That city has quite a representation from Hopkinton, about eighteen in all.

In the death of Mrs. Lord, which occurred last Wednesday we realize that the early settlers are fast passing away. Mrs. Lord whose maiden name was Adeline Holmes was born in Parma, New York, September 26, 1829 and died at the family residence March 30, 1910. She graduated from a young ladies' seminary at Rockford, N. Y. and was married to Andrew Lord of Buffalo September 21, 1853. In 1854 they came to Rockville, Iowa, and Mrs. Lord taught school the next year. They then removed to Hopkinton which has since been their home. When Mrs. Lord first became a Christian she united with the Free Will Baptists, but on coming to Hopkinton she united with her husband with the Presbyterian church being charter members. Mrs. Lord was an elder of the same from its organization until his death in 1896. She leaves two children Miss Mary Lord, who has been for a number of years lady principal of Lenox college and W. P. Lord. She will be sadly missed in her own home and among a large circle of old friends.

The high school declamatory contest was held in the opera house on Wednesday evening. The two winning places as delegates to the county contest to be held in Manchester April 15, were James Ricketts on a humorous selection and Belle Deshaw on a dramatic.

Miss Nellie Campbell went to Iowa City Thursday evening for an operation for the benefit of her eyes. Her mother accompanied her.

It is claimed that each of the three concerns, members of which are under indictment, paid to the Western Union Telegraph Company $100,000 for telephone tolls, leased wires, etc. Puts One on Telegraph Company.

"If it were not for the Western Union Telegraph Company not a bucketshop in the country could list the numerous cases in the courts instituted by parties seeking the use of a wire."

Twenty-seven Brokers Arrested.

Of the 29 men indicted in Washington for alleged connection with bucketshops, virtually 27 have been rounded up. Edward S. Boggs surrendered to United States Commissioner Shields and was held in $5,000 bail for examination.

TRAIN KILLS INDIAN CHIEF

Wickie of the Moki Steps on Track to Look at Engine—Was Fatally Snaked Dancer.

Albuquerque, N. M., Apr. 5.—Chief Wickie of the Antelope clan of Moki Indians, who for 50 years has been prominent in the wild snake dance of the Moki, was killed by a train at Winslow, Ariz.

Wickie was seventy-five years of age and one of the most famous characters in the southwest. He was on his way to the Moki reservation in northern Arizona with supplies. When he saw the train approaching Chief Wickie stepped into the middle of the track and gazed at it stupidly.

The emergency brakes were applied, but too late to save the chief.

SLIDES ON WIRE TO SAFETY

Woman Escapes from Burning Building by Descending Telephone Cable—Hundreds of People Thrilled.

New York, April 5.—In a slack wire feat that thrilled hundreds of on-lookers, Mrs. Charles Bruno slid to safety from her burning apartment on the top floor of a three-story building, and was dragged into a window of an adjoining building by the willing hands of Mrs. Minnie Karger.

It was a telephone cable down which Mrs. Bruno descended, and as the cable fastenings became loosened with the woman's weight was swung back and forth like a pendulum for several seconds, while the firemen and police on the street below made ready to catch her in the life nets.
