DEATH OF L. G. CLUTE

PROMINENT DELAWARE COUNTY FARMER DIES. SUFFERED ILL HEALTH FOR YEARS.

WAS EXPERT AGRICULTURALIST

Awarded Honors on His Exhibits at Every Exposition Held in this Country Since Centennial.

L. G. Clute died at his home in Honey Creek township early Sunday morning, May 15, 1910. His death was due to a general breaking down. He had been in poor health for several years and spent the past winter in Florida. He returned home during the early part of April, apparently much improved in health. A short time ago he became ill but seemed to be improving until Saturday evening, when his condition took a turn for the worse and the end came unexpectedly a few hours later. Lewis G. Clute was born in Gene county, New York, October 8, 1836. He received his early education in his native state and taught school there for several years. In the year 1858 he came west and located in Iowa, taking up the pursuit of farming.

L. G. CLUTE.

ing. In 1860 he was united in marriage with Melissa Roe, and for a while lived with his father-in-law. In 1862 he purchased a farm which with the later additions and improvements has by him been made one of the best farms in this county. To the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Clute have been born four children: The oldest, died in infancy. The three surviving children are William H. C. Almond, Oneida township, Charles J. and Louis A., both of Honey Creek township. The bereaved wife is left to left to survive her husband. In the death of Mr. Clute his family loses a kind and generous husband and father. His greatest pleasure was in the improvement of his home farm and the welfare of his family. Several years ago he took his son into partnership with him in his large farming business. He was popular with his neighbors who insisted upon honoring him with positions of trust in the community, the duties of which he at all times faithfully discharged. Mr. Clute was a member of the Christian church and his life was characteristic of the sincerity of his faith. In spite of the ill health from which he suffered for years, Mr. Clute was a very active man and accomplished much. He was one of the most successful farmers in the state of Iowa. The products raised by him have taken prizes at every exposition held in the United States during the past generation. He was an expert in the arrangement of exhibits of agricultural products. He made his first exhibit at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia in 1876. He was a commissioner in New Orleans at the exposition held in New Orleans in 1884 and was awarded on the products 50 medals and 200 diplomas. He arranged and had charge of the Iowa exhibits at the Chicago, St. Louis and Omaha exhibitions. He has had exhibits at every state fair Iowa has ever held and his products invariably received a high classification. The success which resulted from his skill in raising products for exhibition purposes, gave him a national reputation in this line. The funeral was held from the home this (Tuesday) afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Hubbell of Edgewood officiating. Interment was made in the Greeley cemetery and the burial services were in charge of the masonic lodge of Greeley of which the deceased was a member.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

Harry Davis, son of county auditor and Mrs. A. V. J. Davis, and Arthur Newcomb, son of Mrs. Newcomb, figured in a narrow escape from death on Saturday evening. They were in Dundee, ten miles northwest of here, and had started to return home when a west bound train came along. The horse had been stopped several rods from the train and when several of the cars and the engine had passed the crossing, the horse became frightened and ran into the train track turning its skull in several places. The buggy was badly damaged and the young men were thrown out but were not seriously injured.

TWO BROTHERS DIE IN ONE WEEK.

Mr. George and Miss Mary Link of this city mourn the death of two brothers, which occurred only five days apart. The following is taken from the Dyersville Commercial regarding the deaths: "Following his brother to the grave within five days, was a coincidence marked by the death of Frank Link, who passed away at his home at Allis, Oregon, on Thursday, May 5. Relatives had scarcely left the Link home at West Point, Ia., after having attended the funeral of the late William Link, when a message was received, announcing the death of the brother in Oregon. "Frank Link was born October 8, 1833, at Oerlenbach, Bavaria. He is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters and five grandchildren. He is also survived by his brother and sister, M. George and Miss Mary Link of Manchester. Deceased was an uncle of Jas. F. Link of Dyersville.

In case adjoining owners or occupants of land shall use the same for pasturing sheep or swine, each shall keep his share of the partition fence in such condition as shall restrain such sheep or swine.
