Miss Glissendorf was elected teacher of music and Miss Florence Atwater teacher of the primary grade in North Manchester at a salary of $35.

The crop bulletin for the week ending May 5th, says: "The past week was warmer than usual, the daily excess of temperature ranging from six to seven degrees. The rainfall was unequally distributed, the heavier amounts being reported at stations in the northern and central sections; but generally the moisture has been sufficient to promote germination of seed and vigorous growth of grass, grain and garden truck. Except where farming operations were delayed by heavy rainfall, the work of preparing ground and planting corn has been in progress. In portions of the southern section a considerable part of the corn area has been planted, and germination in early planted fields has been satisfactory. The pastures and meadows show very marked improvement, and the general crop outlook is now quite promising. Reports received by the Secretary of the Horticultural Society indicate good prospects for apples, plums and cherries, but the condition of small fruit is below normal. Farm animals are generally healthy, and the spring pig crop is better than in recent years.

Honkomp-Kramer.

John Kramer and Miss Anna Honkomp were united in marriage on Tuesday morning, April 29, in St. Francis church in this city, by Rev. Father Knaepple. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock, followed by nuptial mass. Quite a large number of relatives and friends were at the church to witness the event. After the services were concluded a substantial wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's brother, William Kramer, on the west side. Later in the day they drove out to the home of the groom, where a reception was held which was attended by a large number of invited guests. Bounteous refreshments were served. The groom is well and favorably known to all our people. He is progressive and is considered a model young man. He is a son of Mrs. Anton Kramer and was born on their present farm. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Honkomp, who live near New Vienna. She is a young woman well liked and much admired by all and she will make a good wife for the man of her choice. May their life be happy and prosperous is the sincere wish of their many friends. -Dyersville News Letter.

The Carnegie Library Assured

City Council Votes Unanimously for its Support and for the Franklin Street Site.

At the meeting of the city council held Monday evening, the Library Committee, consisting of Rev. H. W. Tuttle, Judge Blair, L. Matthews, G. G. Pierce and W. D. Hoyt, reported that they had unanimously agreed upon what is known as the Glover property on Franklin street, as the best site for the library building, that they had taken Mr. Thorpe's written agreement, good until July 1st, that he would sell the property for library purposes for $2,300 and that they had procured subscription pledges sufficient to pay for the lot and several hundred dollars more which could be used for other library purposes. Mr. Tuttle, in his report for the committee, briefly and forcibly reviewed what has already been done in connection with the undertaking.

The mayor and all the members of the council were present, and the following record of the proceedings, by City Clerk Robinson, shows the action that was taken:

Mr. H. W. Tuttle as chairman of the committee appointed at a citizens' meeting held in the council room, April 18th, 1902, to select a site for the proposed Carnegie Library, and to collect the necessary funds for the purchase of the same, reported that the committee had selected as such library site Lots 25 and 27 in Manchester, Iowa, situated on the west side of Franklin street, and known as the Glover property, and that the committee held an option in writing, good until July 1st, 1902, for the purchase of this property at the agreed price of twenty-three hundred dollars.

Mr. Tuttle further reported that the necessary funds for the purchase of this site had been subscribed.

That the valid and binding subscriptions now in the hands of the committee amounted to a sum sufficient to pay for said site and, in addition thereto, to leave a few hundred dollars as the basis of a contingent fund to be used by the city in the preparation of said site, and in the maintenance of said proposed library.

Mr. Tuttle then, on behalf of his committee, tendered to the city said site, and the balance of the subscribed funds in their possession, after the payment of the purchase price of said property; subject only to the condition that said Carnegie Free Public Library should be built as proposed.

Councilman Hoyt then offered the following resolution:

Whereas, the Honorable Andrew Carnegie has offered, under certain conditions, to erect a Free Public Library at a cost of Ten Thousand Dollars in Manchester, Iowa, which offer, made in writing through our townsman, Judge Edward P. Seeds, now temporarily residing in Washington, D. C., is as follows:

Hon. E. P. Seeds, Washington, D. C., War Dept., Washington, D. C., Dear Sir: -Responding to your communications: -If the city of Manchester, Iowa, pledges itself by resolution of Council to support a Free Public Library at cost of not less than One Thousand Dollars a year, and provides a suitable site, Mr. Carnegie will be glad to furnish Ten Thousand Dollars for the erection of a Free Public Library Building.

Respectfully yours, JAS. BEYERMAN, P. Sec.

And, whereas, a suitable site 115x132 feet, facing respectively on Franklin and Butler streets, (Lots 25 and 27) has been secured upon which to erect said library building, and

Whereas, by the terms of said offer, it is necessary to provide for the permanent maintenance and support of said library, therefore

Be it resolved: That the said city of Manchester, Iowa, recognizing the generous offer of the great industrial leader, the Honorable Andrew Carnegie, one who is doing so much for the cause of general education, and the spread of knowledge throughout the world, and fully appreciating the great benefits that will be derived from the establishment of the proposed Carnegie Free Public Library, hereby pledges and binds itself, by this act of its legally constituted Council, to appropriate annually for the support and maintenance of such library, (should the same be built), a sum not less than one thousand dollars.

After the presentation of said resolution, and the reading of the same, Councilman Brown moved that the rules requiring the reading of resolutions on three separate days be waived and dispensed with for the purpose of taking final action upon the matter of the resolution relating to the proposed public library at this time. Ayes, Councilmen Davis, Adams, Darcy, Hoyt, Brown and Storey. Nays, none. The said rules were declared duly suspended by the mayor.

Councilman Brown then moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution concerning the location and financial support by the city of the said Free Public Library.

The mayor then ordered the roll to be called on the motion to adopt said resolution, which vote resulted as follows: For the resolution, Councilmen Storey, Brown, Hoyt, Darcy, Adams and Davis. Against the resolution, none.

The mayor then declared the resolution unanimously adopted. The city council then, by resolution, requested the Library Committee to continue its work, and as far as possible represent the city in all future action necessary for the completion of the library building.

John Henser.

John Henser, son of M. and Soph a Henser was born in the province of Bavaria, Germany, October 15th, 1817. He was married to Barbara Goodyear, May 17, 1845. Soon after his marriage he came to America, landed at New York and resided on Long Island two years, when he moved to Rock county, Wisconsin. He engaged in farming there until the fall of 1851, when he came to Clayton county, Iowa, and settled on a farm in Lodoonville township where he lived until his death, with the exception of about four years residence in Edgewood. He died April 25th, 1902, aged 84 years, 6 months and 10 days.

In the year 1867, Mr. Henser's companion was separated from him by death. Their family consisted of eight children one of whom died in infancy and one, Barbara, the wife of George Hoyer died several years ago. The remaining six children are Andrew and Margaret, wife of Mr. E. Blair, both of Manchester, John Henser Jr., of Strawberry Point, Sophia, wife of L. S. Fisher residing near Edgewood and Chas. F. of Edgewood, and Maria, wife of L. D. Zarhard, living at the old homestead.

Mr. Henser was devoted in his family relations and a kind friend and neighbor. By honest industry and frugal enterprise he secured a goodly portion of this world's goods. He was patient in his sufferings yet anxious to lay aside the earthly life.

The funeral services were held at his late residence, Sunday, April 27, and were conducted by Rev. C. H. True who preached from the text: "What is your life?" Rev. N. W. Bixby assisted in the exercises by offering prayer and making appropriate remarks. The singing was furnished by the male quartette from Edgewood. A large circle of relatives were gathered about the casket which held the remains of one so dear to them, of one whose last wishes had been given.

Many neighbors and friends were in attendance not only to show their respect for the dead but also their sympathy for the living, to which feelings a large collection of rare flowers gave beautiful expression. One of Nature's choice days and all that friends could do made the exercises as cheering and comforting as possible. The burial and concluding rites were at the Strawberry Point cemetery - Mall-Press.

Chicago, May 2. -Yesterday's strikes were numerous all over the country, and in the aggregate included a large number of men. But taken separately, except at Pittsburgh and a few other places, there was nothing exceptional about them. At Pittsburgh 12,000 were to strike, but only 6,000 had to quit as the employers surrendered as to the other 6,000. At Philadelphia perhaps 1,000 struck. In New England there were numerous strikes and those of the American Woolen company extended until there was 20,000 persons involved.

There were strikes of from 100 to perhaps 2,000 men at Utica and Albany, N. Y.; Attoona, Pa.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Youngstown, O.; Cleveland, O.; Paterson, N. J.; Reading, Washington and Sharon, Pa.; Perth Amboy, Elizabeth and Bloomfield, N. J. There seems to have been more strikes east than west.

The day in Europe was quiet, no serious disturbances being reported.
