

NOTICE.—On the slip of paper upon which the name is printed, appears the date to which the paper is paid for, and a renewal is always respectfully solicited. The writer's name must accompany any article for publication, as an evidence of good faith to the editors.

The Manchester Democrat.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT MANCHESTER, IOWA, AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER. MANCHESTER, IOWA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1900. VOL. XXVI--NO. 19.

Table with columns for space, length, and rate. Includes rates for one inch, two inches, three inches, four inches, five inches, and six columns.

Advertisements ordered discontinued before expiration of contract will be charged according to above scale. Business cards, not exceeding six lines, $5.00 per year. Business locals, ten cents per line for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion.

Ladies' Oxfords made by Pontiac Shoe Co. They are flexible and comfortable to the feet made from splendid wearing kid or calf. The new two button FEDORA LOW SHOE is a beauty, tan or black come in and see them. They will please you. $1.50. We have plenty of others to show you.

GRASSFIELD BROS. SEND US YOUR MAIL ORDERS... Manchester, Iowa

Our Business Directory.

- ATTORNEYS: C. W. DURHAM, E. B. STILES, W. H. ROBINSON, DUNHAM, NORRIS & STILES. ATTORNEYS AT LAW AND NOTARIES: Public, Special attention given to Collections, Insurance, Real Estate and Loan Agency. Office over Delaware County State Bank, Manchester, Iowa. C. YORAN, H. F. ARNOLD, M. J. YORAN, YORAN, ARNOLD & YORAN. ATTORNEYS AT LAW, and Real Estate Agents, Office over Delaware County State Bank, Manchester, Iowa. C. E. BRONSON, E. M. CARR, BRONSON & CARR. ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Special attention given to Collections, Office in Democrat Building, Franklin Street, Manchester, Iowa. FRED B. BLAIR, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office in the City Hall Block, Manchester, Iowa. PHYSICIANS: A. J. WARD, PHYSICIAN and Surgeon, will call to consult promptly at all hours of the day or night, Canton, Iowa. H. H. LAWRENCE, PHYSICIAN and Surgeon, Special attention given to diseases of children. Have also made a special study of Gynecology, Obstetrics, and Special Diseases. All chronic diseases successfully treated with the aid of various Thermal and Mineral Springs. Will give chronic cases special attention. Consultation free, Office over W. A. Abbott's, all calls promptly attended. Residence on Main street, in the Dr. Kelsey property. DENTISTS: O. A. DUNHAM, D.D.S., DENTIST, Office over Carhart & Adams' Hardware store, Franklin St., Manchester, Iowa. C. W. DORMAN, DENTIST, Office on Franklin Street, north of the Globe Block, Manchester, Iowa. Dental Surgery in all its branches. Makes frequent visits to neighboring towns. Always at office on Saturdays. C. LEIGH, D.D.S., DENTIST, Office over Andler & Philipp's Drug Store, Main and Franklin streets, Manchester, Iowa. Telephone 157. E. E. NEWCOMB, DENTIST, Office over Clark & Lawrence's store on Franklin street. Crown Bridge work a specialty. Will meet patients at Farley Wednesday of each week. VETERINARIAN: DR. J. W. SCOTT, VETERINARY SURGEON and Dentist, Office in H. G. Smith's Drug Store, Main St. At night can be found at rooms over Ralph Conger's Store. MANUFACTURING: MANCHESTER MARBLE WORKS. Prepared to furnish Granite and Marble Monuments and Headstones of various designs. Have the county right for Sipe's Patent Grave Cover; also, Marble. Will meet all competition. W. M. MCINTOSH, THOMAS GIVEN, Contractor and builder. Jobs taken in town or country. Estimates furnished. First class work guaranteed. Prices reasonable. Shop on Howard street near Hotel, 251. W. N. BOYNTON, J. F. MCLEWEN, BOYNTON & MCLEWEN, Watchmakers, Jewelers and Engravers. Complete line of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Gold and Silver Ware, Fine Jewelry, Spectacles, Cutlery, Musical Instruments, etc. Main Street. A. D. BROWN, Dealer in furniture, etc. and undertaker, Main Street. F. WERKMEISTER, GENERAL DEALER IN FURNITURE, Coffins, Pillows, Bedspreads, etc. Complete stock of Furniture and Upholstery always on hand. At prices that defy competition. Good home kept for attendance at funerals. A. Barville, Iowa. J. H. ALLEN, CLOTHING and Gent's furnishing goods. Cor. Main and Franklin streets. L. R. STOUT, CLOTHING and Gent's furnishing goods. City Hall Block, Franklin Street. HIDEELL & CO., DRY GOODS, Carpets, Millinery, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, etc. Main St., Manchester, Iowa. A. THORPE, PROPRIETOR OF "KALAMITY'S" PLUNGER Store and Dealer in Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Notions, etc. Masonic Block, Manchester, Iowa. MARTIN GOLLOBITZ, MERCHANT TAILOR—Fine suits made to order and guaranteed to fit. Prices reasonable. Shop first door north of Globe Hotel, 51. GRASSFIELD BROS., (Successors to Beth, Brown, BOOTS AND SHOES of all grades and prices. Custom Work and Repairing given special attention. Store in City Hall Block, Manchester, Iowa. INSURE YOUR PROPERTY against cyclones and tornadoes in the old reliable Phoenix Insurance Co., BRONSON & CARR, Agents. HOLLISTER LUMBER CO., LUMBER and all kinds of building materials. Posts and Coals. Corner of Delaware and Madison streets. MANCHESTER LUMBER CO., LUMBER and Builders Materials, Posts and Coals. West side of Main. RACKET STORE, DRY GOODS, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, notions, etc. West side Franklin street south of Main.

Rev. Dr. Slias C. Swallow, prohibition candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in 1898, has invited ex-Senator Quay to join the prohibition party, assuring him of appreciation in its ranks. A committee of the Ohio legislature declared that Hanna secured his election as senator by corrupt means. That charge has repeatedly been made by responsible men. But the virtuous senate which refused to seat Quay on a technicality still bows to the dictates of a man who is charged with having made his elevation to the senatorship matter of barter and sale. When the senate takes up the charges against Hanna, investigates them thoroughly and honestly and acts in accordance with the findings, the people will have some faith in the republican claim that the g. o. p. is entitled to credit for being the party of purity.—World-Herald.

An Englishman's Tribute to the Boer. A. C. Hales, the South African correspondent of the London News, tells in pathetic words of the heroism of the Boers. Here is an extract from one of his recent dispatches: I saw some of these old graybeards, shattered by our shells, dying grimly, with knitted brows and fiercely clinched jaws; saw some of their bearded lips sobbing their souls out as the life blood dyed the African beach. "Those things I have seen, and in the ears of Englishmen and women let me say as one who knows and feels how they speak plain, unglorified truth concerning their foe, that not alone beneath the British flag are heroes found. Not alone at the breasts of British matrons are brave men suckled; for, as my soul liveth, whether their cause be just or unjust, whether the right or the wrong of this war be with them, whether the blood of the hundreds that have fallen since the first rifle shot defiance shall speak for or against them at the Day of Judgment, they at least know how to die; and when a man has given his life for the cause he believes in, he is proven worthy even of his worst enemy's respect.

Improving Dairy Rooms. Modern and improved methods of butter making cannot be successfully carried out unless the surroundings are suitable. Ventilation and coolness are two of the prime requisites for a dairy room, and its architect must be planned accordingly. I know an out-of-door cellar laid up with stone in mortar and with a cement floor, that keeps cool in hot weather without the employment of ice. It is kept well ventilated by screened windows, no vegetables are allowed to be stored therein, and a cool house possessing a double floor was erected overhead.

Food Injurious to Butter. In the spring and summer cows will often wander into low fields and swamps and eat weeds and wild plants that affect the taste of the butter, says E. P. Smith in the American Cultivator. This is sometimes a strong odor to it and again it is decidedly bitter taste. This is first noticeable in the milk and cream, and the process of churning does not eliminate the trouble. The only sure way to prevent such odors and disagreeable taste in the butter in summer is to root out all weeds and noxious plants from the pasture. If the latter is in a run down condition, where weeds thrive and grass dies, it will be pretty hard to make the food of the cows good enough to produce excellent milk and cream. It will pay better in such cases to rent more and better pasture fields and sow the one with new seed and fertilize it well. It is better to buy a better pasture than to put his arms about her, look unutterable things at her and entertained himself and his companions at the good natured creature's expense. Finally at one of the stations a man put his head in the door and asked if there was any room to be had inside the coach.

Marketing Butter. In a bulletin on dairying in California the agricultural department says, that practically all the best creamery butter sold on the Pacific coast is in squares of about two pounds each. This method of handling butter is excellent in some respects, but it is subject to criticism in two important features: First, there is now no uniformity in the weights of the squares. One creamery sends cases of 60, 1 1/2 pound squares, or 105 pounds, to Sacramento, and to the same market another creamery sends cases holding 60 squares, aggregating 101 pounds. This latter creamery also sends to San Francisco cases holding 90 squares of 93 pounds. It must be both confusing and annoying to handle squares of such varying weights and to really good reason for the practice was found. Doubtless many people who purchase butter do not notice the difference in weights, but consider all squares alike, and the seller who can shave off the most without being suspected is the gainer. Such competition is not only discreditable, but dishonest. The second criticism of the method of marketing butter relates to the packages. Eastern dealers have learned that it is more economical and satisfactory in many ways to use cheap but neat boxes for shipping, which do not have to be returned, than to use the heavy and expensive trunks or chests that were so common only a few years ago. These latter are continually being lost and broken, cause annoyance at both ends of the line and require much labor for proper cleaning (and this is too often neglected), while the cheaper packages have not these objections.

Does Coffee Agree With You. If not, drink Grain-o—Made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-o I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c and 25c.

Walking Up Stairs. A physician who declared that few people knew how to walk up stairs properly was asked to describe how it should be done. He said: "Usually a person will tread on the ball of the foot in taking each step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, and it throws the entire suspended weight of the body on the muscles of the legs and feet. You should in walking or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight possible. In walking up stairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no strain upon any particular muscle, but each one is doing its duty in a natural manner. The person who goes up stairs with a spring is no philosopher, or at least she is not making a proper use of her reasoning faculties. "The habit, too, of bending over half double when ascending a flight of stairs is exceedingly reprehensible. In any exertion of this kind, when the heart is naturally excited to a more rapid action, it is desirable that the lungs should have full play. The coughing and sneezing that occur with their action, the blood is imperfectly aerated, and there is trouble at once. Give the lungs a chance to do their work every where and at all times."—New York Sun.

Why There Was No Room. When he was a young man, Senator Hale of Maine, like many young men who have later on in life made their mark in the world, was not without that quality which is said to be an element of success. On one occasion Mr. Hale was riding in an old fashioned stage coach with Senator and Mrs. Frye. The only passenger was an Irishman, a man past middle life, rather comely of face, who wore enormous hoops, fashionable at that period. To amuse his fellow passengers Mr. Hale pretended to be much enamored of Biddy and would side up to her as if he were about to put his arms about her, look unutterable things at her and entertained himself and his companions at the good natured creature's expense. Finally at one of the stations a man put his head in the door and asked if there was any room to be had inside the coach. "No," said Mr. Hale. "All the seats are taken." Then turning to the Irish woman and looking her eyes with great tenderness he said: "There isn't any room in here, is there? We don't want any one else in here, do we?" "No," said Biddy, with a delightful laugh. "My honor be! I feel pretty large, and I see you feel pretty large, and there is no room here."—Detroit Free Press.

A Row at the Show. The lord mayor's show is an annual theme for the newspapers. Very little can be said about it that has not been said again and again. It costs about 22,000, the banquet for 23,000. The show has sunk during the century to borrowing some of its splendor from the "property man." Thereby hangs a tale. A certain lord mayor hired from the Surrey theater two suits of armor, brass and steel, with a couple of armorers to go inside them. The manager of the Surrey stipulated, by the way, that the steel armor should not be used if the day be a wet or a foggy one. After the show the armorers were taken to the Guildhall, remaining there several hours without food. No one, it appears, was able to rid them of their ironmongery. Who was given them, and the man who had been intoxicated. The bystanders, thinking if he fell about that he would injure others as well as himself, tried to eject him. But he showed fight, and to add to their further dismay, his companion in arms joined him. They were overcome at last only by sheer weight of numbers. Then the maker of the armor was sent for. He eventually succeeded in freeing the men, who were in danger of being stifled by the weight of their equipment.—Good Words.

Chimneys Cleaned. I have got a patent device for cleaning chimneys. If you want yours cleaned, have orders sent me at Beth Brown's or Graham & Son's. I also do all kinds of painting and walling, build chimneys and clean them and do repairs. All work warranted to give satisfaction. JOHN TOWLER, 51.

Horses Wanted. A few good horses for eastern markets, must be sound and in good condition. Enquire at my place on Union street in Manchester. JOHN ROBINSON, 52.

Home-seekers' Excursion Tickets. To nearly all points in the United States on sale at all ticket offices of the Chicago Great Western Railway on the first and third Tuesdays of May and June at the very low home-seekers' rate of one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. Tickets good for return within 21 days from date of sale. Persons contemplating a trip will save money by calling on any agent of the Chicago Great Western R. Y. and obtaining detail of information regarding the home-seekers' rates or addressing F. H. Lord, G. P. & T. A., 113 Adams St., Chicago, 17c.

HURRAH FOR HARRISON & SMITH First-class Horse Shoers. Also PLOW WORK and GENERAL REPAIRING. PRICES RIGHT! CALL AND SEE US! At foot of Franklin street.

The British Lion and African Boer. Boer brave old lion, boast and roar. Hungering for all earth and more; Your jaws shut on some heathen shore, And spray their fields with health on gore, Then whiten them with Christian blood, And close up their voracious ore. But look out for that heathen Boer, With lions he has played before, He twists their tails and makes them sore.

Roar Christian lion, boast and roar, Roar on against the heathen's sting, Mutech the wild Boer, he's just the thing; Give him a royal christening, But all his gold he sure to bring, To great Britain's money ring. And look out for that heathen Boer, For bibles he has thumbed before, For days and years full many a score, Roar on and boast, the welkin fill; Boast Waterloo with fearless yell, Boast the wild Boer, he's just the thing; Boast Crimea with a trembling thrill; Boast Egypt, Soudan, slow and still, But boast not yet Malaba hill. And now we've vanquish three times o'er To look out for that heathen Boer For many a cat he's trapped before. Manchester May 2, 1900. D. O. Potter.

Modern and improved methods of butter making cannot be successfully carried out unless the surroundings are suitable. Ventilation and coolness are two of the prime requisites for a dairy room, and its architect must be planned accordingly. I know an out-of-door cellar laid up with stone in mortar and with a cement floor, that keeps cool in hot weather without the employment of ice. It is kept well ventilated by screened windows, no vegetables are allowed to be stored therein, and a cool house possessing a double floor was erected overhead.

Food Injurious to Butter. In the spring and summer cows will often wander into low fields and swamps and eat weeds and wild plants that affect the taste of the butter, says E. P. Smith in the American Cultivator. This is sometimes a strong odor to it and again it is decidedly bitter taste. This is first noticeable in the milk and cream, and the process of churning does not eliminate the trouble. The only sure way to prevent such odors and disagreeable taste in the butter in summer is to root out all weeds and noxious plants from the pasture. If the latter is in a run down condition, where weeds thrive and grass dies, it will be pretty hard to make the food of the cows good enough to produce excellent milk and cream. It will pay better in such cases to rent more and better pasture fields and sow the one with new seed and fertilize it well. It is better to buy a better pasture than to put his arms about her, look unutterable things at her and entertained himself and his companions at the good natured creature's expense. Finally at one of the stations a man put his head in the door and asked if there was any room to be had inside the coach.

Marketing Butter. In a bulletin on dairying in California the agricultural department says, that practically all the best creamery butter sold on the Pacific coast is in squares of about two pounds each. This method of handling butter is excellent in some respects, but it is subject to criticism in two important features: First, there is now no uniformity in the weights of the squares. One creamery sends cases of 60, 1 1/2 pound squares, or 105 pounds, to Sacramento, and to the same market another creamery sends cases holding 60 squares, aggregating 101 pounds. This latter creamery also sends to San Francisco cases holding 90 squares of 93 pounds. It must be both confusing and annoying to handle squares of such varying weights and to really good reason for the practice was found. Doubtless many people who purchase butter do not notice the difference in weights, but consider all squares alike, and the seller who can shave off the most without being suspected is the gainer. Such competition is not only discreditable, but dishonest. The second criticism of the method of marketing butter relates to the packages. Eastern dealers have learned that it is more economical and satisfactory in many ways to use cheap but neat boxes for shipping, which do not have to be returned, than to use the heavy and expensive trunks or chests that were so common only a few years ago. These latter are continually being lost and broken, cause annoyance at both ends of the line and require much labor for proper cleaning (and this is too often neglected), while the cheaper packages have not these objections.

Does Coffee Agree With You. If not, drink Grain-o—Made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-o I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c and 25c.

Walking Up Stairs. A physician who declared that few people knew how to walk up stairs properly was asked to describe how it should be done. He said: "Usually a person will tread on the ball of the foot in taking each step. This is very tiresome and wearing on the muscles, and it throws the entire suspended weight of the body on the muscles of the legs and feet. You should in walking or climbing stairs seek for the most equal distribution of the body's weight possible. In walking up stairs your feet should be placed squarely down on the step, heel and all, and then the work should be performed slowly and deliberately. In this way there is no strain upon any particular muscle, but each one is doing its duty in a natural manner. The person who goes up stairs with a spring is no philosopher, or at least she is not making a proper use of her reasoning faculties. "The habit, too, of bending over half double when ascending a flight of stairs is exceedingly reprehensible. In any exertion of this kind, when the heart is naturally excited to a more rapid action, it is desirable that the lungs should have full play. The coughing and sneezing that occur with their action, the blood is imperfectly aerated, and there is trouble at once. Give the lungs a chance to do their work every where and at all times."—New York Sun.

Why There Was No Room. When he was a young man, Senator Hale of Maine, like many young men who have later on in life made their mark in the world, was not without that quality which is said to be an element of success. On one occasion Mr. Hale was riding in an old fashioned stage coach with Senator and Mrs. Frye. The only passenger was an Irishman, a man past middle life, rather comely of face, who wore enormous hoops, fashionable at that period. To amuse his fellow passengers Mr. Hale pretended to be much enamored of Biddy and would side up to her as if he were about to put his arms about her, look unutterable things at her and entertained himself and his companions at the good natured creature's expense. Finally at one of the stations a man put his head in the door and asked if there was any room to be had inside the coach.

A Row at the Show. The lord mayor's show is an annual theme for the newspapers. Very little can be said about it that has not been said again and again. It costs about 22,000, the banquet for 23,000. The show has sunk during the century to borrowing some of its splendor from the "property man." Thereby hangs a tale. A certain lord mayor hired from the Surrey theater two suits of armor, brass and steel, with a couple of armorers to go inside them. The manager of the Surrey stipulated, by the way, that the steel armor should not be used if the day be a wet or a foggy one. After the show the armorers were taken to the Guildhall, remaining there several hours without food. No one, it appears, was able to rid them of their ironmongery. Who was given them, and the man who had been intoxicated. The bystanders, thinking if he fell about that he would injure others as well as himself, tried to eject him. But he showed fight, and to add to their further dismay, his companion in arms joined him. They were overcome at last only by sheer weight of numbers. Then the maker of the armor was sent for. He eventually succeeded in freeing the men, who were in danger of being stifled by the weight of their equipment.—Good Words.

Chimneys Cleaned. I have got a patent device for cleaning chimneys. If you want yours cleaned, have orders sent me at Beth Brown's or Graham & Son's. I also do all kinds of painting and walling, build chimneys and clean them and do repairs. All work warranted to give satisfaction. JOHN TOWLER, 51.

Horses Wanted. A few good horses for eastern markets, must be sound and in good condition. Enquire at my place on Union street in Manchester. JOHN ROBINSON, 52.

Home-seekers' Excursion Tickets. To nearly all points in the United States on sale at all ticket offices of the Chicago Great Western Railway on the first and third Tuesdays of May and June at the very low home-seekers' rate of one fare plus $2.00 for the round trip. Tickets good for return within 21 days from date of sale. Persons contemplating a trip will save money by calling on any agent of the Chicago Great Western R. Y. and obtaining detail of information regarding the home-seekers' rates or addressing F. H. Lord, G. P. & T. A., 113 Adams St., Chicago, 17c.

HURRAH FOR HARRISON & SMITH First-class Horse Shoers. Also PLOW WORK and GENERAL REPAIRING. PRICES RIGHT! CALL AND SEE US! At foot of Franklin street.

AUSTIN D. BROWN We have just received a large and complete line of Spring Furniture of the latest patterns and styles, which we invite you to call and inspect. We call especial attention to our large and complete line of Couches MADE on honor--to last--for comfort.

BROWN The FURNITURE MAN... Should be practiced in every household. Do you use Quaker Mill Flour? If not have you ever stopped to consider that you can save 10c to 15c per sack by so doing. By buying home flour you not only save the freight, but you get good flour also. Every sack of QUAKER MILL FLOUR is guaranteed to be equal to anything on the market—with no exceptions. Try it and get your money back if it does not please you. The genuine has "A Quaker on every Sack" Quaker Mill COMPANY.

ESTABLISHED 1851 MORE BEST PREPARED PAINT MADE BY HEATH & MILLIGAN Mr. G. Co., IS SOLD THAN ANY OTHER MIXED PAINT THAT IS DECAVE IT IS THE BEST. FOR SALE BY ANDERS CENTRAL PHARMACY & PHILIPP

Housecleaning Hints Housecleaning is hard enough without making it needlessly hard. Use borax or ammonia in cleaning woodwork or windows and you lighten the labor and get better results. While you're at it there are many little things that can be improved in appearance. Furniture can be polished, dingy spots painted, stained or varnished. We have paints, stains, etc., all ready for the brush and put up in handy little cans. Everything made bright and new by the use of these little things that cost so little.

W. A. ABBOTT THE LEADING DRUGGIST. Juvenile Base Ball Goods, Official League Balls, Bats, Mitts and Gloves.

SPORTING GOODS The Excelsior Laundry Re-opened I have re-opened my laundry on Main street and am prepared to turn out strictly FIRST-CLASS WORK Your patronage is earnestly solicited. The wagon will collect and deliver bundles regularly. Orders may be left at the postoffice newstand. Give me a share of your work. FRED ELLIS, PROPRIETOR

O. K. BARBER SHOP. GIVE ME A CALL! SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. First door south of Cooley's Grocery. PETER DRESS PROPRIETOR.