Rev. Tuttle preached at the St. Paul's church last Sunday. His sermon was founded on the language of Thomas, recorded in St. John's gospel, 20th. chapter. Honest skeptics are not to be dealt with severity but with kindness. Thomas manifested his doubts until he put his fingers onto the pierced hands of his master.

The following item may interest many, being kindly furnished by a participant.

Thursday, April 19, 1900, at the home of Mrs. N. G. Treachard, under the auspices of Mrs. Charles Adams, occurred one of those social events that makes life worth the living. Ladies to the number of 23 assembled in honor of Miss Zimmerman of Nebraska, sister of Mrs. S. A. Acers, and after refreshing the inner woman with a bountiful dinner enjoyed a delightfully pleasant afternoon, most not omit the little ones of whom every one behaved like little cherubs. The wonder-ful flow of spirit must have been due to the sunny spring day. Every one seemed to have renewed their youth and vied with each other to see how much they could add to the enjoyment of the whole. Mrs. Adams may do so some more.

When Coal Gives Out.

The All-rounder region abounds with streams, most of which can some time be made use of as sources of power for carrying on industries, running railroads and furnishing light and heat. Indeed, the great problem at present is not at all to develop the available power, but to devise means of transmitting the power with the minimum loss for long distances.
It is impossible to believe that with the success of existing plants and the spectacle of practically unlimited power going to waste on every hand, to stimulate inventive genius, methods will not be devised before very long for overcoming this difficulty of transmission.
Whether it is by the discovery of some new conveyor or by using a succession of generating plants or by a process of storing the electricity and conveying it by freight or express or by means of a practically universal power line to come into practically universal use. If the difficulty of transmission is never wholly obvious, it may be there will be some regrouping of industries and communities in the near vicinity of important sources of water supply.—Guntton's Magazine.

Treating Insomnia.

So many people suffer from insomnia nowadays that it is a wonder they do not adopt the time honored custom of French kings and indeed of our ancestors generally, the "cu cas" by the bedside, the meal of fruit or bread and cold chicken, put ready in case of wakefulness. Many a merry little meal might be eaten in the middle of the night, when thoughts crowd on the mind and care is too heavy. It is the wakeful digestion that claims its due and clamors to be fed. Our forefathers were wise, and many a hunter after old furniture knows the quaint little cupboard with a grated door which served for a night stand and is now sometimes labeled a cheese cupboard. A bedside book is of no use when the paings of hunger make for mastery, but with a book and a "snack" one can contrive to pass some pleasant hours, even when sleep does not touch one's eyelids and the sweet boon of unconsciousness evades one's grasp.—New York Times.

Birds' Nests.

The neat wren's nest (it is kind of swallow), gathered along the rocky cliffs with so much difficulty and yet in such quantities on account of the Chinese demand, are formed of a salivary secretion which soon becomes firm and dries to a hard shell. It is a glutinous white substance with little red dots. They are clean, the nests being taken as soon as completed. The little swift, being repeatedly robbed, is at last compelled to use its waning supply of secretion with little sticks and grass and is thus enabled to lay its eggs and hatch its young, as only nests free from foreign material are merchantable.—A Sketch of the Philippines in Self Culture.

Horse on Him.

"Got a good joke on myself," said the man who has accumulated a little property by hard work. "I asked my wife what was the difference between me and a horse, intending to say that I was a four footed beast. What do you suppose she said?"
"Give it up," said the other man. "She guessed it must be the length of my ears."—Indianapolis Journal.

The readers of THE DEMOCRAT must rest assured that it will, during the coming year, maintain the high standard of excellence it has attained and continue to be, as it has been for many years past, the leading newspaper published in this county.

"This is too mucra, John, I won't stand it any longer. Tomorrow I leave for my mother's, unless you get me more Rocky mountain tea." Bewildered woman. See—Gregg & Ward.

The large and increasing circulation of The Iowa Homestead in this county is a matter for congratulation to the publishers and to good farming, for, of all the papers of its class in the country, it is easily the best and most helpful. Its Special Farmers' Institute editions, issued with the regular edition the first week in each month, have been for years the admiration of all practical farmers. Written wholly by farmers, they are full of actual experience, and smother of the soil. We have been fortunate enough this season to secure terms for The Homestead and its Special Farmers' Institute Editions, together with The Poultry Farmer and The Farmers' Mutual Insurance Journal, four of the most valuable farm publications in the country, that enable us to offer the four in connection with our own paper for $1.90 for the entire five, one year. This is emphatically a good thing, and no farmer in this county should fail to take advantage of this offer. For a large line of thoroughly practical farm reading nothing has ever been offered before that equals it. A county paper, a farm paper, a poultry paper, a farm insurance paper and the Special Farmers' Institute, all for $1.90. Come in and order them.

BICYCLES!

Our stock of Bicycles challenges comparison. I carry the FALCON and ELDRIDGE. Bicycling promises to be more popular than ever this season, and now is the best time to buy. It will pay you to call and see them before buying. All kinds of repairing done promptly.

G. S. Lister

We will make our Annual Special Sale of Buggies

From now until May 1st next.

during which time we will sell you a guaranteed, up-to-date top buggy for the small sum of

$39.90 cash

Positively, we will not sell at these prices after May 1st, next.
