the horse's shoe could easily be distinguished. His hands were also badly scratched. He was insensible when picked up and died a few minutes afterward without regaining consciousness and before medical aid could be procured.

The ladies of my party sit here, each trying their best to beat one poor little game of solitaire.

We have had a delightful trip thus far and regret that more of you frost-bitten sufferers are not here with us to enjoy the sights and the 75 degrees above zero weather. Mr. Cornish just remarked that all she has to complain of is that it is too warm, while Mrs. Sherwood says they can't make it any too warm for her. It's just right for you.
Yours Truly,
A. M. SHERWOOD.

A Correction.
In justice to the teacher of sub-district No. 6, in Prairie township, and in justice to myself I wish to say that the reports that said teacher struck my boy with a whip and that she struck him with her closed fist, are false in every particular. In fact she had no whip in the school.
H. E. BUSINELL.

Tom, Rich, Kate, Alice, Martin and John. One brother and three sisters are also left to mourn his death, viz: James Houlahan, Mrs. James McGuire, Sr., Mrs. P. Hahey and Mrs. David Dehan.

The affair is indeed a sad one, as it is but a few months ago that a beloved daughter of the deceased was called to a better home, and this second blow to the family is almost unbearable. The deceased having been one of the earliest settlers here, was known to almost everybody. He was an honest and upright man with a cheerful disposition and always had a pleasant word for all. He was a faithful and constant member of the Catholic church and he will be sadly missed by his numerous friends and acquaintances.

The funeral occurred at ten o'clock Tuesday from the Belmont church. An immense throng was present to pay their last respects to the deceased. Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Ryan, assisted by Rev. Hartigan, of Marion, and Rev. M. S. Murphy, of Argand. Father Hartigan preached the sermon and his listeners were strongly moved by the discourse. The remains were interred in the cemetery adjoining the church, the pall bearers being W. F. Drummy, John Reilly, Pat Behan, Thos. Williams, Jas. Donnelly and John Duggan.

The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of many warm friends in their hour of trouble.—Ryan Reporter.

Wedding Anniversary.
January 12, 1900 being the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Polkham, their many friends and acquaintances, clearly planned a surprise for them and to the number of about sixty assembled at their hospitable home near Barryville, provided with provisions for a sumptuous repast, with the intention of spending the day. The surprise was complete and enjoyed by all. The company took complete possession of the place and proceeded to enjoy themselves with various parlor games until the repast was spread, when in behalf of the company in a few fitting words, Mrs. M. Barr presented the worthy couple with a dozen silver knives and forks as a pleasant reminder of the occasion. Mr. Polkham responded in his usual happy manner, when all proceeded to do justice to the overburdened tables. Before leaving the groom favored the friends with an account of the occasion fifteen years ago, and concluded with the remark that "he was a little excited to-day, perhaps as much so as he was on the former occasion."

Orlando, Florida.
EDITORS DEMOCRAT:—Will you kindly send the Democrat from receipt of this until further orders to St. Petersburg, Florida. We arrived here last evening from Winter Park. Left St. Augustine Tuesday. St. Augustine is the most interesting place we have visited, it having the old Spanish fort—the oldest in America; the oldest dwelling houses; the old original slave market; and very many other places of interest.

We expect to remain here a week and then go on to St. Petersburg and put in a month or more there, depending somewhat on the quality and quantity of fishing the writer may find in that vicinity.

We have had a delightful trip thus far and regret that more of you frost-bitten sufferers are not here with us to enjoy the sights and the 75 degrees above zero weather. Mr. Cornish just remarked that all she has to complain of is that it is too warm, while Mrs. Sherwood says they can't make it any too warm for her. It's just right for you.
