EDGEWOOD.

On last Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1909 at Centralia, Iowa, in the Catholic church at that place by Rev. P. A. R. Tierney, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Mayme Wiley of this place to John Moran of Waterloo. Several weeks ago the contracting parties left these parts rather secretly and rumor among the gossips immediately declared that it was an elopement. Such, however, was not the case. Mr. Moran, who had been engaged in work of a promiscuous nature in this vicinity for several months past departed for Waterloo to prepare a home for his future bride, while Miss Wiley withdrew to the home of her aunt, Miss Kane at Centralia, who has long been her devoted friend, where final arrangements for the day were made. The bride was handsomely gowned in a traveling suit of lavender silk with hat to match. The groom was attired in black. The bride has grown to womanhood in this vicinity and was well and widely known by young folks especially with whom she seemed at all times popular. The groom during his brief sojourn here also became widely known among the younger class, as he possesses to a remarkable degree an aptitude for making friends, a trait not easily acquired. He has accepted a position with the Litchfield Manufacturing Co. at Waterloo. Mr. Moran and wife will be at home in friends after Oct. 14, 1909, 137 Webster street, Waterloo, Iowa. Their many Edgewood friends join in wishing them joy and prosperity during their wedded life.

The warm weather during the latter part of last week was highly beneficial for the ripening corn and farmers in the vicinity are feeling jubilant over the affair.

Dr. White of Elkader made a professional call here last Wednesday. Matt Clemens of Dyersville was seen on our streets last Friday. Jos. Schacherer Jr. made a business trip to Manchester one day last week.

H. W. Putz and family of Colesburg accompanied by John Nebel and wife were visiting relatives of a former here over Sunday of last week. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pelck Jr. has been reported critically ill in the past week but is reported as convalescent at this writing. It was struck on the head by a stray baseball during the game at the Friday ball game on the Strawberry Point ball ground during fair week.

Lennie Smith of Colesburg was seen in our burg one day last week. L. L. Blanchard has returned from his business trip to Minnesota, having abandoned his proposed tour from there to western points of interest, as was his intention when he left here.

Miss Ella Funk was given a day off in the Thursday district Wednesday to enable herself and pupils to attend the big picnic here.

Dr. Tinker, formerly the dentist here, was seen on our streets recently shaking hands with old-time friends and acquaintances. Frank Schacherer attended the Elkader fair last Thursday. Chas. Todd and wife were in Dubuque on a pleasure trip last week. Frank Gleim of Arlington, agent for an insurance company was transacting business here one day last week.

Mabel Coykendall who has been visiting her father, Irven Harris, has returned to her home in Waterloo. Dwight Smith, lies critically ill at his home in the south part of town. Fred Pelck, sr., who is doing carpenter work in Littleport was home over Sunday for a visit. Agnes Willerton of Oelwein was the guest of her friend, Margaret Richards, last week. Mrs. Jennie Peet has commenced her first term of school in the Rosenkrans district last week. We wish her success. Chas. Todd was at Oxford Junction last Thursday night where he called for a dance. He returned home Friday morning, a sleepy man indeed. Mrs. Bender is reported on the sick list.

Mike Lucey and John Schacherer each purchased a new "Robinson Measure Spreader" of Packard and Hatch, the up-to-date implement dealers.

The Roy Hawley house which has been under way of construction for the past several weeks is nearing completion and adds greatly to the appearance of the many improvements that have been made here the past summer.

The new Farmer's Co-operative Creamery Company opened their doors for business on Thursday, Sept. 16. May grand and pronounced success attend them in future is our sincere wish.

Laura Thilp is reported on the sick list. Dr. E. B. Hanson departed for Chicago the fore part of last week to attend school for a time. His wife accompanied him. John Sevey and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a young son, born Sept. 15. Congratulations are extended.

A moving picture show presented Ben Hur at Hester's opera house on last Saturday night. Good satisfaction was reported by those who attended.

Mrs. W. D. Robinson of Spencer, Iowa, but formerly of this place was visiting her sisters, Mrs. John Watham and Mrs. George Barr last week.

C. E. Wheeler has gone to Manchester where he has accepted a position with the Lovett & Davis poultry and Produce Co. We understand he will move his family thither in the near future.

J. B. Putz and wife were guests of relatives in Dyersville Sunday. Will Knickerbocker who has spent the past summer in Texas returned home last week Monday. He seemed favorably impressed with the country and says he shall again return there for the winter.

Miss Ruth Rulon of the "Journal" force who operates their typesetting machine, had the misfortune of receiving an ugly wound on the forefinger of her right hand last Thursday, putting her off active duty for several days at least.

Mae Wiley has gone to Manchester for an indefinite period of time to learn the dress making trade.

The big picnic here on Sept. 15, proved a grand success. The weather, rain seemed to harbor forbodings of evil all day Tuesday by an almost continuous downpour of rain that would mar the advantages of a grand festival, but during the night a decided change took place and picnic day morning dawned cool and sunny.

The passenger brought here many southern passengers and the rural locality for miles around arrived at an early hour, and by ten o'clock the streets were well lined thronged to witness the parade in which nearly every business firm in the town was duly represented. Following this came the address of welcome by Mr. Pilkington, who was followed by other speakers, the most notable of whom was State Dairy Commissioner Wright. The Ladies' Band of Fayette failed to be present and were replaced instead by the high school band from Strawberry Point. At 1:30 Edgewood and Cox's Creek crossed bats on the local diamond and the former were victorious by a score of 6 to 4. The second game was played between Strawberry Point and Greeley. The latter team was procured on short notice as Manchester could not come owing to their sudden disbandment, a fact not known here until recently, which gave some disappointment to the fans. Strawberry had everything coming their way from start to finish and carried away the honors of 8 to 0. The novelty races on the street during the afternoon were the cause of considerable excitement and pleasure. The show in the Opera House during the evening was well attended and followed by a dance, which was a financial success all around. The floor managers, Chas. Todd and Frank Schacherer, maintained the best of order and showed all a good time. The music was furnished by Bill's orchestra of Oelwein.
