

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

For Governor, J. B. SULLIVAN, Union County. For Lieutenant Governor, JOHN B. BUTLER, Iowa County. For Judge Supreme Court, JOHN R. CALDWELL, Tama County. For Sup't. Public Instruction, A. R. MCCOOK, Howard County. For Railroad Commissioner, W. S. FORTER, Hardin County.

COUNTY TICKET

For Representative, CHAS. C. BARRY, Prairie Township. For Treasurer, WM. KASTEL, Milo Township. For Sheriff, T. J. HENNESSEY, Delaware Township. For Supervisor, JOHN REILLY, Adams Township. For Coroner, DR. J. W. SCOTT, Delaware Township.

Pope Leo XIII.

It is quite probable that not one of the 263 sovereign pontiffs, who have ruled in Rome since the days of St. Peter A. D. 41-67, was as generally respected by the people of all nations and all religions as Leo XIII. Other popes have been greater theologians, greater orators, greater diplomats, but none have been more kind, more just, more Christlike. The old church that has survived empires, states and civilizations will be fortunate indeed if it secures another pontiff at all comparable with good Pope Leo.

To the Commoner, Mr. Rockefeller says that whenever he wants anything he prays for it. This recalls the story of the darkey who prayed for a Thanksgiving turkey, but in vain. Then he prayed that he might be sent out to get a turkey, and there were feathers in his backyard before sun-up.

We opine there is more truth than poetry in the following from the Mapson Journal, one of the leading republican news-papers of the State: "The departments at Washington are today filled with men who have not been able to do an honest day's work in years, yet they hold their jobs, draw their pay and make some subordinate do the work. To make matters worse, these men are mostly in the highest classes and are drawing the largest pay. The same thing goes on regardless of who is at the head of the department."

The Iowa City Republican, heretofore a truly loyal republican organ, now, like many other of its party newspapers in this state, is not in accord with the stand-patter-trust protecting corporation-serving, faction of its party.

Referring to the recent action of the state executive council in obeying the dictation of the railroad corporations, it charges that: "In order to have an excuse to put a few millions upon the railway assessment valuation, the state executive council has caused an increase of over $20,000,000 to be made on farm valuations. This means an increase of over six millions in farmers' taxes, while the railways will not have any material increase, certainly not one of like proportions. Iowa now has an overcast of reform, and it is time to have a ray made of such outrages as the one now being perpetrated on the land owners of Iowa."

The Louisville Herald says that: "People quit growing old at 40 half a century ago. They quit it when they ceased thinking themselves old at 40, ceased dressing old at 40, not to speak of drinking themselves old at 40. The young man of 50 or 60 now wears the natty sack tweeds or serge, that his son or grandson wears, tipped off with a jaunty hat. He goes to baseball, the races, he keeps up with the procession, and is all in for a good time in moderation healthfully. The young woman with him in white or colors, with the gay hat, who has the manners of a youthful but self-respecting girl of 20 in the last century, is his wife, perhaps a grandmother, but none the less young and happy. They feel young, they dress young, they believe themselves young—by the great Horned Spoon, they are young."

Among Manchester visitors last week was David Williamson, one of the best known of English journalists and who has been for many years a member of the staff of the London Daily Chronicle. In a conversation with the writer Mr. Williamson expressed the confident belief that at the next election, not about six months distant, the Gladstone ministry will be overthrown—Manchester Press.

In view of the fact that Mr. Gladstone died a natural death and his remains were duly entombed several years ago, it is not at all likely or probable that "Mr. Williamson, one of the best known of English journalists," told the editor of the Press, it was his belief that at the next election in England, "now about six months distant" the Gladstone ministry will be overthrown. If he did tell you that, he was "coddling" you, boy, and toying with your ignorance. If the editor of the Press would take half of the time that he devotes trying to boost Governor Cummins into the United States senate, and apply it assiduously, and under a competent instructor, in becoming informed of the current news of the day, he might, in the course of time, how long dependent saith not, become so enlightened as to avoid, in a measure, making such blunders as he is continually making. Confine yourself, young man, to boosting Cummins as aforesaid and lauding the trusts, and no matter what foolish and ridiculous things you may say regarding them, you will not thereby bring the blush of shame to your well wishers, because they have long ago become calloused to your chattering on those subjects.

MEETING OF IOWA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Iowa State Bar Association, held in Des Moines last Thursday and Friday, was the best attended and most satisfactory meeting in the history of the Association.

The annual address delivered by Associate Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, was worth going hundreds of miles to hear. While many did not agree with some of the views expressed by the eminent jurist, all who heard him were willing to admit, that taken as a whole his address would rank among the very few grand orations, which a person would be apt to hear in a lifetime.

Our space will not admit of a report of the session, or even a mention of its principal features, for we have decided to make room for a response to a toast by Hon. M. F. Healy, of Fort Dodge, which touched the hearts of the more than two hundred lawyers who gathered around the banquet tables at the Savery Thursday evening.

Response by Hon. M. F. Healy.

MR. TOASTMASTER AND GENTLEMEN:—It was Finley Dunne, speaking as Mr. Dooley, who said that at all well regulated banquets there were two toasts always on the list as a matter of course, "The Day We Celebrate" and "The Ladies, God Bless Them!" On this occasion, with no ladies here and where I can speak with comparative freedom, I feel like saying "God help us trying to get along without them!" Were it not for the ladies there would be but few of us here—and as a matter of fact we are a lonely looking crowd in their absence—How beautiful it would be, were this room lighted up by the sparkle in woman's eye and this stubble field of wrinkled faces, whiskers and bald heads brightened by the color of lovely gowns and our innocent jokes greeted by smiles of women's cheerful laughter.

It was Walter Scott who sang—"Oh Woman! in our hours of ease, Incomparable, coy and hard to please, And variable as the shade, By the light quivering aspen made; When pain and anguish wring the brow, A ministering angel, thou!"

The ladies! mother, sister, wife, daughter, all these in life's changing scenes hang around us like an angel's benediction.

I pity the man who has never known the pure and holy love of sister—Some of the sweetest recollections of happy childhood are lost to him forever, and he can never feel the joy of his boyhood's happy dreaming of what he was going to do for his sister—in his childish griefs and sorrows that seemed to him so heavy, he has never known the gentle touch and loving kiss of a little sister's sympathy as she begs him not to cry, and she would help him back to grace in the affections of the parent who was lovingly severe.

It was Shelley who said, "Our sincerest laughter with some pain is fraught; Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought."

In this vein we speak of our mothers—Twenty years ago I saw a great audience in a Boston theatre lushed and then break into tears and sobs, as an actor hugged an urn to his bosom and sang "Tis a handful of earth, from the land of my birth, from the grave where my dear mother lies." Who forgets the love of mother? It is the love that never dies, but when mother dies, goes quickening and pulsating into Heaven, there to plead for the erring or misguided son—A mother's love is lessened by no folly, is secured by no crime, but is sweetened by misfortunes, made more sacred by afflictions, and when it seems that all is lost and the overwhelming load will beat one down forever, then side by side with loyal wife, is holy mother's love to breast the storms, beat back the waves and give consolation and undying support when all else has withered and died.

Lift up your hearts, and there amid the darkness of sun and the quaking of earth in the majestic tragedy of Calvary, see the Mother at the foot of the cross, faithful, yes, faithful and changeless unto death.

No man ever felt nor can he feel the priceless wealth of a mother's love, unless he has known the fullness of the mystery of life, and has received from the arms of wife the crown of manhood, fatherhood, when his lips first touch his first born child.

Our wives! Blessed are they for what they have done for us! But what of him who has no wife? Are you like the boastful Benedict described by Shakespeare in the delightful comedy that has kept millions smiling for more than two hundred years—"If I marry, hang me up in a bottle, like a cat, and shoot at me." Beware his fate and surrender to the nimble witted Beatrice—"When I said I would die a bachelor, I did not think I would live till I were married."

Do you answer you are too poor? Let the answer come from Elliot, the corn law rhymer: "Loves' noblest temple is the poor man's cot." True happiness is more often found in the modest homes of the worthy poor than in the mansions of the rich, with their closets filled with the hideous skeletons of disappointments, unhappiness, jealousy and plans gone all awry.

Another answer that he now has all the burdens he can bear, and he does not wish wife nor child to bear any of them—We reply that in nine cases out of ten, the burdens of failures, temptations and perhaps of intended crimes, are softened and lifted by the love light in the eyes of wife and the innocent prattle and holy laughter of happy childhood—these are the great medicines for care, disappointment and trouble.

DEATH COMES AT LAST

Pope Leo XIII Crosses the River That Divides Life from Eternity.

DEMISE OCCURRED AT 4:04 P. M.

He began Sinking in the Early Hours of Sunday Morning—Whole Day Spent in One of Coma.

Rome, July 20.—It is officially announced that Pope Leo died at 4:04 p. m. He had a sinking spell at about noon and remained unconscious up to the time of his death.

Rome, July 20, 3:35 a. m.—Now that the supreme last moment in the life and reign of Pope Leo is expected almost hourly the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast palace there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent wakeful souls being the Swiss guards. The doctors and attendants of the dying pontiff speak in whispers, and move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious pope, or his occasional cries for Pio Centra and Dr. Lippini. His tone is one of fear, as though he felt himself abandoned.

Vigilance Outside the Vatican. In the piazza of St. Peter's, on the contrary, all his movement, there being a regular encampment of journalists before the famous bronze doors, which are now closed in their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Swiss guards can be heard. Many eyes are glued to the window in the pope's chamber overlooking the piazza, while the nearby cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them.

Vatican Organ Awaits the End. The Osservatore Romano, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at a moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper for the hour of Pope Leo's death, the staffs of all the other papers are at their posts, ready to issue special editions at any hour of the night.

CHIEF ARTHUR DROPS DEAD

While speaking at a Banquet the Head of the Locomotive Engineers Is Summoned.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—P. M. Arthur, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead while speaking at the banquet closing the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in session for the past few days.

Arthur had just arisen to respond to a toast, and repeated the words: "It may be my parting words to many of you," when he fell backwards and expired a few minutes afterwards.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—The Associated Press bulletin was the information that Mrs. Arthur had of her husband's death. She was too much distressed to make any statement.

BRYAN ATTACKS CLEVELAND

At a Pledge Given by Chicago Democracy—Ex-Ball Player Anon Held the Parade on Horseback.

Chicago, July 20.—William J. Bryan was the principal speaker at the pledge of the local Democracy. Bryan referred in vigorous terms to the last administration of Grover Cleveland, declaring that it had been a lodestone around the neck of the party that elected him, and making other references equally uncompromising to the former president. The pledge was attended by several thousand local Democrats and Bryan's address was frequently interrupted by vigorous applause.

Preceding the pledge a parade was held through the streets leading to the ground. Adrian C. Anson, the former ball player, rode at the head of the Democratic Marching club, and was the recipient of about as much attention as any of the distinguished gentlemen who followed him in carriages.

RUSSIA WILL NOT RECEIVE

Nor Consider the Proposed Petition Relative to the Kischeneff Atrocity—This Session Omitted.

Washington, July 17.—It is learned that the state department has received a reply from Russia stating that it neither will receive nor consider the matter of the Jewish petition on the subject of the Kischeneff incident. This information came in the form of a cablegram from Riddell, the United States charge at St. Petersburg, to whom was committed the delicate task of inquiring of the Russian government as to its attitude with respect to the presentation of the petition.

It is believed that this will end the matter, and that no further steps will be taken by this government to bring the views of the petitioners to the attention of Russia, although as yet no consideration has been given by the president to the course to be pursued in the light of Russia's response to our inquiry.

BREWER DEFENDS INJUNCTIONS

Says That the Cry Against Their Use Will Die Out, and the Power Should Be Enlarged.

Des Moines, Ia., July 20.—Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States supreme court, addressing the Iowa State Bar association here, defended the power of equitable injunction and its exercise by the federal courts, and

DEATH COMES AT LAST

Pope Leo XIII Crosses the River That Divides Life from Eternity.

DEMISE OCCURRED AT 4:04 P. M.

He began Sinking in the Early Hours of Sunday Morning—Whole Day Spent in One of Coma.

Rome, July 20.—It is officially announced that Pope Leo died at 4:04 p. m. He had a sinking spell at about noon and remained unconscious up to the time of his death.

Rome, July 20, 3:35 a. m.—Now that the supreme last moment in the life and reign of Pope Leo is expected almost hourly the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast palace there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent wakeful souls being the Swiss guards. The doctors and attendants of the dying pontiff speak in whispers, and move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious pope, or his occasional cries for Pio Centra and Dr. Lippini. His tone is one of fear, as though he felt himself abandoned.

Vigilance Outside the Vatican. In the piazza of St. Peter's, on the contrary, all his movement, there being a regular encampment of journalists before the famous bronze doors, which are now closed in their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Swiss guards can be heard. Many eyes are glued to the window in the pope's chamber overlooking the piazza, while the nearby cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them.

Vatican Organ Awaits the End. The Osservatore Romano, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at a moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper for the hour of Pope Leo's death, the staffs of all the other papers are at their posts, ready to issue special editions at any hour of the night.

CHIEF ARTHUR DROPS DEAD

While speaking at a Banquet the Head of the Locomotive Engineers Is Summoned.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—P. M. Arthur, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead while speaking at the banquet closing the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in session for the past few days.

Arthur had just arisen to respond to a toast, and repeated the words: "It may be my parting words to many of you," when he fell backwards and expired a few minutes afterwards.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—The Associated Press bulletin was the information that Mrs. Arthur had of her husband's death. She was too much distressed to make any statement.

BRYAN ATTACKS CLEVELAND

At a Pledge Given by Chicago Democracy—Ex-Ball Player Anon Held the Parade on Horseback.

Chicago, July 20.—William J. Bryan was the principal speaker at the pledge of the local Democracy. Bryan referred in vigorous terms to the last administration of Grover Cleveland, declaring that it had been a lodestone around the neck of the party that elected him, and making other references equally uncompromising to the former president. The pledge was attended by several thousand local Democrats and Bryan's address was frequently interrupted by vigorous applause.

Preceding the pledge a parade was held through the streets leading to the ground. Adrian C. Anson, the former ball player, rode at the head of the Democratic Marching club, and was the recipient of about as much attention as any of the distinguished gentlemen who followed him in carriages.

RUSSIA WILL NOT RECEIVE

Nor Consider the Proposed Petition Relative to the Kischeneff Atrocity—This Session Omitted.

Washington, July 17.—It is learned that the state department has received a reply from Russia stating that it neither will receive nor consider the matter of the Jewish petition on the subject of the Kischeneff incident. This information came in the form of a cablegram from Riddell, the United States charge at St. Petersburg, to whom was committed the delicate task of inquiring of the Russian government as to its attitude with respect to the presentation of the petition.

It is believed that this will end the matter, and that no further steps will be taken by this government to bring the views of the petitioners to the attention of Russia, although as yet no consideration has been given by the president to the course to be pursued in the light of Russia's response to our inquiry.

BREWER DEFENDS INJUNCTIONS

Says That the Cry Against Their Use Will Die Out, and the Power Should Be Enlarged.

Des Moines, Ia., July 20.—Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States supreme court, addressing the Iowa State Bar association here, defended the power of equitable injunction and its exercise by the federal courts, and

DEATH COMES AT LAST

Pope Leo XIII Crosses the River That Divides Life from Eternity.

DEMISE OCCURRED AT 4:04 P. M.

He began Sinking in the Early Hours of Sunday Morning—Whole Day Spent in One of Coma.

Rome, July 20.—It is officially announced that Pope Leo died at 4:04 p. m. He had a sinking spell at about noon and remained unconscious up to the time of his death.

Rome, July 20, 3:35 a. m.—Now that the supreme last moment in the life and reign of Pope Leo is expected almost hourly the contrast between the quiet within and the excitement without the Vatican is most striking. In the vast palace there is a hushed calm of expectation, the only apparent wakeful souls being the Swiss guards. The doctors and attendants of the dying pontiff speak in whispers, and move noiselessly about, so that from the sick room no sound comes except the heavy breathing of the unconscious pope, or his occasional cries for Pio Centra and Dr. Lippini. His tone is one of fear, as though he felt himself abandoned.

Vigilance Outside the Vatican. In the piazza of St. Peter's, on the contrary, all his movement, there being a regular encampment of journalists before the famous bronze doors, which are now closed in their faces, and behind which the regular tramp of the Swiss guards can be heard. Many eyes are glued to the window in the pope's chamber overlooking the piazza, while the nearby cafes, especially those with telephones, are crowded. Bicycles ready for use are piled up outside them.

Vatican Organ Awaits the End. The Osservatore Romano, the chief Vatican organ, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to issue almost at a moment's notice a special edition. The only thing wanting to complete the paper for the hour of Pope Leo's death, the staffs of all the other papers are at their posts, ready to issue special editions at any hour of the night.

CHIEF ARTHUR DROPS DEAD

While speaking at a Banquet the Head of the Locomotive Engineers Is Summoned.

Winnipeg, Man., July 17.—P. M. Arthur, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, dropped dead while speaking at the banquet closing the annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in session for the past few days.

Arthur had just arisen to respond to a toast, and repeated the words: "It may be my parting words to many of you," when he fell backwards and expired a few minutes afterwards.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—The Associated Press bulletin was the information that Mrs. Arthur had of her husband's death. She was too much distressed to make any statement.

BRYAN ATTACKS CLEVELAND

At a Pledge Given by Chicago Democracy—Ex-Ball Player Anon Held the Parade on Horseback.

Chicago, July 20.—William J. Bryan was the principal speaker at the pledge of the local Democracy. Bryan referred in vigorous terms to the last administration of Grover Cleveland, declaring that it had been a lodestone around the neck of the party that elected him, and making other references equally uncompromising to the former president. The pledge was attended by several thousand local Democrats and Bryan's address was frequently interrupted by vigorous applause.

Preceding the pledge a parade was held through the streets leading to the ground. Adrian C. Anson, the former ball player, rode at the head of the Democratic Marching club, and was the recipient of about as much attention as any of the distinguished gentlemen who followed him in carriages.

RUSSIA WILL NOT RECEIVE

Nor Consider the Proposed Petition Relative to the Kischeneff Atrocity—This Session Omitted.

Washington, July 17.—It is learned that the state department has received a reply from Russia stating that it neither will receive nor consider the matter of the Jewish petition on the subject of the Kischeneff incident. This information came in the form of a cablegram from Riddell, the United States charge at St. Petersburg, to whom was committed the delicate task of inquiring of the Russian government as to its attitude with respect to the presentation of the petition.

It is believed that this will end the matter, and that no further steps will be taken by this government to bring the views of the petitioners to the attention of Russia, although as yet no consideration has been given by the president to the course to be pursued in the light of Russia's response to our inquiry.

BREWER DEFENDS INJUNCTIONS

Says That the Cry Against Their Use Will Die Out, and the Power Should Be Enlarged.

Des Moines, Ia., July 20.—Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States supreme court, addressing the Iowa State Bar association here, defended the power of equitable injunction and its exercise by the federal courts, and MANCHESTER MARKETS.

Table with market prices for various goods like Hogs, Steers, Cattle, etc.

SEPARATOR FOR SALE.

A United States Separator No 9 for sale. Has been used a little but is as good as new. Inquire at this office.

Dr. Wilbert Shallenberger.

The Regular and Reliable Chicago Specialist will be at Manchester, Clarence House, Monday, August 10, one day only and return once every 28 days. Office hours 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Independence, Gedney Hotel, Tuesday, August 11.

During the past week she failed rapidly, her condition being due to a general breakdown of the system. Miss Blaine's maiden name was Harriet Starwood, the daughter of a leading citizen of the state of Maine. She met her husband while both of them were teachers in a school at Kentucky. The funeral will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday in this city, and the interment will be in Washington Monday.

Venezuela Pays Her Indemnity. Caracas, July 17.—The Venezuelan government paid the representatives of the allied powers the last installment of the indemnity as stipulated.

BAILEY'S FORD. J. W. Hartman and wife spent Sunday last week at S. Shaw's. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lillibridge had business in Manchester last Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. L. J. Lillibridge of Manchester visited at the home of their son Jay.

Mrs. Clara Conner and son were in Manchester last Thursday.

Mrs. R. E. Grommon was shopping in Manchester last Thursday.

Baker Horsey and J. W. Hartman were in Delhi last Friday.

Loren Ellege returned from Wisconsin last Thursday.

Wm. Kaster had business in Manchester last Friday.

Mrs. P. Jakin has gone to Des Moines to visit her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Simons.

Mrs. Garlow and Miss Josie Grommon visited Mrs. S. Shaw last Wednesday.

Mrs. Elvira Davis and daughter Mrs. Helen Mc Kee are visiting in Ryan.

Jerry Kaster and wife were in Manchester last Thursday.

In last week's issue we intended to say, the West bridge at the Ford has long been a rickety affair.

Our items undergo so many changes after they leave us, that quite often when they appear in print, they are news to the writer.

Manchester, Monday, August 3.

The Great SELLS AND DOWNS

United Shows.

THE MOST ORIGINAL, MODERN Up-to-date Amusement Enterprise on Earth. Lofty in Conception, Regal in Equipment, Honorably Conducted, Truthfully Advertised. The World's Best Circus Talent.

The Immensity, Originality, Uniqueness and Novelty of this Show

Excels all Other Shows.

Not only in its exclusive features, zoological exhibitions and horse fair displays, but in its great Trained Animal Department.

Cheap Excursion Rates on all Railroads.

Sells & Downs' Circus Day Program:

10 a. m.—The Grand Street Parade. A unique combination of Glorious Street Carnival, Spectacular Street Fair, a Zoological Display, Horse Fair and Glittering Pageants.

1 and 7 p. m.—Doors Opened to the Immense Water-Proof Tents.

1:15 and 7:15 p. m.—Prof. Neal's Concert Band of Renowned Soloist Musicians begin a 45-minute Grand Concert on the Center Stage.

1 and 8 p. m.—All-Feature Performance begins, comprising Multitudinous, Overwhelming, Indescribable Gymnic, Acrobatic, Spectacular, Aerial, Trained Animal Hippodromic Feats.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Are you nervous and despondent; weak and debilitated; tired mornings; no ambition; memory poor; easily fatigued; excitable and irritable; eyes sunken, red and blurred; ripples on face; dreams and night terrors; restless; jagged looking; weak back; deposit in urine and drains at stool; distressing want of confidence; lack of energy and strength?

Private Diseases a Specialty.

Blood Poison, Nervousness, Dizziness, Deceptive Memory and other ailments which rule body and mind positively cured.

WONDERFUL CURES

Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. He undertakes no incurable cases, but cures thousands given up to die.

Consultation Free and Confidential.

Address, DR. WILBERT SHALLENBERGER, 145 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago.

Reference: Dresel State Bank

San-Jak San-Jak

Liver and Bladder Cure

San-Jak will cure

Rheumatism, Catarrh and

Stomach Disorders

Because those troubles all arise from defective action of the Liver or Kidneys.

Cures Backache in 24 Hours.

We Guarantee San-Jak

if you are not satisfied after using the first bottle, we will refund the price paid.

Bed Wetting Children,

SAN-JAK will positively cure any case of bed-wetting children when caused by weak Kidneys or Bladder.

Denton & Ward,

Druggist Agents for Manchester, Iowa. Trade Supplied by Wangler Drug Co., Waterloo.

Gasoline

Stoves...