Delaware County fair of 1909 closed Saturday. The inclement weather of the week prevented the fair from being one of the most successful fairs held in Delaware county for years. On Thursday afternoon the fair was abandoned entirely on account of the rain and was held over until Saturday. Fair sized crowds gathered at the grounds each day but not what was promised if the weather had permitted. The Art hall was a chief center of interest to many. The first floor of the building was used by the merchants of the city for their displays as well as for exhibiting fruits, grain and other products of the farm. The displays made by the business men of the city were excellent. Those who had their displays on the first floor were A. D. Brown, Gilmer Bros., J. G. Lewis Music store and P. F. Madden. One division was devoted to an interesting display showing the work of the rural schools and manual training in the city schools. The upper floor of the Hall was devoted to an unusual line of embroidery, pictures and drawings. There was an unusual amount of corn, small grains and fruits of Delaware county exhibited in the Hall. Bishop, Carrothers Bros., and W. H. Drummy. A large display of farm implements was made by D. F. Young. The feature of his display was a farmers' electric lighting plant. W. D. Hoyt also had a fine display of farming implements. The Dundee band furnished the music of the week. They gave daily concerts on the down town streets, both morning and evening which were spoken of with great appreciation. The merry go round and the usual number of free attractions were on the grounds. The dances given in the Armory on Thursday and Friday evenings were well attended and enjoyed. Music was furnished by Oelwein harp orchestra. BALL GAMES AT THE FAIR. Manchester vs. Dyersville. On Wednesday afternoon Manchester shut out Dyersville at the fair grounds to the tune of 8 to 0. The game was featureless and the costly errors on the part of Dyersville made the game uninteresting. In the third inning nine men of the local team were at bat resulting the four runs for them. The score by innings was as follows: Manchester 1 0 4 0 0 0 0 3 x Dyersville 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 x Struck out by Cobb, 5; by Burrell, 4. Base on balls—Off Burrell, 1. Hit by pitched ball—Schoenauer.
