

THE WAY THE NEW TARIFF LAW WILL PAN OUT.

As a result of the changes in our tariff laws made by the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, the prices of many of the necessities of life will be increased, but the increased price paid by consumers will not inure to the benefit of the Federal Government.

The government will have to skimp along as best it can, and cut down expenses in every department during the year to come. And even by practicing the strictest economy the Taft administration will more than likely end its first year with a huge deficit in the national treasury.

FOWLER'S ASSAULT UPON CANNON.

Representative Charles N. Fowler for many years a republican leader in the House, and chairman of the committee on banking and currency, has addressed an open letter to Speaker Cannon in which he uses language which would make Senator Tillman envious.

"I challenge you," he writes of the tariff controversy, "to cite in all our political history a more dishonorable and disreputable piece of business unless, perchance, you cite something in your own career of which the people are not yet advised."

And finally: "As you are aware, we now have a government by edict, so completely have you absorbed and usurped all power, legislative as well as political. You have succeeded in Russifying our House of Representatives. But you will be the last of the political Bourbons, and the conditions which made such a creature as you possible will end with the Sixty-first Congress."

ICE BOX POISON.

According to Dr. Harvey M. Wiley, head of the United States chemistry bureau, many housewives, in the use of their ice boxes, become modern Lucretia Borgias. "The average ice box," he says, "is a charnel-house, which not only holds death but spreads it."

He says that "every few days an ice box should be fumigated and disinfected with formaldehyde or sulphur. The mere washing out with hot water doesn't do. The corners have got to be reached, and the odor which frequently comes from the cleanest appearing refrigerator must be gotten rid of, for as long as it lasts there's something wrong."

"No ice box, larder or kitchen should have any odor about it except that of fresh food that is in preparation for cooking or being cooked. Putrescences are not found in vegetable matter, but they abound in shell fish and meats. When a cook finds on opening a tin that it swells even if there isn't the faintest odor, she should throw the stuff out. It shows the slightest evidence of decay or mould its use is criminal."

This talk about Mr. Roosevelt running for mayor of New York City, and Mr. Harriman financing the campaign, sounds funny. But no one can tell what these practical men will do.

Death won the highest number of points in the recent automobile races at the Indianapolis speedway. It suicide is a sin these automobile racers are a very wicked class.

After Roosevelt has practiced up on the big game in Africa, he should be in prime condition for a few rounds with the grey wolves of the United States senate.

Weather like we have had during the present month has done much to make this a shirt sleeves and shirt waist country.

IT PAYS.

(From the Commoner.) When Senator Dolliver returned to his home at Fort Dodge, Iowa, after his unsuccessful fight for some measure of tariff reform, he found 15,000 of his constituents waiting to greet him with cheers. Senator Cummins met a similar reception at his Des Moines home. These men may not just now stand high in the favor of the trusts that provide the republican party with its campaign funds, but it is enough for them to know that their patriotic efforts are appreciated by Americans of all political parties who have no axe to grind. It pays to take one's stand for the right. It pays to work for the public welfare. Reckoned in dollars and cents men who serve special interests may win what seems to be large profits, but real recompense comes to those who, doing their duty as they see it, render real service to their fellow men.

CURTISS IS HERO IN AIR CARNIVAL

American Lowers Speed Record For Course at Rheims.

On Making His Final Turn Aviator Misjudges Location of the Finishing Line and Falls So Low Many Thought He Had Touched Earth—He Perceives Error and, Ascending Again, Crosses the Mark Majestically—M. Paulhan Makes Two Impressive Flights in Qualifying for Endurance Contest.

Rheims, France, Aug. 24.—Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator, and M. Paulhan, representing France, divided the honors of the second day of aviation week, the former with a thrilling flight in which he lowered the speed record for the course, which measures 61.5 miles, to 8 minutes, 35.25 seconds, and the latter making two impressive high altitude flights of 49 1/2 and 56 kilometers respectively in an endurance test.

Curtiss' performance began when the American enthusiasts had abandoned hope of seeing their representative take the field. Suddenly at one end of the plan, a cry went up: "The American is starting!" With a preliminary run along the ground of one hundred yards the Curtiss machine rose lightly and shot by the stand at a height of sixty feet. It was going at a terrific pace, with the wing perfectly level. Curtiss made his last turn under the mistaken impression that the finish line was closer. He descended so close to earth that many thought he touched, but, perceiving his error, he mounted quickly and easily, crossing the line majestically. An instant later the signal was hoisted that he had made a record.

Curtiss said that he had not pushed his machine to the limit of its speed. It is the intention of the American aviator now to await patiently the international event for the Gordon Bennett cup Saturday, for which he is the favorite.

POLICE AT GRAVE PREVENT BURIAL

Funeral at Goshen, Ind., Halted by Undertaker's Action. WANTS TO CREMATE THE BODY

Declares That Six Years Ago Charles Cray, Who Died in Dallas, Tex., Made a Contract to Have His Remains Reduced to Ashes.—There Will Be No Funeral Until Both Sides Troops Ordered to Use Rapid-Firing Are Heard in Court.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 24.—When the funeral cortege of Charles Cray reached the cemetery here it was met by C. B. Stiver, an undertaker, and his attorney and several policemen, who prevented the coffin being lowered into the grave on the contention that Cray, six years ago, entered into a contract with Stiver to have his body cremated in Chicago.

At Cray's death, in Dallas, Tex., his uncle and heir, Wesley Cray, had the body brought to this city and put under charge of a local undertaking company that attempted to go forward with the funeral.

The body will be held in a vault until a court gives a decision in the controversy. Cray's uncle alleges that he was not mentally responsible when the contract was made with Stiver.

OVER 1,500,000 FEET OF TIMBER DOOMED

Hundreds of Men Are Fighting Flames in Forests.

Spokane, Aug. 24.—The fires near Lower Pan d'Oraile river are spreading to the Idaho side toward Priest lake. Hundreds of men are fighting the flames, but are making little headway.

Supervisor Weigle of the Coueur d'Alene forest service, estimates that over 1,500,000 feet of timber will be destroyed.

Moose Cause of Woman's Death.

Thousand Families Homeless by Fire.

Kremenchug, Russia, Aug. 24.—A thousand families have been rendered homeless by a fire that burned a day and a night.

The Cedar Tree. Under average forest conditions it takes more than 100 years to grow a thirty foot cedar pole.

Storks in Egypt. Certain parts of Egypt would be uninhabitable but for the multitude of storks that bring to the country every winter and devour the frogs which appear in devastating swarms after every inundation.

Babies' Tears. As a rule, tears do not accompany a baby's cries until it is three months old.

Formosa Mushrooms. In Formosa mushrooms are grown on trees. The trees (a species of oak) are cut down and have rice water sprinkled over them to prepare them for the mushrooms, which attach themselves to them.

Ocean Waves. Atlantic ocean waves sometimes attain a length of 1,200 feet.

A Soft Light. An incandescence lamp in its green shade will, when turned upward toward the ceiling, spread a soft and pleasantly diffused light plenty strong enough for a room where no reading is to be done. When the lamp is used in this way no shadows are cast.

Swordfish. Swordfish, though little eaten, is only excelled in delicacy by the famed fish of the Mediterranean.

Goodwin Sands. Goodwin sands, on the coast of Kent, England, are so named because they, in the reign of Edward the Confessor, formed part of the lands belonging to Earl Godwin, which in the next two reigns were swallowed up by the sea.

There Was Something Doing. In a barber's shop the other day I saw a man for whom I felt sorry—not that he needed my sympathy from the standpoint of charity, for he was a well to do man, having many business affairs, but I felt sorry for him because of what he was doing. A barber was cutting his hair. He was having his left hand manicured. In his right hand he held a newspaper. He was smoking a cigar, and a porter was sliding his shoes. There he sat reading a newspaper. Three persons were busy waiting on him, doing their best to please him, and he was oblivious to the joy which his opportunity afforded him.—Fort Worth Star.

What's in a Name. Talking of names, what's in them? A good lot sometimes. We knew a girl named Rose once. She was a daughter of old Rose, and he, being a little romantic, christened her Wild. Certainly Wild Rose is a pretty name. But, alas, the old man was not farsee ing! She married a man named Bull.

Then, again, we happen to know a carpenter named Pierrotzke Zruchowski. Now, whenever a fellow worker comes down on a nail this chap always sings out, "What is it?" He thinks they are calling him. Yes, there's a good deal in a name.—London Series.
