A new man strolled into a grocery store in Clam, according to the Clarion, and asked if he could rest for four or five hours. The proprietor, who had just found a nest of new mice in a coffee grinder, told him he could and asked him why he didn't go to a hotel. The man replied: "I am suffering from nervous prostration, and the doctor said to get a quiet place to rest. I see you don't advertise. I knew that I could not find a better place." And with that he sat back in his chair and watched the swallows build a nest in the cheese case.—Garrison Independent.

The prairie chicken crop will be a big one according to all accounts, the dry weather having been just the kind needed to cause the birds to multiply. There is a better observation of the law regarding shooting out of season than in previous years, which also add to the prospects of good sport when the season arrives. Local sportsmen who heretofore have been in the habit of getting after the birds during the month of August have been warned that it will not be safe for them to attempt it this year, and they are laying low as a consequence.—Waverly Democrat.

Mr. Ed Luthers came in from Manchester to visit with his parents, says the Manchester & Oelwein railway which is about eight miles long, and which was opened for traffic on the 4th of July, is doing a good business. A Milwaukee engine and cars are being used, and it is inferred from this fact that the Milwaukee will operate the line. It runs through Onida as does the Great Western. Mr. Luthers says that an accommodation train runs daily between Manchester and Onida, and is already doing a good freight and passenger business. The sound of the whistle is heard on the summit prior to between the two Delaware county towns, and the farmers in the fields wave their hats as the train goes by. It is said that the fireman, besides his regular work of shoveling coal, acts as brakeman and conductor.—Dubuque Times. The above is true, except that the road was not opened for traffic July 4th; C. M. & St. P. is not, nor will not operate the line, and the firman does not act as brakeman and conductor.

Hon. Tom Way, who has been busy with politics, has not forgotten how to play a practical joke, and recently his partner, Tom Potter, was the victim. Potter lives in Britt, and is Ben Brumel of estray. When the warm weather began to stir up waves of heat, Col. Potter decided to show the society folk of Britt how to dress. He ordered an immaculate suit of white, with shirt waists and neat fitting trousers with all the accessories to make one feel that he had just eaten a dish of ice cream when he glanced at Colonel Potter. The big chief of the Commission boom decided to show Colonel Potter that there were others in town who also knew what the right styles were, and while Colonel Tom Potter was waiting for his suit to arrive Colonel Tom Way saw the same out-fitter of summer wear, and he placed an order for the same kind of a suit to fit a big happy-faced colored gentleman who lives in Britt. Colonel Way had planned his campaign so well that when Colonel Potter drifted his immaculate suit and was the pride of the village, about ten minutes later the open-countenance darkey followed in exactly the same rig, and then there was grief. As soon as the apparition in black was seen by Colonel Potter he took the shortest cut to his domicile, and disrobed of his habiliments with all their accessories and presented them to another colored gentleman, so that while Britt may not boast of a new court house, she yet has, be it known to the world, two illustrious descendants of Ham who are the best dressed in the state of Iowa.—Cedar Rapids Republican.

The body was brought to Delaware where the funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

The board of directors of the M. & O. railway held a regular monthly meeting in the council room last Wednesday evening, and transacted the following business: John L. Sullivan, of Cedar Falls, was elected general traffic manager for the ensuing year, and Joseph Hutchinson, maintenance of way manager for the same period of time. The following directors were then elected to the offices alluded to their names, to serve the first year without salary: C. A. Peterson, assistant general traffic manager; W. N. Wolcott, general freight agent; E. H. Hoyt, general passenger agent; W. A. Abbott, train master. On motion of Director Hutchinson a resolution prevailed authorizing the issuance of two tickets, good for a trip from Manchester to Onida and return, to each voter residing in this city, male and female, such tickets to be used on or before Sept. 7th, 1901. The object of the directors in providing for the disposal of so many tickets was to give each citizen of Manchester one free ride on the new road. Another motion prevailed charging Mr. Hutchinson with the duty of distributing the tickets provided for in his motion. No better man than Mr. Hutchinson could have been selected to care for and keep up the company's property, and Mr. Sullivan has the reputation of being the best all-round railroad man in this part of the state. Helped as he will be by his energetic corps of young, active assistants, and upheld by the officers and directors of the company, it does seem as though the new enterprise was commencing business under bright skies.

The Iowa crop bulletin for the week ending August 12 says: "The temperature of the past week was about normal, with increased humidity of the air, and fairly well distributed showers that came in a manner to be very beneficial to all growing crops. Drouthy conditions of some severity still prevail in a number of counties in the southeastern and east central districts, but in the larger part of the state the supply of moisture has been ample to cause considerable improvement in pastures, late corn, potatoes and gardens. Reports indicate that late corn has eared sufficiently to give promise of a better yield than has been anticipated if September is normally fair and frostless. The early planted portion of the crop is greatly damaged, and the ears generally show defective fertilization. The crop as a whole will be very valuable in quality of the fodder and grain that matures, and much more than the usual acreage will be harvested with binders.

Following are the estimates of crop reporters as to average condition of crops: Corn 55 per cent; spring wheat 84; oats 75; barley 83; flax 74; millet 62; potatoes 34; pastures 40; grapes 70. The threshing returns thus far received indicate that the oats crop is generally better than the estimates made August 1st.

Webster City Va. Manchester.

FRIDAY'S GAME.

The Webster City base ball tossers went after the scalps of the local players at the ball park in this city last Friday and got them, the score standing 10 to 3. Webster City clearly out played the home team having the best of it all through the game. Tommy Cole whose home is at Edgewood was in the box for the visitors and pitched a good game while Klaus did equally as well for the home team but his support was decidedly weak at some stages in the game, several over-throws being made by the home team that brought in runs for the visitors.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Saturday's game was a repetition of Friday's game the score standing 10 to 3. The Manchester team was shut out until the ninth inning when three runs were scored. Platt Brush was in the box for the locals, and had he had any kind of support would have held the visitors down to a closer score.

IOWA MAY REJECT BRYAN

Significant Action Taken by the Democratic State Committee.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 12.—Most of the members of the Democratic state central committee met here and unanimously passed a resolution endorsing State Chairman H. H. Hutton, who had been attacked by a resolution referred to the state committee by the Polk county Democratic convention. E. M. Sharon, temporary chairman of the state convention, Aug. 21, submitted his address to the committee, and it was endorsed, although it mentions neither Bryan nor the state convention. The action of the committee on Chairman Hutton and the speech are indicative of following the Ohio plan of running the state convention. The committee declined to discuss candidates for governor, but Cato Sells of Vinton is most prominent.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West.

Pawnee Bill and his gathering of hero horsemen from many climes are coming here with their splendid exhibition. All the stringing scenes will be enacted by genuine Indians, Cowboys, Cossacks, Mexicans, Australians, Bushmen, Arabs, Gauchos and natives from many lands. The attractions from the foreign armies, together will give a grand military review. Over a thousand men and horses are employed.

Not the least of the strong attractions are the sharpshooting contests in which May Lillie, the champion woman shot, figures prominently. During the performance the spectators will see actors in the foreign armies, together will give a grand military review. Over a thousand men and horses are employed.

The show itself has so many good features that it is hard to particularize them. There is so much that is instructive and novel in the entertainment and so attractive that an afternoon or evening passed in the company of Pawnee Bill and his associates should prove alike agreeable to young and old.

Major Gordon W. Lillis is better known the world over now as "Pawnee Bill." This sobriquet he earned by serving the government during the war. Pawnee and by having been chosen by that band of warriors and useful nation as its own white chief and interpreter.

A new and added feature is the juvenile wild west for the children, Indian, Arab, Cossack and Western boys and girls participate.
